INTRODUCTION.

The twenty-fifth annual edition of THE HANDY GUIDE TO PREMIUM RATES, APPLICATIONS AND POLICIES, covering the leading United States and Canadian life insurance companies, is presented with the confident assurance that it measures up to the high standard of thoroughness and completeness established from the first publication. The revision of policy forms and applications, modifications in premium rates and surrender values continues unchecked among numerous companies, and these changes are all shown in this edition of THE HANDY GUIDE. In addition to the changes in data of old companies, the work also contains an extensive variety of information concerning companies not heretofore listed. All available new data being included, THE HANDY GUIDE is therefore brought fully up to date and maintains its high reputation as an invaluable compendium of information regarding premium rates, surrender values and policy forms of life insurance companies.

This work has long been recognized as an indispensable part of the equipment of every active life insurance agent, having proven itself on innumerable occasions to be worth many times its price. Although it consists of some 1300 pages, yet it is of convenient size for the pocket, as by using a specially fine quality of imported Bible paper, the size has been kept down to convenient proportions.

As the number of life insurance companies operating in the United States is still increasing, the publishers have again included several new organizations, thereby supplying agents throughout the entire country with detailed information concerning every possible important competitor. THE HANDY GUIDE for 1916 therefore contains particulars relating to one hundred and seventy companies (including five Canadian organizations). These constitute a large proportion of the companies operating on the American continent and include practically every company waging an active business campaign.

During the twenty-four years in which THE HANDY GUIDE has been in the hands of insurance field workers, its advantages have been highly appreciated, its arrangement and contents having been found admirably adapted to the purpose for which the book was originally devised. The twenty-fifth edition is therefore presented as the leading and most reliable work on policy forms, rates and values which a life insurance agent can use.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

During 1916 the publishers of THE HANDY GUIDE will issue, at intervals of three months, three supplements, embracing all the latest policy forms, premium rates and surrender values issued by the various companies during the year, thus keeping this work fully up to date in every particular.

These supplements will be supplied to all subscribers at the rate of twenty-five cents each, and in order to insure prompt delivery when issued remittances of seventy-five cents, in addition to the price of single copies of the work, may be forwarded to the publishers. The price of single copies of the supplement to non-subscribers (whose names do not appear on our books as orderers of the publication) will be fifty cents.

The first supplement will be issued early in July.

Aetna Life Insurance Company.

PAYABLE AT END OF POLICY YEAR NEAREST AGE EIGHTY-FIVE IF INSURED IS LIVING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.30. AGE, 35.

The Ætina Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office, the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the sum insured) upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe, of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut, (herein called the insured).

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Ætina Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary), signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, this first day of March, 1913.

1. CONSIDERATION. 2. PREMIUMS, WHEN PAYABLE.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is attached hereto and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred, seventy-three and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock P. M. of the first day of March in each and every year until twenty full years' premiums have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

3. DEATH BENEFICIARY. 4. LIFE BENEFICIARY.—The amount becoming due from the company by reason of the death of the insured, shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Z. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; and the amount due from the company by reason of the maturity of the endowment, or the cash value or the loan value, or the dividends if paid during the lifetime of the insured, shall be payable to the party herein called the life beneficiary as follows: the insured, and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy and to any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including all loans made by the company as herein provided.

5. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed before this policy matures as an endowment, provided the policy is not then assigned by the life beneficiary and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the life beneficiary alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

6. PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID ANNUALLY, SEMI-ANNUALLY OR QUARTERLY.—The company will accept the premium payable for annual, semi-annual or quarterly periods, according to its published rate for such at the time this policy is issued, provided that before any change is made from the method of payment herein stipulated the policy shall be forwarded to the home office of the company for proper endorsement.

7. CONDITIONS REGARDING PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall cease, subject to the values and privileges hereinafter described; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken; but for any reckoning herein named the time when a premium becomes due shall be the day herein stipulated therefor without grace. No renewal premium shall be considered paid, unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

8. INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR.—This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and it shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium; but if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such an amount as the premium paid would have purchased at this company's published rate now in use for the correct age.

9. STATEMENTS OF INSURED NOT WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless it is contained in the written application herefor and a copy of such application is endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued.

10. SUICIDE.—If the insured shall commit suicide within one year from the date hereof while sane or insane, this policy shall be null and void.

11. DIVIDENDS.—Until this policy becomes a claim it shall be entitled to share in the divisible surplus of the participating business of the company at the end of each policy year, and the amount of surplus accruing under it shall then be determined and accounted for, provided the insured is then living and there has been no default in the payment of premium.

12. APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—Such dividends shall be payable at the option of the life beneficiary by one of the following methods, provided that if no election is made the dividends will be paid in cash.

First method: In reduction of the premium on this policy if the remainder of such premium is paid as herein required. Second method: In cash. Third method: In paid-up additions to the sum insured for an amount in each case bearing the same proportion to the amount of the dividend that the paid-up policy at that time shown in Table A bears to the corresponding cash value. Fourth method: In being left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. The dividends so accumulated, or any portion thereof, will be paid to the life beneficiary when desired during the lifetime of the insured, or, after the death of the insured, will be paid to the payee of the policy in addition to the sum insured; but no premium shall be construed as paid either wholly or in part by reason of dividends remaining with the company.

13. DIVIDENDS MAY REDUCE THE NUMBER OF PREMIUMS OR HASTEN THE MATURITY OF THE POLICY.—When the total cash value of this policy, consisting of said accumulated dividends, the cash value of dividend additions, if any, and the cash value shown by Table A, less indebtedness, if any, secured hereby, equals the net single premium for a policy of the same amount and kind as the sum insured issued on the same life and due at the same time, a paid-up participating policy will be issued for the sum insured if this policy is then duly surrendered to the company for that purpose. Said single premium will be the same proportion of the sum insured that the tabular cash value at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy shown by Table A. Or when such total value equals the sum insured the said sum insured shall then be due and payable.

14. LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon, before default in the payment of premium, and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value shown by Table A at the end of the current policy year and the cash value of dividend additions if any, less all indebtedness to the company hereon and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone, provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

15. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If a request for the automatic premium loan privilege has been signed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and is received at the company's home office together with this policy before default in the payment of premium, such privilege will be endorsed hereon by the company, and thereafter, until a written revocation of said request signed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, has been endorsed hereon by the company, the amount of any premium not paid in cash when due or within the days of grace less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action by the owners, be loaned by the company in payment of such premium and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum as above described for loans, provided that the net loan value as above described is sufficient to pay the premium and interest then due.

16. WHEN INSURANCE WILL TERMINATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF INTEREST.—Interest on any indebtedness hereon not paid when due shall be added to the principal and reckoned as a part thereof. Failure to pay any loan or interest due thereon will avoid this policy when the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, but not before that time, nor until one month after notice of the same has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made and of the insured, and assignee, if any.

17. NON-FORFEITING VALUES. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon and any subsequent premium becomes due and is unpaid the entire reserve then existing under this policy, including that of dividend additions, if any, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured and dividend additions and less also any indebtedness hereon to the company, will, without action by the owner, be applied as a net single premium at the then age of the insured to extend as non-participating term insurance without the right to loans the sum insured by this policy and dividend additions, if any, less any indebtedness to the company secured hereby. The reserve and single premium named herein shall be computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest. If said net single premium is more than sufficient to purchase such term insurance to the end of the endowment term of this policy the excess thereof will be applied in like manner to the purchase of a non-participating pure endowment payable at the end of such endowment term if the insured is then living; or

PAID-UP POLICY.—If requested by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium becomes due the said net single premium will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up non-participating stock policy payable at the end of the endowment term of this policy if the insured is then living, or at the prior death of the insured; or CASH VALUE.—Under the conditions applicable to the issue of the paid-up policy above described, or after all premiums required hereon have been paid, the company will pay for the surrender hereof a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be applicable to the purchase of the extended term or paid-up insurance above provided. The extended term insurance or the paid-up policy above provided will be entitled to a cash surrender value of the entire reserve existing thereon at the time of surrender according to said table of mortality and rate of interest, and the paid-up policy will be entitled to a loan equal to its cash value upon the conditions herein prescribed for a loan under this policy.

TABLE A.

This table shows the non-forfeiting values above described for $1000 of insurance at the end of completed policy years when there is no indebtedness to the company secured by this policy and no existing dividend additions. The paid-up policy, the cash value, and the pure endowment, if any, for insurance of a greater or less amount than $1000 will be proportionate. Each full quarter of a year that has elapsed after the end of any policy year and for which quarter year the premium due has been paid will increase the cash value and the paid-up policy one-fourth of the increase for the full year. The term of the extended insurance will be reckoned from the time when the first unpaid premium becomes due, and will not vary with the amount of the insurance. No deduction from these values will be made for a surrender charge.

Values provided for in the policy and not shown in this table will be computed upon the same basis as those given.

This policy will mature and be payable in full as an endowment at the end of the policy year falling nearest to age 85 of the insured if then living.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

EFFECT OF DIVIDEND ADDITIONS AND INDEBTEDNESS ON NON-FORFEITING VALUES SHOWN BY TABLE A.—The cash value of dividend additions, if any, will be paid in addition to the cash value shown by Table A. The cash value shown by Table A will be decreased by the amount of any indebtedness. The paid-up policy shown by Table A will be increased by the amount of the dividend additions, and decreased in the same proportion that any indebtedness bears to the cash value hereof. The cash value of dividend additions, if any, will be the same proportion of such additions that the cash value shown in Table A at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy.

18. CASH VALUE IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Twelve months after proof is received at the home office of the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy, the insured has become wholly, continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, then in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, without further payment of premium, all premiums previously due having been paid, the company will pay in full settlement of this policy upon request duly executed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, one twentieth of the sum insured and dividend additions, if any, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof, and the same amount annually thereafter during a fixed period of nine years (making ten annual payments certain) and for as many full years longer as the insured shall live, provided that at every such annuity payment after the tenth satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will reduce the amount of either of said annual payments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three-fourths of the sum insured and dividend additions, if any.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium. Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof, and such benefit will not be included in the paid-up policy herein provided to be issued on default in payment of premium.

19. REINSTATEMENT.—Within five years after default in any premium payment, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and by payment or reinstatement of whatever indebtedness to the company existed hereon at the date of default with interest from that date.

20. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the life beneficiary the life beneficiary may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy either as a death claim, matured endowment or as a cash surrender value paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned, under a death claim, as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured; or in case of a matured endowment, or cash surrender value, as that of the last birthday preceding the time when the sum insured or the value first became payable by the company, and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

21. SUM MAY REMAIN WITH COMPANY AT INTEREST.—First. The payment annually in advance of three per cent interest on the net sum payable, and the payment of the said sum at the death of the payee, less the unearned part of said interest, if any; and unless otherwise elected the payee may at the end of any interest year require the payment of the principal sum or any portion thereof.

22. INSTALMENTS FOR LIMITED PERIOD.—Second. The payment of equal annual instalments for a limited number of years. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table B.

23. INSTALMENTS DURING LIFE.—Third. The payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty-five years and for as many full years longer as the payee shall live. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table C opposite the attained age of the payee.

24. LIFE ANNUITY.—Fourth. The payment of equal annual instalments for as many full years as the payee shall live and no longer. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table D opposite the attained age of the payee.

Tables B, C and D show the amount of each annual instalment for $1000 in the net sum payable. Instalments for a greater or less amount will be proportionate.

25. INSTALMENTS INCREASED BY DIVIDENDS.—Under the above modes of paying the insurance all annual payments required by the first and second modes and the first twenty-five instalments stipulated in the third mode will be increased by such dividends as may thereafter be declared by the company.

26. HOW PAYABLE AFTER DEATH OF PAYEE.—Unless otherwise provided, any sum payable by the company after the death of a payee under the first, second and third modes shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

27. SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When this policy becomes a claim, if an election has been made requiring payment by annual instalments, the policy shall, if required by the company, be surrendered and a supplementary contract issued for the mode of payment elected.

28. COMMUTATION OF INSTALMENTS.—Unless otherwise elected the payee or payees under the second and third modes, may at any time surrender the contract for the commuted value of the instalment payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the computations in the second mode, provided that no such commutation will be made under the third mode except after the death of the payee or payees occurring within the aforesaid twenty-five years.

29. ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at its home office. The company does not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

30. ALL AGREEMENTS MUST BE SIGNED BY AN EXECUTIVE OFFICER.—All agreements made by the company are signed by its president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer. No other person can alter or waive any of the conditions of this policy or make any agreement which shall be binding upon the company.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby apply to the Ætna Life Insurance Company for a contract of insurance upon my life, and I do hereby declare that I am in sound health and have no disease or ailment not fully set forth herein; that the statements and answers herein made and signed by me are complete and true, and I agree that they shall form a part of the contract or policy issued by said company upon my life. I further agree that no statement or declaration made to any agent, examiner, or any other person, and not contained in this application, shall be taken or considered as having been made to, or brought to the notice or knowledge of, said company, or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof. I also acknowledge that all policies and agreements made by said Ætna Life Insurance company are signed by one or more of its executive officers, and that no agent or other person not an executive officer can grant insurance or waive any condition of its policies or make any agreement which shall be binding upon said company.

YEARLY RENEWABLE TERM—CONVERTIBLE—NON-PARTICIPATING AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM (1ST YEAR) $94.50. AGE, 35

The Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured) within the term of one year from the date hereof ending on the first day of February, 1917, at five o'clock P. M.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Aetna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut this first day of February, 1916.

1. CONSIDERATION—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract, and a copy of which is attached hereto and in further consideration of the annual premium of ninety-four and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the first day of February, 1916.

2. TO WHOM PAYABLE AT DEATH.—The said sum insured shall be payable to Mary X. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; and such payment shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy, and to any indebtedness to the company on account hereof.

3. TERM MAY BE RENEWED.—This policy may, if still in force at the end of any policy year reckoned from the date hereof, be continued for another year without medical re-examination by paying in advance to the company or to its agent, on or before the same day or days of the year herein stipulated for such payments for the next preceding year, the premium for the insuring age attained by the insured at the commencement of such new policy year, such premium increasing annually to age sixty-five but not increasing thereafter and determined according to the following table of premiums.

The reserve for which funds are to be held upon this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent by the annually increasing premium method to age sixty-five and the full net level premium method thereafter.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed at any time, provided the policy is not then assigned by the insured and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the insured alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

6. CONDITIONS REGARDING PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall absolutely cease; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken. No renewal premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

10. MAY BE EXCHANGED FOR INSURANCE OF ANOTHER KIND.—This policy may upon any anniversary of its date be exchanged without medical re-examination for any level premium whole life or endowment policy then being issued by the company at the attained insuring age of the insured covering any hazard covered by this policy on payment of the premium required for such policy at the advanced age of the insured; or within five years from the date hereof it may be exchanged for such a policy now issued by said company, which shall bear the same date as this policy and be issued at the same age, on payment of the difference between the premiums already paid hereon for an amount of insurance equalling that of the new policy and those that would have been required under the new policy with six per cent interest, provided in either case that the premiums required by such new policy shall be paid at the times stipulated for payment of premiums under this policy, that the issue of the new policy will not violate any law, that application for such new policy be made and this policy returned to the home office of said company before default in the payment of premium, that the amount of insurance shall not be increased and that if such new policy is on the instalment plan, the present value at the beginning of the instalment period of all the instalment payments required of the company shall be considered the amount of insurance under such policy.

11. BENEFIT IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Twelve months after proof is received at the home office of the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy, the insured has become wholly, continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, provided proof is received while this policy is in full force and before the insured has attained the age of sixty years, then upon request of the insured and in lieu of all other values, benefits and privileges herein provided, all premiums to the expiration of said twelve months having been paid, the company will without further payment of premium pay to the said insured in full settlement of this policy one-twentieth of the sum insured, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof, and the same amount annually thereafter during a fixed period of nine years (making ten annuity payments certain) and for as many full years longer as the insured shall live, provided that at every such annuity payment after the tenth satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Unless otherwise requested by the insured and endorsed hereon by the company the company will if desired, in event of the death of the insured after disability payments commence, pay in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured the commuted value of the payments yet to be made calculated on the basis of three and one-half per cent interest.

For Table of Annuities see page 27.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium provided that such loss occurs and proof is furnished to the company while this policy is in full force and before the insured attains the age of sixty years.

Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof.

12. REINSTATEMENT.—If default occurs in payment of any premium hereon, and if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated in the same position as if such default had not occurred upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

13. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the insured the insured may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured, shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

21. NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

For conditions numbered 5, 7, 9, 14, 20, 22 and 23, see paragraphs in preceding policy numbered 6, 8, 10, 21, 24, 26, 28, 29 and 30.

OPTIONAL ACCUMULATIVE POLICY—ORDINARY LIFE, NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $268.30. AGE, 35.

The Aetna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the original insurance), together with such additions thereto, reckoned to the nearest dollar for each one thousand dollars of original insurance, as are hereinafter provided, upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured).

At the commencement of each policy year after the first if the original premium for the current policy year has been paid the insurance hereunder will be automatically increased by the addition of six and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars for each one thousand dollars of original insurance and by the further addition of three and one-half per cent of the entire additions existing at the end of the year next preceding, if any.

The payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium will entitle the insurance at the beginning of the period covered by the premium paid to the same proportion of the above provided increase for the payment of a full year's premium that the period covered by the payment bears to a full year.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof the said Aetna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, this twelfth day of June, 1914.

CONSIDERATION.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is attached hereto, and in further consideration of the annual premium of two hundred, sixty-eight and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars (herein called the original premium) to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the twelfth day of June in each and every year during the life of the insured.

DEATH BENEFICIARY—LIFE BENEFICIARY.—The said sum insured shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; the cash value or the loan value hereinafter described shall be payable to the party herein called the life beneficiary as follows: the insured, and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy and to any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy including all loans made by the company, as herein provided.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, before default in the payment of premium and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance, the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value of this policy at the end of the current policy year, less all indebtedness to the company hereon, and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same, and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

NON-FORFEITING VALUES.—The value of this policy to be applied as hereinafter provided shall be the reserve hereon according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest less a charge of not more than two and one-half per cent of the original insurance (which charge will gradually decrease and after the fourteenth policy year will in no case exceed one twentieth of one per cent of the original insurance) and less also any indebtedness to the company secured by this policy.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon and any subsequent premium becomes due and is unpaid the right to further additions will then cease and the value above described will, without action by the owners, be applied to extend this policy as paid-up term insurance, without the right to loans, for the total sum then insured, less any indebtedness hereon to the company; or

PAID-UP POLICY.—If requested by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium becomes due said value will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up policy payable at the death of the insured. The period of term insurance or the amount of paid-up policy will be such as said value will purchase used as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured calculated by said table of mortality and rate of interest. The extended term insurance or the paid-up policy above provided will be entitled to a cash surrender value of the entire reserve existing thereon at the time of surrender according to said table of mortality and rate of interest, and the paid-up policy will be entitled to a loan equal to its cash value upon the conditions herein prescribed for a loan under this policy.

CASH VALUE.—In lieu of the extended insurance or paid-up policy above provided the company will, under the conditions applicable to the issue of said paid-up policy, pay said value in cash.

TABLE A, No. 1 AND No. 2.—The amount of insurance and the non-forfeiting values given in these tables are calculated on the basis of one thousand dollars of original insurance; the amount of insurance, the paid-up policy or the cash value for original insurance of a greater or less amount than the one thousand dollars will be proportionate. The non-forfeiting values apply at the end of completed policy years and are given on the assumption that there is no indebtedness hereon to the company. Each full quarter of a year that has elapsed after the end of any policy year and for which quarter year the premium due has been paid will increase the cash value and the paid-up policy, or the amount of the extended insurance, one-fourth of the increase for the full year. The term of the extended insurance will be reckoned from the time when the first unpaid premium becomes due and will not vary with the amount of the insurance. Values provided for in the policy and not shown in either of these tables will be computed on the basis of the entire reserve. No deduction from these values will be made for a surrender charge.

TABLE A, No. 1.—This part of the table applies only when there has been no reduction of the original premium as provided in the following paragraph. The amounts of insurance and the cash or loan values shown in this part of the table include the amount of additions made hereto.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

PREMIUMS MAY BE REDUCED AND INSURANCE ADDITIONS SURRENDERED.—At the expiration of the second policy year or of any subsequent period for which the original premium has been paid, if the right to future additions hereto is surrendered to the company, the company will, if requested by the life beneficiary upon return of this policy for proper endorsement, pay the full additions then existing hereon, and the sum insured will then be reduced to the original insurance, and the premium thereafter required hereon will be two hundred, eight and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars in place of the amount of premium hereinbefore written. Upon endorsement of such change the values shown in Table A, No. 1, will then be discontinued and the values shown in Table A, No. 2, will be substituted therefor. If there is an indebtedness hereon to the company when such change is made the additions then payable by the company will be applied to reduce the indebtedness to the maximum cash value of this policy after the above reduction is effected, and the remainder of the additions, if any, will be paid in cash.

TABLE A, No. 2.—The amount of insurance and the cash and loan values shown in this part of the table do not include any additions.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

EFFECT OF INDEBTEDNESS ON NON-FORFEITING VALUES SHOWN BY ABOVE TABLES.—The cash value of this policy as shown in either of the above tables will be decreased by the amount of any indebtedness to the company secured by this policy, and the paid-up policy will be decreased in the same proportion that such indebtedness bears to the cash value.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

American Bankers Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300.

AGE, 35.

The American Bankers Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill., in consideration of the application for this insurance, and of the annual premium of three hundred dollars in exchange for a receipt signed by the President or Secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, the first year's premium being for term insurance, and to be paid on the delivery of this contract, and of the payment of a like amount on the first day of January in each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay immediately, upon receipt at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., of due proof of the death of Harry S. Wisdom, of Chicago, County of Cook, State of Illinois, herein called the insured to Mary E. Wisdom (wife) beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

By this certificate the American Bankers Insurance Company guarantees to pay the beneficiary under the policy No. 000, issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars immediately upon receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of the insured while said policy is in force; provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the insured resided at the time of his death, or by any reputable physician, clergyman or postmaster residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and, being made in advance of the receipt of the customary detailed proofs of death satisfactory to the company, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability against said policy.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon. Such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: One hundred and fifty-six dollars on the first day of January and July; or seventy-nine and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars on the first day of January, April, July and October. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any premium or any part of a premium hereon, or any check, note or other obligation given in settlement of any premium or any part of a premium hereon, be not paid when due, this contract and all rights based thereon, without action on the part of the company, shall immediately terminate, except as to the right to cash surrender value, paid-up or continued insurance as provided on the second page hereof. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

CONDITIONS.—The insured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world, and may engage in any occupation. This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by self-destruction, while sane or insane, during the first year from the date hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application for this insurance, a copy of which application is hereto attached, and made a part hereof, constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and copy of such application be attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on the execution of a proper loan agreement and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of said year, as shown in the table below; any existing loan or other form of indebtedness hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be paid out of such loan. Said cash value shall be equal to the reserve under this policy at the end of said year, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum without the deduction therefrom of any surrender charge. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable at the beginning of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, within three months after any default in the payment of premiums, the owner shall, if there be no indebtedness hereon, be entitled to either:

(A) CASH VALUE.—To receive the cash value of this policy as stated in column (a) of the table of loan and surrender values shown below upon legal surrender hereof to the company at its home office; or

(B) EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued in force from the due date of the premium on which the payment has not been made, without the right to loans, for its face amount, for the period of time as stated in column (b) of the table of loan and surrender values shown below; or

(C) PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To have the policy reissued as non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for an amount in accordance with column (c) of the table of loan and surrender values as shown below.

Value of each of said options shall be equal to the reserve on this policy at date of default computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent, without the deduction therefrom of any surrender charge, and said cash value shall be at least equal to the sum, which would be the purchase price of insurance under option (b).

If the owner shall not, within three months from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c) the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in option (b).

If there be any indebtedness hereon, the cash surrender value will be reduced by the amount of such indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default, the term of extended insurance will be reduced to such period of time as will result from applying the cash surrender value less the indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default, as a single premium at the attained age of the insured for the purchase of term insurance at net single premium rates for term insurance on the American Experience Table at three and one-half per cent, and the amount of paid-up insurance will be reduced in the same proportion as the indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default bears to the cash surrender value.

SURRENDER VALUES. will be increased proportionately for payment of instalments on annual premiums. Surrender values for years not given in the above table shall be equal to the full reserve on the policy on the American Experience Table at three and one-half per cent interest without the deduction of any surrender charge.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of any default in the payment of premium, upon furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT MATURITY.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows. (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one half per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under Options 2 or 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an indorsement hereon signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, the secretary or the assistant secretary whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has power to make, alter or discharge this or any other contract in relation to the matter of this insurance, to extend the time for payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture hereof or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, that I am in sound health, and to the best of my knowledge and belief a proper subject for life insurance. I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner in the examination which I hereby agree to take, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. I further agree that in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date of the contract issued hereon, the limit of recovery thereunder shall be the premiums paid; and I further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered and the first premium paid thereon in full while I am in good health.

American Central Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING—MATURING AS ENDOWMENT AT AGE 85.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $306.50.

AGE, 35

American Central Life Insurance Company, Indianapolis, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, the amount of insurance, for the consideration and under the conditions stated herein, to the beneficiary, Mary Alston, wife of the insured, Abner Alston, or the insured, himself, if this policy be in force at end of policy year nearest age eighty-five.

The entire contract between the parties hereto shall be this policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached and made a part hereof.

The insured is entitled without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

ALL PREMIUMS or instalments thereof are payable in advance either at the home office of the company, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the company's president, first vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. Premiums after the first may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the company's rates therefor. The payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment, except as herein provided.

CASH LOANS.—Beginning with the third policy year, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, provided no premium be in default, will loan to the insured on the execution of a proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the current policy year. From such loan value there will be deducted any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest, at the rate of six per cent per annum, will be collected on the loan to the end of the current policy year and shall thereafter be payable annually in advance. The company may, at its option, defer a cash loan (except where the proceeds are to be applied in payment of premiums on policies issued by this company) for not to exceed ninety days after the application therefor is made.

Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy, but if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to and become a part of the indebtedness, provided that whenever the total indebtedness on the policy shall exceed the loan value of the policy, the policy shall become void thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any cash loan made hereunder may be covered by loan insurance, which loan insurance shall be applied in the event this policy matures as a death claim, to the cancellation of any such cash loan. Loan insurance will be granted only under the following conditions: (a) The insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the loan insurance shall not be effective until the insured shall have received a certificate thereof from the company. (b) The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the insured's attained age nearest birthday at the time of making or renewing such loan insurance and shall be as indicated in the table on the back of this policy. For periods less than a year the premium for each month or fraction thereof shall be one-tenth of the premium for one year, but in no event to exceed the premium for one year. (c) Loan insurance will not be granted for a period extending beyond the next anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to payment of the premium at the insured's attained age. No loan insurance will be granted or renewed when the insured shall have attained age sixty years nearest birthday. (d) Any loan insurance in excess of the total indebtedness to the company under this policy shall be void, and the company will refund to the insured any unearned premium therefor.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If any premium or instalment thereof on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the due date thereof or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium or instalment and any subsequent premium or instalment not paid in cash, with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum to the end of the current policy year, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that such loan value be sufficient and provided that written request therefor has been made by the insured on the company's form at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums or instalments thereof so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made in accordance with the "cash loans" provision above. Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by the insured provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan which may have been previously made hereunder.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of every premium or instalment thereof after the first premium, during which time the policy shall remain in force.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, the insured may, with the consent of the company, at any time while the policy is in force, change the beneficiary by filing with the company at its home office written request therefor, duly acknowledged. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided herein.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment be made in duplicate and both copies filed with the company at its home office, when one copy will be returned. The company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

THE AMOUNT OF INSURANCE is payable to the beneficiary immediately upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from the date hereof this policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums and except for violation of its conditions as to military or naval service in time of war. This policy is unrestricted from issue as to travel, residence or occupation or as to military or naval service in time of peace. Death while engaged in military or naval service in time of war or in consequence of such service shall render the company liable for only the reserve under this policy unless the company's permission to engage in such service shall have been obtained and such extra premium or premiums as the company may require shall have been paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default in premium payment, upon written application by the insured and presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated, upon the payment of arrears of premiums with compound interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the amount of insurance as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment in instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy (including any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at death) will be deducted in any settlement or payment under this policy.

MODIFICATIONS.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, the first vice-president, the actuary or the secretary. No agent has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other policy, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture, to grant any permit or to bind the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or information.

STATEMENTS OF THE INSURED.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the written application.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during one year from the date hereof, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company, but in such event the company will return the premium paid.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount of insurance payable shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—The insured may, at the end of the third policy year, or at any time thereafter during the period of thirty-one days following the due date of any unpaid premium or instalment thereof, either (a) surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value; or, (b) surrender this policy at the home office of the company for a policy of paid up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions, except as to premium payments, as this policy, or, (c) have the full amount of insurance continued in force as extended term insurance from the due date of the unpaid premium.

The cash value shall be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values and shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended term insurance. At the option of the company, payment of the cash value may be deferred for not to exceed ninety days after application therefor is made.

The amount of paid-up insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values. If there be any indebtedness the amount of paid-up insurance otherwise available shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such paid-up insurance.

The period of the extended term insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the period indicated in the table of loan and surrender values, and, if the insured survive to the end of such period, there shall be paid him in cash the amount of pure endowment, if any, stated in said table. If there be any indebtedness the same shall be deducted from the sum of the net values of the extended term insurance and pure endowment otherwise available and the amount of insurance continued for the period purchased by such difference applied as a net single premium; provided, that, if such difference be in excess of the net single premium which will purchase term insurance for the period indicated in the absence of indebtedness, such excess shall be applied as a net single premium to purchase pure endowment payable to the insured in cash if living at the end of such period.

If the insured shall not surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash value as provided in option (a) above, or for a policy of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the amount of insurance will be continued in force as extended term insurance as provided in option (c).

All net values and net single premiums herein mentioned shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana. The net value of each benefit in the table is equal to the reserve less a surrender charge in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount of insurance under this policy. If fractional premiums in addition to premiums for whole years be paid, due allowance will be made in the above benefits. Values for each year after the twentieth, not shown in the table, will be equivalent to the full reserve. After the end of the premium paying period, if no premium be in default, the cash value hereof will be available on surrender of this policy at the end of any policy year or within thirty-one days thereafter.

The consideration for this policy shall be the application therefor and a premium of three hundred six and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars for the period terminating August 15, 1916, and a premium of like amount payable on said date and annually thereafter during the continuance of this policy or until twenty such premiums in all shall have been paid.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.

The insured may, at any time while this policy is in force, elect by written request on the company's form therefor that, instead of being payable in one sum, the amount payable to the beneficiary as a death claim shall be payable in equal annual or monthly instalments for any number of years from two to twenty-five, or for twenty years and to continue so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. Like request may be made by the beneficiary should the insured die without having made such request.

The instalment privilege shall not be operative if the beneficiary be other than a natural person or if the amount payable as a death claim be less than $1000 after deducting any indebtedness.

The amount of each instalment shall be as indicated in the following table, which is based on $1000 insurance, but which will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy.

In the event of the death of the beneficiary before all the provided instalments have been paid, those remaining unpaid will be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum interest and payment of the commuted amount will be made in one sum to the beneficiary's estate.

The beneficiary shall have the right to assign any unpaid instalments only with the consent of the insured evidenced by endorsement on the policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make application for insurance in American Central Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., and agree that the statements and agreements herein and the statements to the medical examiner in Part II of application are made for the purpose of securing this insurance and declare that all such statements are complete and true without exception unless such exception is indicated. I also agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the payment of the first premium thereon, and the approval of this application by the company. I further agree that any physician may disclose to the company its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to or acquired by him as my physician, and I waive any and all provisions of law which now, or may hereafter, exist exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in his professional capacity or rendering such physician incompetent as a witness. I further agree that no action shall be brought against the company under policy issued on this application after the lapse of six years from the time when the cause of such action shall accrue.

American Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—PERMANENT AND TOTAL DISABILITY PROTECTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $336.

AGE, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia., hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, of Des Moines, Iowa, the insured, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred thirty-six dollars as the premium for one year's term insurance, terminating on the first day of October, 1916, and the minimum reserve, if any, required by law, and in further consideration of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of October in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

A grace of thirty-one days (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, during which time this policy will remain in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable thereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Des Moines, Iowa, or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, auditor, or cashier and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. If the premium payments required on page one hereof shall be continued for nine years beyond the renewal premium paying period of this policy, the cash surrender value hereof shall be equal to the face of the policy at the end of the twenty-ninth policy year. If this option is exercised the dividend options herein provided shall be continued and the cash surrender or loan value at any time shall be the full reserve hereon, including the net value of any existing dividend or paid-up additions.

ANNUAL DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy participates in the surplus of the company as hereinafter provided: At the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter if premiums shall have been duly paid to the end of such year, the company will notify the insured in writing at his postoffice address, as shown by the books of the company, of the amount of surplus which has been apportioned to this policy and the insured shall be entitled to exercise one of the following dividend options: (1) Receive the dividend in cash, or, (2) apply the dividend to the reduction of any premium or premiums or, (3) Convert the dividend to the purchase of paid-up participating insurance additions to this policy at the company's rates then in force, evidence of insurability will not be required, or, (4) leave the dividend to accumulate to the credit of this policy with four per cent annual compound interest, said accumulation or any part thereof, to be payable at the death of the insured, and to be subject to withdrawal within thirty-one days after any anniversary of this policy, or upon surrender of this policy for its cash value after three or more full years' premiums shall have been paid; or without evidence of insurability converted into participating paid-up insurance additions to this policy. If the insured shall fail to notify the company which option has been selected within thirty-one days after any premium shall become due, the company will pay the dividend in cash or apply the same as required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered. If all the premiums shall have been paid and if this policy shall be continued after twenty years under the paid-up insurance option the policy shall continue to participate annually in the surplus of the company during the life of the insured. Whenever the net reserve value of any existing dividend or paid-up additions and the legal reserve on this policy shall equal the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, computed by the standard provided herein, the dividend or paid-up additions may be surrendered and this policy shall become full paid for its face value and shall continue to participate annually in the surplus of the company.

NON-FORFEITURE CONDITIONS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, and if there are no dividends or insurance additions the insurance will be for the term specified in column three of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium. In lieu of such term insurance upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will: (a) Issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in column two of said table, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in column one of said table. The said non-forfeiture benefits shall be increased by the net value of any dividend accumulations or paid-up insurance additions or shall be decreased proportionately by any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy on the same basis used in the calculation of the said benefits. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the non-forfeiture values shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy and any existing additions thereto. The company, in case of necessity, may defer payment of the cash surrender value for not more than ninety days after the application therefor is made.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon the written request of the insured and his assigns, if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the company will charge as an indebtedness against this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum provided the then maximum cash surrender value stipulated in this policy less six per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy. If the death of the insured shall occur while engaged in military or naval service in time of war without previously having obtained from the company a permit therefor, the company's liability shall be limited to the cash premiums paid hereon for three years from date of issuance and thereafter to the legal reserve on this policy. If this policy shall be obtained by fraudulent statements or concealments made in the application or in the answers to the medical examiner, the policy shall be void if the death of the insured shall occur within one year from the date of issuance. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement made by the insured shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed on or attached to the policy when issued. This policy is issued without restrictions as to the residence and travel of the insured and without restriction as to occupation, except military or naval service in time of war as provided herein. Subject to the aforesaid conditions, this policy shall be incontestable after one year, except for non-payment of premiums. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If more than one beneficiary is named this policy shall be payable to the survivors, share and share alike, or the full amount to a single survivor, unless the insured shall otherwise direct in the application for a policy. Any change in the amounts payable to the beneficiaries after the issuance of this policy shall be made only on the written request of the insured accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year plus the net value of any existing additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at not to exceed six per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due, shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the maximum loan value of this policy and any existing additions thereto at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. The loan agreement shall be made in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other returned to the owner of the policy. The company, in case of necessity, may defer the making of any loan for not more than ninety days after the application therefor is made.

OPTIONAL LIFE ANNUITY.—On the anniversary nearest the age of sixty-five of the insured, this policy may be surrendered, and the reserve will then purchase an annuity of $820 payable annually during the life of the insured, the first payment to be deferred one year.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—This policy may be reinstated (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy. In event of such reinstatement the insured may execute a loan agreement for all or part of the maximum loan value of this policy at the date of reinstatement which will be accepted by the company in lieu of a like amount in cash if all past due premiums, interest or other indebtedness in excess thereof shall have been paid in cash.

INSTALLMENT PAYMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in a single sum to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the amount of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company four per cent interest on said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal. Unless the privilege shall have been given in writing by the insured and endorsed on this policy by the company, the beneficiary shall not have the right to commute or assign any instalment payments hereunder.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY PROTECTION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of seventy years and after paying at least one full annual premium, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and while this policy is in full force and effect, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation, he shall be entitled to select one of the following options: (1) The company will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due on this policy, and the premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy at the death of the insured, and the cash, loan, paid-up insurance, and extended insurance values of the policy shall be the same as though the insured had continued to pay all the premiums in cash, or, (2) upon receipt of due proof of the total and permanent disability of the insured, as provided herein, and the payment of any existing loan or other indebtedness against this policy, the company will waive further payment of premiums, and within thirty days thereafter, will pay one-tenth of the face amount insured by this policy to the insured in cash, and a like amount on each anniversary of the first payment until ten instalments shall have been paid hereunder. Payment in annual instalments as herein provided shall extinguish all other rights, benefits and options contained in this policy. In event of the death of the insured before ten instalments shall have been paid, the annual instalment payment shall be continued to the beneficiary of this policy until ten annual instalments shall have been paid to the insured and the beneficiary. If this option is exercised and the insured shall thereafter become able to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, the instalment payments shall cease, and if this policy is continued, the insured shall pay all premiums thereafter falling due. If the policy is then or subsequently surrendered and cancelled the insured shall be entitled to the cash surrender value of this policy at the commencement of the disability period plus the full reserve accumulated from subsequent premium payments, if any, less the total amount paid by the company in disability benefits. If the insured shall elect to continue the policy and shall pay all premiums falling due after the disability period shall have ceased, then at the death of the insured, the total amount paid by the company during the period of disability shall be deducted from the amount payable to the beneficiary. If premium payments are resumed the total amount received by the insured in instalment benefits shall be deducted from the loan value of the policy, and the paid-up insurance and extended insurance values thereof shall be such as the reserve value diminished by the total amount paid by the company during the period of disability, will purchase, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent. The benefits stipulated in this option shall not exceed $10,000 payable in ten equal annual instalments as herein provided, which shall be in full satisfaction of all claims under this policy. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be admitted by the company as total and permanent disability. Total and permanent disability from any other cause which may have been accepted by the company, shall be subject to satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability which the insured shall at any time on demand furnish to the company, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, the benefits and options hereinbefore provided shall cease and determine. Any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured with respect to any alleged permanent total disability, in the manner and at such times as the medical adviser may require. No suit on account of any alleged total and permanent disability shall be maintainable against the company if commenced before the expiration of one year from the date of the commencement of such disability. No claim on account of total and permanent disability shall arise or be valid or enforceable if there is a failure to comply with any of the foregoing provisions. Under the first option this policy shall continue to participate in the surplus of the company in the same manner as though the insured had paid the premiums in cash. Under the second option the net value of any existing dividend or paid-up additions at the commencement of the disability period shall be applied as the insured may direct and this policy shall not participate in surplus during the instalment paying period provided in said second option. Subject to all the aforesaid conditions, the permanent total disability protection provided herein shall continue in force and effect until the insured shall have attained the age of seventy years, after which no claim for permanent total disability protection not established prior thereto may be maintained against the company. If the premium paying period shall extend beyond age fifty-five, the annual premium thereafter shall be reduced fifty cents on each one thousand dollars insured by this policy, and the same premium reduction shall be made at any time for any age if the insured shall give written notice to the company that he desires to waive the permanent total disability protection.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. THE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

2. RESERVATIONS TO INSURED.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

3. ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the true age under the company's rates at date of issue, unless the laws of the state in which this policy is issued shall prescribe another method of settlement.

5. POWERS NOT DELEGATED.—Only the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, auditor, or cashier has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

6. RESERVE VALUATION AND DEPOSIT.—The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method with any modification thereof required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered, and all calculations hereunder for the ascertainment of reserve, paid-up insurance, loan and surrender values shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The legal reserve on this policy shall be invested in approved securities and deposited with the State of Iowa as required by law.

7. CONDITIONS OF PAYMENT.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Des Moines, Iowa. Due proofs of death must be furnished to the company at the home office, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim. No action shall be maintainable on this policy unless brought within six years from the time that the beneficiary or claimant shall have had knowledge of the death of the insured. Any indebtedness to the company hereon including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

In witness whereof, The American Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary, executed this policy at Des Moines, Iowa, this first day of October, 1915.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable as provided on page (1) hereof.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—(1) Annual instalments commencing immediately at the death of the insured limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

† ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be 30 years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment shall be $48.40 or a monthly instalment of $4.37 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before 20 annual or 240 monthly instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of 20 annual or 240 monthly instalments shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

3. The insured may direct that any portion of this policy shall be paid in a single sum at his death, and that the balance of the policy shall be paid in limited or continuous instalments pro-rated in accordance with the above table.

4. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable as provided on page (1) hereof.

5. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

6. The payment of the first instalment shall be made upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually or monthly thereafter.

7. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

8. The equivalent value of the limited annual instalments provided in the above section (1) will be paid to the beneficiary in monthly instalments if directed by the insured.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

American Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $353. AGE, 35.

The American Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Lake Charles, Louisiana, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary Doe (wife), beneficiary, subject to the provisions of this policy.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS FOR THE BENEFICIARY AND THE INSURED.—The proceeds of this policy as a death claim (payable to the beneficiary) or as an endowment or cash surrender value (payable to the insured) may be left with the company for the purpose of providing for the person entitled thereto, as annuitant, an annual or monthly income, in accordance with the provisions of the trust fund and instalment privilege on the fourth page hereof.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums stated on the second page hereof for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as herein-after defined, if such proof is received by the company before the insured has attained the age of sixty years and if premiums have been duly paid by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums so paid by the company will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, participating in the surplus of the company, and with the values in the tables herein increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from performing any work or conducting any business for compensation or profit; provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been approved by the company, the company shall at any time, on demand, be furnished satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if such proof is not furnished, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work, or to conduct any business for compensation or profit, any subsequent premiums required hereon must be paid by the insured. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy is absolutely free of conditions or restrictions as to residence, travel, or military or naval service.

THIS INSURANCE IS GRANTED in consideration of the application hereof, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of premiums as herein provided.

PREMIUMS WHEN DUE.—The annual premium of three hundred, fifty-three and ⁰⁰/₁₀₀ dollars will be payable on delivery hereof and on the tenth day of December in each year, until premiums for twenty policy years have been paid or until the prior death of the insured. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept $183.60 semi-annually in advance or $93.50 quarterly in advance. A reduction of $3.00 per annum will be granted on any premiums becoming due hereon after expiration or cancellation of the provision for the disability benefit herein, it being understood that said provision will be cancelled by the company at any time before its expiration, upon receipt at the home office of the insured's written request therefor, accompanied by this policy. The insurance covered by the foregoing premiums will be term insurance until the end of the first policy year, and life insurance thereafter.

GRACE FOR PAYING PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days from date when due will be allowed, without interest charge, for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If a request for an extension of grace for the payment of any such premium, signed by the insured on the company's form, is received at the home office on or before the last day of the aforesaid period of grace, accompanied by the payment of a deposit, on account of the premium, of such amount as the company may require, such extension will be granted by the company for any period desired by the insured within the limit of two hundred and twenty-five days for an annual, one hundred and twenty-five days for a semi-annual and twenty-five days for a quarterly premium, subject to the provisions of said formal request and interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable on or before the date when due, at the home office of the company in Lake Charles, Louisiana, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. If the insured shall die within the period of grace, or while this policy is maintained in force by the payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium, the unpaid premium, or premiums, required to cover the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as herein otherwise provided.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

At the end of the second policy year, or at any time thereafter within thirty-one days from the date to which premiums have been paid, the insured shall have the following options:

1. To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash surrender value or,

2. To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for such non-participating paid-up life policy, as its cash surrender value will purchase; or,

3. To let this policy continue in force for its face amount, plus amount of any dividend additions or deposits, less amount of any indebtedness hereon to the company, as non-participating paid-up term insurance for as long a term from said date as its cash surrender value will purchase. After completion of its premium paying period this policy may be surrendered by the insured to the company for its then cash surrender value.

If this policy is not, within the aforesaid thirty-one days, surrendered under either Option 1 or 2, it will be automatically continued in force in accordance with Option 3, without further loan privilege, but entitled to a cash surrender value, payable to the insured, equal to the full reserve thereon at the time of surrender, or exchangeable for such non-participating paid-up life policy as such cash surrender value will purchase.

The foregoing purchases shall be made at net single premium rates for the then attained age of the insured by the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality.

The cash surrender value of this policy under Option 1 is its cash value as stated in the adjoined table, or as may be computed from the figures given in said table, plus the cash value of any dividend additions or deposits, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, it being understood that each semi-annual or quarterly premium paid after the second policy year in addition to payments for entire years will increase the tabular cash value for the policy year last completed by one-half and one-fourth, respectively, of the current year's increase therein. The tabular cash value is equal to the reserve on this policy by the standard hereinafter named.

The amount of paid-up policy under Option 2, and the term of continued insurance under Option 3, will be as stated in the adjoined table, if premiums have been paid for entire years and if this policy is free from any indebtedness to the company, and without dividend additions or deposits.

END OF LATER YEARS.—The reserve on this policy. The respective insurance equivalents of the reserve on this policy by the standard herein named. Figures will be furnished on application to the home office.

REINSTATEMENT.—The company will reinstate this policy, and any indebtedness thereon in accordance with the loan provisions thereof, at any time after a default in any payment required hereon, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and settlement of all sums in arrears, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, giving the insured every advantage of the loan privilege hereunder in effecting such settlement.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION.—If no claim has been made for the disability benefit hereunder, this policy, while in full force, may be exchanged by the insured without medical re-examination, for a new policy of the same amount, to be issued as of the date of this policy upon any form of life or endowment insurance now written by the company on the lives of persons of the insured's present age, requiring a higher rate of premium based on said age and covering any hazard covered hereby. Such change shall take effect upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on the new policy and the premiums paid on this policy for the same hazards, with compound interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from the due date of each payment to the date of exchange, and upon the surrender of this policy; provided, however, that the payment necessary to secure such exchange shall in no case be less than the difference in the then reserves on the respective policies according to the company's legal standard therefor. The cash value of any dividend additions or deposits to the credit of this policy, as well as any additional cash value of such dividends as would have been credited under the new policy, may be applied toward the aforesaid payment.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the first policy year, and while this policy is in full force, the insured may borrow from the company, on the sole security of this policy, the whole or any part of its loan value, which is the cash value at the end of the current policy year, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and less any unpaid premiums for such year. To obtain any such loan the insured will be required to deliver the policy to the company, together with a certificate of loan signed by the insured on the company's form, and to either leave the policy with the company until the loan is repaid, or allow the endorsement of the loan thereon by the company, in which case the policy will be returned to the insured immediately after completion of the loan. Interest at the rate of six per cent per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance.

PREMIUM CHARGE ACCOUNT.—If a request therefor, signed by the insured on the company's form, is received at the home office while this policy is in full force, a premium charge account will be opened for this policy, and thereafter any premium becoming due hereon and not paid in cash, or otherwise settled on the last day of grace, will be paid by being charged by the company as a loan on the policy, with interest in advance to the end of the current policy year, provided that the loan value of the policy for such year shall be sufficient to cover the charge. Such premium loans shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as cash loans, but no deposit or endorsement of the policy will be required. The charging up of premiums will be discontinued by the company on receipt at the home office of the insured's written request therefor.

GENERAL LOAN PROVISIONS.—Any interest not paid in cash when due will be paid by being added to the principal, with yearly interest in advance at the rate payable on the principal, so long as the total indebtedness to the company against this policy does not exceed its cash value. All or any part of any loan granted hereon by the company may be repaid by the insured at any time while the policy is in full force. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed its cash value, nor until thirty-one days after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company against this policy, or any part of such indebtedness, may be covered by non-participating loan insurance on the life of the insured, and such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of the indebtedness covered thereby when this policy matures as a death claim. Any loan insurance, and increase therein, or revival thereof after any period of discontinuance, will be subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, will be without disability benefit and will take effect upon receipt by the insured of the company's certificate thereof and not before. It will be granted until the end of the current policy year and may be renewed from year to year, with allowance of grace as in the case of the principal insurance hereunder, at the rates stated in the adjoined table, from which each year's premium shall be computed on the basis of the insured's attained age at the time when the loan insurance is granted or renewed; but no loan insurance will be granted or renewed after the insured shall have attained age sixty-five, nor shall it be valid for any portion thereof in excess of any indebtedness hereon to the company, nor remain in force after a default in any payment required on any insurance or benefit under this policy, the unearned premium in any such case being subject to refund by the company.

THIS POLICY PARTICIPATES IN THE SURPLUS OF THE COMPANY, AS FOLLOWS:—The proportion of divisible surplus accruing on this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually, and not otherwise, and the insured shall, at the end of any policy year, have the following: Dividend Options.—1. Draw the dividend in cash; or, 2. Apply the dividend in reduction of premium; or, 3. Apply the dividend to the purchase of a participating paid-up insurance addition to this policy; or, 4. Leave the dividend on deposit with the company to accumulate at such rate of interest, in no event less than three and one-half per cent per annum, as the company shall from time to time determine and allow, any such deposit and interest to be paid with the other proceeds of this policy at its maturity, or to the insured, on demand, prior to maturity.

Any dividend not disposed of by the insured under Options 1, 2 or 4, will, without action of the insured, be applied by the Company to the purchase of an addition in accordance with Option 3, which may be reconverted into cash by the insured at any time while this policy is in full force and disposed of under any one of the other dividend options. The cash value of any such addition is the full reserve thereon by the standard hereinafter named, and never less than the original dividend.

Dividend deposits may be applied to shorten the premium-paying period of the insurance, or to mature this policy as an endowment as follows: The insured may exchange this policy for a participating paid-up life policy for the face amount hereof, when the accumulated dividend deposits, together with the reserve on this policy and on any additions thereto, equal or exceed the net single premium then required for such a policy by the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality; or, the insured may surrender this policy for its face amount in cash, when the accumulated dividend deposits, together with the reserve on this policy and on any additions thereto, equal said face amount.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, if the premiums are duly paid, it being agreed that in case of misstatement of the age of the insured, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In event of self-destruction, whether the insured be sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue of this policy, the insurance hereunder shall be a sum equal to the premiums which have been paid to and received by the company hereon, and no more.

RESERVE STANDARD.—The reserve on this policy shall be based upon the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality and shall during the premium-paying period be computed in accordance with the preliminary term method of valuation; the first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, with the consent of the company and subject to any existing assignment of the policy, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries herein, by filing at the home office a written request on the company's form therefor, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment of this policy, and shall not be held to have notice of any such assignment until the original assignment, or a copy thereof, is received at its home office.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Lake Charles, La., and proof of interest of claimant will be required. The proceeds of cash surrender values, or of cash loans, will be paid by the company within sixty days from the date of the application for such values or loans. Any indebtedness hereon to the company will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor, a copy of which was attached to this policy when delivered, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in said written application.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

After its delivery to and receipt by the insured, this policy takes effect as of the tenth day of December, 1915.

TRUST FUND AND INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The proceeds of this policy as a death claim (payable to the beneficiary) or as an endowment or cash surrender value (payable to the insured), or any part of such proceeds, may be left with the company for the purpose of providing for the person entitled thereto, as annuitant, an annual or monthly income. In accordance with the insured's written request, filed at the company's home office while this policy is in force, the company will, 1. Hold said proceeds, or any part thereof, in trust for the annuitant and pay three and one-half per cent interest thereon annually until the death of the annuitant or termination of the trust, when said proceeds, with any accrued interest thereon, shall be paid to the annuitant, his or her legal representatives or assigns; or, 2. Pay said proceeds, or any part thereof, to the annuitant in equal instalments of annual or monthly income during any period of years from five to twenty-five, in accordance with the following table of "income for fixed number of years;" or, 3. Pay said proceeds, or any part thereof, to the annuitant in equal instalments of annual or monthly income to continue for twenty years in any event, and so long thereafter as the annuitant shall live, in accordance with the following table of "continuous income;" or, 4. Hold any part of the proceeds left with the company, in trust under Option 1, and pay the balance as an income in accordance with Options 2 or 3. The foregoing options, if not exercised by the insured, may after the insured's death, as to the proceeds of this policy payable as a death claim, be exercised by the beneficiary.

The first interest payment under Option 1 will be made one year after the date of termination of this policy; the first income payment under Options 2 and 3 will be made on, or as of, the date of termination.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured or by the beneficiary in electing Option 2 or 3, the company will at any time allow the withdrawal, in cash, of the commuted value of any payments of income yet to be made under Option 2, and, in case of the annuitant's death within the twenty year income period under Option 3, the withdrawal, in cash, of the commuted value of any remainder of said twenty year income, computing the commuted value in either case at three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest.

The trust fund and instalment privilege is not available if this policy be assigned or if the beneficiary be a corporation or a firm. If there be more than one beneficiary, the proceeds of this policy shall be considered as divided into equal parts, unless otherwise provided. The tables of income herein are based on a policy the proceeds of which are $1000 and will apply pro rata to the proceeds of this policy, or to any beneficiary's share of such proceeds, left with the company.

The income under the foregoing options, excepting that payable after the first twenty years in accordance with the following table of "continuous income," will at the end of each "income year" be increased by such extra payment as the company may each year determine and allow from interest earned on its funds in excess of three and one-half per cent per annum.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

This application is made to American Mutual Life Insurance Company of Louisiana. All the following statements and answers, and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the proposed policy. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired. The proposed policy shall not take effect unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and unless also the policy shall have been delivered to and received by me during my continuance in good health.

During the period of one year following the date of issue of the policy of insurance, for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any of the following extra-hazardous occupations or employments: retailing intoxicating liquors, handling electrical wires or dynamos, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track or in switching or in coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is expressly granted by the company. It is understood and agreed that the risk of death will not be covered by the policy if such death occur by my own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year next following the date of issue. It is understood and agreed that the company may reinsure, in whole or in part, on the policy issued on this contract.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $20,000.

American National Assurance Company (Mo.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300.80. AGE, 35.

American National Assurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in St. Louis, Mo., to the beneficiary, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. The beneficiary hereunder, Martha Roe, the insured hereunder, Richard Roe, of St. Louis, county of Jefferson, State of Missouri.

The insured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy after one year from date of issue is incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, and except for violations of the conditions of the policy relating to naval and military service in time of war.

PERIOD OF GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, during which period the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured die within said period of grace, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

FACILITY IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. All premiums are payable either at the home office of the company, or to such agent as shall be designated by the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein otherwise provided. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

INSURED MAY CHANGE THE BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary during the continuance of this policy, by filing with the company a written request therefor accompanied by this policy, such change is to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease; provided that no such change of beneficiary shall be had if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED.—This policy may be reinstated in event of default of premium payments, unless the cash surrender value has been paid, at any time upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all past due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

LIBERAL INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured or beneficiary may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by instalments, as provided on the fourth page hereof.

THE COMPANY WILL MAKE CASH LOANS TO THE INSURED ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—The insured is entitled to cash loans at any time after three full annual premiums have been paid in cash hereon, within sixty days after application therefor, upon proper assignment of this policy to the company. The loans hereon shall not exceed the loan value of this policy at the end of the then current policy year, as provided in the table of values herein contained, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid portion of premium for the balance of said policy year. Interest shall be at a rate of not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the address of the insured, as it appears upon the books of the company, and any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after such notice shall have been given, shall render this policy void.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE IN EVENT OF LAPSE IN PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable, as follows: After premiums shall have been paid in cash hereon for three full years, if any premium or instalment thereof is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, the insurance hereunder will, without action on the part of the insured continue as paid-up term insurance as specified in the table on the third page hereof, but without loan or cash surrender values, as follows:

1. IF THERE IS NO INDEBTEDNESS.—If there is no indebtedness to the company under this policy, the insurance will be for the term specified in Column 2 of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column 1 of said table, or (b) pay the cash value specified in Column 3 of said table within sixty days of application therefor.

2. IF THERE IS AN INDEBTEDNESS.—If there is any indebtedness to the company under this policy, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance above provided, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and the term insurance will be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid.

In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for such amount as the excess above referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the cash value specified in Column 3 of the table on the third page hereof, less such indebtedness, within sixty days of application therefor.

DISABILITY BENEFIT PROVISION.

If the insured shall become totally and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease, before attaining the age of sixty years, and after the issuance of said policy and the payment of at least one full annual premium thereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, so that he is and will continue to be totally, continuously and permanently disabled for life and thereby prevented from the performance of any work or the transaction of any business for compensation or profit, and shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company agrees to pay for the insured the premiums thereafter becoming due under said policy, such agreement to become operative only after endorsement of the same has been made on said policy by the company. Any premiums so paid shall not be deducted from the sum payable under said policy but shall have the effect of providing the same values and benefits as though the premiums had been actually paid by the insured.

It is further provided that notwithstanding proof of said disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall furnish at any time on demand proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such total and permanent disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if he has become able to perform any work or to transact any business for compensation or profit, all premiums falling due after such disability shall have ceased to be total or permanent must be paid by the insured in accordance with the terms of said policy.

The total and permanent disability benefit hereunder and the continuance thereof are conditioned upon the company being permitted to have a physical examination of the insured made with respect to such disability as often as it may require by a medical examiner designated by the company.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability. (1) The entire and irrevocable loss by the insured of the sight of both eyes, or (2) the severance of both hands above the wrists, or (3) the severance of both feet above the ankles, or (4) the severance of one hand above the wrist and one foot above the ankle, will be treated in the same manner as total and permanent disability within the operation of this agreement.

It is also agreed that this disability benefit provision is issued in consideration of the annual premium of $0.20 per $1000 of insurance, and it may be canceled on any anniversary by either the insured or the company. Such premium will not be payable after this benefit becomes ineffective.

This disability benefit provision shall terminate upon the termination, forfeiture, cancellation or exchange of the policy first herein above described and the company shall not be obligated to issue any similar contract in connection with any substituted policy which may thereafter be issued in exchange therefor.

In the calculation of the loan or cash, paid-up life insurance and paid-up term insurance values shown in this table the proportion of the reserve used equals or exceeds the entire reserve less two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Loan and cash-values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy; figures will be furnished on request to the home office of the company. The term for which the paid-up term insurance will continue and the amount of paid-up life insurance will be such as the cash surrender value will purchase at net single premium rates by the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and subject to the provisions of the "cash loans" clause, are available at any time after three full years premiums have been paid.

The values in the above table are for full paid policy years in the absence of any indebtedness, and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premium beyond the full paid policy years.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) Only the president or vice-president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above. (2) If the age of the insured was misstated, the benefits payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured. (3) This policy is non-participating, and therefore does not participate in the company's surplus nor in profits or dividends earned or apportioned by the company. (4) Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of or sufficiency of any assignment, and the claim of every assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) This policy is payable at the home office of the company at St. Louis, Mo. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, proof of the interest of the claimant must be furnished and any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled. (6) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if the insured shall die or become disabled while engaged in naval or military service in time of war, or in consequence of such service, the amount payable and the liability of the company hereunder shall be limited to an amount equal to the net reserve hereon calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per cent per annum. After one year from the date of this policy, this condition will be waived, if the insured immediately before engaging in such naval or military service, shall pay to the company at its home office an extra cash premium; such extra premium shall be payable annually in advance during the term of such service, and shall be seven and one-half ($7\frac{1}{2}\%$) per cent of the face of this policy. (7) This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy unless it is contained in such application, and a copy thereof attached to the policy when issued. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid and the policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured. (8) In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to a sum equal to one-tenth of the face amount of this policy.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of February, 1917.

This contract will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual renewal premium of three hundred and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of February, 1917, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of February in every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty years from the date hereof shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of the following date.

In witness whereof, the American National Assurance Company has caused this policy to be signed this first day of February, 1916.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.

The insured (or the beneficiary, after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no selection) may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below.

The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by 20 instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $65.25 for each $1000 of insurance.

CONTINUOUS MONTHLY INSTALMENTS.—Three hundred monthly instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary.

If payment by continuous instalments be selected and there is more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly instalment will be $3.71 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the 300 instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the 300 instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree upon behalf of myself or any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon (1) that the statements and answers written in this application, as well as those that may be made to the medical examiner in continuation hereof, are full, true and complete; that no material information or facts which should have been stated have been suppressed, and that the statements herein and those contained in said medical examination are offered to the company as the consideration for the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and that this application and the answers to the medical examiner and the policy to be issued hereon shall together constitute the contract with the company; (2) that no statements or answers made to or received by any person or to the company shall be binding on the company, unless such statements or answers are reduced to writing and are made a part of this application; (3) that if for the first premium on the policy hereby applied for, or for any part thereof, any note shall be given to said company or to any agent thereof, then, if and when said note is not paid at its maturity, the insurance granted by such policy shall ipso facto cease and determine, notwithstanding any provision in the policy to the contrary, and that such part of said premium as may have been paid in cash shall be retained by the company as the earned premium for the term ending with the maturity of such note.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

American National Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS—
DISABILITY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $277.80. AGE, 35.

American National Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to his sister Mary Austin, beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Stephen F. Austin, the insured, while this policy is in force:

And further agrees to pay ten thousand dollars in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred dollars each, in the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb of the insured, or if the insured should become totally and permanently disabled to such an extent as to render it impossible for him to engage in any gainful occupation whatever, such total and permanent disability occurring before the insured has reached the age of sixty years, and while this policy is in force, this payment being in lieu of all other benefits designated in this policy, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt by the company of due and satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, or such injuries as above defined. If the insured should die before all of the said twenty instalments have been fully paid, the remaining instalments may be continued to the beneficiary hereunder or may be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to said beneficiary. The premium payments hereon will cease immediately after the beginning of such disability as above described and will be resumed only as hereinafter provided. The above disability benefit is payable as hereinafter provided.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.—If this policy is kept in force by the payment of premiums hereon in full as stated in the "consideration" paragraph shown on page three hereof, the amount of insurance payable hereunder at the death of the insured will be the sum of ten dollars ($10) for each one thousand dollars of the face amount hereby insured multiplied by the number of full annual premiums paid hereon, less one, in addition to said face amount, making the total sum payable hereunder in any policy year as shown in Column (3) of the "table of death benefits and surrender values" on page two hereof, in addition to the principal sum hereby insured. If the death of the insured occurs during or subsequent to the twentieth policy year the full amount insured under this policy shall be the sum of twelve thousand ($12,000) dollars. The insured may elect, however, to apply the cash value of the annual addition for the ensuing policy year in part payment of the annual premium due hereon at the beginning of any such policy year. The amount then due the company hereon for any policy year shall be the annual premium stated on page three hereof, less the cash value shown in Column (2) of the "table of death benefits and surrender values" herein for the year for which said premium is due.

OPTIONS AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If the insured is living on the tenth day of January, 1936, and if all premiums have been duly paid to said date, and not otherwise, the insured shall then have the option of receiving: (1) A fully paid-up policy for $5350 or (2) a guaranteed surrender value of $3,030, or, (3) a guaranteed annual income for life of $230, payable at the end of each policy year. The above guaranteed options will be increased by an amount equal or equivalent to the value of any guaranteed annual additions then in force. If no other option has been selected by the insured within one month from the date above entered, this policy will be continued in force subject to the payment of premiums as herein provided.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are payable in advance either at the home office or to any agent upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company. No officer other than those stated, and no agent has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then not unless said promises or representations are in writing and signed by one of the officers stated. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided in this policy. The method of payment of premiums hereon may be changed at any time after the first policy year upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company. If this policy becomes a claim by the death of the insured, any remaining premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first, without any interest charge therefor, during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force; if, however, the insured shall die within said period of grace, the unpaid balance of the premium or premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company, and shall be incontestable for any cause whatever after one year from the date of issue, provided premiums are duly paid. If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, or die as a consequence of the violation of law, the company shall be liable only for the premium actually paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations, and not warranties. If the age of insured has been misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company at any time while this policy is in force will loan upon the proper assignment of said policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner hereof, less than the reserve hereon at the end of the current policy year, including the reserve on any annual additions then in force. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; said loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default.

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, and if no other surrender option has been chosen by the insured within the month of grace, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, charge the amount then due hereunder as a loan against the policy, with interest in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, if the loan value hereon at date of default, including the loan value of any existing annual additions, is sufficient to secure all indebtedness hereunder with interest. If the premium is so charged, this policy will be continued in force the same in all respects as though said loan had been requested by the insured. The same benefit will be applied from time to time as the premiums become due hereunder and are not paid, as long as the balance of the loan value hereon at the last date of default is sufficient to pay for one day's insurance on a pro-rata basis. Notice of such loans will be mailed to the insured when made, and said insured may resume the payment of premiums hereon at any time without medical re-examination while the policy is so continued in force. The indebtedness hereon may be repaid wholly or in part in cash, or may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy. In any settlement of the policy the indebtedness to the company hereon shall be a first lien in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy may be surrendered to the company within the month of grace, and the insured shall upon request be entitled to one of the following options: 1. Cash.—A cash payment equal to the loan value hereon at the date of default, including the loan value of any existing annual additions, and said cash payment shall be equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. 2. Paid-up Insurance.—A paid-up policy payable at the same time, and under the same conditions as this policy, including any outstanding annual additions. 3. Extended Insurance.—Extended insurance for the face amount of this policy, and the value of any existing annual additions in cash. The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance if the cash values of annual additions have been applied in the payment of premiums hereon, are shown in Columns 5, 6 and 7 respectively, of the table of death benefits and surrender values shown herein and are equal or equivalent to the full reserve hereon at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If all premiums hereon as shown on page three have been paid in full to the company, the cash value in case of default in premium payments will be the sum of Columns 4 and 5, the paid-up insurance will be the sum of Columns 3 and 6, and the extended insurance will be as shown in Column 7 and in addition the cash value in Column 4. Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid for, and the values for later years not shown in the table will be equal or equivalent to the full reserve on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If, in event of default in any premium payments hereon, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, and if such paid-up insurance or extended insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled, the policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon if not greater than the loan value at the date of reinstatement may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy.

METHOD OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face amount of this policy, unless otherwise requested by the insured, will be payable in one sum immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of said insured. The insured may, however, change the method of payment to annual instalments for a limited term of years, or during the lifetime of the beneficiary, as explained in the table shown on the fourth page hereof.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—The benefits provided on page one hereof for total disability shall become null and void after the period for the payment of premiums hereunder, or if upon default in the payment of any premium, paid-up insurance or extended insurance has been requested by the insured and is in force. The total and permanent disability referred to must be such that there is neither then nor at any time thereafter any work, occupation or profession that the insured can sufficiently do or follow to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit. The insured must furnish from time to time evidence satisfactory to the company of continued total and permanent disability, and if the insured shall recover from such total disability sufficiently to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit, the insured shall resume payment of premiums on the next succeeding due date of premium. The instalments already paid shall not in such case be an indebtedness against the policy. It is understood and agreed that the entire and irrevocable loss of sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, or the entire and irrevocable loss of sight of one eye and the severance of one entire foot or hand will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

METHOD OF CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy filed at the home office of the company as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy by filing such request at the home office upon the form of the company for this purpose, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, whereupon the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof has been filed at the home office of the company, which shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment, and any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of assignment and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured, or in the payment of any other benefit. If this policy shall lapse and there shall be an indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at date of default, and the balance will be (A) paid to the insured in cash, or (B), applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance, or (C), applied to extend the face amount of the insurance hereunder, at the option of said insured; and said value shall be calculated upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—It is understood and agreed that the insured may obtain every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured by this policy without the consent of the beneficiary.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the application herefor, which is made a part of this contract and a copy of which application is attached hereto or endorsed hereon, and the payment of an annual premium of $277.80 for term insurance for the year ending on the tenth day of January, 1917, and the payment of a like sum on or before the tenth day of January in each year thereafter until premiums have been paid for twenty full years, after which time the annual premium will be reduced to $226.50, which amount will be due and payable on the tenth day of January in every year until the death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The American National Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary this tenth day of January, 1916.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments as stated below. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000 these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below. Any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be 31 years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $48 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary; but, if the beneficiary should die before the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that, if I shall die outside the limits of the United States or Europe, during the first year of any policy issued by the company on this application as a basis therefor, that the liability of the company on any such policy shall be restricted to the amount of premium paid thereon. I hereby further represent and agree that the statements made by me in this application are full, complete and literally true. I hereby also agree that any policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my insurability. I have not been declined or postponed, or been refused reinstatement of a lapsed policy, by any life company or been limited to a policy different in form, premium rate, or any other respect whatever, from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity or other hereditary disease in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, except as herein stated: I do not contemplate any change in occupation or residence, or a journey outside the limits of the United States or Europe, except as herein stated.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $15,000.

Amicable Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318.60. AGE, 35.

Amicable Life Insurance Company, of Waco, Tex., promises to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in Waco, Tex., as follows: To beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured, with right of revocation, immediately upon receipt of due proof of death, during the continuance of this policy, of insured John Doe, of Waco, State of Texas.

This insurance is granted in consideration of three hundred eighteen and $\frac{6}{100}$ dollars, being the first premium for insurance to May 16, 1912, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and in further consideration of three hundred eighteen and $\frac{6}{100}$ dollars, to be paid on May 16, 1912, and of a like amount on the sixteenth day of May in each year until the death of the insured, or until premiums, including the first, shall have been paid for twenty full years; or, the insured may at the time any premium falls due pay, in lieu of an annual premium, a semi-annual premium of one hundred sixty-five and $\frac{6}{100}$ dollars, or a quarterly premium of eighty-four and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, and such premium will continue the insurance in force for the time for which paid. This policy takes effect on May 16, 1911, and the insurance years, and all subsequent provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and automatic extended insurance are computed from that date.

This insurance is granted in further consideration of the agreements and provisions written and printed by the company on the following pages which are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Amicable Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, this sixteenth day of May, 1911.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, and at the end of the tenth year and there after are equal to the full reserve according to the foregoing standard. The values for the succeeding years will be extended upon request, and will be the full reserve according to said standard.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, at any time while this policy is in force, the company will loan, upon execution of a proper loan agreement by the insured, and on a proper assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the amount at the end of the current contract year named in the above table under the head of "cash or loan value," at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum payable in advance. The company may deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness against the policy, and may defer such loan for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, as shown in the table above named.

NON-FORFEITURE.—In event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will, subject to the other conditions of this policy, grant the following option:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extend automatically as a term policy the amount insured by this policy for the time named in the above table under the head of 'extended insurance.' In lieu of such extended insurance, in event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, this policy being in force and all premiums having been duly paid, the company will, upon surrender to it of this policy at its home office within one month from date of such default in premium payment, grant one of the following options:

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Paid-up insurance payable at death for the sum named in the above table under the head of 'paid-up life insurance,' the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder; or,

CASH VALUE.—Cash surrender value for the amount named in the above table under the head of 'cash or loan value,' the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder, and payment of such cash surrender value may be deferred by the company for not more than six months after application therefor has been made. Any indebtedness existing against this policy at date of such default, shall correspondingly reduce all values given in the table above.

DISABILITY.—If after two annual premiums have been fully paid in cash and while there is and has been no default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, subsequently becoming due, the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall and whenever required furnish proofs satisfactory to the company that he has been, prior to attaining the age of sixty, totally disabled and that he probably will be permanently and continuously totally disabled for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations by reason of bodily injuries or disease, the company will agree in writing endorsed on this policy to pay all the premiums of the insured during the continuance of such total disability, and in such event the cash loan and surrender values as given above shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were paid in cash by the insured. If, however, the insured shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the premium paying period, the obligation on his part to pay the premiums in accordance with this policy shall immediately recommence, but only from the date of such recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person in case of injury or disease and so often as it requires.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

AUTHORITY.—No one on behalf of the company has any power or authority to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, to grant credit, or to extend the time for paying any premium, or to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information, as such powers can only be exercised in writing by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, and shall not be delegated.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured has the right, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to receive any benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. The right of revocation having been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CONTRACT.—This contract shall, at all times and places, be held to have been made at Waco, Texas, and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of said State.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which this policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum; and if death occurs within the one month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. This policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums if two years shall have elapsed from its date: provided, that in case of the death of the insured by his own hand while sane or insane within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability shall be limited to the amount of the premiums paid hereon; and provided further, that if the insured shall enter or be engaged in any military or naval service in time of war, without a written permit therefor issued by the company, no claim shall exist under this policy, except for the net premiums paid hereunder as calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including loans and interest accumulation, and any balance of the policy year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

PREMIUMS.—The first year's premium only may be paid to the agent. All subsequent premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company without notice. However, such subsequent premiums may be paid to an authorized agent of the company before the date when due, but only in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated on such receipt. Upon failure to pay a premium on or before the date when due, or any note or other obligation given therefor this policy shall thereupon cease without any action or notice by the company, and all rights shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon, is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums becoming due is sent to the insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death and validity of the claim must be furnished the company at its home office on the company's forms, within one year after the death of the insured. No suit or action under this policy against the company shall be valid unless brought within two years from the time when the right of action first accrues.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—It in the event of default in premium payments, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, this policy may be re-instated within three years from the date of such default, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application for this policy and to the medical examiner shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, with any modification thereof required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered, and the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender value benefits.

INSTALMENTS.—The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income. The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) to pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum; such proceeds or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) to pay the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant.

If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary cannot assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is indorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest.

No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in the contract.

If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income, the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to an annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the annuitant.

The first payment of life or limited income shall be made as follows: Upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the receipt of due proof of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

LIFE INCOME.—Annual income to be paid for at least twenty-five years, but to continue during entire lifetime of insured or beneficiary as the case may be.

* If the annuitant is thirty years of age, last birthday, when the proceeds of the policy are payable, the amount of each annual income will be $47 for each $1,000 of the proceeds of the policy, payable during the entire lifetime of the annuitant; but if the annuitant should die before at least twenty-five annual incomes shall have been paid, the remainder of such twenty-five annual incomes will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree as follows: (1) That I will accept the policy if issued as applied for, but the same shall not take effect until this application, which I agree to complete by submitting promptly to such medical examination as is required by the company, has been accepted by the company at its home office, and the first premium shall have been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent during my lifetime and continued good health. (2) That no contract of insurance shall be valid if, during the first year following its date, I engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations: Handling dynamos or live electric light wires, blasting, mining, sub-marine operations, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track as fireman, brakeman, freight conductor or trackman, or in switching, or in coupling or uncoupling cars, or as seaman on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is first expressly granted by the company. (3) That any physician may, at any and all times, disclose any information heretofore or hereafter in any way acquired concerning any question arising under any of my statements or answers for such contract of insurance. I have read the above questions and answers of this application, also the conditions of a sample policy of the kind above described for which I am hereby applying, and I agree that inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the authorized agent soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be in writing upon this application in the space below following "special instructions."

Atlantic Life Insurance Company.

20-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.

AGE, 35.

Atlantic Life Insurance Company, Richmond, Va., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or to any substituted beneficiary, at its home office, Richmond, Va., immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of the death of John Doe of Richmond, Va.

INVESTMENT AND INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—At the written request of the insured, the company will provide by endorsement on this contract that the amount payable hereunder, or any portion thereof, when the same matures as a death claim, shall be left with the company as a trust fund for such period as the insured may direct, the beneficiary to receive semi-annually interest at the rate earned by the company (after deducting losses on investments) on its admitted assets during the preceding calendar year, less one-eighth of one per cent. of the amount of said trust fund for investment expenses. The principal sum left in trust under this provision shall be payable in cash to the beneficiary or to the estate of the beneficiary on the expiry of the period stipulated by the insured. The insured may also stipulate in said request that no assignment or hypothecation of this contract, or any part thereof, or any income therefrom, shall be made by the beneficiary. In lieu of the above, the insured may also exercise any one of the instalment options provided on the fourth page hereof.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—The company will determine at the end of each year the amount of surplus to be allotted to this contract. Upon payment in cash of the second and each succeeding premium, the surplus allotted to this contract shall, at the option of the insured, be either—(1) Paid in cash; or, (2) Applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) Applied without re-examination to the purchase of non-forfeitable additional paid-up participating insurance payable at the same time and in the same manner as the principal sum herein provided; or, (4) Left with the company to accumulate to the credit of this contract with interest at three and one-half per cent for each full year left with the company, said interest to be compounded annually. When the reserve on this contract, together with such accumulations, shall equal the net single premium required to purchase a paid-up contract for the principal sum herein provided at the attained age of the insured, this contract shall then become paid-up for its full amount, and no further premiums shall be required. The amount of surplus on deposit may be withdrawn by the insured at any time. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requesting such election, it shall be construed as an election on the part of the insured to continue this contract under option (3). After all premiums required by this contract shall have been paid, it shall, while continued in force, participate annually in the surplus as herein provided. Should the premiums be paid otherwise than annually, the surplus shall be applied in the manner in which premiums are paid.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.—If, prior to attaining age sixty, while this contract is in full force by the payment of premiums, the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this contract, he has become totally and permanently disabled, and will by such disablement be prevented for life from engaging in any gainful occupation, the company will by endorsement hereon waive the payment of premiums falling due during the continuance of such disability, and the right of the insured to dividends or surrender values shall continue as if the premiums were duly paid by the insured. Should such total and permanent disability occur after the insured attains age sixty, the company will advance future premiums as they become due as a lien against the contract without charging interest on such advances.

OPTIONAL BENEFITS.—In lieu of the benefit aforesaid, the company will, on like proof of such disability before the insured attains age sixty and on surrender and cancellation of this contract, issue a new contract in lieu thereof providing for the payment to the insured in ten equal annual instalments of the sum due in the event of death, the first instalment to be payable on approval of the aforesaid proof and surrender of this contract, and subsequent instalments annually thereafter. In the event of the death of the insured before the said ten instalments shall have been paid the amount of the remaining unpaid instalments shall be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. Any indebtedness to the company secured by this contract shall reduce the amount of each instalment by the proportion that said indebtedness bears to the commuted value of said instalments. At the option of the insured any or all of the aforesaid instalments may be left with the company under the terms of the investment option.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which time this contract will remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums except the first, subject to interest at six per cent per annum for the days past due

PREMIUM.—This contract is issued in consideration of the written and printed application, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment of three hundred seventy-three dollars in advance, before this contract shall take effect, as the premium for an insurance terminating one year from the date hereof, and will be renewed and extended thereafter as a limited payment life contract upon the further payment of a like amount due one year from the date hereof and on the same anniversary day in every year thereafter and payable on said date annually or within the grace period as above provided until a total of twenty annual premiums shall have been paid on this contract.

SPECIFIC CAUSES OF DISABILITY.—The company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss by accident or disease of the sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet, or of one hand and one foot, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

OCCUPATION AND TRAVEL.—This contract is entirely free from all restrictions as to residence, occupation and travel.

INCONTESTABLE.—This contract shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium, provided, however, that if the age of the insured is misstated the amount payable under this contract shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured.

SUICIDE.—Should the insured die by his own act (whether sane or insane) within one year after the date of this contract, the company's liability shall not exceed the premium paid on account of this contract.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this contract has not been assigned, the insured may change the beneficiary at any time by filing at the home office written request for such change on the company's form, and by forwarding this contract for endorsement of change. If the beneficiary does not survive the insured, the proceeds hereof shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE PROVISION.—Upon the non-payment of any premium after the second, the company will advance such premium, also subsequent unpaid premiums, with interest at six per cent per annum due annually in advance, as a premium loan secured by this contract, so long as such loan together with all other indebtedness and with interest at six per cent per annum does not exceed the cash value of this contract at the end of the period to which any such premium or interest applies. All indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the contract ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. At any time while this contract is continued as aforesaid, payment of premiums may be resumed without any medical re-examination of the insured. If the available cash value be insufficient to pay a full annual premium, the company will continue the insurance under the extended term insurance provision set forth herein for such time as the balance of value will permit. Should the total liens charged against this contract at any time exceed the cash value thereof, the insurance hereunder will terminate one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After premiums for two full years have been paid, on the non-payment of any succeeding premium, this contract shall, after endorsement by the company upon request of the insured within ninety days (including days of grace) after said non-payment, take effect for the amount of paid-up participating insurance stated in the table of surrender values herein as determined by the number of years the contract has been in force by payment of premiums.

CASH VALUE OR EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After premiums for two full years have been paid, on the non-payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, on satisfactory release and surrender of this contract within ninety days thereafter (including days of grace), shall be entitled to the cash surrender value as stated in the table of surrender values, or in lieu thereof the insured shall be entitled to participating extended term insurance as stated in said table. The aforesaid values shall be determined by the number of full annual premiums paid on this contract, and the acceptance of either one of these values shall be in lieu of all other values herein provided. Such values are based upon the reserve by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Payment of the cash value may be deferred ninety days.

LOAN VALUE.—The company will make loans to the insured upon the sole security of this contract at any time after premiums for two full years have been paid, and while this contract is in full force. The amount of such loans shall not exceed the cash surrender value at the end of the year for which premiums in full (excluding premiums paid in advance) have been paid, and shall include any previous loans or liens then unpaid. Interest shall be paid annually in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, but should the insured fail to pay interest on said loan or any premium due on this contract, the company shall advance said interest and premium on the security of this contract as an additional lien, bearing interest as above, in accordance with the terms of the automatic non-forfeiture provision of this contract. Upon endorsement on the contract by the company as to the existence of any loan, the contract will be returned to the insured. Payment of loans, unless for premiums due the company, may be deferred ninety days.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this contract, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof, will be deducted in any cash settlement of this contract, or will be deducted from the reserve used in the calculation of any benefit provided herein.

PREMIUMS—WHERE AND HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums are payable annually in advance at the home office, Richmond, Va., but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer.

PROOF OF DISABILITY.—After acceptance of either of the disability provisions herein provided, the insured shall keep the company informed at all times of his residence and address shall give immediate notice should such total disability not prove to be permanent, and shall on demand of the company at any time and from time to time furnish additional proof of the continuance of such disability, and permit the company to examine him. Should disability not prove total and permanent, notwithstanding prior approval by the company of proof thereof, instalment payments or waiver of premiums shall be discontinued, and the insured shall have the option of reinstating this contract for its face value, less any instalment payments received, upon payment of the premiums due thereafter (according to the rate used in determining the premium for this contract) for the amount of insurance to be continued.

REINSTATEMENT.—This contract, should it have lapsed, may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all past due premiums, with interest at six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness or cash payment made on account of this contract with interest at the same rate.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this contract must be made in duplicate, and one copy filed at the home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

ADDITIONAL DEPOSIT.—In addition to the premium mentioned on the first page, the insured may, at any time within ten years from the date of contract, if in force by payment of premiums, elect to make an additional annual deposit, which shall be accumulated by the company as a pure endowment, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The accumulated value of such payments will be added to the cash or loan value stated on the third page hereof, and when the reserve on this contract, plus the accumulated deposits, equals the single premium for a life policy at the attained age of the insured, this contract shall become fully paid-up, or deposits may be continued until the reserve, plus such accumulations, equals the face of the policy, when it will be paid as an endowment. The provisions of the clause entitled "permanent disability benefits" shall not apply to this additional deposit.

THE CONTRACT.—This contract cannot be modified except by endorsement signed by an executive officer of the company, and no agent is authorized to extend the time for payment of any premium, waive provisions, modify or discharge contracts. This contract is not to take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during the life and good health of the insured, but after said event shall be considered as having been in force from the date hereof.

LOAN PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF DEATH.—The insured may upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company provide by a certificate to be issued at the home office for the cancellation, when death claim under this contract is paid, of any indebtedness outstanding by reason of a policy loan against this contract. Said certificate shall not take effect until its receipt by the insured; it shall not be issued for a period exceeding one year, but may be renewed from year to year upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company; it shall automatically be reduced or cancelled upon the partial or complete payment of the indebtedness, in which event the unearned portion of the premium shall be refunded. The premium on the original certificate and on each renewal thereof shall be paid in advance; it shall be based upon the attained age of the insured at issue or renewal and shall be calculated according to the following schedule of rates:

If there be any indebtedness against this contract, the amount of same will be deducted from any cash or loan value paid. If paid-up or extended insurance be selected in accordance with the foregoing options, any indebtedness will reduce such paid-up or extended insurance by the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the reserve value of the benefit selected.

In witness whereof, the Atlantic Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president or one of its vice-presidents, and its secretary or assistant secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer, at Richmond, Va., and dated the first day of January, 1913.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this contract, if not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a contract of $1,000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this contract, provided the amount is not less than $1,000; if the amount is less than $1,000, these instalment options shall not apply, but the proceeds of this contract will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to number stated below:

No. of annual instalments...	30	25	20	15	10	5

Or first instalment.....	188	197	177	181	239	357
And succeeding instalments...	45	50	60	75	100	175

On each anniversary of the first instalment, there shall be paid (out only so long as instalments are being paid) an interest dividend of such amount as shall be determined by the company.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Equal annual instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary, but twenty annual instalments at least to be paid.

EXAMPLE.—If the attained age of the beneficiary at the death of the insured is 45, the continuous instalment will be $56.

On each anniversary of the first instalment, there shall be paid (but only so long as said instalments are being paid) an interest dividend of such amount as shall be determined by the company.

The insured may subsequently change any selection of instalment options; and may also revoke any selection, thereby making this contract again payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately on the maturity of the contract, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. Each selection, change or revocation of a selection, shall be made by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—1. I agree that this application and the answers made to the medical examiner in part II. of said application shall be the basis of the contract between the parties hereto, and shall be conclusive upon any person having or claiming any interest in any insurance to be issued. (2) That no statements or information, by whomsoever made or given, shall be binding on the parties hereto unless contained in this application or the policy issued thereon. (3) That any payment in advance shall be binding on the company only in accordance with an authorized agent's receipt on the form below bearing the same number as this application, and corresponding with settlement named in said receipt. (4) That the truthfulness of each statement is material to the risk and is the sole basis of the proposed contract.

PART II.—I hereby warrant and agree (1) that all the aforesaid statements and answers, and all those contained in part I. of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for policy, which I hereby agree shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during my life and good health, and a receipt given therefor, signed by an executive officer of said company; (2) I expressly waive on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have, or claim an interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he may thereby acquire; (3) That during the first year succeeding the date of any policy, which may be issued hereunder, the insurance shall be term insurance, and that during such year, the reserve to be held by the company therefor shall be computed as for one year term insurance, and thereafter as for a policy issued at the end of such term, and of the form stated in part I. of my application.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

Baltimore Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.

AGE, 35.

Twenty-four hours after death and upon receipt by it, at its home office, of due proof of said death of George Dalton, herein-after called "the insured," the Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., hereinafter called "the company," promises, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, to pay to Louise Dalton (wife), hereinafter called "the beneficiary," or to whomsoever may be designated as such in accordance with the conditions hereof the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Provided, the company receives on account hereof the annual premium in advance of three hundred and fifty dollars on or before the first day of January in every year for twenty full years from the date hereof or until the death of the insured, should the insured die within twenty years from said date, the first of said premiums being due on the date hereof.

The conditions set forth on the reverse side hereof are the conditions above referred to, subject to which the above contract is made, and are a part of this contract as fully as if herein again set forth.

In testimony whereof, the said The Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., has hereto affixed its corporate seal and the president and secretary thereof have signed and delivered this policy.

CONDITIONS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THE WITHIN CONTRACT.

1. After one year, this policy is incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums but in case of misstatement of age it is subject to adjustment as hereinafter provided.

2. During the continuance of this policy the insured may reside anywhere, travel anywhere, and engage in any peaceful and legal occupation, without permit from the company, and without affecting his rights hereunder.

3. A grace of thirty days, during which the policy remains in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums. No interest upon such overdue payments will be charged, if payment be made within the thirty days aforesaid.

4. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, is the entire contract between the company and the insured hereunder, and the truth of each of the statements in said application is a condition precedent to the liability of the company hereunder.

5. The death of the insured by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is not within the risk covered by this policy, and in case thereof nothing shall be due the beneficiary hereunder.

6. This policy shall not be forfeited by any misrepresentation as to the age of insured, but the burden of proving said age shall be upon the beneficiary, and the amount payable under this policy shall be such amount as the premium charged would have purchased according to the company's rates in use at the date hereof for the insured's true age. The age of the insured will, however, be admitted by the company in writing, upon request, and upon due proof furnished by the insured during his or her lifetime.

7. The insured may at any time change the beneficiary hereunder by designating the substituted beneficiary upon the company's form of change of beneficiary and filing the same at their home office, and having the name of such substituted beneficiary entered as such upon the books of the company and endorsed upon this policy, whereupon the rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease, or if the beneficiary under this policy shall die before the insured, the interest of the beneficiary hereunder shall cease immediately, and the amount of this policy will be paid to the estate of the insured.

8. All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Baltimore, Md., but will be accepted when paid to agents of the company in exchange for its receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the agent. Such receipts only will be recognized as evidence of payment of premium, and oral evidence of such payments is not admissible in any case.

9. Proofs of death must be furnished upon the forms prescribed by the company and accompanied by such affidavits as may by said company be deemed necessary.

10. No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained to enforce the performance of this contract until thirty days shall have expired after the filing in the principal office of the company of the proof of death, nor unless such suit or action be commenced within two years next after the decease of the insured, and it is expressly agreed that should any such suit or action be commenced after the expiration of said two years the lapse of time shall be deemed conclusive evidence against the validity of such claim, the benefit of any statute of limitation to the contrary being hereby expressly waived.

11. From the amount due under this policy all indebtedness due the company, together with the balance, if any, of the year's premiums, and any premiums overdue in accordance with clause 3 hereof, shall be first deducted.

12. Assignments hereof will only be recognized when properly executed upon blanks furnished by the company, signed by the insured and the beneficiary, and filed prior to the death of the insured in the company's home office.

13. This contract cannot be altered except by endorsement hereon in writing signed by the president or vice-president of the company.

14. After the premiums upon this policy have been promptly paid for three successive years, the insured may borrow the full amount of the cash value of this policy at the end of the year to which premiums are paid by assigning this policy (the beneficiary joining in such assignment) to the company as collateral, and paying interest upon the amount of the loan, in advance, at the rate of six per cent per annum.

15. If after premiums for three full years shall have been promptly paid to the company there shall be default in the payment of any premium, the company agrees and guarantees the insured the following options based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Paid-up additions on the same basis will increase the said values, either

16. If this policy should default in premium payments it may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default unless the cash value has been duly paid either to the insured or to liquidate a loan hereon or unless the extension period has expired, upon production of evidence of insurability of the insured hereunder satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest for the full time of default at six per cent per annum.

17. After the expiration of two years from the date hereof, providing this policy is continued in force, the board of directors of the company will pay the insured such dividends as in their judgment shall be justified by the profits made by the company upon its policies in this class, and further dividends will thereafter be paid annually as declared, while the policy is in force. The insured has the option of drawing said dividends in cash, or applying them on account of premium payments, or he may use them for the purchase of paid-up additions hereto.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby certify that I have read all the statements and answers in this application, and warrant and agree that no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract applied for, which shall not take effect till the first premium shall have been actually paid on delivery of contract during my life and good health; I further agree that said contract if issued, shall at all times and places be held and construed to have been made at Baltimore, Md.

Bankers Life Company (Ia.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $349.70.

AGE, 35.

Bankers Life Company, Des Moines, Ia., agrees to pay to the beneficiary named under this policy, the sum of ten thousand dollars, upon the death of the insured hereunder, as follows: The insured is Edward J. Doe of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, and the sum above provided for shall be paid upon receipt by the company at its home office of due proof of the insured's death, together with this policy properly surrendered while in full force.

The beneficiary named (with the right of revocation) is Mary Ann Doe, wife of the insured, subject to change in accordance with the provision on the second page of this policy marked "change of beneficiary."

This policy is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application therefor, and of the payment in advance of three hundred forty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, and the further payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred forty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of July, in each year until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years (when this policy shall be paid-up) or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is based upon annual premiums, but beginning with any policy year, instead of the annual payments, the company will accept semi-annual or quarterly payments in advance, at the rates given in the margin hereof, but no payment shall continue the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as hereinafter provided. Each payment made, whether annual, semi-annual or quarterly, shall be considered as indicating the manner in which subsequent payments are to be made unless otherwise requested in advance by the insured in writing to the company at its home office. Any payments required to complete the premiums for the current policy year in which death occurs shall be deducted from the insurance payable.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the first policy year, if the second year's premium is paid in cash, and at the end of each subsequent policy year this policy, while in force (except as extended insurance), shall be credited with its portion of the divisible surplus as annually determined by the company. Such annual dividend may be used by the insured for any one of the following purposes: First—Applied toward the payment of any premium or withdrawn in cash; or second—applied to the purchase of participating paid-up additions to the policy payable with the original insurance; or third—left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at not less than three and one-half per cent per annum as determined by the company and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after any dividend is due, the same shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy (with cash surrender value available at any time at least equal to such dividend), or under such other automatic option as may be required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered.

RESERVE DEPOSIT.—The full reserve on this policy shall be secured by deposits with the insurance department of the State of Iowa of interest bearing securities as required by law; the reserve being based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest and net level premiums. This policy is subject to the provisions set forth on the following pages hereof, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

Dated at Des Moines Ia., the first day of July, 1915.

PROVISIONS.

POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no statement of the insured shall void this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is material and is contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application is attached to this policy when issued. No modification of this contract shall be valid unless signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary of the company.

INCONTESTABILITY—AGE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, provided however, that if the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age, unless the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof is a risk not assumed by this company, but in such case it will return the premiums actually received on this policy.

MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE.—If the death of the insured shall occur within one year from the date of this policy while or as a result of being engaged in military or naval service in time of war, without permission of the company, then the sum payable under this policy shall be the amount of the premiums received.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Des Moines, Ia., but will be accepted elsewhere if paid to a duly authorized collecting agent in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by such agent. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is actually paid and the policy delivered while the insured is in good health and shall then become effective from its date. In case any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy shall cease and determine and all payments made hereon shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise agreed.

GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace without interest will be allowed in payment of any premium after the first; the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period. If death occurs within the period of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The original assignment must be produced when the policy is presented for payment. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, may while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall pass equally to the survivor or survivors, unless otherwise provided in the policy. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then payment shall be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within five years after default in payment of any premium, or thereafter by special arrangement, if this policy has not been surrendered to the company, it may be reinstated upon presentation at the home office of evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company, and the payment of all premium arrears with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

PAID-UP OR MATURED BY DIVIDENDS.—By giving the company written notice at its home office, the insured may elect to have this policy endorsed as a full paid participating life policy for its face amount, when the reserve value of this policy together with the reserve value of any paid-up additions, and the accumulated value of any dividends left at interest to the credit of the policy, (said additions and dividend credits being thereby canceled) equal the net single life premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, for the face amount of the policy, any indebtedness to the company on account of the policy to remain as a lien in accordance with the terms of the policy and with interest payable as provided; or, this policy will be matured as an endowment for its face amount when the reserve values and accumulated dividends above referred to equal said amount of insurance, any indebtedness to the company on account of the policy being deducted in such settlement as herein provided.

OPTION TO CHANGE FORM OF POLICY.—At any time while no premium is in default, this policy, if properly surrendered to the company, may be exchanged, without re-examination, for any form of policy issued by the company at the date hereof and of equal amount requiring a higher rate of premium, upon payment of the differences between the premiums paid hereunder and the premiums for the new policy (based on the age of the insured at the date hereof) with six per cent interest per annum on such differences and with adjustment for the difference in annual dividends.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

In event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the insured shall have the following options:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(a) Without any action on the part of the insured, the insurance will be automatically extended from date of default in premium payments, without participation in surplus, for a sum equal to the face amount of the policy and existing dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The term of extended insurance will be such as the cash surrender value hereinafter provided for will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured. (See table of guarantees below).

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—(b) Upon the written request of the insured and assigns, if any, prior to the expiration of the thirty-one days' grace and the surrender of this policy to the company, it will issue a paid-up participating policy, payable as herein provided. The amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash surrender value, hereinafter provided for, will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured. (See Table of Guarantees below.)

The extended insurance or the paid-up policy will be entitled to cash surrender values according to the reserve thereon at the time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinafter mentioned, less any indebtedness to the company.

CASH VALUE.—(c) Within one month from date of default in premium payment, to surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value, which shall be equal to the entire net reserve on this policy, and dividend additions thereto, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness on the policy and a surrender charge as follows: During the third, fourth and fifth policy years, one per cent of the amount of insurance, and decreasing one-tenth of one per cent annually thereafter until the end of the fourteenth year, after which no surrender charge is made. The payment of such cash value may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, except as extended insurance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, will advance at the rate of six per cent interest per annum, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy less than, the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy year as shown in column four of the "table of guarantees" below, deducting therefrom all indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year and interest in advance to the end of such year on the amount of the loan. Such loan, unless made to pay premiums on this policy, may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any, on record at the home office of the company.

PREMIUM LOANS.—At any time while this policy is not assigned, and while there is no premium in default, the insured may direct by written notice to the company at its home office, that after premiums have been paid for three years, any subsequent premium not paid prior to the expiration of the grace period shall be charged against the policy as a loan at six per cent interest per annum, subject to the provisions above in regard to loans, except that the assignment of the policy shall not be required and the interest shall be added to the loan each year unless paid to the company. Such premium loan may be repaid at any time, and the insured may, at any time, by written notice to the company, revoke the direction for such loan as to premiums thereafter payable.

POLICY CLAIMS.—Upon maturity of this policy its legal surrender will be required, and any indebtedness of the insured to the company under this policy will be deducted in any settlement thereunder. All proofs of death must be furnished upon blanks supplied by the company.

TABLE OF GUARANTEES.

Showing minimum "non-forfeiture" values at the end of years stated for which premiums shall have been paid in full and in case there be no indebtedness on this policy. Loans may also be obtained during the policy year as set forth in loan clause above.

The above named guarantees beyond the twentieth year, if this policy be continued in force, will be based upon the full reserve without any deduction for a surrender charge.

If the sum insured is increased by surplus accumulations, the above guarantees will be increased, but any indebtedness placed upon this policy will operate to reduce said guarantees.

SPECIAL SETTLEMENT OPTIONS

Policy is payable in one sum (as provided in face of policy) unless company is given written notice as indicated below.

WRITTEN NOTICE OF ELECTION REQUIRED.—The insured may elect, by written notice delivered to the company at its home office at any time while this policy is not assigned, that out of the proceeds payable in a single sum as provided in the face of the policy upon the insured's death, any specified amount, instead of being paid in one sum, shall be applied under any one or divided between two or more of the options set out below, except that any amount less than $1000 becoming payable to one beneficiary under any one option shall be paid in a single sum. The insured may revoke such election at any time by written notice delivered to the company at its home office, indicating the manner in which payment shall be made.

OPTION 1. INSTALMENTS AND SINGLE SUM.—The specified amount applied under this option shall be paid (beginning immediately) in twenty annual payments each equal to one-twentieth of said amount and at the end of the twenty year period, a further payment equal to one-half of said amount. Instead of the annual payments, the company will make monthly payments, each equal to one-twelfth of the annual payment upon request of the insured or the beneficiary hereunder.

OPTION 2. LEFT ON DEPOSIT AT INTEREST.—The specified amount applied under this option shall be left with the company on deposit at three and one-half per cent interest per annum payable at the end of each year, or such interest will then be divided into twelve equal instalments payable monthly if request therefor has been made by the insured or the beneficiary hereunder, and unless otherwise directed in the above required notice of election, said specified amount with any accrued interest shall be paid upon the death of the beneficiary hereunder to the executors or administrators of said beneficiary.

OPTION 3. MONTHLY INCOME FOR FIXED PERIOD.—The specified amount applied under this option shall be paid as a monthly income (beginning immediately) for the fixed period stated in the above required notice of election; the monthly payments to be at the rate designated in the following table for each $1000 applied hereunder.

PARTICIPATING SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When settlement is made under this policy, a participating supplementary contract shall be issued to each beneficiary under each of the above options becoming operative, but any specified amount designated to be applied under any one of the above options which becomes payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured shall be paid in one sum, unless the insured has otherwise directed in the required written notice to the company. Interest dividends shall be payable under each supplementary contract as apportioned by the company at the end of each year; such dividends being based upon the apportioned interest earnings in excess of the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on the commuted value of the unsettled payments under options one or three, or on the sum left on deposit under option two, or on the commuted value of the unsettled payments for the minimum fixed period under option four.

BENEFICIARY MAY NOT COMMUTE.—When the insured has elected that payment shall be made to a beneficiary under any one of the above options, said beneficiary shall not have the right to assign or commute the payments provided for, unless the insured has specifically granted that right in the required written notice to the company.

SETTLEMENT FOR COMMUTED VALUE.—If the beneficiary receiving payments under any one of the above options dies during the fixed payment period, the commuted value of any remaining payments shall be paid in one sum, upon surrender of the supplementary contract, to the executors or administrators of said beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in the written notice of election above required; said commuted value to be calculated on the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest per annum and to include all unsettled payments under options one and three and all unsettled payments for the minimum fixed period under option four.

BENEFICIARY OR INSURED MAY ELECT OPTIONS FOR SELF.—Upon the death of the insured, the right granted to the insured to elect settlement under the above options shall be extended to the beneficiary, provided the insured has not otherwise directed. Or if this policy is surrendered by the insured for cash, the cash proceeds may be applied by the insured in whole or in part for his own benefit in exact accordance with the provisions above for payment to the beneficiary.

Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DEFERRED DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $342.

AGE, 35.

The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska hereby grants an insurance for ten thousand dollars on the life of John Jones of Lincoln, county of Lancaster, State of Nebraska, payable to Mary Jones, or in the event of her prior death to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured immediately after the receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this contract, at the office of the company in Lincoln, Neb.

This policy is issued in consideration of the representations and agreements made in the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in the further consideration of the payment of three hundred forty-two dollars, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged and of the payment of a like sum, on or before the first day of July in each and every year during the continuance of this contract until payments for twenty full years have been made.

This policy is delivered and accepted subject to the express conditions and mutual agreements printed on the back hereof which are hereby made a part of this contract. At the end of twenty years from date hereof this policy shall participate in the surplus of the company as provided in the options of settlement herein.

In witness whereof, the Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, and has caused the seal of said company to be affixed at its office in Lincoln, Neb., on this first day of July, 1915.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THIS CONTRACT.

NOTICE.—No person has authority to erase, waive or modify in any way any of the terms or conditions of this policy.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable at the home office of the company, in Lincoln, Neb., but will be accepted elsewhere, when made in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. The delivery and acceptance of this policy is notice that each and every premium is due and payable at the date named in the policy, and any other or further notice is expressly waived. This policy shall not be in force until the first premium shall have been paid, while the insured is in the same condition of health described in the application, to the company or to some person authorized by the company to receive it. A failure to pay premiums, or any indebtedness to the company, on this policy when due shall render this contract void, and all payments previously made shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein-after provided.

GRACE.—A grace of one month will be allowed in payment of subsequent premiums after this policy shall have been in force three months, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, for the number of days during which the premium remains due and unpaid. During the month of grace this policy remains in force, and the unpaid premium, with interest as above, remains an indebtedness to the company, which will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy, if the death of the insured shall occur during the month.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from date of issue, the only conditions which shall be binding upon the holder of this policy are that the premiums shall be paid when due, and that the requirements of the company as to military and naval service in time of war shall be observed. If the insured shall engage in military or naval service in time of war without first obtaining the written consent of the company, this policy shall be null and void and of no effect.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated (unless previously surrendered) at any time within three years after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness to the company on this policy at date of default, with interest thereon until date of reinstatement, will be a first lien against the policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy will be recognized by the company unless it shall be in writing, and assented to by the company. The insured shall have the right to dispose of this policy to the company without the consent of the person or persons named as beneficiary, if any, and shall also have the right at any time during his lifetime, if the policy has not been assigned, to change the beneficiary by written notice accompanied by the policy, with the consent of the company and an endorsement of the change upon the policy by the company.

IF THE AGE of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

THIS POLICY AND THE APPLICATION therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. Statements of the insured, in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless contained in the copy of the written application attached to the policy.

SURRENDER VALUES.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable, as follows: If any premium, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, is not paid before the expiration of the month of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without any action of the insured, or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows:

1. If there is no indebtedness to the company on this policy, the insurance will be for the term specified in column 2 of the table of surrender values herein (the net value of which is the full reserve by the Actuaries' Table of Mortality at four per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy), such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) Issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in column 1 of said table (the net value of which is not less than the full reserve by the Actuaries' Table of Mortality at four per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy), or (b) pay the cash value specified in column 3 of said table (which is not less than the full reserve by the Actuaries' Table of Mortality, at four per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy), payment of which, however, may be deferred for not exceeding six months, at the option of the company.

2. If there is any indebtedness to the company on this policy, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance provided for in paragraph 1 above, and the insurance shall be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid. In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for such amount as the excess referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the cash value specified in column 3 of said table less such indebtedness, payment of which, however, may be deferred for not exceeding six months, at the option of the company. In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the non-forfeitable values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. The values provided for above will be increased by the reserve, less not more than two and one-half per cent of their face amount, on all dividend additions to this policy, if any.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid on this policy, the legal holder will be entitled to cash loans on the sole security of this policy. The aggregate loans hereunder, including any unpaid premiums, and interest to the end of the current policy year, shall not exceed the sum stated in the table of loan values herein (which shall be the full reserve at the end of such current policy year by the Actuaries' Table of Mortality at four per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy). A proper note or loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on forms provided by the company and the policy deposited with the company. Interest shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance; failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness to the company on this policy shall equal or exceed the loan value as given in the table of loan values herein, nor until one month after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, of record at the home office of the company. The values above provided for will be increased by the reserve, less not more than two and one-half per cent of their face amount on all dividend additions, if any, to this policy. The payment of any loan applied for under the above provisions may be deferred for not exceeding six months, at the option of the company.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.—If this policy has not been terminated by death, lapse or surrender, the legal holder shall, at the expiration of twenty years from the date hereof, be entitled to either of the following options of settlement:

FIRST.—To surrender this policy and withdraw in cash the full cash value, which shall be the full cash surrender value and all accumulated surplus apportioned to this policy.

SECOND.—To withdraw the surplus in cash and continue this policy as a paid-up participating life policy for the full face value, entitled to annual cash dividends.

THIRD.—To convert the entire cash value into a paid-up non-forfeitable life policy, without participation in profits, payable at the death of the insured; provided that, as the amount of the paid-up policy will exceed the amount of this policy, the insured will be required to furnish a satisfactory certificate of good health from one of the company's medical examiners, subject to the approval of the company.

FOURTH.—To convert the entire cash value into an annuity upon the life of the insured. If no election is made by the holder of this policy, on or before the expiration of the term as above stated, then, and in that event, this policy will continue as a paid-up participating life policy for the amount as stated herein. Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby expressly stipulated and agreed: 1st. That the above application, together with the statements made to the examining physician, and the report of the examining physician and this declaration, and the policy that may be issued to me, shall be the contract between me and The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska; and I hereby represent the same to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not; this representation being a condition precedent to, and a consideration for, the policy which may be issued hereon. And it is fully understood and agreed, that if any fraudulent answers shall be or shall have been made; or if I should neglect or refuse to pay any premium on or before the dates when they shall become due, then, and in that event, the said policy shall become null and void, and all money which shall have been paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as provided in the policy.

2d. That said company shall not be liable, during the first two years under the policy hereby applied for, if my death shall be the result or consequence of violation of law, or while I am resisting or attempting to escape arrest therefor. It is also understood and agreed, that if I shall engage in blasting, submarine labor, aeronautic travel, the manufacture or handling of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or service upon any vessel or railroad during the first two years under this policy, or in any military or naval service in the time of war, without first obtaining the consent of said company in writing, then the policy shall be null and void and of no effect, except as provided in the policy.

3d. That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises, or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office of this company.

4th. That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy.

5th. And it is agreed that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon paid while the person proposed for insurance is living and in good health.

6th. That no suit shall be brought against said company under said contract after the lapse of six years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

I also understand that no person is authorized to erase, waive, or change in any manner any of the blanks or printed matter used or furnished by the company, or to promise any other terms or conditions than those published by the company in its printed matter.

Values for future years will be furnished upon application, and will be computed upon same basis as for above table. Values at end of any fractional parts of any policy year paid for will be proportionately increased.

The provisions and conditions hereinafter stated are hereby made a part of this contract.

Signed and dated at the home office of The Bankers Reserve Life Company in the city of Omaha, this first day of February, 1908.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

Referred to on the First Page of this Policy.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable after one year from date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums or for military or naval services in time of war without the written consent of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor. A copy of the application is hereto attached when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be granted for payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

3. VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided said policy has not been assigned change the beneficiary, upon written request to the home office of the company, together with a surrender of the policy.

5. PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—Premiums hereon after the first are due and payable in advance, either at the home office or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. Except as herein otherwise provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. This policy is based upon premiums payable annually in advance, but upon written notice to the company the insured shall have the option at the time any premium falls due of paying an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for this kind of policy, and the same will continue this policy in force for the time paid for, the receipt for which must be signed as aforesaid.

6. DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the third policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends accrued as above may, at the option of the insured, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per centum per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary thereof. When at the end of any policy year the dividends so accumulated, plus the cash surrender value hereon, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for a whole life policy at the attained age, the company will at the option of the insured issue, in lieu of this policy, a paid-up, non-participating whole life policy for the face amount hereof. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months from the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

7. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE. FIRST OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon default in the payment of any premium, if the insured has selected no other option, the company, without action on the part of the insured, will continue this policy as a paid-up non-participating whole life policy for the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions hereto, purchasable by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

8. EXTENDED INSURANCE. SECOND OPTION.—If after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, this policy shall lapse by default in the payment of any premium when due, then, upon surrender of this policy within one month after such default, the reserve hereon, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, shall be applied to the extension of this policy for its face amount for the term stated in the second option in the table on the first page hereof, without further payment of premiums, but without future participation or the right to loans. If there be any dividend additions to this policy the values shall be proportionately increased from the reserve on such additions computed upon same basis. If there should be any indebtedness hereon the values shall be diminished proportionately on same basis.

9. CASH SURRENDER VALUE. THIRD OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if this policy is surrendered to the company within one month after the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will pay therefor, within sixty days from the date of such surrender, the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus the reserve on any existing dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. The cash value hereby available is at least equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up insurance and is greater than the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of extended insurance.

10. LOANS. FOURTH OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while this policy is in force, the company, upon written application, will loan, within sixty days after such application is received, an amount not to exceed the loan value of the policy, being the reserve on this policy at end of current policy year plus the reserve on any outstanding dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent, less one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of the dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. At the time of making such loan the policy shall be duly assigned and surrendered to the company as sole security therefor. Interest in advance at six per cent to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid premium for the current policy year shall first be deducted. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

11. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with and approved by the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

12. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated within three years from default in the payment of any premium hereon, upon proof of good health satisfactory to the company and the payment of all defaulted premiums with interest thereon at six per cent per annum. This privilege shall not apply if the policy has been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled.

13. POWER OF AGENTS.—No person other than the president or secretary shall have authority to make, alter or discharge this contract, or to modify or extend any of its terms, conditions or provisions either before or after its issue and delivery. No statement, promise, estimate, representation or waiver of any of the terms, provisions or conditions herein shall be binding upon the company, unless written or printed in the policy and duly signed by said president or secretary.

14. PROOF OF LOSS.—If this policy while in force shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement thereof, less any indebtedness thereon, will be made upon receipt of due proof of death, and upon due notice of death, blanks will be furnished on which to submit proof.

15. PERMANENT DISABILITY OPTION.—Should the insured hereunder become totally and permanently disabled from accident, and while this policy is in full force and effect upon evidence satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company will pay to said insured, on surrender of this policy duly accepted, one-half of the principal sum named on the face of this policy, at the place and within the time thereinbefore mentioned, deducting from the amount thereof any unpaid loan or other indebtedness thereunder. Provided in the event the cash value of the policy and the additions thereto exceeds fifty per cent of the face of the policy, such cash value will be available at date of due proof of disability and approval of said disability claim.

16.—OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy at the death of said insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee, and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice; (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Beneficial Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $368.50. AGE, 35.

The Beneficial Life Insurance Company hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office in Salt Lake City, Utah, the sum of ten thousand dollars, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured) to Jane Doe (wife) (herein called the beneficiary) of the insured, or, in the event of the prior death of the beneficiary, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application hereof, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto and is hereby made a part of this contract, and upon payment in advance of three hundred sixty-eight and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, constituting payment of premium for the term ending on the ninth day of April, 1915; and upon the payment of a like amount on or before the corresponding day in every year hereafter during the life of the insured, until twenty full premiums have been paid.

The privileges and conditions stated on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto.

In witness whereof, the Beneficial Life Insurance Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its president and its secretary, at its home office in Salt Lake City, Utah, this ninth day of April, 1914.

This contract is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel, or place of death. No permit will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are payable in advance either at the home office or to any authorized agent, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by agent of the company, and may be paid either annually, semi-annually or quarterly, according to the rates stated on the fourth page hereof. Any premiums so paid shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium is payable, except as provided hereinafter.

2. GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days (without interest) will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time this policy shall remain in full force and effect. If, however, the insured shall die within said period of grace, the unpaid balance of the premium or premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

3. STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid or be used in defense under the policy unless it is contained in the written and printed application and a copy of such application is endorsed on the policy when issued.

4. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor set out herein, constituting the entire contract between the parties, shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums.

5. SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In the event of self-destruction during the first insurance year, whether the insured be sane or insane, the settlement under this policy shall be a sum equal to the premiums thereon which have been paid to and received by the company, and no more.

6. AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

7. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured shall have full power while this policy is in force (subject to any previous assignment) to change the present beneficiary or beneficiaries. The request for such change shall be made in writing and shall be valid only upon its endorsement upon the policy by the company at its home office.

8. BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid, the owner may elect within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, either (a) To accept the cash surrender value as shown in column one of Table of Loan and Surrender Values, herein, or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance for the amount designated in column two of said table of values payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (c) to have insurance for the face amount of this policy extended from the date of default for the term stated in column three of said table of values. Paid-up insurance or extended term insurance named in (b) and (c) above shall not be subject to the privileges of disability protection. The insured may at any time obtain a loan on paid-up insurance under this policy as provided in section ten (loans), or surrender the policy for its cash surrender value. The cash surrender value, after premiums have been paid for two years or more, will be the reserve on this policy at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum, less the amount of any indebtedness to the company, and less a surrender charge which in no case shall be more than two and one-half per cent. of the sum insured. The amount of paid-up insurance as stated in column 2, or the term for which insurance will be extended, as stated in column 3, will be such as said cash surrender value will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

9. ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy both when paid-up and as premiums are paid beginning with the second policy year, will receive annually such dividends as may be apportioned by the company. Dividends thus apportioned shall, at the option of the insured, be either (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within one month after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends will be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy (option No. 4).

10. LOANS.—After two full years premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will, at any time, advance, upon execution of a proper loan agreement by the insured, and upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than the loan value of the current policy year; at a rate of interest of five per cent per annum, payable in advance. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

11. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—In default of payment of any premium or premiums, if the insured has not selected any of the options contained in section eight (8), the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, apply the cash surrender value of this policy, as shown in column 1 of Table of Loan and Surrender Values, to the payment of premiums falling due hereunder, so long as the said cash surrender value will pay the overdue premiums and all other indebtedness thereon with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum payable annually in advance. This policy shall not lapse so long as the said cash value so applied will pay for one day's insurance on a pro rata basis, but shall be continued in full force and effect in all respects as though the premiums had been paid in cash. At any time while the policy is being continued in force under this benefit the policy-holder may resume the payment of premiums without medical examination. In such event the indebtedness accumulated hereon, or any part thereof, may be paid in cash or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy. Such indebtedness shall at all times constitute a first lien on the policy.

12. DISABILITY PROTECTION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will, at the option of the insured, either: (a) Pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereon during the continuance of such disability, provided, in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract, and the cash loans and other values hereof, as shown in the table herein, shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the insured. The insured shall, however, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums hereon in cash on the first premium due date following such recovery; or (b) pay the insured immediately on account of this policy, one-tenth of the amount insured hereunder, less premiums due, if any, and a like amount annually thereafter, during such disability, until the said amount, less premiums due, and other indebtedness, is paid in full. Or (c) pay to the insured immediately, on account of this policy one-twentieth of the amount insured hereunder, and a like amount annually thereafter, during such disability, until the said amount, less any indebtedness, is paid in full. If, however, the insured shall recover, the annual advance shall cease and any advances already made under provisions (b) or (c) above may be returned in cash or remain charges against this policy. Independently of all other causes, the loss of both hands at or above the wrists, both feet at or above the ankles, loss of one hand and one foot as above or irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this section.

13. LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company against this policy may be covered by loan insurance, and, upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness. Loan insurance shall be subject to the following conditions: (1) Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be required. No loan insurance shall take effect until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof. (2) Premiums must be paid in accordance with the rates in the following table. The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time when such loan insurance is made or renewed. For periods of less than one year, the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the one year's premium for each month and fraction of a month. (3) Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium-paying anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of premium at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after age sixty. (4) Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness, and refund the unearned premium.

14. ASSIGNMENTS.—This company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of any assignment of this policy, unless such assignment be in writing and unless the original or a duplicate shall have been filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. Any claim under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

15. GENERAL.—(1) No alteration of this policy or waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by an officer of the company. (2) The reserve for the first year of this policy shall be computed as for one year term insurance. (3) The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit and exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted the insured by the terms of this policy. (4) At any time, and while in full force, this policy may be exchanged for a policy of the same amount, having higher rate, and upon any plan issued by the company, by paying the difference in premiums from date of issue until date of change, with compound interest at the rate of five per cent. (5) In the event of default in premium payments, unless the cash value has been duly paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding five per cent per annum.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary, after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, or upon the maturity of this policy as an endowment, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per centum of such net sum payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representative or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree, that I am temperate in my habits, am now in good health, and ordinarily have good health, and that in my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner no information has been or will be withheld touching my past and present state of health and habits of life and present and prospective occupations, employments and residence, with which The Beneficial Life Insurance Company should be made acquainted; and that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. It is also understood and agreed on behalf of myself and of any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company on my life, that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health; and that the policy applied for shall be in the form now in use by the company.

I hereby agree that the foregoing statements made to the company's medical examiner, are a part of my application for insurance, are declared to be true and are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract.

Berkshire Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $361.70. AGE, 35.

The insured: John Doe, of New York. The beneficiary: Jane Doe, wife of the insured. Sum insured: ten thousand dollars, payable at death of the insured. The premium: three hundred sixty-one and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, payable upon the delivery of this policy in accordance with the provisions of the application therefor, and a like sum payable on or before the first day of each January succeeding the first day of January, 1914, (which last named date shall be taken as the beginning of the policy year and of the insurance hereunder), until the premiums have been fully paid for twenty successive years, or until the prior death of the insured.

In consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is hereto annexed, and of the payment of premiums as above described, the Berkshire Life Insurance Company promises to pay the sum insured, at its home office in Pittsfield Mass., to the beneficiary herein named upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the death of the insured occurring during the continuance of this policy, and on its surrender, the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year, and any other indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy, being first deducted therefrom; subject, however, to the insured's right, if any, to change the beneficial interest hereunder, as hereinafter specified, and provided that if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, such payment shall be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the said insured.

This policy will be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premium.

The provisions, requirements, and benefits hereinafter stated are hereby referred to and made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the said company has, by its president and by its secretary, or an assistant secretary executed this contract at Pittsfield, Mass., this first day of January, 1914.

PROVISIONS, REQUIREMENTS AND BENEFITS.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—This policy while in force shall not be modified or altered, except upon the request in writing of the insured, and of other parties in interest, if any, and the approval on behalf of the company of the president, a vice-president, the secretary or an assistant secretary. All modifications and alterations shall comply with the legal requirements of the state within which the policy is issued.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the applicant shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the application and a copy of the application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto when the policy is issued.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums are payable in advance at the home office, but will be accepted elsewhere, on or before the date when due, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president, or a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary, and countersigned by the agent authorized to deliver the same. In case of failure to pay any premium when due, or within the grace period, if any, or to pay when due the interest on any premium obligation, the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is set forth hereunder. (See "Non-Forfeiture Benefits.") Subject to the grace provisions of this policy, no premium payment shall continue it in force beyond the date on which the next premium will become due by the terms of this policy or amendments thereto.

GRACE.—After the first premium on this policy has been paid, overdue premiums will be accepted within thirty-one days from the date the premium is due, the policy meantime being continued in force, and the premium unpaid being a lien upon the policy.

SURPLUS.—This policy, while in force, will participate each year in the distribution of the surplus funds of the company. At the option of the holder of the policy, dividends will (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (c) be used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy, or (d) may be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum, payable at the maturity thereof or withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of the policy. If no election is made by the holder of the policy prior to any anniversary thereof the dividend for that anniversary shall be held by the company as provided in option (d).

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS FROM SURPLUS.—If any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the period of grace, the company will apply the dividend accumulations under option (d) to the payment then due, if such accumulations are sufficient to make said payment in full.

PAID-UP OR ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—When the cash value of the policy and additions, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, shall equal the reserve for a fully paid-up policy of the same form and amount at the then attained age of the insured, the company, upon written request, will endorse this policy as fully paid-up; or when such amount shall equal the face of this policy, the company, upon written request and release by all parties in interest, will pay such amount as an endowment, after deducting any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—Upon written request of all parties in interest, this policy, if in full force, may be exchanged at any anniversary of its issue, without medical examination, for any other form of policy now written by the company, except the continuous installment plan, provided the rate of premium shall not be diminished thereby, upon payment of such amount as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, shall bear the same number and date, and shall be written as of the same age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company shall not be held to have notice of any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate thereof, is filed in the company's home office; the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and before payment of the policy the claim of an assignee shall be subject to proof to the satisfaction of the company. No assignment of this policy shall be deemed to transfer the title to any dividends or dividend additions or accumulations, accrued or to accrue hereon, unless the same shall be specifically included in such assignment.

APPOINTING OR CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may, if the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided none be herein named, and also from time to time during the continuance of this policy, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, whether named in the policy or not, by filing with the company a written request therefor. Such appointment or change shall take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company at its home office.

LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and on a proper assignment of this policy, upon its prescribed form, the company, at any time within thirty days after the application therefor, will lend on the sole security of this policy, with interest at five per cent. per annum, payable in advance, the whole or any part of the cash value of the policy and of all paid-up additions thereto at the end of the policy year during which application for the loan is made, provided that from such loan the company will deduct any existing indebtedness on account of or secured by the policy and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan, or pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

TRAVEL, RESIDENCE, OCCUPATION.—This policy is free from any restriction as to travel, residence or occupation.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the rate for the correct age.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.—In case of default in the payment of any premium, after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed with the company at its home office during the period of grace, to elect one of the following options:

1. CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy, and, with the written assent of the person or persons to whom it is made payable, receive within thirty days of the application therefor its then cash value, which will be the cash value stated in the accompanying table, increased by the value of any dividend additions or accumulations and diminished by the amount of any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

2. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in the original contract, for such an amount as its then cash value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium. Such insurance shall participate annually in the distribution of surplus and shall have increasing cash values.

3. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as extended term insurance from the due date of the premium in default for its face amount, increased by any dividend additions and diminished by any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, for such time as its then cash value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium. Such extended insurance shall not have the right to loans but shall have a cash surrender value and shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus, the share apportioned thereto to be payable in cash.

AUTOMATIC PROVISION.—If, during the aforesaid period of grace, the holder shall not elect one of the foregoing options, this policy shall be continued as participating paid-up insurance under the second option. The values for this policy are stated in the accompanying table for even years. If the default occurs after the payment of not less than a quarterly instalment of the current year's premium, the values will be proportionately increased. They will also be increased by the value of any dividend additions or accumulations, and decreased, in the manner set forth above, by the amount of any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby. After all premiums have been paid on this policy, or if this policy becomes paid up for a reduced amount, or if extended term insurance is taken hereunder, the insurance will have a cash surrender value which will be its legal net value and will be available within thirty days of application therefor on legal surrender of the policy.

The values in the above table, and the corresponding values for intervening and subsequent years (which will be furnished on request), are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum. The amount deducted from the reserves in computing the values for the second to the ninth policy years inclusive, is in no case more than one and four-tenths per cent. of the amount insured, and no deduction from the reserves is made in computing the values for the tenth and subsequent years. Loan values are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time after the date of default in the payment of any premium (unless the cash value has been paid, or the extension period has expired), upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by said policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

INSTALMENT PROVISIONS.—The insured, with the power of revocation, shall have the right to elect that the payment of this policy when due shall be in instalments rather than in one sum. Each instalment certain after the first will be increased by such share of surplus interest as may be allotted thereto by the directors. The company will, on the surrender of this policy when due, give in exchange an agreement to pay in accordance with the method elected by the insured under either Option A or Option B hereinafter stated. If the insured shall not have previously elected either of said options, the beneficiary or beneficiaries, when this policy becomes payable, shall have the right of election. Any such election, revocation or appointment, must be in writing, duly executed in form satisfactory to the company, and this policy returned to the home office of the company for appropriate endorsement.

OPTION A.

Instalments for a Definite Number of Years.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—At the death of the insured, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per table below, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. The number of instalments under this option may be changed at any time by the insured. Unpaid instalments will be commuted on the basis of three per cent. compound interest and paid in one sum at any time when an instalment is due, upon the written request of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, if of lawful age, provided the insured shall not otherwise have directed in writing.

OPTION B.

Instalments Continuous for Life (Twenty Certain).

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—At the death of the insured, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in annual instalments, continuous during the lifetime of the beneficiary, of an amount corresponding to that stated in the table below for the age of the beneficiary or beneficiaries at the date of the death of the insured, which table shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount to be so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined pro rata for the age attained.

PAYMENT AFTER DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—In the event of death of the beneficiary before receiving all the instalments under Option A, or all the first twenty instalments under Option B, such of said instalments as may then remain unpaid will be commuted on the basis of three per cent., compound interest, and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of such beneficiary; provided however, that the insured, by a writing filed with the company, may designate some person who, in case of the death of the beneficiary before receiving all of said instalments, shall be entitled to receive annually such of the same as may then remain unpaid. If the insured shall not have made such designation, the beneficiary may do so when this policy becomes payable.

SEMI-ANNUAL, QUARTERLY OR MONTHLY INSTALMENTS.—Under either of the foregoing options, annual instalments may be taken in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly; or $8.45 paid monthly.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART 1.—This application, made to the Berkshire Life Insurance Company, of Pittsfield, Mass., is the basis and a part of the proposed contract for insurance. I agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during the condition of my health described and certified to in this application; and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins.

PART 2.—I hereby declare, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued upon this application, that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, each of the foregoing answers in Part 1 and 2 of this application is full, complete, and true, and that I am in sound physical condition, and a proper subject for life insurance.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, Mass., in consideration of the statements and declarations contained in the application for this policy, a copy of which application is hereto attached, hereby referred to and made a material part of this contract, and which statements and declarations the insured reaffirms by the acceptance of this policy, and in further consideration of the payment to it in advance of five hundred and forty dollars, on or before the first day of January of each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does hereby insure the life of Benjamin Mudd, of Boston, in the county of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, herein referred to as the insured, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and does hereby agree to pay said amount, provided this policy shall then be in force, at its home office in Boston, to the insured, if living, on the first day of January, 1928, or in the event of his death prior to said date, to pay said amount, upon satisfactory proof of the death of said insured during the continuance in force of said policy, to Bertha Mudd, if then living, if not, to the executors, administrators or assigns of said insured, after deducting therefrom the premiums, if any, for the balance of the policy year and all indebtedness of the parties to this contract to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and no assignment of this policy exists, the insured may from time to time change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. The right, however, is given the insured to surrender said power and to declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event said insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Every change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice of the same at the home office of the company and shall not take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

The conditions, benefits and privileges contained on the reverse of this page are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the said Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed and executed this contract at Boston, Mass., this first day of January, 1908.

CONDITIONS, BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid when due or within the grace period hereinafter described, this policy shall thereupon lapse, and the only liability of said company hereunder shall be such as is hereinafter stated in this policy or is imposed by the laws of Massachusetts in force at the date of its issue.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made, subject to an interest charge not in excess of six per cent per annum for the days of grace actually taken, during which period this policy shall continue in force. Should said policy become a claim during said period the amount of such premium shall be deducted in settlement from the amount due under said policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have the same reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default of said policy, unless the cash value has been duly paid or the extension period has expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to said company and the payment of all overdue premiums and other indebtedness to said company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After the full premiums for three years have been paid, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed at the home office of said company within thirty days after default in the payment of a subsequent premium, to elect: (a) To surrender said policy, and, with the written consent of the beneficiary, receive its legal value in cash; or (b) to take paid-up insurance which shall be participating, to an amount such as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in this contract; or (c) to have the insurance continued in force, on a participating basis, from the anniversary date last past for its full amount including any outstanding dividend additions but less any indebtedness thereon or secured hereby, for such period as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured,

The exact amount, extent and terms of said cash value, paid-up insurance and extended insurance shall be determined in accordance with Section 80 of Chapter 576 of the Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts of 1907.

If, however, the holder of this policy makes no election as above provided within thirty days from such a default, said policy shall become paid-up insurance from the date of said default as provided in said second option.

RETURN OF PREMIUMS.—In the event of the death of the insured after the second policy year, during the period of premium payment and while this policy is in force, it is mutually understood and agreed that the amount of premiums actually paid in cash in excess of the amount which would have been paid under an ordinary life contract will be paid in addition to the face of this policy in accordance with the following table:

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—Beginning at the end of the second policy year, the proportion of the divisible surplus of the company contributed by this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually as dividends. The first distribution shall be contingent upon the payment of the premiums for the third policy year, but all subsequent distributions will not be contingent upon the payment of further premiums. Such dividends shall annually, at the option of the holder of this policy, (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (c) be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition, or (b) be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of this policy and be payable at the maturity thereof or be withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of said policy or be applied as hereinafter set forth. If no election is made by the holder prior to any anniversary of this policy, the dividends for that anniversary shall be held by the company, as provided in the last mentioned option, and if any premium on said policy is not paid at the expiration of the days of grace, the company will keep said policy in force by applying the dividend accumulations to the payment due on said policy, if such accumulations are sufficient to make said payment in full, provided that nothing herein contained shall operate to continue this policy beyond the period which any dividend accumulation so applied would carry the policy under its full premium rate, nor beyond the term for which the policy was originally issued.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid on this policy, if it is still in force and has not been converted into extended insurance, the holder thereof shall be entitled to borrow of the company at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum and on the sole security of said policy properly assigned to the company, a sum not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value of said policy at the end of the policy year during which the application for the loan is made, and of all dividend additions thereto, less any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid portion of the then current premium year.

INCONTESTABILITY AND LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.—This policy, if once in force, shall be incontestable after two years from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premiums and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of said company. No suit, however, shall be brought on any claim under said policy unless commenced within two years from the time the right of action accrues.

MISTAKE IN AGE AND SUICIDE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be only such amount as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured. Self-destruction within two years from the date hereof, whether sane or insane, is not a risk assumed by said company hereunder, but in such event it will pay the amount of the net reserve required by law for this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Assignments of this policy must be made in duplicate and sent to the home office of said company, the original assignment to be retained by said company and the duplicate to be returned to the assignee, but no assignment shall be valid until assented to in writing by the president or secretary of said company. In no case will said company assume responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and the claim of any assignee shall always be subject to proof of interest.

POWERS OF OFFICERS AND AGENTS.—All agreements made by said company must be in writing and signed by the president or secretary; no agent or person other than said officers has authority to add to, alter or waive any of the provisions of this policy or to make any agreement or waiver that shall be binding on said company.

TERMS OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall be used in defence of a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to said policy when issued.

CONDITIONS.—Provided, however, that no obligation is assumed by said company prior to the date hereof, nor unless on said date the insured is alive, in sound health and actually under sixty-one years of age, nor until this policy is delivered and the first premium actually paid to said company and its official receipt signed by its president or secretary given therefor.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare, represent and agree that the statements contained in this application shall be the basis and become part of any policy of insurance the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company shall issue hereunder; that said statements are full and true, and are correctly recorded, and that no information or statement not contained in this application, received at any time by any person, shall be binding upon the company; that the persons who filled in said statements were and are my agents for the purpose and not the agents for the company, and that the company is not responsible for the preparation of this application or for anything contained therein or omitted therefrom; that, subject to the laws of Massachusetts, any distribution of surplus in apportionment or reduction of premiums, increase of insurance or surrender value, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount of surplus equitably belonging to such policy, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy; and a receipt of the person whose life is insured shall be in full surrender of all dividend additions to such policy; that in any suit on such policy, any physician who has attended me or who may hereafter attend me, may disclose any information acquired by him in any way affecting the statement made by me herein, I hereby waiving all provisions of law to the contrary.

I further represent and declare that I am fully acquainted with and understand this application as above filled in, and that I made all the statements and declarations therein appearing, of my own accord.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

California State Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $403.40. AGE, 35.

California State Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company, immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, while this policy is in force.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If all the premiums due hereon as stated in the consideration paragraph herein are paid to the company in full in cash and if as each coupon attached hereto matures, the amount thereof has been left with the company to accumulate at interest to the end of twenty years from date hereof, then upon the surrender of this policy and all coupons which are attached hereto at date of issue the insured shall be entitled to select one of the following options at the end of said twenty years. (1) A guaranteed cash payment of $7610. (2) A paid-up policy for life of $13,450, subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability for the excess over the face amount of this policy. (3) A guaranteed annual income of $467.20, to continue for at least twenty years and as many years thereafter as the insured shall survive. (4) A paid-up policy for life of $10,000, without medical re-examination, and a guaranteed cash payment of $1950. If no other option is selected as above provided, option 4 will be applied to this policy.

The benefits, privileges, conditions and tables stated on the following pages hereof are a part of this policy as fully as if recited and shown in full over the signatures hereto affixed.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto when issued, and of the cash payment in advance of an annual premium of four hundred three and $\frac{40}{100}$ (\$403.40) dollars for term insurance for one year ending on the twentieth day of December, 1913, and the payment of an equal sum on or before the twentieth day of December in every year hereafter, until full premiums have been paid for twenty years from the date hereof, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the California State Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary at Sacramento, Cal., this twentieth day of December, 1912.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES, CONDITIONS AND TABLES.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan, upon the proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the entire net reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year, without any charge therefor. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any is recorded hereon.

TOTAL DISABILITY PROTECTION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit, or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereon during the continuance of such disability; and in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract and the cash loans and other values hereof in the tables as shown herein shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the insured. The insured shall, however, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums hereon in cash on the first premium due date following such recovery. The loss of both hands at or above wrists, both feet at or above ankles, loss of one hand and one foot as above, or irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, the insured upon surrender of this policy and all coupons not yet due to the company, and upon written request, both within the month of grace, shall be entitled to one of the following options: (First) CASH.—A cash payment. (Second)—PAID-UP INSURANCE. A paid-up insurance policy, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy. (Third) EXTENDED INSURANCE. A term insurance policy for the full amount of this policy.

AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If no selection of one of the above options is made by the insured within the month of grace therefor, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, apply to this policy the paid-up insurance option, as stated in paragraph "second" above.

The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in Columns 1, 2 and 3, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values shown herein, and are, without exception, equal or equivalent to the entire net reserve hereon at the date of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid, and the values for later years will be equal or equivalent to the entire net reserve on the policy.

The cash value of any and all matured outstanding coupons to the credit of this policy at the date of default will be paid to the insured upon selection by said insured of one of the above three options and the surrender of said coupons to the company. If no such selection is made by the insured, said fund will be continued at interest as provided herein.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue.

If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, the company shall be liable only for the cash premiums actually paid hereon.

All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to void the policy or in defense of a claim hereunder, unless said statement is contained in the written application herefor.

If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereon after the first are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company or to an agent, on the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or the secretary of the company. Any part of the then current policy year's premium unpaid at the death of the insured shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

No officer other than those above stated and no agent has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then not unless said promises or representations are in writing and signed by one of the officers stated.

If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided herein.

After the first policy year the company will accept the payment of premiums hereunder in the amount of two hundred nine and $\frac{80}{100}$ (\$209.80) dollars semi-annually, on the twentieth day of December and June, or one hundred six and $\frac{90}{100}$ (\$106.90) dollars quarterly on the twentieth day of December, March, June and September in each policy year. The method of payment of premiums hereunder may be changed upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first without any interest charge therefor, during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in any premium payment hereon, this policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all indebtedness to the company, with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon, if not greater than the loan value at the date of reinstatement, may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy, subject to interest.

METHOD OF CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy filed at the home office of the company, as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries, without obtaining the consent of any beneficiary hereunder, by filing such request at the home office upon the form of the company for this purpose, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, whereupon the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof upon the company's form has been filed at the home office, and the company shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment, and any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of assignment and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit. If this policy shall lapse and there shall be an indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at date of default, shown in Column 1, and the balance will be (a) paid to the insured in cash, or (b) applied to the purchase of a paid-up insurance policy payable at death, or (c) applied to purchase a term insurance policy for the face amount hereunder, at the request of said insured and the surrender of this policy during the month of grace, and said values shall be calculated upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values. If no such request is made, option (b) above will be applied to this policy.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—It is understood and agreed that the insured may obtain every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured by this policy, without the consent of any beneficiary.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The amount insured by this policy, unless the company is otherwise requested by the insured, will be paid in one sum, as provided on page one hereof. The insured, however, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, in case the insured has made no selection, may if this policy is not then assigned, and upon request to the company on the proper form, change the method of payment hereof, by selecting any one of the benefits shown in the table on page four hereof.

BENEFIT 1. TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand dollars ($1000), may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund privilege may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

BENEFIT 2. ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000, shown in the table, by the number of thousands insured by this policy.

Number of years.....	30	25	20*	15	10	5	4	3	2
Annual income per $1000.....	$ 52	$ 58	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214	$ 264	$ 345	$ 508

* ILLUSTRATION.—If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight dollars ($68.00) for each thousand dollars insured by this policy. Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected.

The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

BENEFIT 3. MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The accompanying table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000, shown in the table, by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy.

Two hundred and forty monthly payments at least will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

The first monthly income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter.

This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500).

The insured may, at any time, change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy. He may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum.

If, upon the selection of Benefit 2 or Benefit 3, the beneficiary shall die before all the payments due thereunder have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be paid as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators and assigns of the beneficiary.

If the insured so directs during his lifetime the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the said benefits shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be nineteen dollars and twenty cents (19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive.

COUPON VALUES.—If any or all of the values represented by the coupons attached to this policy at date of issue are left on deposit with the company at three and one-half per cent compound interest per annum, such values of said coupons, with interest to date of death, will, in the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the face amount hereof, upon surrender to the company of this policy and all coupons issued therewith and unpaid or unmatured prior to the date of said death.

FULLY PAID-UP BENEFIT.—Should the insured elect to pay all premiums without using the coupons in the reduction thereof, and to leave with the company the amount of all coupons, the company guarantees this policy shall become paid-up in fifteen years.

SAVINGS FUND.—If any premium after the first, as provided in the consideration paragraph herein, is paid to the company in full in cash, the company will credit to the insured hereunder the face amount of any coupon then matured, when said coupon becomes due, and will pay compound interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, thereby creating a fund to the credit of this policy, which fund may be applied to the payment of premiums or withdrawn in cash at any time by the insured.

DECREASING PREMIUMS.—At the option of the insured, the values represented by any or all of the coupons originally attached hereto may be applied by the insured to reduce the premiums due and payable hereunder, as the premiums and coupons become due. If the insured shall elect to apply this option, the amount due the company in any policy year will be the premium shown in the consideration paragraph herein, less the amount of the coupon due on the same date as the premium from which it is deducted. The balance shall be due the company in cash and the coupon then due shall be returned therewith for cancellation. If the premiums hereunder are paid semi-annually or quarterly the pro-rata value of any coupon shall be applied as said premiums are paid.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after December 20, 1931, California State Life Insurance Company of Sacramento, Cal., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. (or to the order of the assignee, if said policy is assigned,) the sum of seventy-one and ⁶⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid in cash. Payable at the home office.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree that any policy issued hereon shall not be binding upon the company until said policy shall have been delivered to me during my lifetime and good health, and the amount of premium thereon has been paid by me and has been received by said company or its authorized agent. I also agree that unless otherwise agreed upon in writing, any policy issued hereon shall relate back and take effect as of the date of this ap plication. I also agree that no policy issued hereon shall be valid, if during the first year following its date I engage in any of the following hazardous occupations or employments: Handling dynamos or live electric wires, blasting, mining submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, manufacture or handling of any highly explosive substance, service upon any railroad train or track as engineer, fireman, brakeman, freight conductor, or trackman, or in switching or in coupling or uncoupling cars, or as a seaman on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is first expressly granted by the company. I also agree that if, during the first year following the date of any policy issued hereon, I commit suicide, whether sane or insane, or die in consequence of my own unlawful act, the only liability under said policy shall be for a fixed sum equal to the actual cash premiums paid to the company on said policy. I also agree that the company may reinsure all or any part of any insurance issued hereon. I also represent and agree that all the preceding statements and answers, as well as those I make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract to be issued hereon.

PART II.—I have verified each of the foregoing answers on this page and on the first page hereof and adopt them as my own, whether written by me or not, and represent that they are full, complete and literally true answers to the questions against which they are written; and I agree that the exact literal truth of each shall be a condition precedent to any binding contract issued upon the faith of the foregoing answers.

POLICY—BANKERS RESERVE LIFE COMPANY.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby agreed, on behalf of myself and of any person or persons who may have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application, as follows: (1) That the answers and statements contained in Part I and in Part II, in continuation of and forming a part of this application, shall be a consideration for, and the basis of, the contract of The Bankers Reserve Life Company under any policy issued under this application; and the said answers and statements printed and written therein by whomsoever made, are represented to be full, complete and true, and this agreement, together with this application, are hereby made part of any policy that may be issued hereon. (2) That in any distribution of surplus, profits, or apportionment of dividend, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted. (3) That the whole or any part of the risk herein proposed may be reinsured. (4) That the applicant further promises and agrees not to use alcoholic or malt liquors to excess, or habitually use opium, hydrate of chloral, or other narcotics (tobacco excepted), for one year from date of policy. (5) That under no circumstances shall the insurance hereby applied for be in force until payment in cash of the first premium, while the applicant is in good health, and delivery of the policy to the applicant in person, during his lifetime and while in good health. (6) That no recovery shall be had against this company if the applicant suicides within one year from date of policy. (7) That I will promptly submit to a regular medical examination by an authorized examining physician appointed by the said company.

Canada Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—QUINQUENNIAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $372.50. AGE, 35.

The Canada Life Assurance Company, in compliance with a written application which is made the basis of this contract, assures the life of John Smith, of Chicago, Ill., merchant (the assured), under this policy of assurance, the particulars of which are as follows: (1) Plan of assurance, life, limited premiums. (2) Sum assured, ($10,000) ten thousand dollars. (3) Premium, $372.50 payable in advance, every twelve months from the first day of February, 1916, during the life of the assured, until premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid. (4) Sum assured, payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the assured. (5) Dividends, payable every five years in accordance with the provisions on the third page. (6) Policy years computed as from the first day of February, 1916, during the continuance of this policy. (7) Beneficiary, wife of the assured, Mary Smith.

This assurance is subject to the privileges, provisions and options hereon endorsed, which form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereto attached.

PRIVILEGES.

1. NO RESTRICTIONS.—No restrictions are placed upon the assured as to residence, travel or occupation, except as stated in provision 8 hereof.

2. GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace are allowed for the payment of every premium after the first.

3. INDISPUTABILITY.—After being in force one full year this policy shall, subject to the payment of premiums and to provision 8 hereof, be indisputable.

4. PAYABLE IN GOLD.—The sum assured shall be payable in gold coin of the present legal standard of weight and fineness. The premiums may be paid either in such gold coin, or its equivalent in currency of Canada or the United States, at the market value.

5. SURRENDER VALUES.—After premiums for three full years have been paid the assured may (at any time within sixty days after the due date of a premium payment) upon legal surrender of this contract (a) receive the surrender value in cash, (b) obtain a non-participating paid-up insurance or (c) obtain a non-participating extended term insurance. These values are stated in the table on page 3 hereof. If non-participating extended term insurance be taken, and if there be any indebtedness outstanding, the amount of such term insurance and the period for which it will run shall be determined as in privilege 8. These options are to be construed agreeably to the automatic insurance privilege hereinafter provided.

6. LOANS.—At any time after premiums for three full years have been paid the company will lend upon the sole security of this policy (in the absence of statutory restrictions and on execution of a proper loan agreement and delivery of this policy to the company) up to the loan value specified in the table on page 3 hereof, at a rate of interest which may be but shall not exceed six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year. The interest upon any such indebtedness, if not paid when due, shall be compounded yearly, and if the accumulated indebtedness on this policy exceed the entire cash surrender value hereof all liability of the company under this policy shall thereupon terminate (subject, however, to the right of the assured to have the policy reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof), but such termination shall not take effect until at least one month after the company has mailed notice as to such termination to the last known address of the assured and assignee, if any.

7. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If in the application for this policy the assured shall have so requested, this policy shall not, after premiums for three full years have been paid, lapse or become forfeited by reason only of the non-payment of the premium within the days of grace allowed herein, provided the cash surrender value of the policy and of any dividend additions thereon (less any indebtedness on the policy) is equal to or greater than the premium then due and unpaid. In such event the company will without further request treat the premium then due as paid and the amount of such premium (with interest as hereinafter provided) shall become a first lien upon the policy in the company's favor in priority to the claims of any assignee or of any other person. If the net available cash surrender value be less than the premium that is due, the company will without further request continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is, for a period which bears the same ratio to the full premium period then ensuing as such net value bears to the full premium then due) and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate, subject to the right of the assured to have the policy reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof. The rate of interest chargeable under these automatic loans may be but shall not exceed six per cent per annum together with an expense fee of one per cent per annum upon the loan. The said interest and expense fee shall be payable annually on January first and if not then paid shall bear interest at six per cent per annum, compounded yearly. If requested by the assured in writing while this policy is in force the company will cancel the further operation of this automatic loan privilege and thereafter the extended insurance privilege (No. 8) will become available automatically in lieu of this privilege, and the extended insurance shall be subject to any existing indebtedness under this privilege or otherwise.

8. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—This policy, after premiums for three full years have been paid, shall not lapse or become forfeited by reason only of non-payment of premium, but in such event the insurance shall continue in force for the time and amount in this privilege mentioned (provided there be no indebtedness thereon) as a non-participating extended term insurance for the sum assured, to run from the due date of the premium in default and to continue in force for the period stated in the table on page 3 hereof (with adjustment for intermediate periods on the same basis, in the case of default of a half-yearly or quarterly premium). If there be any indebtedness on this policy, the amount of such term insurance shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of the indebtedness, and the period for which the said term insurance will run shall be that for which the cash surrender value of the policy less such indebtedness will carry such amount at single premium term rates, based on the British Offices Life Tables, 1893, Om (5) with interest at three per cent, which shall also be the basis for the calculation of the extended insurance value after the expiration of the period covered by the table hereon. Provided that such extended insurance may be surrendered to the company at its head office within one month from the date of default in payment of premium for a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purpose of such extended insurance, and provided also that the original policy contract may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof. Any dividend additions shall be added to the amount of extended insurance provided above and the cash value of such additions shall increase the period for which such insurance will be continued. This privilege is only to become operative when the assured has not made a request (either before or after the policy contract is made) for the automatic premium loan privilege, or where, if such request has been made, the same has been cancelled.

9. BENEFICIARY.—The assured may appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, or may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries already appointed, or declare that this policy shall be for the benefit of himself or his estate at any time during the continuance of this policy, by written notice to the company at its head office, accompanied by this policy, provided this policy has not then been assigned and notice thereof given to the company, and provided there is no absolute beneficiary then living. The assured may at any time, by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy, declare the beneficiary then named to be the absolute beneficiary under this policy. Such an appointment of beneficiary, change of beneficiary, or declaration, shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. During the lifetime of the absolute beneficiary the right to change the beneficiary will not exist in the assured. Provided always that if the assured be domiciled in Canada, and if the sum assured be (under the policy or any declaration) for the benefit of such of the relatives of assured as by the law of such domicile to be free from the claim of creditors, then this privilege shall not apply or have any effect. In the event of this policy becoming a claim before the appointment of any beneficiary the sum assured hereunder shall be payable to the assured's executors, administrators or assigns. If any beneficiary die before the assured the interests of such beneficiary shall vest in the assured.

10. REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy becomes terminated as a result of the exercise of privileges 6 or 7, or by provision 3, the assured shall have the right to have the policy reinstated within three years thereafter by furnishing satisfactory evidence of insurability and upon payment of overdue premiums and all other indebtedness to the company with interest thereon at six per cent per annum, compounded yearly. If in accordance with privilege 8 this insurance be continued in force as non-participating extended term insurance, the original policy contract may be reinstated on like terms.

PROVISIONS.

1. The due date of a premium shall be that stipulated on the face hereof.
2. No agent has authority to put this policy in force by delivery thereof without the payment of the premium and the delivery of the proper receipt therefor. If it goes into the possession of any interested party without such payment or receipt it is only for examination, and it is not thereby put in force. A receipt for payment shall be valid or binding upon the company only when issued from the head office in Toronto, upon the company's printed form, and signed by the president or vice-president or general manager and secretary. Premiums are payable at the head office, but, for the convenience of the assured, they may, when not overdue, be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for the official receipt, signed as above stated, and countersigned by the agent.

3. If any premium, due prior to the time when the automatic insurance privilege commences to operate, be not paid within the thirty-one days of grace, this contract shall ipso facto become void, but it may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof.

4. Self-destruction (whether the assured be sane or insane) during the first policy year is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

5. The age of the assured will be admitted at any time before the maturity of this policy upon satisfactory evidence of such age being furnished to the company at its head office, but if not so admitted and if the age has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

6. This policy and the application therefor contain the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the assured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties. Provided that where the laws of the country of domicile of the assured at the issue of the policy so require, no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of the same be endorsed on or attached to the policy when issued. This contract cannot be varied except in writing hereon signed by one of the following executive officers of the head office of the company in Toronto, namely, the president, vice-president, general manager, secretary or actuary. Any such variation shall not contravene the law of the domicile of the assured.

7. An assignment of this policy shall not be binding upon the company unless in writing and filed at its head office in Toronto, Canada. The company by filing an assignment assumes no responsibility for the validity or effect thereof.

8. Should the assured engage in any active military or naval service in time of war without the written consent of the company, evidenced by the signature of two executive officers thereof, and the payment of such extra premiums as the company may determine, the company's liability in the event of his death during such service or within six months after the termination of such service, shall be limited to the reserve on this policy at the time of death, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent.

9. In the event of this policy becoming a claim, the title of the person claiming the money shall be duly proven before payment and this contract delivered to the company with a valid discharge therefor. Any loan or indebtedness to the company on the policy, and the unpaid balance (if any) of the current year's premium will be deducted from the sum payable under the policy at settlement.

OPTIONS.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy shall participate in the distribution of surplus of the company at the end of the fifth policy year and at the end of every five years thereafter. In the event of the death of the assured during any dividend period, after the policy has been one full year in force, an interim dividend as declared by the directors shall be paid. If no part of the current year's premium remains unpaid, the assured may elect to apply his dividends either (a) by purchasing a paid-up addition to the policy, (b) by payment in cash, (c) by reduction of premiums for the ensuing five years, (d) by reduction of each future premium, or (e) by allowing the dividends to remain with the company and accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest (annually) at not less than three per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on demand at the end of any policy year. If no other option is selected by the assured, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

If the assured shall have selected option (e), the company, provided written request therefor be made, will pay the sum assured hereunder as an endowment when the reserve on the policy, based upon the British Life Offices Tables 1893, Om (5) with interest at three per cent, together with such accumulated dividends, shall amount to the sum assured; or such accumulated dividends may, if the assured so directs, be applied at any premium due date as an annuity (computed by the company) towards cancellation of future premiums. The declared accumulated dividends under option (e) shall be available in or towards payment of premiums under the automatic loan privilege (if uncanceled). No interest will be allowed if any dividend be withdrawn within one year of its declaration.

If option (e) has not been previously selected, any of the first four options may be chosen at the time of any dividend distribution, except that to change from option (b), (c) or (d) to (a) the consent of the company shall be required.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The assured, by written notice to the company at its head office, and with written consent of the assignee and absolute beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the assured paid either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—By the payment of interest thereon at 3 per cent per annum, payable annually, to the beneficiary under this policy during the life of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

OPTION 2.—By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (the first instalment being payable immediately) in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net insurance.

OPTION 3.—By the payment immediately of a certain sum in cash, and equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (the first instalment being payable at the end of one year) in accordance with the following table, for each $1000 of said net insurance.

OPTION 4.—By the payment immediately of a certain sum in cash, and equal monthly instalments for a specified number of months (the first instalment being payable at the end of one month) in accordance with the following table which is based on $1000 of net insurance.

OPTION 5.—By the payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table, which is based on $1000 of net insurance.

Guaranteed instalments payable under Options 2, 3, 4 or 5, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

If the assured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the assured, by like written notice and with the written consent of the assignee (if any) select any one of the above options.

Unless otherwise specified by the assured, the beneficiary may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may at any time when a payment is due receive the commuted value of the guaranteed payments yet to be made under Options 2, 3 or 4 computed upon an interest basis of three per cent, but under Option 5, commutation (on such basis) will only be made in event of the death of the beneficiary occurring within the period of twenty years.

Any dividend additions shall operate to increase the benefits in the above schedule of values.

The values in the above table are based upon the British Offices Life Table, 1893 Om (5) with interest at three per cent less an amount not exceeding two and one half per cent of the sum assured. The cash value in any year is at least equal to the value of the extended insurance calculated on the basis of the above mentioned table of mortality and rate of interest. After the twentieth year the minimum basis for values shall be the above mentioned table of mortality and rate of interest, less an amount not exceeding one per cent upon the sum assured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree that to the best of my knowledge and belief, I am at present in good health, not being afflicted with any disease or disorder, external or internal, and that the answers to the above questions are, and that those to be given to the company's medical examiner shall, be full, complete and true; that I will accept and pay the first premium on the policy hereby applied for when issued by the Canada Life Assurance Company, subject to the privileges and conditions contained in said policy; and, further, that the said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company and the first premium paid thereon in full, and head office receipt therefor be received by me, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application and in my answers to the company's medical examiner; and, further, that the principles and methods now or hereafter followed by the company in determining and allotting the surplus in connection with participating policies, shall be accepted by all parties; and further that the company shall not be liable on the said policy in the event of my death by self-destruction (whether I be sane or insane) during the first policy year.

I hereby request that the company's automatic premium loan privilege shall become operative, should that privilege be available under the policy hereby applied for.

Capitol Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED GRADED COUPON OPTIONS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.40. AGE, 35.

The Capitol Life Insurance Company of Colorado by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ($10,000) ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of Denver, immediately upon the receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe of Denver, county of Denver, State of Colorado (the insured under this policy) to Mary Doe, wife, with the right of revocation, subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on this and the following pages, which are conditions precedent and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company, on the delivery of this policy, of three hundred eighty-one and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance ending on the fourth day of February, 1916, and the further payment of a like sum annually upon the fourth day of the month of February in every year during the life of the said insured, until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid to the said company.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this fourth day of February, 1915.

SECTION I. PREMIUM WAIVER AND DISABILITY BENEFIT.—After one full year's premium has been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining age sixty (60) shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has since such payment become totally and wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by endorsement in writing hereon will continue the insurance in force during such disability without payment of premiums, and the values in "Table I" shall remain the same as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Upon the written request of the insured, the beneficiary and any assignee, after proof as aforesaid, the company will pay in any policy year during such total and permanent disability, if there shall be no indebtedness against the policy, not more than one twentieth ($\frac{1}{20}$) of the amount originally insured as stated on the first page hereof, or if there shall be an indebtedness not more than one twentieth ($\frac{1}{20}$) of the difference between such indebtedness and the amount originally insured, each of such payments shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance then in force, and in the proportion of such payments to the amount originally insured shall reduce the values set forth in "Table I," and, if when the payments so made shall, together with any indebtedness to the company, equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligation under this policy shall be fully satisfied and discharged. The insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of continued, total and permanent disability whenever so requested by the company. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability the following will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision: (a) The entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes; or (b) the severance of both hands at or above the wrists; or (c) the severance of both feet at or above the ankles; or (d) the severance of one entire hand and one entire foot. Should this policy be surrendered for paid-up insurance under part (b), or for extended insurance under part (c), of Section V of the "options on surrender," the provisions of this section, (Section I), shall not apply.

SECTION II. GUARANTEED COUPON OPTIONS.—(A) At the maturity of any coupon attached hereto, the amount thereof may, upon the surrender of the said coupon to the company, be applied to the annual premium then due on this policy; or, upon the payment of the said premium in full, the amount of the said coupon, upon its surrender to the company, may be withdrawn in cash, or, within thirty (30) days thereafter, applied to the purchase of a reversionary addition. (B) If, however, after the first policy year, the premium, when due hereon, be paid in full, and the amount of the coupon then due the insured be left with the company, the said amount shall accumulate at interest; and, at any time thereafter, within twenty (20) years from the date hereof, the said amount, together with interest thereon compounded at three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per cent per annum for each full year, will be paid upon the presentation of the said coupon; provided always that, if, at any time, this policy be continued in force through the operation of the "automatically non-forfeitable" condition thereof, then, as provided in the said condition, the amount of any and all matured unpaid, and maturing, coupons, with any interest thereon, together with the reserve value of any and all reversionary additions, shall be applied to further continue this policy in force. (C) In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, the amount of any and all matured unpaid coupons shall, upon the surrender to the company of this policy and all coupons then thereon, be paid in addition to the amount of the policy, less any indebtedness to the company. (D) If the twenty annual premiums required on the first page hereof be paid in full, and if, as each coupon attached hereto matures, the amount thereof shall have been left with the company to accumulate at interest until the end of twenty years from the date hereof, then, upon the surrender to the company of this policy and all the said original coupons, the insured shall have the option of one of the following modes of settlement: (1) Receive the sum of seven thousand six hundred and ninety dollars (\$7690) in cash; or, (2) receive an annuity of six hundred and twenty dollars, (\$620) payable at the end of the first year, and annually thereafter during the lifetime of the said insured; or, (3) receive a paid-up life policy for ten thousand dollars, (\$10,000) and the sum of two thousand and thirty dollars, (\$2030) in cash. (E) If the annual premium required on the first page hereof be paid in full for fifteen (15) years, and if, as each coupon matures, the amount thereof shall have been left with the company to accumulate at interest until the end of fifteen (15) years from the date hereof, then, upon the surrender to the company of all the coupons originally attached hereto, the company will endorse this policy paid-up for ten thousand dollars. (F) If the annual premium required on the first page hereof be paid in full for twenty (20) years, then, irrespective of the manner in which the insured may have applied the amounts of the matured coupons, the said insured shall, at the end of the said twenty (20) years from the date hereof, have the option of one of the following modes of settlement: (1) Surrender to the company this policy with any reversionary additions and any unpaid coupons then thereon, and receive the sum of five thousand six hundred and sixty dollars, (\$5660) in cash, together with the cash value of such reversionary additions and coupons; or, (2) surrender to the company any unpaid coupons then on this policy, for their cash value, and receive a paid-up policy for ten thousand dollars (\$10,000) and any reversionary additions; or, (3) surrender to the company this policy with any reversionary additions and any unpaid coupons then thereon, and receive an annuity of four hundred and fifty dollars, (\$450) increased by whatever amount the cash value of such reversionary additions and coupons will purchase; payable at the end of the first year, and annually thereafter during the lifetime of the said insured.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On February 4, 1916 the Capitol Life Insurance Company of Colorado will, subject to the condition on the back hereof, pay at its home office, to the insured under policy No. of which this coupon is a part, the sum of fifty-five and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including the above date have been paid.

Condition referred to on the face hereof.—If the amount of this coupon, at or after its maturity, shall be applied, under the automatically non-forfeitable condition of the policy, then, without notice, this coupon shall become null and void.

NOTE.—As provided in the policy, the insured may, at the maturity of this coupon, leave the amount thereof with the company to accumulate at interest; or within thirty (30) days after maturity, return this coupon, properly endorsed, to the company, for the reversionary addition option.

Cash payments for succeeding coupons are $58.50, $61.50, $64.50, $67.50, $70.50, $73.50, $76.50, $79.50, $80.50, $81.50, $82.50, $83.50, $84.50, $85, $85.50, $86, $86.50 and $87.

Reversionary addition options are first year, $146 and successively $151, $156, $160, $164, $168, $171, $175, $178, $176, $174, $173, $171, $169, $167, $164, $161, $159 and $156.

SECTION III. THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, AS FOLLOWS:— If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office, in accordance with one of the options on surrender, and if any premium due hereon be not paid in accordance with the provisions of this contract, the amount of the premium, without any action on the part of the insured, shall be charged against the policy as a loan; provided the loan value on the premium due date, as stated on page 3 hereof, after deducting therefrom all existing loans and other indebtedness with accrued interest, be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made. Interest on such loan shall be charged in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, and unless paid in advance shall be added to and form part of the principal of the loan, so long as the loan value of the policy will so permit. If the loan value or the balance thereof shall not be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made, then it shall be used to continue this policy in force for such shorter period (even if it be but one day) as the said loan value or balance thereof shall permit. Such loan and interest accumulations, if not paid in cash, shall constitute a first lien against the policy until repaid, in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, payment of premiums may be resumed without any medical re-examination. It is further understood and agreed that, upon the exhaustion of the loan value referred to above, the amount of any and all matured unpaid, and maturing, coupons, with any interest thereon, together with the reserve value of any and all reversionary additions, shall be applied to further continue this policy in force, in the same manner and upon the same conditions as the said loan value. The termination of this policy from any cause, or the surrender for any benefit thereunder, voids all unmatured coupons then thereon, and the said coupons, on demand, shall be returned to the company.

SECTION IV.—LOANS DEDUCTIONS INTEREST.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the table No. 1 of loan values herein set forth. The company will deduct from any loan made hereunder any existing indebtedness on the policy, any unpaid premium for the current policy year and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. If the interest on any loan be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any loan or the interest thereon, when due, shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the cash value, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, or to any assignee of record.

SECTION V. OPTIONS ON SURRENDER.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, on surrender of this policy within one month after default, may elect, according to the table No. 1 of surrender values herein set forth: (a) To receive the value of this policy in cash; or, (b) to receive non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (c) to have the insurance extended in force from date of default, without participation and without right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon.

SECTION VI. SURRENDER VALUES.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, any surrender value available, as specified in table No. 1, will be the reserve at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum less a surrender charge, which shall in no case exceed twenty-five dollars per thousand dollars of insurance. The cash surrender value shall at least equal the amount available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. The values, specified in table No. 1, apply only if the policy is free from indebtedness. If there be any indebtedness hereon and if paid-up or extended insurance be applied for within one month after default, such indebtedness will be deducted from the amount of reserve used in the calculation of the values specified in said table No. 1 and will reduce said values in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the amount of such reserve.

SECTION VII. PREMIUM PAYMENTS—RENEWAL PREMIUMS—POWER TO MODIFY.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery on or before the due date of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the company, and countersigned by said agent. The executive officers of the company are the president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and actuary. If any premium be not paid when due, or if any note or obligation given for a premium be dishonored or not paid when due, this policy without any action or notice by the company, shall become forfeited and void except as provided in Section III "automatically non-forfeitable," or Section V, "options on surrender." Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Only an executive officer of the company, as aforesaid, has power to modify this policy or extend the time of paying a premium. Any such modification or extension must be in writing, and over the signature of such executive officer.

SECTION VIII. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and if no new beneficiary be substituted, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured or in the estate of the insured.

SECTION IX. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

SECTION X. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at the date of death is an indebtedness to the company.

SECTION XI. REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after lapse, if not surrendered for the cash value in accordance with option (a) of the options on surrender herein set forth, this policy, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, may be reinstated by payment of arrears of premium and all indebtedness hereon to the company existing at the date of default, with interest to the date of reinstatement at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

SECTION XII. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without any interest charge therefor, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force.

SECTION XIII. AGE.—If the age of the insured has been mis-stated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SECTION XIV. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums, nor shall any statement made by the insured avoid this policy, nor be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless such statement is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. In case of the death of the insured by his own hand while sane or insane, during the first policy year, the total liability of the company under this policy shall be limited to the surrender of the premium paid.

SECTION XV. RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—This policy is issued upon the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

SECTION XVI. NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy is non-participating. OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:

1. By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee at the end of each year during the life of the payee; and, by the payment upon the death of the payee, of the said net sum and accrued interest to the payee's executors, administrators, or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

LIMITED INSTALMENT OPTION.

2. By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum:

Any instalments payable under options 2, 3, or 4, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid to the payee's executors, administrators or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under option 1, and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made under option 2, computed upon the same basis as option 2; but no such commutation will be made under option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like notice, and with the consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options.

The insured having changed the mode of payment, may subsequently change the mode of payment or entirely revoke such change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum. No change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office.

SPECIAL INSTALMENT OPTION.—By the payment, immediate and on each anniversary of such date, of an annual instalment equal to one twentieth of the amount applied under this option, until twenty such payments shall have been made; and, by the further payment, twenty years after the payment of the first instalment, of an amount equal to one-half of the said amount applied under this option.

WARRANTY IN APPLICATION.

I hereby represent: (1) That all the statements and answers in this application are true, full and complete; that this application shall, with the policy herein applied for, and the privileges and conditions contained therein, be the sole basis of the contract between me and the company, and shall be binding on all parties in interest under such policy; and that no information or statement, unless contained in this application, made, given, received or acquired by any person at any time, shall be binding on the company; and that the policy to be issued hereon shall take effect only upon the payment of the first premium during my lifetime, sound health, and insurable condition. (2) That during the first year following the date of issue of the policy for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any extra hazardous occupation or employment; in the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors; in the handling of electric wires or dynamos with a voltage in excess of 600; in blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, or the manufacture or handling of highly explosive substances; in service upon any railroad, train or track, or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, or travel or reside within the tropics or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude, or engage in military or naval service, without the written consent of the company. (3) That in any distribution of dividend, bonus, profit or surplus, the company's method and determination of the amount to be apportioned to any policy issued hereon is hereby ratified and accepted. (4) I hereby expressly waive all provisions of law forbidding any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information acquired (or that may be acquired) while attending me in a professional capacity. (5) That self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year after date of any policy that may issue hereon, is a risk not assumed by the company, and the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of the premiums paid.

* Adopted August, 1914.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $301.30.

AGE, 35.

The Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (beneficiary) if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, at its home office in the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, upon the surrender of this policy while in force and upon receipt of due proofs of death of John Doe (insured.)

This policy is granted and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and provisions described on the subsequent pages hereof (which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto) and in consideration of the application thereof, which application likewise is hereby made a part of this contract and copy hereof attached hereto or endorsed hereon, and the payment in advance of three hundred one and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for the first year's insurance and of the further payment of the same sum on or before the tenth day of August in every year after until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary signed and delivered this contract in the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, this tenth day of August, A. D., 1914.

FREEDOM FROM RESIDENCE, OCCUPATION AND TRAVEL.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death from the date of its issue except that if the insured at any time engages in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in active service excepted) and death shall occur during such service or as a result thereof, the liability hereunder shall be limited to the cash surrender value of this policy at date of death unless the insured shall have obtained the company's written consent and paid the extra premium therefor at its established rate.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT. WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this policy and before a default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured is a male person and shall furnish the company with satisfactory proofs that he has since such payment and before having attained the age of sixty, become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this contract of insurance will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, the premium so paid shall not be a lien on this contract and the cash, loan and other values of this contract in the schedule inserted in this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—At the written request of the insured and of the beneficiary or assignee, if any, the company will pay to the insured during such disability and in full settlement of this policy, twenty annual instalments, the first instalment to be paid six months after due proofs of permanent disability. The amount of each such instalment shall be one-twentieth of the amount originally insured as stated on the first page of this policy, less any indebtedness against the policy. Any instalments remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be payable as they become due to the beneficiary of the insured, who shall have the right to commute such remaining payments into one sum on the basis of interest at three and one half per cent per annum.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—If the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the first premium due date following such recovery, but, if the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced on the foregoing instalment provision, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly. Without prejudice to any other cause of total disability, the company considers the loss of sight of both eyes, of severance of both hands at or above the wrists, of both feet at or above the ankles or loss of one entire hand and one entire foot as permanent total disability within the meaning of this provision. Any medical advisor of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding alleged disability.

INCONTTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and in the absence of fraud this policy shall be incontestable from the date of issue for any cause except for non-payment of the premium, violation as to military or naval service in time of war or suicide as herein provided.

SUICIDE.—If the insured, whether sane or insane, shall commit suicide within one year from the date hereof, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premium actually paid hereon.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—(1) No obligation is assumed by this company until the first premium has been paid and the policy duly delivered within sixty days from the date hereof, nor unless upon date of delivery the insured is alive and in sound health. (2) If any subsequent premium be not paid when due, this policy shall cease subject to values and privileges hereinafter described, except: that a grace of thirty-one days shall be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force and the premium shall be subject to an interest charge at a yearly rate of six per cent. If death occurs during said period, the amount of unpaid premium with interest shall be deducted from the amount of the claim. (3) No premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor, signed by an executive officer of the company, and if any obligation given in payment or part payment of any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall then lapse. The sending of a notice of premium payment or other notices after the forfeiture or lapse of this policy shall not be a waiver or evidence of waiver of such lapse or forfeiture.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time, after any default, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy and while it continues in force under its original conditions, the company will loan the insured (on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof) at a rate not exceeding six per cent interest per annum in advance, a sum not to exceed the amount named in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values endorsed hereon, after deducting from such loan any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or the interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and the assignee, if any, as shown by the records at the home office of the company. Interest on all loans shall be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually thereafter.

BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—Cash Value. Paid-up Insurance. After this policy shall have been in force for three full years, the insured may within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, surrender this policy and receive its cash surrender value as stated in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company; or receive a non-participating paid-up policy for the amount stated in Column 3 of same table, less the paid up insurance value of any indebtedness against the policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If the policy be not surrendered for the cash or paid-up insurance as above provided, the insurance shall be automatically continued in force for the face amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance for the time stated in the following table of guaranteed values. Any indebtedness to the company hereon will correspondingly reduce the term of extension on the basis of the valuation section of this policy.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES.

The full year's premium having been paid, the amount shown in Column 1 opposite any policy year indicated is available at the end of such year as a cash surrender value, or at any time during such year as a loan, or may be applied to pay the current year's premium.

Values beyond the above table will be furnished on application to the company, and at the end of any year after the twentieth, or on completion of the premium payment period paid-up or extended insurance value will equal the full reserve of this policy. If the premium on this policy be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of year's premiums indicated. In case of necessity, the company may (except for the purpose of premium payments) defer the granting of loans or cash surrenders under this policy for a period not exceeding six months after application therefor is made.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum. The net value of any paid-up or extended insurance granted hereunder and set forth in the table of guaranteed values endorsed hereon, equals the reserve at the date of default less a surrender charge, if any, not exceeding two and one half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The cash value given in the table equals or exceeds the net value of the extended insurance. The loan value equals the reserve at the end of the current policy year, less indebtedness, unpaid premiums, interest in advance and a charge not exceeding two and one half per cent of the amount insured hereunder.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary named in this policy acquires no vested interest therein during the life of the insured, but the insured, with the written consent of the executive officers of the company endorsed thereon, may change the beneficiary, but the company assumes no responsibility of the validity of any such change.

ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and one copy filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of the assignment.

PROOF OF DEATH.—Due proof of death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained upon this policy unless such suit or action is commenced within the time provided by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—1. No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its conditions varied or extended in any respect except by the written agreement of the company, signed by an executive officer, whose authority cannot be delegated. 2. If the premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided. 3. Any indebtedness due to the company, including any balance of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid, will be deducted at the settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

The company will at the written request of the insured at any time make the insurance hereunder payable in equal instalments as provided in any one of the following options if this policy has not been assigned; but no such change shall take effect until it is endorsed by the company on this policy. The first instalment shall be paid on the death of the insured, or at the end of the endowment period if this policy be on the endowment plan. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted unless the insured had so directed, and in the event of the death of the beneficiary after the death of the insured any unpaid instalments shall revert to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary and may by them be commuted. The payment of all benefits hereunder shall be subject to the same conditions and proofs as are required by this policy for the payment of the original insurance hereunder.

OPTION 1.—Payment of the face amount of this policy $10,000 in twenty equal instalments and a further payment of one-half of the face amount of this policy, $5000; twenty years after the payment of the first instalment.

OPTION 2.—Payment of the net proceeds of this policy in a limited number of instalments as designated below. In ten annual instalments of $116 each, amounting to $1160 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in fifteen annual instalments of $84 each, amounting to $1260 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in twenty annual instalments of $68 each, amounting to $1360 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in twenty-five annual instalments of $58 each, amounting to $1450 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or OPTION 3.—Payment of annual instalments for twenty years and so many years longer as the beneficiary may live; the amount of each instalment to be determined by the following table, based on the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

All the foregoing statements and answers and all those I shall make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application as Part II thereof, are true and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the policy for which application is hereby made. The policy hereby applied for shall not take effect unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and the policy shall have been delivered to and received by me during my continuance in good health. I hereby agree to submit promptly to a medical examination for the purpose of completing this application.

Central Life Assurance Society of the U. S.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318.

AGE, 35.

The Central Life Assurance Society of the United States, Des Moines, Iowa, in consideration of three hundred eighteen dollars being the premium for one year's term insurance receipt of which is hereby acknowledged and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of March hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the society in the city of Des Moines, Iowa, of due proof of the death of John P. Doe, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, herein called the insured, to Margaret M. Doe beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time of paying a premium.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of March nineteen hundred and fourteen.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: semi-annually one hundred sixty-five dollars and forty cents, on first day of March and September, or quarterly, eighty four dollars and thirty-three cents, on first day of March, June, September and December.

Except as herein provided the payment of premium or installment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, or assistant secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which period the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of not greater than six per centum per annum, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, as computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality three and one-half per centum basis, less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by this policy. At the time of making such loan any existing indebtedness on account of this policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year, including the interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year will be deducted. The company reserves the right to defer the making of a loan for not more than sixty days after the application therefor has been made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, of record at the home office of the company, if any.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it or duplicate thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTION ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without the right to loans for its face amount less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, less not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured in this policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The term for which the insurance will be continued, or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. The company reserves the right to defer the making of a cash value for not more than sixty days after the application therefor has been made. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value or paid-up insurance, as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following tables are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company may be reinstated by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at not more than six per centum per annum.

SUICIDE AND MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE.—Death resulting from suicide, whether sane or insane at the time, or death resulting from military or naval service in time of war, during the first year under this policy, are risks not assumed by the company, and in event of death from either of said causes, during the first year, the only liability shall be the return of the premiums actually paid thereon upon the return of this policy at the home office properly receipted.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums. It is free from restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one half per centum per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual installments for a specified number of years, the first installment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual installments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. Installments payable under options (2) and (3) which shall have not been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. Options (2) and (3) payable monthly if desired. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

OPTIONAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The insured at the time of making application for this policy, and upon the additional payment of twenty-five cents per annum per one thousand of insurance, may elect the benefit shown under the following clause headed "Protection in Event of Total Disability."

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL DISABILITY.

After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this contract, and before a default of payment of any subsequent premium, and prior to attained age of 55, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has, since such payment, become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be permanently, continually and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing hereon will continue the insurance during such disability without payment of premiums, and the values in the table on page 2 shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Or,

Second: At the option of the insured and subject to the above conditions, all future premiums upon this policy shall be discontinued, and the insured shall receive upon the furnishing of said proof, one twentieth of the face of this policy in cash, and one-twentieth upon the anniversary of said payment on each year thereafter until twenty full annual payments have been made. Each such payment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance then in force, and the table of values set forth on page 2 of this policy shall be correspondingly decreased.

If there shall be an indebtedness upon this policy at the time of such total disability one-twentieth of the difference between such indebtedness and the face of the policy shall be paid each year as specified above.

In event of the death of the insured after payment of one or more instalments, the remaining portion of the policy shall be paid to the beneficiary after deducting all indebtedness together with the amount paid by instalments.

In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or one entire hand and one entire foot as total and permanent disability in the meaning of the above provision.

Upon any anniversary of this contract the above provisions of "Protection in Event of Total Disability" may be canceled by the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced twenty-five cents for each one thousand of insurance hereunder, and such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application, the medical examination and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and I hereby represent that all the answers made to the above questions and those that shall be made to the medical examiner are true and form the basis of an insurance contract, and that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I also agree to have the required medical examination made at once by a physician acceptable to the society.

CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS.

AGREEMENTS AND REPRESENTATIONS IN APPLICATION.

I agree, that I will not, within two years from the date of any policy issued hereon, indulge in the use of intoxicants, narcotics or other stimulants to excess; and that should I violate this agreement any policy issued hereon shall become null and void.

I further agree (1) that this application, parts one and two, shall form a part of and be the basis of any policy issued hereon and shall be construed with such policy, and that the contract of insurance (evidenced by such policy and application) shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Illinois; and (2) that the contract shall be considered as having been made at the home office of the company, Ottawa, Ill., and to accept said policy subject to all of its provisions; and (3) that in case of any default in payment of any premium on any policy of insurance issued on this application, the arrears, if any, shall be charged by this company as an indebtedness against such policy according to the loan provisions therein, unless hereafter otherwise directed by me; and (4) that all provisions of law prohibiting any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information herein or hereafter are hereby expressly waived.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $356.50. AGE, 35.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois, Ottawa, Ill., will pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, or duly substituted beneficiary, upon receipt at its home office in the city of Ottawa, Ill., of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured) during the continuance of this policy: subject, however, to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred fifty-six and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance, terminating on the fifth day of May, 1911, and of the further payment of a like amount on the fifth day of May in every year during the life of the insured, until twenty (20) annual premiums have been paid, whereupon all payment of premiums shall cease.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years shall be five thousand six hundred sixty-one and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, and, in addition thereto: (a) If dividends are used to purchase additions: The reserve on such additions, computed on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one half per cent per annum, or (b) if dividends are left with the company to accumulate. The amount of such accumulated dividends, with three and one-half per cent interest, compounded annually.

In the event this policy becomes a claim by death, and the dividends have been left to accumulate with the company, the amount of such accumulated dividends will be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the face of the policy.

CONDITIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

CONTRACT.—This policy of insurance and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and in the absence of fraud the statements made in the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties.

CONTRACT TAKES EFFECT.—The payment of the first premium hereon is a condition precedent to the taking effect hereof, and this policy shall not become binding upon the company until said premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured, and the delivery of this policy without such payment, through the mail, or otherwise, shall not be a waiver of such precedent condition.

PREMIUM. TO WHOM PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Ottawa, Illinois, or to the company's authorized agent, in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

HOW PAYABLE.—Premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, according to the company's table rates. Any unpaid part of a year's premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF.—A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, will be allowed on any premium except the first, and if payment be not then made, this policy shall become null and void, except as hereinafter provided in the non-forfeiture clause. In case the death of the insured should occur during said one month of grace, the premium then due, with all other indebtedness on account of, or secured by, this policy, will be deducted from any settlement on this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of any default of premium payments hereon, the arrears may be paid within the month of grace. If not so paid, and if requested by the insured prior to or within the said period of grace, the arrears will be charged as an indebtedness against this policy, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the loan value; or the policy may be reinstated at any time after the said month of grace, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears thereon, with interest at six per cent per annum, provided, in any case, the policy has not been surrendered to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Subject to the rights of any assignee, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary by filing at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company, a written request therefor, together with this policy, such change to take effect when the company's acceptance shall be endorsed hereon, when all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If the beneficiary last designated shall not be living at the death of the insured, the amount payable hereunder shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after two years from its date except for non-payment of premiums, but in the case of misstatement of age, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

If, within two years from the date hereof, the insured hereunder shall die in consequence of an aerial voyage, or of violation of law, or shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of premiums actually paid, and no more.

OCCUPATION AND RESIDENCE.—This policy is free from conditions and restrictions as regards occupation, residence, travel, or place of death, from the date of its issue.

MILITARY AND NAVAL SERVICE, in time of war, shall not invalidate this insurance, but the insured shall be bound to pay to the company a single extra premium of fifty dollars for each one thousand dollars insured, to cover the risk of such service, which extra premium, if not paid in cash, shall be a lien upon this policy, with interest in advance at five per cent per annum.

LOANS.—This company will at any time after two full annual premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force and effect, upon written request from the insured, loan according to law on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, upon the execution of a note or loan agreement, any sum within the loan value specified in the table of loan values herein set forth, deducting therefrom six per cent interest for the remainder of the current policy year, together with any unpaid part of the then current year's premium and all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness secured by this policy shall exceed the loan value hereon at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any. The company reserves the right to defer payment of cash value or the making of a loan (unless for the purpose of paying renewal premiums on policies in this company) for a period not exceeding sixty days.

OPTION OF SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years it may be surrendered by the owner at any time prior to any default in the payment of any premium or installment thereof, or within one month after such default. If there be no indebtedness hereon to the company, the owner may elect either: (1) To continue this insurance in force for the face amount of this policy, as non-participating term insurance, for the term specified in the table of extended insurance values herein set forth; or, (2) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance for the amount specified in the table of paid-up insurance values herein set forth, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (3) as provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the insured may surrender this policy within one month after the date of default on any premium, and receive therefor the sum in cash which would have otherwise been available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. In case no election is made by the insured within one month after default, this policy will automatically become a non-participating paid-up term policy, as provided in Option One (1) above. In any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted. The cash surrender value as shown in the table below will be decreased by any such indebtedness and the amount of paid-up policy or term of extended insurance will be such as the net cash value, after deduction of such indebtedness, will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENT AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1) Continue this policy as a paid-up participating life policy for its full amount and receive any accumulated dividends in cash; or (2) surrender this policy and draw the entire cash value, as stated on page one hereof; or (3) surrender this policy and convert the entire cash value into a paid-up life policy, subject to evidence of good health, satisfactory to the company, for any paid-up insurance in excess of the face value of this policy.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.—At the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter, provided the premiums shall have been paid as herein specified, the company will determine and apportion to this policy annual dividends, and the legal holder thereof will be entitled to receive such dividends under one of the following options: (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied towards the payment of any premium; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of this policy, but withdrawable at any time in cash. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a notice of such election, the dividend shall be paid to the legal holder of this policy in cash.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTION.—Whenever the reserve, at the end of any policy year, on the amount insured hereunder, calculated on the basis herein named, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the attained age of the insured (premium to be calculated on the same basis as the reserve) for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, the company will, upon written request of the insured, endorse the policy as participating paid-up insurance for such an amount as the said reserve will purchase at the premium named; or, whenever the reserve shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company will, upon a full and valid surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder, pay as an matured endowment the amount of such reserve, provided, however, in each case there shall be no indebtedness hereon to the company.

VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy shall be calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum. The values in the following table are the reserves at the end of the current year less a surrender charge not exceeding one per cent of the face of this policy. These values will be increased by the equivalent of the full reserve on any paid-up additions hereto, and will be proportionately adjusted if default occur after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis).

LOAN VALUE.—The loan value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve hereon (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis) at the end of the year in which the loan is made.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company unless it, or a duplicate thereof, be filed at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

PLAN OF INSURANCE MAY BE CHANGED.—This policy may at any anniversary of its date of issue, and without medical re-examination, be exchanged, according to the rules of the company, for any other form of policy issued by the company, provided the amount of insurance under such policy be not greater or the rate of premium less than under this policy. Such exchange must be made while this policy is in full force and effect.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—For instalment options see page four (4) hereof.

MODIFICATION.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this, or any, policy of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representations or information. These powers can only be exercised by the president, one of the vice-presidents, actuary or secretary of the company, and such power will not be delegated.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, and under its seal, executed this policy at its home office in Ottawa, Ill., this first day of May A. D., 1910.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid: (1) In cash; or, (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (5, 10, 15, or 20), the first instalment being payable immediately, on approval of proofs of death of the insured, in accordance with Table One below, for each one thousand dollars of said sum; or, (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable so long as the beneficiary shall live, first payment immediately on the approval of the proofs of death of the insured, based on beneficiary's age at nearest birthday, in accordance with Table Two below, for each one thousand dollars of insurance.

When the option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued.

In case Option Two is selected, and the beneficiary shall die before the twenty payments shall have been made, the remaining instalments will be paid to a new beneficiary or to the executors, administrators or assigns of said first beneficiary.

TABLES OF INSTALMENTS FOR EACH $1000.

TABLE ONE.—In five annual instalments of $222.11 each, or ten annual instalments of $114.94 each, or fifteen annual instalments of $83.33 each, or twenty annual instalments of $66.66 each.

Central States Life Insurance Company.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.40. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Crawfordsville, Montgomery county, State of Indiana, and agrees to pay to Mary Doe, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness against this policy, immediately upon receipt at the home office of the company at Crawfordsville, Ind., of due proofs of the death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant while this policy is in force, subject to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of three hundred sixty-nine and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company upon the delivery of this policy, and the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year until twenty full annual premiums have been paid; or until the prior death of the insured. Each premium may be paid in two instalments of \$192.10 each on the first day of the months of January and July; or in four instalments of \$97.90 each on the first day of the months of January, April, July and October.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time change the beneficiary, provided this policy has not been assigned as security for debt or other legal consideration, said change to take effect only when endorsed on the policy by the insured and the secretary of the company.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After two or more full annual premiums shall have been paid (this policy being then in force, and no indebtedness against it), upon default in the payment of any premium when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, the insured may select any one of the options in the following table. In the event of no selection this policy shall be continued in force as a paid-up non-participating policy during the term specified in the first option, and all other options shall be deemed waived. Any indebtedness against this policy, unless previously paid in full, shall reduce the cash and loan values in the table by the amount of such indebtedness, and shall reduce the value of the paid-up or extended insurance in the table, in the ratio of the indebtedness to such insurance values.

STANDARD OF VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy is computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or a part of the premium to be received during the first year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of Indiana. In every case the values in the table above are equal to the full reserve on the policy, less not to exceed one and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The cash values equal the full reserve. After the period covered by the table above the cash and loan values shall be the full reserve, less any indebtedness against the policy, and the amount of paid-up insurance, and the term of extended insurance shall be such as the cash value will purchase at net premium rates.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company so long as it continues in force, except such time as it may be in force under extended insurance. Upon the payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each succeeding policy year, that portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy as determined by the company shall be credited to this policy. Dividends thus credited shall be available at the option of the owner of this policy as follows: 1st—Paid in cash. 2nd—Applied toward the payment of premiums. 3rd—Applied toward the payment of non-participating paid-up additions. 4th—Left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, or withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company will be required for the first paid-up addition to this policy whether it be for the first or any subsequent dividend. Paid-up additions may be surrendered for cash at any anniversary date of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise in writing, dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy and be payable in cash at maturity of the policy or be withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of its date. Upon default in the payment of any premium unless the insured shall request the payment of accumulated dividends in cash, they may at the option of the company be applied toward the payment of premiums on this policy as they shall become due.

ACCUMULATED DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—If the dividends be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy in accordance with option four (4) referred to above: 1st—Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy, less any existing indebtedness, shall equal the net single premium on this policy at the attained age of the insured this policy may, at the option of the insured, be converted into a fully paid-up participating policy for the sum insured; 2nd—Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured, the company will upon surrender of this policy accompanied by legal release of all claims hereunder pay to the insured in cash the amount of this policy less any existing indebtedness.

CONTRACT.—This policy together with the application therefor, a copy of which application is hereby attached and made a part thereof, shall constitute the entire contract between this company and the insured. All statements made by the insured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. This policy shall not become binding upon the company until the first year's premium shall have been paid in full during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Only the president, vice-president or secretary (and then in writing only) shall have power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any person other than the above.

PREMIUMS. TIME OF PAYMENT.—All premiums shall be payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary. Payment of any premium or instalment thereof will not maintain this policy in force beyond the date for the payment of the next premium or instalment.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of not to exceed six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time this policy shall be in force. In the event of the death of the insured during this period, the current year's premium shall be paid in full in any settlement under this contract.

NOTICE.—Notice of each and every payment of premiums due or to become due is given and accepted by the delivery of this policy; and any further notice required by any statute is hereby expressly waived.

LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, except such time as it may be in force under extended insurance, will loan on the execution of a proper and legal assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof with interest not to exceed six per cent per annum in advance, a sum not to exceed the amount stated in option 4 of the table of options on the first page of policy, plus the value of any dividend additions, less any indebtedness and any unpaid balance of current year's premium. Interest at same rate will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter on this loan and if not so paid will be added to the principal and bear same rate of interest. The company reserves the right to defer making such loan for not to exceed six months from receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon when due shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee if any.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or be forfeited, it may be reinstated upon a written application therefor, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all premiums due to date with interest at five per cent per annum.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable on this policy in the event of death will be such as the premium will purchase at the correct age. If overstated the excess premiums shall be returned to the owner of this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and bear the signature of both the insured and the secretary of the company. This company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

LIMITATION OF ACTION.—No action at law or in equity shall be commenced against the company for claim under this policy after three years from the time cause of action shall accrue; and it is agreed that in case of claim by death, cause of action, if any, shall accrue on the date of death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable from date thereof, except for non-payment of premiums, and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without permission from the company.

RISKS NOT COVERED.—This company will not be liable for the amount insured in this policy or any part thereof if death occurs under any of the following conditions: (1) At any time, while this policy is in force, if the insured engages in military or naval service in time of war without permission of the company and without paying the additional premium required by the increased risk. (2) During the first two years of the policy if the insured, whether sane or insane, shall die by his own hand or act. (3) During the first year of the policy if the insured shall be engaged in any of the following: (a) Retailing or manufacturing intoxicating liquors. (b) Handling electric wires and dynamos. (c) Blasting or mining. (d) Aeronautic ascension. (e) Production or handling of highly explosive or inflammable substances. (f) Switching, coupling or uncoupling cars; service on a railroad train or track except as a passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent or express messenger. (g) Travel or residence north of the sixtieth degree North Latitude or in the Torrid Zone. (h) Violation of law, or paying any penalty for such violation. In every and all such cases this policy shall be null and void and all payments thereon shall be forfeited.

PROOF OF DEATH.—In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, application should be made to the company at its home office, for blank forms upon which to make proofs of death.

INSTALLMENT SETTLEMENTS. INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured at any time, this policy being in force, may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the following instalment options, the first instalment being due in each case upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, provided, that if there be more than one beneficiary these options shall not be available without the consent of the company. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured.

OPTION 1.—In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1,138.

OPTION 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amount to $1,219.50.

OPTION 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1,305.00.

OPTION 4.—In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured. In case of the death of the beneficiary before twenty annual instalments have been paid, the company will pay the balance of said twenty annual instalments to the estate of the beneficiary.

INSTALLMENT COUPONS.—Should this policy become a valid claim by death, and the insured has selected either the first, second or third of the instalment options as above provided, the company will upon surrender of the policy, issue to the beneficiary its instalment contract with coupons attached, numbered consecutively according to the number of such instalments under the option selected, and each coupon providing for the payment of one of the annual instalments, and should the fourth or fifth option be selected, the company will upon such surrender of the policy, issue to the beneficiary its annuity contract, providing for the payment of annual instalments, in accordance with the terms of the option selected.

OPTION 5.—In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Central States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the city of Crawfordsville, State of Indiana, this fifteenth day of January, 1910.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I, John Doe, apply to the Central States Life Insurance Company, of Crawfordsville, Ind., for insurance on my life in the amount of ten thousand dollars on the twenty payment life participating plan, the annual premium to be payable in advance, and each insurance year to end on the fifteenth day of January and, as an inducement to said company to make said insurance and as a consideration therefor, I agree, (1) That all the following statements and answers, and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the proposed policy, which I agree to accept. (2) That there shall be no contract of insurance unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and unless also the policy shall have been issued during my continuance in good health; except in case a binding receipt shall have been issued as hereinafter provided. (3) That during the period of one year following the date of issue of the policy of insurance for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations or employments: Retailing or manufacturing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires and dynamos, blasting, mining, sub-marine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track, or in switching or in coupling cars, or any steam or other vessel; nor travel or reside north of the sixtieth degree of north latitude, or in the Torrid Zone. (4) That active service in the army or navy, in time of war, shall invalidate said contract of insurance, unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for in writing and endorsed upon the policy by the company, and such extra premium paid therefor upon notification as the then rules of the company may provide. (5) That I will not die by my own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of two years next following said date of issue.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000, written $35,000

Central States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.10. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., promises to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt, at its home office in St. Louis, Mo., of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, the insured hereunder, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will agree, by endorsement hereon, to pay for the insured the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish satisfactory proof to the company at its home office that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation. Any premium so paid shall not be deducted from the amount payable under this policy and the values provided under "non-forfeiture provisions" shall be the same as if the premiums had been paid by the insured. Provided that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, the company's obligation to pay such premiums shall cease and all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., January 1, 1911.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

This policy is absolutely free of conditions as to residence, occupation, or travel. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

FACILITY IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually in advance, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates. The company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor by the insured on the company's form. All premiums are payable either at the home office of the company or to an authorized agent, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the date when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured die within said period, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—Payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be changed from payment in one sum to payment by instalments, as provided on the fourth page thereof.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, within thirty-one days of application therefor, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of this policy to the company upon its prescribed form and on the sole security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the loan value of this policy at the end of the then current policy year, as provided in the table of values herein contained, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid portion of premium for the balance of said policy year. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after giving such notice, shall render this policy void.

BENEFICIARY—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary in the application hereof, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, change the beneficiary, such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease; provided that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED.—In event of default of premium payments, unless the cash surrender value has been paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premium and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, with interest at a rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—After premiums shall have been paid hereon for three full years, in case of default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof on the date when due, the owner shall, within sixty days from such due date, have the choice of one of the following:

OPTIONS.—(1) (Paid-up insurance). Upon written application therefor and legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up policy, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such an amount as the cash surrender value of this policy at date of default will purchase, as hereinafter provided; or, (2) (self-acting extended insurance) to have the insurance hereunder automatically extended in force from such due date as term insurance, without participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount for the number of years and days which the cash surrender value at date of default will purchase, as hereinafter provided; or, (3) (cash surrender value) to receive the cash surrender value at date of default, within thirty-one days of application therefor, upon legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office. Said cash surrender value at date of default will be the full reserve on this policy, which is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum having a maximum at the end of the third year, not in excess of seven-tenths of one per cent of the face amount of this policy, and thereafter decreasing, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby. After the ninth policy year, said cash surrender value will be the full reserve, less any indebtedness as aforesaid.

TABLE OF VALUES.—The values in the following table are for full paid policy years, in the absence of any indebtedness and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premiums beyond the full paid policy years.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and subject to the provisions of the 'cash loans' clause, are available at any time after three full years' premiums have been paid.

The amount of paid-up insurance or the term for which the insurance will be extended will be such as the cash surrender value at time of default will purchase applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

(1) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company for a record and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment and the claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (2) This policy and the application herefor taken together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (3) This policy is payable at the home office of the company in St. Louis, Mo., and proof of interest of any claim will be required; any indebtedness to the company hereon, or secured hereby, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a death claim. (4) Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has power, on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premiums, or to waive any forfeiture, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of the said officers. (5) In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. (6) This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid and the policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured. (7) This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company. (8) If the age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seven and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of January, 1912.

This contract will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual renewal premium of three hundred seven and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of January, 1912, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of January, in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums for twenty years from the date hereof shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of the first day of January, 1911.

In witness whereof, the Central States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed this first day of January, 1911.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of any person having or claiming any interest in a policy issued in consequence of this application I hereby agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either part of this application are full, complete and true: (2) That this application and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application: (3) That no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me; and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health.

EXCESS INTEREST DIVIDENDS—REDUCED PREMIUM, TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $336.60. AGE, 35.

Cherokee Life Insurance Company, Rome, Ga., promises to pay, ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, at its home office, in the city of Rome, Georgia, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard Roe, the insured, occurring while this policy is in force, to Mary Elizabeth Roe, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as the insured may hereafter designate in writing, as hereinafter provided; and, in the event such death shall occur within the premium paying period before the insured shall have attained the age of sixty-five years and such death shall have been occasioned solely by external, violent, accidental means, occurring after this policy has been in force for one year, (homicide or self-destruction, sane or insane, or any attempt thereat, not included) resulting in such death within three months thereafter, additional indemnity for accidental death, promises to pay to such beneficiary an additional sum, making a total sum of fifteen thousand dollars, provided this policy shall have been maintained in full force by the payment of premiums; and monthly income for disability upon receipt of due proof that the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty years and while this policy is in full force, all due premiums having been paid and there being no indebtedness hereunder, has become totally and permanently incapacitated by accident or disease from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, issue to the insured an annuity contract providing for the payment of fifty dollars at the end of each month during the continuance of such total incapacity, but not exceeding two hundred months; and, providing further, that in case the insured shall die before two hundred such monthly payments shall have been made, the remaining payments shall be made to such beneficiary as the insured shall designate.

PRIVILEGES.

CASH LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid, at any time the company will advance, on the pledge of this policy and the sole security thereof, an amount not in excess of the cash surrender value for the end of the last year for which premiums have been paid in full, less all indebtedness upon this policy and interest thereon, the same to bear interest at the rate of four (4) per cent per annum, payable annually in advance; provided that the company may require not to exceed three months' notice prior to making any such cash loan, and further provided that failure to re-pay any loan, or to pay interest, shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one (31) days, without interest, will be granted for the payment of each premium upon this policy, after the first, during which grace this policy shall remain in full force, subject to the deduction of the forborne premium.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Upon the written application of the insured to the company at its home office, while this policy is in force, accompanied by the policy, the company will at any time by endorsement hereon change the beneficiary to such person or persons as the insured may so designate, subject, however, to any assignment thereof. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, and the right is hereby specifically reserved to the insured to exercise for himself any and all of the privileges and options granted by this policy without the consent of the beneficiary.

MIS-STATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be mis-stated in the application for this policy, the insurance hereunder shall be the amount which the premiums actually paid would have purchased at the published rates of the company at the true age of the insured.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—After three full annual premiums have been paid if any premium shall not have been paid at the expiration of the grace, and if no application shall have been made for one of the Non-Forfeiture options, hereinafter set forth, the company will first apply such dividend as may be then earned to the payment of such premium and will charge the remainder thereof against this policy, as a loan bearing interest at four (4) per cent per annum, in advance, annually compounded, provided the then loan value, over and above all indebtedness then outstanding and interest thereon, shall be sufficient to cover such advances, or, if insufficient to cover the entire premium then due, the company will so charge the remainder of an instalment thereof for a shorter period, but for not less than one-quarter year. At any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed and, subject to such indebtedness, this policy shall remain in full force as if all premiums had been paid in cash.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—At any time after this policy shall have ceased to be in force by failure to pay any premium or premiums, after the first, the company will re-instate the same, together with accumulated indebtedness, upon application by the insured, accompanied by proof of good health satisfactory to the company, and by the tender of arrears of premiums, accumulated at interest at four (4) per cent per annum, annually compounded.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company shall not be deemed to have any knowledge of any assignment of this policy, unless same, together with a copy thereof, shall have been delivered to the company at its home office together with this policy for endorsement. The company will not be responsible for the validity of any assignment and due proof of interest must be tendered by the assignee on making claim.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date, except for non-payment of premium, and military or naval service in time of war; provided, however, a permit for such service may be granted by the company upon such extra premiums and policy modifications as may be called for by its rules. If death occurs after such military or naval service is entered into without such permit, the liability under this policy shall be limited to the amount of net premiums paid hereunder. If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall die by his own hand, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his or her criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the net premiums paid hereunder.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums hereunder have been paid, this policy may be surrendered to the company, at any time before default of any premium payment when due, or within thirty-one (31) days after such default for: (1) Cash surrender value of the amount given in the table below; or (2) paid-up insurance of a reduced amount given in the table below, payable at the death of the insured; or (3) extended insurance of the full amount hereof, payable at the death of the insured, provided it occur within the term given in the table below.

The amount of such cash surrender value is at least equal to the sum which otherwise would be available for the purchase of paid up or extended insurance. Such paid up or extended insurance shall not carry the additional insurance against accidental death, the non-forfeiture and loan options, the disability benefit or participation. If there is indebtedness against the policy, the same shall be deducted from the cash surrender value payable, or the amount of the paid up insurance, or of the extended insurance shall be reduced to the amount which the reduced cash surrender value will purchase on the basis above provided.

The loan and surrender values under this policy shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent interest per annum, and the net value thereof is the entire reserve, less not more than two and one half ($2\frac{1}{2}$) per cent of the amount insured by the policy. After the twentieth year the table of Loan and surrender values will be extended upon request.

REDUCED PREMIUMS.—The payment of the first annual premium on this policy continues the insurance thereunder for the term of one year from the date hereof, i. e., until midnight February 20th, 1916, from which day it will be renewed as a reduced premium limited payment life policy (special combination) by the payment of an annual renewal premium, as specified hereinafter, in advance and thereafter on each anniversary of the date of this policy during the life-time of the insured until twenty annual premiums hereon shall have been paid.

FURTHER REDUCTION OF PREMIUMS BY DIVIDENDS.—There shall be a further reduction of each annual renewal premium, after the second policy year, by a dividend allowed upon the amount of the terminal reserve (less any indebtedness to the company) at the end of the preceding policy year, calculated at the rate at which the company's experienced rate of net earnings exceeds three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent. (the rate required to maintain the reserve). The net earnings for any fiscal year are hereby defined as the total earnings on the investments of the company (exclusive of policy loans), during any such year, less the actual investment expenses, losses and taxes incurred in connection with these investments. The experienced rate of net earnings on investments of the company (exclusive of policy loans) shall be computed at the end of each fiscal year and such rate shall apply for the calculation and apportionment of dividends for all policies entitled to such dividend payments, which have annual renewal premiums due in the next succeeding calendar year.

DIVIDENDS MAY ACCUMULATE.—In the event the insured, during the premium paying period, should not apply any dividend to the reduction of his premiums, the company will hold the same as a deposit, subject to withdrawal at any time, and will credit such deposit, at the end of each full year, with interest, annually compounded, at the net rate realized upon the mean assets of the company during the next preceding fiscal year. All such dividend deposits, which have not been withdrawn, and the interest credited thereon, shall be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the sum insured, upon due proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force.

PRIVILEGES IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

PRIVILEGES OF PREMIUM PAYMENT.—The annual premiums upon this policy may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance as per the table of premiums endorsed hereon; and a change in the method of payment may be made on any anniversary of this policy. The table of premiums endorsed hereon shows the amount of the annual premium (to be further reduced by dividends) and of the semi-annual and quarterly instalments in which such premiums are payable at the option of the insured:

TABLE OF PREMIUMS.—Annually in advance on the 20th day of February, $336.60. Semi-annually in advance on the 20th day of February and August, $175.03. Quarterly in advance on the 20th day of February, May, August and November, $89.20. All premiums are payable at the home office of the company in the city of Rome, Georgia, but may be paid to an agent in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary or the treasurer of the company and countersigned by the agent. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium, or any instalment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment is payable.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.—No agent has authority to amend or modify any of the terms of this policy, or to waive any provisions thereof, or the payment of any premium thereon. In any settlement under this policy there shall first be deducted all indebtedness to the company, with accrued interest, including any unpaid portion of the annual premium necessary to complete the current policy year. This policy and the application herefor together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor. The net premium and reserve under this policy are computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one half (3½) per cent interest. In case the insured shall have paid in advance upon making application herefor the first annual premium in exchange for the binding receipt of the Company, this policy shall, upon approval of such application, by the company, take effect as of the date thereof, in accordance with the terms of the company's binding receipt; if a full premium shall not have been so paid in advance, no contract of insurance shall take effect until the delivery of this policy to the insured and the payment of the first annual premium in full during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon its maturity by reason of the death of the insured (or its maturity as an endowment, if so provided) paid, instead of in one sum in cash, in instalments in manner and amount, as follows:

The instalments corresponding to an amount of insurance, larger or smaller, will be pro rata; provided that the privilege of monthly instalments will not be available for amounts of insurance less than $2,500; of quarterly instalments, less than $2,000; of semi-annual instalments, less than $1,500; or of annual instalments, less than $1,000.

If written request therefor be made by the insured to the company at its home office, the instalments payable to the beneficiary will not be commuted by the company after the death of the insured during the lifetime of the beneficiary and during such period the company will not consent to any assignment thereof.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application: (1) That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy is delivered to and received by me, during my life time and good health, and that unless otherwise agreed in writing, the policy shall then relate back to and take effect as of date of this application; (2) That any payment made by me before delivery of the policy to, and its receipt by me, as aforesaid, shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the terms of the company's receipt therefor, on a receipt form which is attached to this application and contains the terms of the agreement under which said payment has been made and is the only receipt the agent is authorized to give for such payment; (3) That no statement, information or agreement made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing, and then only if presented and approved by the executive officers of the company at its home office; (4) That every statement made herein and in my answers to medical examiners is true, and that no information affecting the insurance sought, has been withheld; (5) That only the executive officers of the company, at its home office, can make, modify or discharge contracts or waive any of the company's rights or requirements, and none of these acts can be done by the agent taking this application; (6) That all my declarations herein made and my statements to the medical examiner, together with the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $30,000.

Cleveland Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $305.10.

AGE, 35.

The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, Cleveland, O., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Esther Cleaveland, the beneficiary, with right of revocation, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured at the home office of the company at Cleveland, O., upon receipt at said home office of due proofs of death of Moses Cleaveland, of Cleveland, county of Cuyahoga, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

The stipulations, privileges and conditions recited on the following pages of this policy are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Cleveland Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at Cleveland, O., this fifteenth day of June, 1911.

1. THE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties.

2. CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application and the payment in advance of a premium of three hundred five and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars and the further payment of a like premium on the fifteenth day of June in each year, beginning one year from date hereof, until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

3. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue for the amount due, except for non-payment of premiums, or for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

4. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, from the date when it would otherwise be payable, will be granted for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time of grace the insurance shall continue in force.

5. REVIVAL AND REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium it will be revived any time after the date of lapse upon written application and payment of arrears of premium with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement of all indebtedness, provided such indebtedness be not greater than the loan value of this policy at the time of application for such revival, and provided, evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

6. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE; CASH SURRENDER, PAID-UP, OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner may, within thirty-one days after default in payment of any premium due hereon, elect (a) to surrender this policy for cash for the amount provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less any indebtedness to the company on this policy, provided, that the company may defer payment thereof for not more than ninety days after the application therefor is made; or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amounts provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full; or (c) to have this policy extended as term insurance, without the right to loans, for the period provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full. If the owner shall not within thirty-one days after such default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office and select one of the options above provided, insurance will be extended as provided in option (c). Should there be any indebtedness to the company on this policy, the amount of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), or the term for which insurance will be extended as provided in option (c), will be such as the cash surrender value provided in said table of guarantees opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

7. LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, the amount specified in the table of guarantees herein opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent in advance, which interest if not paid annually in advance, will be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, and the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; provided, that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

8. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are due and payable annually in advance at the home office of the company, at Cleveland, O., but may be paid on or before the due date at such other places as the company may designate; or may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, at the rates endorsed on the cover of this policy, in exchange for the company's official receipt signed by its president or secretary, and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof, shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. Failure to pay any note or other obligation, when due, given for a premium or any part thereof on this policy, shall render this policy null and void except as herein provided. This policy is not in force until the first premium or agreed instalment thereof has been paid while the insured is alive and in good health. In event of the death of the insured there shall be deducted from any sum payable hereunder any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and any other indebtedness of the insured to the company.

9. PRELIMINARY TERM AND RESERVE.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The subsequent premiums will accumulate the reserve required by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum beginning one year later than the date of this policy. The cash surrender and loan values, paid-up and extended insurance referred to in the table of guarantees herein, are equal to the reserve on this policy according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by this policy.

10. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY; ASSIGNMENT.—No change of beneficiary or assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any change of beneficiary or of any assignment. When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

11. CHANGE OF FORM.—Upon written application to the company, this policy will be exchanged at any anniversary of its date of issue, without medical re-examination, for any other form of policy issued by the company; the amount of insurance under such new policy shall not be greater nor the premium less than under this policy and the first premium on the new policy shall be paid while this policy is in force.

12. CONDITIONS.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract. If the insured at any time shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war without having first obtained a special written permit from the company to serve, the company's liability shall be limited to the reserve on this policy.

13. AGE.—If the age of the insured shall have been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

14. GENERAL.—This policy of insurance is a contract issued by a purely stock company. The holder by its acceptance neither assumes responsibility for any part of the company's liabilities, nor becomes entitled to any participation in its surplus. The place of this contract is expressly agreed to be Cleveland, O. No agent is authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, grant credits, waive forfeitures or extend the time for payment of premiums. No such act shall be valid unless in writing and signed by the president or secretary of the company. Neither is any agent authorized to receive or collect any except the first year's premium, unless there shall have been previously delivered to him the company's official receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent.

After this policy has become fully paid up for life the cash and loan values shall be the entire reserve hereunder at the end of the current policy year. The figures in 10 table of guarantees above are computed in accordance with the provisions of this contract, and upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness on this policy.

16. INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, or in case the insured shall not have so elected, the beneficiary after the death of the insured by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the total net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, if said total net sum is not less than one thousand dollars, paid either in cash or as follows: (First) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on such total net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said total net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (Second) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. (Third) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the beneficiary may survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. (Fourth) By the payment of an annual income for life to the beneficiary in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the legal representatives or assigns of the beneficiary. Unless otherwise specified by the insured or beneficiary in making such selection, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the agreement for the payment of an annuity or such instalments, for the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the basis of three and one-half (3½) per cent interest compounded annually; provided, that such surrender and commutation will not be made under (3) or (4) unless the good health of the beneficiary is shown to the satisfaction of the company.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.

The insured may elect to convert this policy into an endowment policy by continuing the payment of premiums hereon after the twentieth year.

If twenty-nine full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and the insured be then living, the company will pay to the insured, on the fifteenth day of June, 1940, at its home office in Cleveland, Ohio, upon surrender of this policy, the sum of ten thousand, three hundred and fifty ($10,350) dollars.

Loan, cash surrender, paid up and extended insurance values for years subsequent to the twentieth, in event this policy has been converted into an endowment in accordance with this option, will be furnished on application. All loans and settlements hereunder shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company on this policy.

GUARANTEED PROTECTION TO POLICY No. 09876

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY AGREEMENT.—1. PREMIUM.—The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, in consideration of five and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars additional annual premium to be paid with each and every annual premium on the above numbered policy issued by said company to Moses Cleveland of Cleveland, O., for ten thousand (\$10,000) dollars.

2. DISABILITY BEFORE AGE 60.—Hereby guarantees that after said policy shall have been in force one full year, one full annual premium having been paid thereon and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by endorsement in writing upon said policy will waive the payment of the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. Such premiums shall not be a lien on said policy and the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy, other than the extended insurance values, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

3. DISABILITY AFTER AGE 60.—If the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of like total and permanent disability after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate without interest, as an indebtedness on said policy, and the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

4. INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—If satisfactory proof of such total and permanent disability is furnished by the insured before he attains the age of sixty years, upon written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and assignee, if any, the company, by an endorsement on said policy, will agree to pay to the insured, subject to the conditions herein recited, in lieu of all other values or privileges, and in full settlement of said policy, one-tenth of the face amount of said policy each year until ten such annual instalments have been paid. The first payment shall be made one year after approval of such proof and subsequent payments annually thereafter during the continuance of such disability. Any indebtedness to the company on, or secured by said policy, will reduce the amount of said annual instalments in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the present value of said instalments commuted at three and one-half per cent interest, compounded annually. Should the insured die before ten annual payments have been made, the remaining instalments will be paid to the beneficiary as they become due.

5. RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Notwithstanding acceptance by the company of proof of disability, it may nevertheless at any time thereafter, and from time to time, require of the insured satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and any medical examiner or other representative of the company, accredited for that purpose, shall be permitted to examine the person of the insured, with respect to the alleged disability at such times and in such manner as the company may desire. If the insured fails to furnish such proof, or refuses to permit any such examination, or if he shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to waive further premiums or pay annual instalments, or either, shall immediately cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums in accordance with the original provisions of said policy beginning with the first premium due date thereafter, and the total amount of all annual instalments theretofore paid by the company shall be an indebtedness against said policy, without interest, and deducted from any settlement thereunder.

6. SPECIFIC INCLUSIONS.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this agreement.

7. CHANGE OF FORM.—In event of a claim upon the company under this agreement, the right to change the form of said policy shall not be available.

8. TERMINATION AT OPTION OF INSURED.—On any anniversary of the due date of the annual premium on said policy this agreement may be terminated by the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums on this agreement shall cease.

In witness whereof, The Cleveland Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president and secretary at its home office, Cleveland, Ohio, this first day of February, 1916.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I agree that the foregoing, together with Part 2, application, and with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for; and I hereby further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and that said policy shall not take effect until the application shall be approved by the said company, and the first premium paid in full while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Colonial Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $221.

AGE, 35.

The Colonial Life Insurance Company of America hereby agrees to pay ($10,000) ten thousand dollars immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of John Alden, the insured, of Plymouth, in the county of Plymouth, State of Massachusetts, to his wife, Priscilla Alden, or in the event of her prior death to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, at the home office of the company in Jersey City, N. J., at which place the annual premium of ($221) two hundred and twenty-one dollars shall be paid to the company in exchange for the company's receipt on the delivery of this policy, and on or before the twenty-ninth day of January in each year during the life of the insured.

This policy, subject to the provisions on the following pages, is issued in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in the manner specified of the premium above stated.

In witness whereof, the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, has caused this policy to be signed by its president, and vice-president or secretary at Jersey City, N. J., and dated the twenty-ninth day of January, 1910.

PROVISIONS.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed herein, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements purporting to be made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium, it may be revived upon written application with evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first, subject to a charge, except for the first seven days, at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided that the minimum charge shall be five cents.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from its date, this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premium and for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war, in which latter case the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy or any interest therein be not assigned, the insured may at any time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon this policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the proceeds, or any portion thereof (provided such amount be not less than $1000) may be left, during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but, provided such amount be not less than $1000 it may, at the option of the beneficiary, be made payable instead, at its maturity, in equal annual instalments in accordance with the table below, the first instalment being payable immediately.

Number of annual instalments.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of each instalment per $1000.....	53	59	68	84	116	214

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1). If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (2) Any indebtedness to the company, including any instalment of premium necessary to complete the full year's premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit thereunder. (3) Only the president, a vice-president or the secretary, has power on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless in writing signed by one of the aforesaid officers, which shall be the only admissible proof of such action. (4) Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by a manager or general agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. (5) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the home office. One copy will be returned with the company's acknowledgment endorsed thereon, which shall be the only admissible evidence of compliance herewith. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and any claim thereunder shall be subject to proof of interest.

NON-FORFEITURE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the following options, based on completed policy years, will apply, provided there be no outstanding indebtedness hereon. Any indebtedness on account of this policy will be deducted from the cash value, and will reduce by the amount of said indebtedness, the value for paid-up or extended insurance.

CASH VALUE (Option 1).—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company by the insured with a written request before the days of grace have expired, a cash value will be paid as indicated in the following table (1), subject to the right of the company to defer payment for ninety days thereafter.

EXTENDED INSURANCE (Option 2).—Or, upon written application accompanied by the legal surrender of this policy to the company by the insured before the days of grace have expired, with evidence satisfactory to the company of the good health of the insured, extended insurance will be issued for the full amount of this policy, less any outstanding indebtedness, for a term as shown in the following table (3), reckoning from the day the unpaid premium first became due.

PAID-UP INSURANCE (Option 3).—If this policy be not surrendered for its cash value or for extended insurance, the company will issue in lieu of this policy, without action on the part of the insured, a policy for the amount of paid-up insurance indicated in the following table (2), to mature in the same manner as this policy, had it been continued in force. The paid-up policy will be delivered upon the legal surrender of this policy.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan, subject to its right to defer payment for ninety days after proper assignment of the policy, and on the sole security hereof, the amount indicated in the following table of loans (1), less any other indebtedness hereon; interest will be at the rate of five per cent payable annually in advance, and if it be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, but should the total indebtedness become equal to the cash value, the policy shall be forfeited and void, unless such indebtedness shall be paid to the company within one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the person to whom said loan was made.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After three years' premiums have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner of this policy, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will loan each premium payment as it becomes due (if it be not paid in cash) and will charge the same as an indebtedness against this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, until all accumulated indebtedness with interest equals the cash value hereunder, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, subject to notice as hereinbefore provided. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums and interest on indebtedness may be resumed, without medical examination, at any time.

The above tables are for a policy of $1,000; other amounts will be proportionate.

The values in the above tables are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and are at least equal to the entire reserve of this policy, by the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and agree that they together with this declaration, shall form the basis and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted, subject to the provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon paid to and accepted by the company while my health and occupation are as described in this application. And it is further agreed that the policy shall be void for such period only if within two years after its date I shall without a written permit from the company, reside or travel in the Torrid Zone, or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude; or engage in blasting, mining, or any underground or submarine labor, aerial voyages, explorations, handling electric wires or dynamos, the manufacture of highly explosive or inflammable substances, the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, or in service upon any railroad train or track, or on any steam or other vessel. Also, that the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for the policy, should I, within two years after the date of said policy, die by my own act, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of my criminal action, or should I, at any time during the continuance of said policy, engage in any military or naval service in time of war, without first obtaining a written permit from the company at the company's regular rate for the extra risk.

Delivery of this policy to insured constitutes a receipt for the first of the above premiums.

Columbia Life and Trust Company promises to pay the amount of this policy, to the beneficiary, at the home office of the company, in Portland, Ore., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of the insured. The amount of this policy, the name of the insured, and the name of the beneficiary, are as stated on page one hereof.

VALUES GUARANTEED.—All values contained in this policy are guaranteed, and are not contingent upon, and this policy does not share in, the surplus earnings of the company.

CONSIDERATION.—This contract of insurance is made in consideration of the application hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and is hereby made a part of this contract, and in consideration of the payment of premiums as provided on the pages hereof. The first year's insurance hereunder is term insurance and shall be valued as such.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured. No premium after the first shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor, signed by the president a vice-president, or secretary, and countersigned by an agent authorized to receive such premium, nor shall any premium payment have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than for the period covered by such payment, except as otherwise provided herein. Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, nor to waive forfeitures, nor to waive or postpone payment of premiums. Should default be made in the payment of any premium on the due date thereof within three years from the date hereof, and should said default continue for thirty-one days, this policy shall cease and determine, and, unless reinstated, all payments hereon shall remain the property of the company.

GRACE IN PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—A grace of thirty-one days without interest, during which this policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums, except the first.

CHANGE IN MODE OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The mode of premium payments may be changed on any anniversary date, from annual to semi-annual, or quarterly, or monthly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in the payment of any premium hereon, this policy may be reinstated upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured, and by the payment of all past due premiums, with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum. The policy reinstated will be subject to any unpaid indebtedness.

ERROR IN AGE.—Should there be any error in the statement of the age of the insured, it will be adjusted by the payment of such amount of insurance as the premium paid actually would have purchased at the correct age.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to void this policy unless it is contained in the written application hereof.

RESTRICTIONS (EFFECTIVE FIRST YEAR ONLY.)—If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall pass south of the Tropic of Cancer, or be personally engaged in mining (except as superintendent, owner or surface employee), blasting, or sub-marine operations, or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or in electrical employment where the voltage used is over 600, or in switching, or coupling or uncoupling cars, or be employed in any capacity on the trains of a railroad (except as passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent, express messenger or baggage master), or in the sale of intoxicating liquors, as saloon-keeper or bar-tender, or in ocean navigation, or undertake an aerial voyage, or engage in military or naval service (except in time of peace), the company shall have the right to cancel this policy and thereupon will refund the pro rata unearned premium. If the insured shall die within said period of one year as result of engaging in any of such prohibited occupations, this policy shall be null and void. Suicide during the first policy year, whether the insured be at the time sane or insane, is not a risk covered hereby for an amount greater than the premium actually paid hereon.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless a duplicate thereof be filed with the company, forthwith upon its execution, as its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year shall be deducted in the settlement of any death claim hereunder.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of this policy, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the indorsement of same on the policy by the company.

DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—If any beneficiary hereunder shall die before the insured, the amount which would otherwise have been payable to such beneficiary shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, unless otherwise provided herein.

RIGHTS OF INSURED.—The insured may, without the consent of any beneficiary, and subject to the rights of any assignee, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

CASH LOANS.—At any time, while this policy is in full force, upon the sole security of this policy, the company will loan to the insured a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than the cash surrender value hereof at the end of the current policy year, less any indebtedness hereon and less any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, upon receipt of the policy with a full and valid assignment thereof to the company and a note for the amount of such loan. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed six per cent per annum in advance.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.

CASH VALUE, PAID-UP INSURANCE OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums have been paid in full for three years this policy may be surrendered by the insured at any time within the thirty-one days of grace allowed after default in premium payment, and, thereupon, (1) if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insured may elect either (a) to receive the cash surrender value of this policy; or (b) to extend the insurance in force for its face amount, and without the right to loans; or (c) to purchase paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The amount of cash surrender value obtainable, the period for which the insurance will be extended, and the amount of paid-up insurance which will be allowed, are shown in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values on page one hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract, the same as though stated over the signatures hereto, and apply, provided this policy is free from indebtedness to the company. (2) if there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, it shall be deducted from the amount which otherwise would be applicable as a cash surrender value, and the period of extended insurance, or the amount of the paid-up policy, shall be such as the cash surrender value, less the indebtedness, will purchase upon the same basis as is used in computing the guaranteed values given in the table on page one hereof.

BASIS OF VALUATION.—The guaranteed loan and surrender values of this policy are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium on this policy be not paid during the days of grace allowed therefor, and if the insured has not elected otherwise, the company will charge such premium, with interest to the next premium due date, as a loan hereon, if the loan value is sufficient. Under like conditions any subsequent premium and interest on the total to the next premium due date will be similarly charged. Whenever the increasing loan value is less than the existing indebtedness against this policy, plus a monthly premium, with interest on the total for one month, this policy will be continued in force for as many days as the remainder over such indebtedness will purchase at said monthly rate, with interest. Such loans shall bear compound interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum in advance. Should the principal, together with the interest accrued, equal or exceed the cash surrender value, this policy shall then cease and determine without action on the part of the company. At any time while this policy is being continued in force as above provided, the insured may resume payment of premiums in cash.

TOTAL DISABILITY WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—If the insured shall before attaining age sixty, and prior to default in payment of any premium, be so disabled by bodily injuries or disease as to become permanently, continuously and wholly prevented from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, on satisfactory proof of such disability, will, by forwarding official premium receipt, waive payment of each subsequent premium as it becomes due under this policy during the continuance of such disability and the guaranteed loan and surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if such premium were paid by the insured. Should the insured recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid by the insured in conformity with the contract. In addition to and independently of all other causes of permanent and total disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, occurring after the issuance of this policy, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. The company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any claimed permanent total disability whenever it may desire. Total disability resulting directly or indirectly from mental disease or any form of insanity is not a risk covered by this provision.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the amount payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) by the payment of three and one-half per cent interest on such amount, payable at the end of each year during the life of the beneficiary, and by the payment at the death of the said beneficiary of the said amount, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns; (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified term of years, the amounts of said instalments to be as shown by the table in option 2 for each $1,000 of such amount; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years and for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall survive, the amounts of said instalments to be as shown by the table in option 3 for each $1,000 of said amount. The first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments at intervals of one year thereafter until all the instalments have been paid. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns. It is specially agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured without the previous written consent of the insured.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $352.50.

AGE, 35.

The Columbia Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, in consideration of the statements contained in the application for this Policy, which are hereby made a part of this Contract, of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred and fifty-two and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars and of the payment of a like amount on the first day of each March thereafter until twenty complete yearly payments shall have been made, or until the prior death of the Insured, hereby insures the life of John Doe (the Insured), of Cincinnati, in the County of Hamilton, in the State of Ohio, for the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the whole term of life. And the Company hereby agrees to pay at its Home Office, immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this Contract, the said amount of insurance to Mary Doe (his wife), or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; any unpaid portion of the year's premium and any other indebtedness to the Company being first deducted.

The conditions and benefits on the second and third pages hereof are hereby made a part of this contract.

This contract shall be held to have been made in the City of Cincinnati, and subject to the laws of the State of Ohio.

In witness whereof, the Columbia Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, or actuary this first day of March, 1914.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

1. All payments due on this Policy are payable at the office of the company in the city of Cincinnati, or to its authorized agent on production of the company's receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent.

2. A grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance hereunder shall remain in force; provided that if the insured shall die during the said month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted in the settlement under the policy.

3. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. Any endorsement, waiver, or modification to be valid must be signed by the president, secretary, or actuary, whose authority for this purpose shall not be delegated.

4. This policy shall be free from restrictions as to travel and residence from its date.

5. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

6. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

7. If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, on filing written request with the company, accompanied by the policy, such change of beneficiary to take effect on the endorsement thereof on the policy by the company.

8. The insured may at the end of any policy year, all premiums being fully paid to date, exchange his policy, without medical re-examination, for insurance of an equal or less amount under any other form of policy issued by the company on which the annual premium is not less than that on his present policy, dating the new policy back to the same date and age as the old one, and paying the difference of premiums from said date with interest at 5 per cent per annum.

9. Upon satisfactory proof, the company will admit the age of the insured, by endorsement upon the policy. If the age shall have been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be that amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the true age, or the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at date of issue.

10. If the insured should die by self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, this policy shall be null and void.

11. The company will not take cognizance of any assignment of this policy until a duplicate thereof shall have been filed at the Home Office. Proof of interest must be produced when the policy becomes payable. The company does not guarantee the validity of any assignment.

12. No suit to recover under this policy shall be brought after five years after the cause of action accrues.

13. This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the third policy year, the company will annually account for and determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy.

14. Dividends shall, at the option of the owner of this policy, on the last day of each policy year after the second be either: (1) Paid in cash, or (2) Applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) Applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at 4 per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

15. Dividends will also be determined and payable at the end of the first and second policy years respectively, provided, that, in each case, the premium then due for the next policy year shall have been first paid to the company. These dividends shall be subject to the same options as those referred to in Section 14.

16. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid up additions.

17. The accumulated dividends may on any anniversary of the policy be applied to the purchase of an annuity for the reduction of all future premium payments.

18. Whenever the dividends accumulated under option (4) shall at the end of a policy year equal or exceed the value of all future premiums on the policy commuted by the American Table of Mortality with $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest, they may be applied to the payment of said commuted value, and the policy will become fully paid up from that date, the cash or loan values being correspondingly increased.

19. The insured may at any time pay to the company any sum not less than twenty dollars, to be applied to the reduction of all subsequent premiums by a fixed amount, which amount will be stated to him at his request, or to reduce the total number of premiums to be paid.

20. After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, and while it is in full force, upon legal assignment of said policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof, and execution of a note or loan agreement, the said company will loan at 5 per cent per annum, for a definite period, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the entire reserve held by the company on the policy, and on the dividend additions thereto, if any, at the end of the current policy year, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. From the aforesaid loan value will be deducted the value of any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest will also be collected in advance to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness to the company thereon shall equal or exceed such loan value of the policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. Any such loan may be repaid by the insured at any time, and any unearned interest will be returned to him.

21. At the end of the second policy year, the company will, at the desire of the insured, loan to him in the manner set forth in Section 20, the cash value for the third year, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, for the sole purpose of paying the third annual premium on the policy.

22. After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, provided there is no outstanding indebtedness, upon the failure to pay any subsequent premium:

(I) The company will extend the insurance hereunder as paid-up, participating term insurance for the period stated in Table C below; the net value of such term insurance being at least equal to the entire reserve on the policy at default, and on dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; or

(II) The company will, upon written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy, within two months of default in the payment of premium as aforesaid, issue a paid-up participating policy, payable as herein provided, for the amount named in Table B below, the net value of such paid-up insurance being at least equal to the entire reserve on the policy at default, and on dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; or

(III) The company will, upon surrender of the policy within two months of default of premium payment as aforesaid, pay to the insured the cash value of the same as stated in Table A below, which value is hereby guaranteed to be at least equal to the net value of the paid-up insurance in Sections (I) and (II) above.

If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of such default, the benefits under (I), (II) or (III) shall be reduced in the proportion which said indebtedness bears to the reserve value of the benefits by the American Table of Mortality, with $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest.

(IV) If the insured shall have accepted paid-up insurance under option (II), the company will loan him at 5 per cent per annum the reserve value of such paid-up insurance by the American Table of Mortality, with $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest, or, on surrender of the policy, will pay to him the said reserve value in cash.

(V) If default should occur in payment of a premium due at a date intermediate between the beginning and end of a policy year, the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the reserve at date of default on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the year last expired.

(VI) In case of default in premium payments, as stated above, if the value of the policy shall have been applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such insurance shall be in force, and the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, the policy may be reinstated within five years from such default, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of arrears of premiums with interest.

At the end of any policy year on surrender of this policy to the company, the cash value thereof may be applied to the purchase of an annuity on the life of the insured or the beneficiary, or both jointly.

24. INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—(a) The company will upon written request from the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, agree to pay the amount of the insurance under this policy in annual instalments, instead of a single sum, according to the following table. The exercise of this option shall be evidenced by endorsement upon the policy, which shall be forwarded to the home office for this purpose. These annual instalments as they become due shall be increased by an equitable sharing in the surplus earnings of the company. At the time when any annual instalment falls due, the company will, on the written request of the payee, pay in cash, in a single payment, the value of all unpaid instalments discounted at three per cent. (b) In lieu of (a) above the company will on written request of the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, pay the amount of the insured in twenty equal annual instalments of $50.00 per $1,000 of insurance, and in addition one-half the amount insured in a single payment, twenty years from the date of payment of the first instalment.

25. When the insurance under this policy becomes due by the death of the insured the beneficiary may allow the amount due, or any portion thereof, which is a multiple of $100.00, to remain with the company at interest, the rate of which is guaranteed to be not less than three per cent per annum. Such deposit shall participate annually in the surplus earnings of the company in addition to the three per cent guaranteed.

The above options do not apply to policies for less than $1000.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—If proof is received by the company that, by reason of bodily injuries or disease occurring after the issue of this policy, the insured shall have become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to perform any work or follow any occupation for compensation or profit, the insurance under this policy will, if all premiums previously due shall have been paid, continue in full force for twelve months from the time the net premium falls due without payment of premium. At the expiration of that time, the company will, upon request of the insured, and assignee, if any, either (a) Pay in full settlement of this policy and in lieu of all other benefits and privileges herein provided, one-twentieth of the entire sum insured and the same amount annually thereafter until the entire sum insured shall have been paid; or (b) Carry this policy as if fully paid up, requiring no further premium payments by the insured; or (c) Pay to the insured in cash a sum mutually agreed upon but not exceeding one-half the amount insured under the policy, the company being thereby released from all liability under the policy. Provided, however, that any indebtedness to the company against the policy shall reduce the annuity payment by the company under option (a) in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the sum insured; or shall be deducted from the insurance payable under option (b). If the policy has reached the condition where, by its terms, it has become fully paid up at the expiration of the twelve months specified above, the insured shall then become entitled to the benefits under option (a) or (c). If the insured shall recover from the total disability above described before the expiration of the said twelve months, the payment of premiums hereon may be resumed with the premium falling due next after such recovery, and the insurance will continue as originally issued; or, if such recovery occurs and premiums are not resumed, then the policy shall be regarded as lapsing with the non-payment of the first premium due after such recovery and the legal holder thereof shall be entitled to the non-forfeiture values set forth therein, subject to the total indebtedness thereon. If, at the expiration of the aforesaid twelve months, the insured shall have chosen the continuance of the insurance under option (b), and shall thereafter recover from the total disability above described, then (unless the policy has become by its terms fully paid up), the payment of premiums shall be resumed by the insured, beginning with the first premium falling due subsequent to such recovery, and if such payment be not resumed the policy shall be deemed to lapse with the non-payment of said first premium. If he shall have selected option (a), then on recovery from the total disability as above described, any instalments of the insurance under that option unpaid at the time of the recovery shall remain with the company and will be paid in a lump sum to the beneficiary at the death of the insured. Should the disability as above stated occur after the insured shall have reached the age of 60 option (b) only will be granted, and all subsequent premiums as they become due shall be accumulated without interest, and will be an indebtedness against the policy. Any benefit for total and permanent disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured whenever it shall deem such examination necessary. If, at the end of any policy year, the insured shall request, in writing, the annulment of the above total disability provisions, the annual premium payments on this policy shall be reduced by twenty-five cents per thousand of insurance.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby agree for myself or for any person who may have or claim any interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application, as follows:—1. That all the foregoing statements and answers and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in Part II of this application, are full, complete and true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the policy, which I hereby agree to accept. 2. That no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application. 3. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid and the policy delivered to me during my lifetime and good health. 4. That in any distribution of surplus, the principles and methods which may then be in use by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount proportioned to such policy shall be, and are hereby ratified and accepted. 5. That any payment on account of first premium, before delivery of the policy, shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the company's receipt therefor on the coupon receipt, form duly filled out and detached from this application, which is the only authorized receipt for such policy. 6. That the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by such policy.

PART II.—I hereby declare that I have reviewed and understand all of the above questions and answers thereto and they are hereby made part of my application for insurance in the Columbia Life Insurance Company, and that said answers and each of them, as written are full, complete and true; that I am the person described above and in Part I of this application signed by me and that each of the questions in Parts I and II of my application was answered in writing before I signed the same.

Columbian National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $295.20.

AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the premium of two hundred ninety-five and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars which will carry the insurance in force from date of payment until the twentieth day of February, 1917, and of the payment of a similar amount annually on the twentieth day of February in every year until twenty full years' premium shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does covenant and agree that, it will pay on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured John Doe, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, the sum insured ten thousand dollars, to the beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages are part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy at the city of Boston, this twentieth day of February, 1914.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office in Boston, but may be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or secretary. No modification of this contract shall be made except over the signature of one of such officers.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE.—Thirty-one days' grace is allowed for the payment of all premiums after the first, during which period the policy remains in full force. Upon default in payment of any premium or note given therefor, this policy shall lapse, and the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is hereinafter provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all past due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness hereon with interest at said rates unless the cash value has been paid or the extended insurance period has expired.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be effectual against the company unless it is filed at the home office while this policy is in force. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of this policy, the insured may designate a new beneficiary by filing at the home office written notice thereof on forms provided for this purpose.

PROTECTION BY STATUTE.—All statements made by the insured in the application are, in the absence of fraud, representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless contained in the written application and a copy of the same attached hereto.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; in such case only the net reserve on the policy will be paid.

PAID-UP VALUE.—In the event of the lapse of this policy after the premiums for three full years have been paid, the policy shall become effective automatically for paid-up insurance payable at the same time as this policy, the amount granted being as stated in the table endorsed hereon for the number of years the policy has been in force. This paid-up insurance shall have increasing cash and loan values.

CASH VALUE OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of said paid-up insurance, the insured on satisfactory release and surrender of this policy within the days of grace, may procure either the cash value or extended term insurance as similarly stated in the table endorsed hereon.

LOANS.—After three years' premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, on the sole security of this policy properly assigned, may borrow at the interest rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, any sum not in excess of the loan value shown in the table endorsed hereon. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and bear interest at the same rate. Non-payment of loan or interest shall not void the policy until the total indebtedness exceeds the cash value hereunder, nor until thirty-one days after the company has mailed notice of such termination to the insured and assignee of record, if any, at their last known address. Payment of cash or loan values may be deferred for thirty days after the application therefor.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash and loan values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be such as may be purchased by the cash value so diminished, such extended insurance to be for an amount equal to the face of the policy less such indebtedness.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The cash or loan value is the same as the net value of the paid-up or extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The values stated herein at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts and no surrender charge is made after the nineteenth year.

PURE ENDOWMENT OPTION.—The insured under this policy shall have the option of continuing the payment of the premium provided for on page one hereof for nine years beyond the twentieth year to establish a pure endowment fund. If such premiums be regularly paid, this fund, together with the cash value of this policy, will on the twenty-first day of February, 1945, amount to ten thousand one hundred seventy-three dollars and ninety cents, which amount will then be paid to the insured for the surrender of this policy, or in event of prior death the amount as named on page one shall be payable as hereinbefore provided. In the event of the previous surrender of this policy after the twentieth year, the company will add to the surrender value hereof the total amount of the premiums paid hereon after such twentieth year. In event of total and permanent disability, this option will not be continued by the waiver of premium clause.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—Payment of an instalment of the premium between anniversaries will proportionately increase these values.

Values after twenty-two years will be furnished upon request.

* Extended insurance begins on date of defaulted premium and includes the days of grace.

This policy is free from all conditions as to residence or travel.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If after this policy has been in force one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company receives due proof that the insured prior to attaining age sixty has become so disabled by bodily injuries or disease as to be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, it will, by forwarding official receipt therefor, waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due under this policy during the continuance of such disability and the values in the above table shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Should the insured recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid by the insured in conformity with this contract. In addition to and independently of all other causes of permanent and total disability, the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. The annual premium for the benefits provided in this section is two and 50-100 dollars payable in same manner as the regular premiums under this contract, but not beyond age sixty.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that my death from aviation or aeronautic ascensions, or while engaged in military or naval service, within one year from date of any policy issued hereon, shall reduce the company's liability thereunder to the amount of the reserve thereon.

TWENTY-YEAR TERM POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $134.50.

AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the premium of one hundred thirty-four and ⁵⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, which will carry the insurance in force from date of payment until the first day of January, 1917, and of the payment of a similar amount annually on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this policy, does covenant and agree that it will pay, on receipt of due proof of the death of John Quincy Adams, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, while this policy is in force and within twenty years from the date hereof, ten thousand dollars, to the estate of the insured. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages are part of this contract.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For premiums, thirty-one days' grace, reinstatement assignment, change of beneficiary, protection by statute, self destruction, paid-up value, cash value, extended insurance, freedom from restrictions and waiver of premium, see preceding policy.

EXCHANGE OR RENEWAL PRIVILEGE.—On the surrender of this policy at any time during the first fifteen years and while it is in force the owner may exchange it, without medical examination, for one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, provided the insured has not passed his sixty-fifth birthday, the new policy to bear date of such exchange and to be written at the rated age of the insured at such time; or, if the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, such change may be to another twenty year term policy containing similar privileges of exchange. The company will grant a similar exchange privilege during the last five years of this policy provided it is furnished with satisfactory evidence of insurability of the insured. If this policy is so exchanged at any time during its term a credit of the full reserve at time of exchange by the American Experience Table with interest at three and one-half per cent will be applied toward cost of change.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION AS OF ORIGINAL DATE.—On its surrender at any time during the first fifteen years hereof and while it is in force, the owner may change this policy, without medical examination, to one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, such new policy to bear the late and rated age of this policy. In event of change during the first five years, the difference between the premiums paid hereunder and those that would have been paid under the new policy, with three and one-half per cent interest compounded annually, shall be paid, and in event of change after five years, the difference in the reserves under the two policies shall be paid.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year, shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be such as may be purchased by the cash value so diminished, such extended insurance to be for an amount equal to the face of the policy less such indebtedness.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The cash value is the same as the net value of the paid-up or extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The values stated herein at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts.

Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—PARTICIPATING—DISABILITY AND SPECIAL ACCIDENT BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $370. AGE, 35.

The Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company of Columbus, Ohio, in consideration of the payment of three hundred and seventy dollars and of the payment of a like amount upon the twenty-second day of each February hereafter until twenty full years premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, The Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the company in Columbus, Ohio, of due proof of the death of Christopher Columbus of Columbus, county of Franklin, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, to Mary Columbus, his wife, beneficiary with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PREMIUM REDUCTION OPTION.—(a) The company will at the end of the first policy year reduce the amount of the annual premiums payable hereon to $331.20 provided the insured so elects. The rate after such reduction will be practically as low as a non-participating rate and the dividends thereafter will be apportioned in accordance with the reduced rate.

TABLE OF GUARANTEES.—The figures in the following table show the minimum values guaranteed under this policy upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy, and they will be increased by any outstanding dividend additions or accumulations.

* Loan values. The loan value at the end of any year is the cash value at the end of the next succeeding year as stipulated for in the provisions for loans herein.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy in any way or to waive any of its provisions.

The provisions and agreements on the following pages are hereby made a part of this contract.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning not later than the end of the second policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon.

DIVIDENDS.—Beginning with the payment of the third annual premium, dividends at the option of the owner of this policy shall annually as long as this contract is in force be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) (a) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at not less than three and one-half (3½) per cent compounded annually and payable at the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. (b) Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the cash value of this policy shall amount to not less than the net single premium at the attained age, the insured shall have the option of converting this policy into a paid-up annual dividend participating policy for the full amount payable hereunder. (c) Whenever the cash value and the accumulated dividends amount to not less than the principal sum named in this policy, it shall mature as an endowment, if the insured so elects, and the said principal sum shall be paid to the insured in cash. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the cash value of the policy at the end of the current policy year. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy.

unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance and the reserve hereon is accumulated as required by the laws of Ohio.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except for violations of the conditions of the policy relating to naval and military service in time of war. All statements made by the insured in said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CONDITIONS.—This policy shall not take effect unless the insured is alive and in good health at the time of its delivery. Death by suicide, or self-destruction in any manner, whether sane or insane, or death as the result of any violation of law, are risks not assumed within one year after the issuance of this policy. Military or naval service in time of war, are risks assumed only by special permit of company.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by one or more of the following officers of the company: President, vice-president, secretary, treasurer or cashier, and countersigned by said agent. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. After the first year the company will accept payment of premiums annually, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the option of the insured. A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium, or semi-annual or quarterly instalment thereof, after the first, during which days of grace the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the days of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTION ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of his policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without future participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum less a sum not more than two per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value, or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b).

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the foregoing provision this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at not less than three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each \$1000 of said net sum.

Instalments payable under options (2) or (3), which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under option (1) and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2), provided that no such commutation will be made under option (3), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

SPECIAL ACCIDENT AND TOTAL DISABILITY.

SPECIAL ACCIDENT.—After one full annual premium has been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company agrees to pay the beneficiary named herein an additional amount equal to the full amount of insurance under this policy in the event of the death of the insured, resulting within sixty days, solely and independently of all other causes from bodily injuries effected by external, violent and accidental means sustained by the insured while riding as a passenger in or on a public conveyance provided by a common carrier in a place therein or thereon regularly set apart for passengers, or on a regular passenger elevator, or in consequence of the burning of a public hotel, opera house or other place of public amusement in which the insured shall be at the commencement of the fire.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium has been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured before attaining age sixty shall become totally and permanently disabled through bodily injury or disease and such disability shall not have been caused or sustained in any act of violation of law, or by intemperance in any form, and the insured is thereby prevented from engaging in any occupation or gainful pursuit, and evidence satisfactory to the company shall be furnished by the insured within three months of the date of the beginning of such condition, the insured may select one of the following benefits: 1st. This policy to become paid up, requiring no further premium payments, participating in profits, payable as provided in the policy, and retaining the full cash and loan values as set forth in the table of guarantees, subject to any existing indebtedness on the policy. 2nd. This policy to become paid up, requiring no further premium payments, one-tenth of the amount of the policy to be payable to the insured, if alive, annually for ten years, the first instalment to be paid upon satisfactory proof of total and permanent disability. The amount of insurance under this policy at any time after the first instalment has been paid shall be the present value of the said instalments remaining unpaid discounted at three and one-half per cent per annum, and will be paid either in a lump sum or in instalments, at the option of the beneficiary, unless the insured has given written notice to the company of his election. The loan and cash surrender values in the table of guarantees shall be reduced in the same proportion as the amount of insurance and shall be subject to any existing indebtedness on the policy. In the event that the payment of any instalment would cause the indebtedness on this policy to exceed its cash value a sufficient portion of the instalments, as they come due, shall be applied on the indebtedness to reduce it to the cash value of the policy at that time. In the event of total disability, as above limited and defined, occurring after the insured has attained age sixty, all premiums thereafter falling due will, upon request, be waived by the company, and the insurance shall remain in full force; provided, however, that all premiums thus waived shall be an indebtedness on the policy and will be deducted, without interest, in any settlement thereunder. Without prejudice to any other causes, the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be included among the causes of permanent and total disability within the meaning of this provision. The annual premium for these special accident and total disability clauses is one dollar and fifty cents per thousand dollars of insurance, and is included in the whole premium charged for this policy. This special accident and total disability insurance is limited to the number of years premiums are paid. Said insurance may be cancelled at any time by the insured, and thereupon the premium on this policy shall be reduced by the amount of the premium for this insurance, provided the policy be returned to the company for proper endorsement.

APPLICATION.

I hereby request upon all the foregoing statements and answers as written, and those contained in Part II made, or to be made, to the medical examiner, that the company issue to me a contract of insurance upon the plan indicated above.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Ky.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE PLAN POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $382.40. AGE, 35.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville., Ky. will pay at its home office in the city of Louisville, Ky., the sum of ten thousand dollars immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, of Louisville, in the county of Jefferson, in the State of Kentucky, unto Mary Doe, wife, the beneficiary, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is issued on the annual dividend plan, and the dividends are guaranteed to be not less than the amounts shown on the coupons hereto attached. The additional earnings over and above the amounts guaranteed will be apportioned at the end of each ten years from the date hereof in accordance with the provision on the second page referring to surplus.

Values for future years furnished on request.
SPECIAL PROVISION.—The company guarantees that this policy will become fully paid up after payment of not more than fifteen full annual premiums, and that the cash surrender value at that time shall be not less than $5080; providing the insured at the time of making application or within one year from date hereof, shall elect in writing to pay the premiums in full and allow all coupons to remain attached to the policy (said notice of election to be endorsed by the company on this policy and the coupons hereto attached). Should the insured die before the policy becomes paid up, then the amount of such coupons, with three per cent compound interest as had become due prior to the death of insured, will be paid in addition to the sum insured.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, hereby made a part thereof, and the payment of the first premium of three hundred, eighty-two and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, and the payment of a like amount at the home office of the company on or before the twenty-ninth day of July of each year during the continuance of this policy, or until twenty annual premiums have been paid.

The benefits and provisions stated on the second page hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In testimony whereof, said Commonwealth Life Insurance Company, of Louisville, Ky., has by its president and secretary, signed this contract the twenty-ninth day of July, 1911.

The guaranteed cash value of this policy is deposited in approved interest bearing securities with the treasurer of Kentucky, in compliance with the provisions of the compulsory deposit law of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, under which this company operates.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse by the non-payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid in cash, the company, upon legal surrender of the policy within sixty days from such non-payment, will grant the following options: (1) The cash surrender value shown in Table A. (2) Paid-up non-participating insurance, payable at the same time as this policy for the sum shown in Table B. (3) If neither of the foregoing options shall have been applied for as above, this policy shall continue automatically as term insurance, without participation in surplus for the full amount insured thereby, and for the number of years and months as shown in Table B. If any indebtedness be due the company, the values will be decreased in the proportion such indebtedness bears to the cash value.

LOANS.—The company will lend upon satisfactory assignment and delivery of this policy, as sole security, the loan values as shown in Table A, upon payment in advance of the premium for that year and interest at six per cent per annum on said loan. No loans will be made for a less sum than twenty-five dollars nor to mature upon any other date than the anniversary of this policy. Failure to repay any loan shall not void the policy, unless such loan with interest shall equal or exceed the then cash value, and then not until after one month's notice has been mailed the insured.

SURPLUS.—In addition to the amounts guaranteed, while this policy is in full force and before default in payment of premium, it shall share in the surplus of the company in accordance with its contribution thereto, as determined by the directors of the company. Such dividends will be declared and become payable only at the expiration of each ten year period from the date hereof, but after the policy becomes fully paid-up, dividends will be declared and paid annually.

OPTIONS.—Should the insured not make the election in writing as provided on the first page, then all dividends may be used in reduction of the premium then due, or if the premium be paid in full may be used to purchase paid-up additions payable with the policy, or left with the company to accumulate at interest. Should the premiums be paid in full and the dividends allowed to remain with the company at interest, then said unpaid dividends, with compound interest at the rate of three per cent per annum for each full year after the dividend was due, will be added to the face of the policy in event of the death of the insured, or paid in cash upon presentation to the company. Paid-up additions shall be non-forfeitable and will participate in the surplus as provided above. Such additions may be reconverted into cash at the end of any anniversary upon request by the insured, while this policy is in full force.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of premium, it may be re-instated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of past due premiums with five per cent interest thereon, and should the company require it, any other indebtedness of the insured to the company.

UNRESTRICTED.—From date of issue, this policy shall be without restriction as to travel, residence, occupation or place of death.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be absolutely incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue, except non-payment of premium. In case of self destruction within one year from date of issue, whether the insured be sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premium paid hereon.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—Any error in stating the age of the insured will not vitiate this policy, but will be adjusted by the payment of such an amount as the premiums actually paid would purchase at the correct age, according to the table of rates in use by the company at the date of issue of this policy.

GRACE.—In case of default in the payment of any premium when due, this policy will be continued in force for the full amount for one month, subject to a charge for interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, and payment of premium may be made during that time without evidence of insurability.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the original or a duplicate-original be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect when endorsed hereon by the company.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The first premium must be paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured and upon delivery of this policy. All premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but they may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, at the home office of the company in the city of Louisville, Ky., or they may be paid elsewhere to authorized agents on or before the dates when due, in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium, or note given therefor, be not paid when due, this policy shall become null and void, subject to the non-forfeiture provisions in the tables hereon. Any unpaid portion of the current year's premium together with all indebtedness shall be deducted from any claim hereunder. This insurance is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the payment of the subsequent premiums, as herein provided, it shall be continued as an ordinary life policy.

ALTERATION OR WAIVER.—No alteration of this policy or waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid, unless made in writing and signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the company.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—In settlement of any claim under this policy, the beneficiary shall have the choice of taking same in 10 equal annual instalments of $116; or 15 of $84; or 20 of $68; or 25 of $59; or 30 of $53, for each $1000 to be paid the beneficiary, or the amount to be paid can be used to purchase an annuity during the life of the beneficiary, if the beneficiary at that time is more than ten years of age.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after July 29, 1911, Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned), a dividend of three and $\frac{82}{100}$ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The second coupon is for \$4.78, the third for \$5.74, the fourth for \$6.69, the fifth and all others for \$7.65.

The sum payable in event of death will, if the insured, or after his death, if the beneficiary so elect, be used to purchase an annuity, payable at the end of each year for twenty years certain, and thereafter during the lifetime of the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare, that I am now in good health and generally have good health; that I am temperate in my habits and that my statements in this application and the medical-examination made thereon are true and that same shall constitute the basis of this contract. I also declare that it is understood on behalf of myself and any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company, on my life upon this application, that the company shall not be liable until the application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered to me and premium paid during my good health or unless I have actually paid full premium in cash at time of application and received therefor the binding receipt attached to the application, countersigned by the soliciting agent in which event the liability of the company shall be from said date, provided the application be approved at the home office. The place of contract shall be the city of Louisville, State of Kentucky. I agree that in any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profits the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be binding and conclusive upon the insured under the said policy and upon all parties having or claiming any interest thereunder.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Extra premium, $2.40 at age 35 for $10,000. The premium stated on the face of policy No. (to which policy this agreement is attached and of which it forms a part) includes an additional premium, in consideration of which the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky., hereby grants the following:

WAIVER OF PREMIUM IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—If the insured, after payment of premiums for at least one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before attaining the age of sixty years, and while this policy is in full force, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company, at its home office in the city of Louisville, Ky., that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation, and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days, the company will waive payment of premiums thereafter becoming due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. The premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy, and the values provided in Table A and Table B shall be the same as if the premiums had continued to be paid to the company regularly when due. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time on demand, furnish to the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid in conformity with the policy.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision, and the company upon satisfactory proof of such loss or severance will waive the premiums thereafter becoming due under the policy.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Neb.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY— ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348.00. AGE, 35.

The Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Nebraska hereby promises to pay ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Henry Wilson, the insured, to Mary Wilson (wife) or to such other beneficiaries as may have been duly designated by the insured.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application heretofore, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and is hereby made a part of the contract, and of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred forty-eight dollars, being the annual premium for one year's term insurance from the date hereof and the payment of the same sum on or before the first day of August in every year thereafter for nineteen years of the life of the insured as renewal premiums to complete the contract. The privileges, provisions and conditions, loan and surrender values stated on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto.

Omaha, Neb., August 1st, 1912.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

A GRACE OF ONE MONTH without interest charge shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon.

THIS POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE after one year from date of issue, except for the non-payment of premiums, or violation of the terms of this policy as to military or naval service in time of war.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS may be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor made to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Omaha, Neb., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case, only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

DIVIDENDS.—Beginning at the end of the third policy year, the company will annually ascertain the proportion of the surplus to which this policy and the policies of the same age and class are entitled, and if this policy be in force at the end of five years from date, and at end of each five year period thereafter during its continuance, it will be credited with a dividend from the surplus so apportioned. At the option of the owner of this policy apportioned dividends may be either—(1) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) paid in cash; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. If the first method is adopted and followed continuously no evidence of good health will be required, but will be required in case of change from either of the other methods to the first, and unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months from the mailing by the company of a notice requiring such an election, the dividends will be paid in cash.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE as follows: If any premium after the first policy year shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insurance, together with any outstanding dividend additions will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, be continued as paid-up non-participating term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in Column 2 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, if any premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request made by the insured within six (6) months from said due date, and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column 3 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, if any premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request of the insured within six (6) months from the said due date, and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash therefor the amount specified in Column 1 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY AT ANY TIME AFTER THE PAYMENT OF THREE FULL YEARS' PREMIUMS.—The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in Column 1 of the accompanying Table A for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premiums will be deducted from such loan value. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured. Interest will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the legal reserve of this policy. nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

THIS POLICY MAY BE RE-INSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time within five years after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness hereon to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of re-instatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION of the insured. In case of death of the insured by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums actually paid hereon, and no more, shall be paid, but if at any time he engage in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in active service excepted), he shall secure the company's written consent and pay the extra premium therefor.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power on behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for validity of any assignment.

4. This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Omaha, Neb. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, due proofs of the death of the insured must be furnished, and any indebtedness hereon to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled. Due proofs of death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained on this policy unless it is commenced within three years from the time cause of action accrues.

5. This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

6. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value is equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and it is at least equal to the present value of the extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options are equal to the said reserve at the time of extension or surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The loan value is equal to the said reserve at the end of the year to which premium shall have been paid, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereonto.

7. This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

Any paid-up indebtedness will increase and any unpaid indebtedness on account of this policy, will correspondingly increase the values of the above table. In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for full year's premiums paid. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy; figures will be furnished on request by the home office of the company.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this policy and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory evidence to the company that he has become wholly disabled by disease or bodily injuries and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any gainful occupation, all premium payments on this policy shall cease and the insurance hereunder continued in force and the surrender values increased from year to year as shown in tables hereon the same as though the insured paid his premium in cash, or the company, at the option of the insured, will pay the insured one-tenth of the face amount of this policy annually until the full amount of the policy shall have been paid, in which event each such payment shall reduce to that extent the insurance then in force and proportionately the amount of the loan and surrender values provided for herein, and after and when the payments made shall, together with any indebtedness to the company, equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligation under this contract shall be fully satisfied and discharged. In addition to or independently of all other causes of permanent and total disability the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of one eye, or the severance of one hand, at or above the wrist, or one foot, at or above the ankle, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured may at any time change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy, if the policy is not then assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments. On this plan the company will pay in lieu of each one thousand dollars insurance provided for on first page hereof: ($1,360) One thousand three hundred and sixty dollars in twenty equal annual instalments, or ($1,260). One thousand two hundred and sixty dollars in fifteen annual instalments, or ($1,160) One thousand one hundred and sixty dollars in ten equal annual instalments. The payment of the first instalment shall be made at the time the whole amount would have been payable, and subsequent instalments shall be payable annually thereafter. The insured may change his selection under the above options; he may also revoke all selections and make the policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsement on the policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. The beneficiary cannot commute unpaid instalments, unless given such right by the insured at the time payment by instalments is directed. If the beneficiary should die before the full amount of instalments called for under the selection made by the insured shall have been paid, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted on the basis of three and one-half per cent, compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If this policy be on the endowment plan, and the insured survive the endowment period, but die before receiving all the instalments called for hereunder, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted as above and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

The Commonwealth Life Insurance Company shall not be bound to grant insurance on this application unless the applicant hereunder shall submit to an examination or examinations by the company's regularly appointed medical examiner or examiners on blanks prepared by the company, within a period of sixty days from date hereof and then only if the examination satisfactory. Failure so to do shall forfeit all moneys paid hereon to the company, and all rights for damages are hereby waived.

The applicant further agrees, if examined by his family physician, to waive all questions of privilege communication, hereby agreeing that such knowledge as the physician may have obtained in his professional capacity, may be wholly given to the company for its inspection.

In case of failure on the part of the applicant to pass a satisfactory medical examination all moneys paid hereon shall be refunded.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $30,000.

* Adopted January 1, 1900.

Confederation Life Association.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—UNCONDITIONAL ACCUMULATION POLICY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.50. AGE, 35.

The Confederation Life Association, head office Toronto, Can., by this policy of assurance in consideration of the application hereof, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the premiums as herein mentioned, doth insure the life of the person named and described herein as the insured in the sum set out below, which shall be payable at its head office, Toronto, Canada, in accordance with the terms and provisions of this policy, which are as follows:

1. THE INSURED.—Richard Roe, Toronto, Ontario, merchant.
 2. KIND OF POLICY.—Life, twenty premiums, with profits apportioned as stated on page two hereof.

3. PREMIUM.—Three hundred and sixty-nine $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, payable on the first day of January, 1916, and the yearly payment of a like sum on the first day of January in each and every year hereafter until premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid.

4. SUM INSURED.—Ten thousand dollars.

WHEN PAYABLE.—Upon due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy.

TO WHOM PAYABLE.—To his wife, Susan Roe, if living; if not, then to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INTESTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force for one full year, it shall, subject to the due payment of the premium, and the provisions as to military and naval service in time of war, be thenceforward incontestable.

REINSTATEMENT of this policy in the event of lapse, may be secured at any time upon the submission of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the association and the payment of the past due premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any loan and the interest thereon.

THE BENEFITS and provisos printed or written by the association on the second and third pages hereof, form a part of this contract as fully as if they were stated at length over the seal and signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, these presents are sealed with the common seal of the said association, and duly attested and countersigned at Toronto, Canada, this first day of January, 1916.

BENEFITS AND PROVISOS.

PROFIT ACCUMULATION BENEFITS.—The accumulation period under this policy ends on the first day of January, 1936. If the insured is then living and this policy is then in force and all premiums have been duly paid as provided herein, but not otherwise, the insured or owner of this policy will be entitled to share in the accumulated profits as apportioned hereto by the association and to select any one of the following benefits:

First.—To continue this policy on which future profits will be declared quinquennially, and receive the accumulated profits, either (1) in cash, or in the purchase of (2) a bonus addition to the sum insured, or (3) a life annuity; or,

Second.—To surrender the policy and receive its entire value, consisting of the guaranteed cash surrender value indicated in the table below, together with the accumulated profits, either (4) in cash, or in the purchase of (5) a paid-up policy, payable at death without profits, or (6) a life annuity. The right to select benefits No. 2 and No. 5 is subject to the proviso that notice in writing shall be given by the insured to the association at its head office, not less than two years prior to the expiry of the accumulation period, otherwise evidence of insurability satisfactory to the association will be required. The association will send to the insured at the expiry of the accumulation period a statement of the results under the six accumulation benefits, and if a selection is not made within one month thereafter, the association will be entitled to apply the profits under benefit No. 3.

NON-FORFEITURE AND LOAN BENEFITS.—Extended term insurance, without application, will be granted for the full face value of this policy, but without profits, after it has been three full years in force, in the event of default in the payment of any subsequent premium, for such further period of time, to be computed from the date on which such first unpaid premium became due as is stated in the following non-forfeiture table; but if said policy be charged with the payment of any loan, or there is any premium note given in respect of said policy unpaid, extended term insurance will be granted for such period of time only as the residue of the cash surrender value therein, left after payment of such loan or note, shall be sufficient to purchase, calculated according to the rules of the association. Provided, however, that should the insured die during the continuance of the extended term insurance, satisfactory proofs of death as set forth above shall be furnished the association at its head office within one year thereafter, otherwise all liability of the association hereunder shall cease. Should the policy become a claim by death within three years from the date of such first unpaid premium, all overdue and unpaid premiums with interest at six per cent per annum, and all loans, if any, charged against the policy with interest thereon will be deducted from the amount of the claim; but if death shall occur after three years from the date of such first unpaid premium and within the period of extended term insurance, no deduction will be made from the sum insured.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—The owner of this policy may by notice in writing given to the association at its head office before default in the payment of any premium has been made, elect in lieu of taking the extended term insurance benefit, to have any premium or premiums subsequent to the second yearly premium charged automatically by the association against the policy as a loan, and this policy shall not lapse by reason of the non-payment of any such premium so long as the cash surrender value thereof according to the table given below, or the excess of such cash surrender value over and above any indebtedness charged against the policy is not less than the amount of any premium when the latter shall accrue due, and any premium or premiums so charged shall be a first charge thereon in favor of the association in priority to the claim of any assignee or other person. Should, however, the cash surrender value over and above any accumulated indebtedness be less than the amount of any unpaid premium when due, or should the accumulated indebtedness charged on the policy at any time exceed the cash surrender value thereof, then this policy shall thereupon become void. In calculating the cash surrender value account only shall be taken of complete years' premiums paid, including the premium then being advanced, and not of any payment of premium made for a fraction of a policy year. The rate of interest chargeable upon automatic premium loans will be eight per cent per annum, to be compounded yearly on the first day of October in each year. The loan or any part thereof may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force.

PAID-UP POLICY.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, it may, subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due, or within the period of grace and the payment or adjustment of any indebtedness, if any, which may be charged against this policy, be exchanged for a paid-up policy, without profits, for the amount indicated in the following table.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy and subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due or within the period of grace, a cash surrender value will be granted for the amount indicated in the following table.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, the association will lend thereon an amount not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value thereof, as indicated in the following table, provided this policy is duly assigned as security therefor. The rate of interest will not exceed six per cent per annum.

Policies which may be continued after the twentieth year will be entitled to non-forfeiture and loan benefits calculated according to the rules of the association.

NOTE.—The granting of a cash surrender value or loan is subject to the proviso that there are no statutory or other legal restrictions.

RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.—No restrictions are placed upon the insured under this policy as to residence, travel or occupation except military and naval service in time of war.

DAYS OF GRACE.—Thirty days' grace is allowed for the payment of renewal premiums under this policy, during which time the insurance shall continue in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—No receipt for any premium shall be valid unless on the association's printed form signed by the managing director, secretary, or actuary, and countersigned by the agent or cashier. If default be made in the payment of any premium, note or cheque, should one be given and accepted therefor, whether notice of such payment falling due was received by the insured or not, then, and in every such case, this policy shall cease and determine, except as herein otherwise provided. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium has been actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

PLACE OF PAYMENT.—All payments under this policy whether on the part of the association or of the insured shall be made at the head office of the association in Toronto, Canada, but may, with the assent of the association, be made elsewhere.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the association under this contract, but in such case the association will return the premium actually received.

PAYMENT OF CLAIM.—Upon receiving proofs satisfactory to the association duly verified by affidavit or otherwise of death of the insured, and of the cause thereof, and also of the age of the insured, unless proof of age has been previously admitted, and upon the delivery of this policy, duly surrendered, the association will pay the proceeds thereof to the person entitled thereto, after first deducting therefrom the amount of any deferred half yearly or quarterly premium or any unpaid balance of the current year's premium or any other indebtedness charged against the policy.

PROOF OF AGE.—If it should appear that the age of the insured was understated in the application for this policy, the amount of the insurance payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium actually paid would purchase at the true age of the insured; or, if the age was overstated, a refund of the excess paid will be made. Age will be admitted at any time during the lifetime of the insured, upon submission of satisfactory proof.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The association will not recognize any assignment or transfer of this policy until the original, or duplicate thereof, shall be filed in the head office of the association. The association assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment or transfer.

MILITARY AND NAVAL SERVICE.—If the insured shall engage in any military or naval service in time of war without giving notice thereof in writing to the association at its head office within ninety days from the date of engaging therein, and also without paying during the continuance of said service, such extra premium in such manner and at such time or times as the association shall fix, the liability of the association under this policy shall be limited in the event of the death of the insured while actively engaged in such military or naval service or within six months thereafter, to the reserve value of this policy computed according to the British offices life tables Om (5) and three per cent interest.

ENTIRE CONTRACT—NON-VARIABLE.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto annexed, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall, in the absence of fraud, be used in defense of a claim under this policy. This contract cannot be altered or varied in any way except in writing by one of the following executive officers of the association, viz.: the president, managing director, secretary, or actuary.

WARRANTY IN APPLICATION.

I agree to accept the policy when issued on the terms mentioned in this application and to pay the association the premiums thereon as and when the same fall due, and I further agree that should a policy be executed under this application, the same shall not be delivered or binding on the association until the first premium thereon shall be paid to a duly authorized agent of the association, during my lifetime and good health.

Connecticut General Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $345. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the annual premium of three hundred and forty-five dollars, to be paid on or before the first day of November in every year during the lifetime of the insured, until twenty full annual premiums have been paid, does promise, on receipt of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this contract, of Richard Rowe, herein called the insured, of Hartford, county of Hartford and State of Connecticut, to pay at its home office in Hartford, Conn., to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid premium or portion of the premium for the current policy year.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and all statements made in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement shall be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of the application is attached to the policy when issued. Only the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this contract of insurance.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect unless nor until the first premium is actually paid as hereinafter provided; and if the second annual premium be not fully paid when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, this policy and all claims under it shall be void, and the premiums already paid shall be forfeited to the company. In case of default in payment of any premium after the second year this policy shall thereafter be in force only to the extent of and subject to the company's non-forfeiture provisions. All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent in exchange for its receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein. The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance, but payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance, such rates being fifty-one per cent and twenty-six per cent respectively of the annual rate. Change from one method of payment to another may be made on any policy anniversary.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force, but in case the policy becomes a claim during the period of grace, before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year, if any, are paid, the amount of such premiums will be taken from the face of the policy in settlement.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company will not be bound nor in any way affected by any assignment of this policy, or of any interest thereunder, until the original assignment or certified copy thereof shall be delivered at its home office; and the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

REVIVAL IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—This policy, if not surrendered for cash, will be reinstated on written application therefor at any time after non-payment of any premium if evidence of good health satisfactory to the company is furnished, and premiums to date of reinstatement and any other indebtedness to the company hereon are paid with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

SUICIDE.—Sane or insane, within one year from date hereof is not a risk assumed by the company.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from its date of issue, if the premiums are duly paid, this policy is incontestable. If the age of the insured be misstated, the liability of the company shall be the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age on a similar plan.

PREMIUM REFUND.—Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year during the continuance of this policy under its original conditions, the company will determine the portion of surplus to which the policy is entitled as a refund on account of any previous overpayment. The insured may apply the amount of any refund in any one of the following ways: (1) In reduction of premium. (2) To purchase additional full paid participating insurance which may be surrendered at any time for a cash value of the full reserve. (3) As a deposit with the company at not less than three and one-half per cent compound interest computed annually. Such deposit may be withdrawn at any time. (4) To convert the policy into an endowment payable at a gradually decreasing age. (5) To shorten the premium paying period. (6) To purchase full paid participating pure endowment which may be surrendered at any time for a cash value of the full reserve. Or he may receive the amount in cash. After the payment of all premiums as provided in this policy the company will annually determine the amount of surplus earnings to which this policy is entitled and will pay the same to the insured in cash or if directed apply it under option 2, 3 or 4. Unless otherwise provided by law if no option is specified by the insured the refund will be used in reduction of the next premium. If this policy in this respect does not conform to the laws of the State of which the insured is a resident at the date of issuing the policy, the statutory provision regarding the option to be automatically applied shall be deemed to supersede the provision for applying the refund in reduction of premium, or if the policy be full paid, for the payment of the surplus earnings in cash.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The right to change the beneficiary under this policy, provided it be not assigned, is reserved by the insured, but such change shall only be made by the return of the policy to the company with a written request therefor on a form provided by the company, and no change shall be operative until the policy is duly endorsed therewith by the company.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On default in payment of any premium after the second year, if there is no indebtedness against the policy and if no other option is called for, the insurance will be automatically extended for the full face of the policy and of any additional insurance credited to it, without participation in surplus, for such term in whole number of months as the cash value applied as a net single premium will purchase. If there be an indebtedness the amount thereof will be subtracted from the amount otherwise available as a net single premium, and the balance will be applied as a net single premium to purchase non-participating extended term insurance as above for the full face of the policy and of any additional insurance credited to it, less the indebtedness.

CASH VALUE.—On default in payment of any premium after the second year, or within thirty-one days thereafter, on legal surrender of the policy at the home office, the company will pay a cash value of the amount set forth in the table below, provided that the company may defer such payment for a period not exceeding sixty days from date of application therefor.

LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force under its original conditions, the company will loan, upon satisfactory assignment of this policy and upon sole security thereof, any amount which shall not exceed that sum which with six per cent interest thereon shall equal the cash value at the end of the policy year for which the premiums have been duly paid. Interest on the loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable annually on each anniversary date of the policy. The company may defer the making of a loan (unless the loan be for the purpose of paying premiums to the company) for a period not exceeding sixty days from date of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

PAID-UP POLICY.—Upon surrender of the policy and written request by the insured within three months from the date of default in payment of any premium after the second year, if the policy has not been surrendered, the company will apply the cash value plus one-half the surrender charge deducted from the reserve in calculating said cash value, as a net single premium to purchase a participating paid-up policy, payable at a like time and in like manner with the original. The amount of such paid-up policy is set forth in the table below.

EXTENDED OR PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Taken as above described may be surrendered at any time for a cash value consisting of the full reserve or the company will loan on such paid-up insurance. The cash value or loan will be granted on the same terms as stated above in the case of the original insurance.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon written request of the insured and assignee, if any, made prior to default in payment of any premium, the premiums thereafter coming due, if not paid, will be charged against the policy as a loan bearing compound interest at the rate of six per cent per annum until such time as the accumulated loan together with any other indebtedness with interest thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value hereof, in which case this policy shall thereupon become null and void and be surrendered to the company in consideration of the cancellation of the indebtedness, subject however to the notice of termination as set forth in the loan clause herein.

If at any time the equity in the policy is not sufficient to continue the insurance in force for a full year, then in that case it will be kept in force for such whole number of months as the remaining equity will allow.

While this policy is thus continued in force, all its non-forfeiture provisions remain operative, and the owner may, without furnishing evidence of the good health of the insured, resume payment of premiums at any time.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS REFERRED TO ABOVE.

All non-forfeiture provisions hereunder are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. In computing the values under this policy no deduction of more than one and one-half per cent of the amount insured has been made from the reserve. The cash value for the twentieth and subsequent years is the full reserve in even dollars for each $1000 of insurance under this policy.

These figures apply to the original sum insured and to full-paid policy years only. The payment of any semi-annual or quarterly instalment of an annual premium will proportionately increase the values. Any additions or accumulations credited to the policy will increase and indebtedness will decrease the values.

* Loan values are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, as set forth in above loan provision. A loan may be repaid at any time, either partially or wholly, while the policy is in force under its original conditions.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If the insured under this policy shall furnish due proofs that before reaching the age of sixty years and because of accident or disease occurring after the payment of one full premium on said policy, and before the default in the payment of any subsequent premium, he has become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to pursue any gainful occupation, and presumably will for life be unable to perform any work or engage in any business for compensation or profit, one year after receipt of such proofs the company will relieve him from the payment of any further premiums on said policy. In case of such relief the premiums shall not be a lien against the policy and the surrender and loan values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If such total and permanent disability shall occur under the conditions above stated, but after the insured has reached the age of sixty years, the company will, one year after receipt of due proofs thereof, waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and all benefits under the policy shall be reduced accordingly and shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid. Future premiums shall be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance.

PAYMENT IN INSTALMENTS.—Or upon written request of the insured and of the assignee and beneficiary, if any, provided such disability shall occur before the insured has reached the age of sixty years one year after receipt of proofs as aforesaid and during the continuance of such total and permanent disability, if there is no indebtedness against the policy, the company will pay one-twentieth of the face amount of the policy and a like sum annually thereafter until twenty such payments have been made; or, if there is any indebtedness against the policy, the company will pay under like conditions one-twentieth of the difference between such indebtedness and the face of the policy and a like sum annually thereafter until twenty such payments have been made. Each such payment shall reduce by the amount thereof the insurance remaining in force and the surrender and loan values shall no longer be available. When the total amounts so paid together with any indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal the face of the policy, the company shall be released from all further liability under this policy.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—By the acceptance of this contract the insured agrees that any medical examiner appointed by the company shall be allowed opportunity at any and all times within one year from the commencement of the disability, and not oftener than once a year thereafter, to satisfy himself as to the alleged disability by examination of the person of the insured, and if it is established that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to again engage in some gainful occupation the company will thereupon cease to extend further relief from payment of premiums and no further instalment payments will be made by the company. If the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced by the payment of any instalments, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—The irrevocable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or of the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or both feet, or of one hand and one foot, shall be deemed to constitute total and permanent disability within the meaning of this contract.

The portion of each annual premium for this policy charged for protection in event of total and permanent disability is twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance and on the issuance or on any anniversary of this contract the provision for such protection may be canceled at the request of the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced by twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance hereunder. Such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

OPTIONS ON SETTLEMENT.—In any cash settlement of this policy its proceeds will be paid upon written request of the then legal owner in instalments certain, as follows:

For each $1000 deposited.—Monthly instalments, first payment immediate: 60 monthly instalments of $18.11 each, or 120 monthly instalments of $9.83 each, or 180 monthly instalments of $7.10 each, or 240 monthly instalments of $5.75 each, or 300 monthly instalments of $4.96 each. Annual instalments, first payment immediate: 5 annual instalments of $214 each, or 10 annual instalments of $116 each, or 15 annual instalments of $84 each, or 20 annual instalments of $68 each, or 25 annual instalments of $58 each.

COMMUTATION.—At any time when an instalment is due, the instalments remaining unpaid will be commuted upon the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum, upon written request of the beneficiary if of lawful age, or of the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary in event of the death of said beneficiary, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured.

GUARANTEED INCOME.—The proceeds of this policy may be left with the company as a principal sum, and the company guarantees to pay the beneficiary interest on such proceeds at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, such proceeds to be returned to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary in event of the death of said beneficiary. At the time any interest payment becomes due the beneficiary, if of legal age, shall have the right to withdraw the principal sum thus left with the company, in addition to such interest payment, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured.

PARTICIPATION.—In any settlement of this policy under any one of the instalment or income options above described the amount of the instalment or income payment due at the end of any year will be increased by such surplus interest earnings, if any, as may be determined upon by the company.

ANNUITIES.—In any cash settlement of this policy, the privilege is hereby granted the then owner to deposit the proceeds in a sum of not less than $1000 or in multiples of $500, which sum will be applied to the purchase of a guaranteed life annuity, first payment immediate, upon his or her life in an amount set forth in the table below. The annuity contract in addition to providing for the payments as stated therein yearly until the death of the annuitant, will also provide that should he or she die before the sum of the payments made shall have amounted to the original deposit, the amount of the difference between the sum of the payments made by the company and the deposit will be payable in one lump sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

GUARANTEED LIFE ANNUITY TABLE per each $1000 deposited. Total payments in any event not to be less than $1000.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed at its office in the city of Hartford, the first day of November, A. D. 1913

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby covenant and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers as written, and those contained in Part II made, or to be made, to the medical examiner are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract applied for; and that they are full, complete and true, and the only statements made to the company in reply to its inquiries.

TEN-YEAR TERM POLICY, NON-PARTICIPATING, NON-RENEWABLE, CONVERTIBLE.AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $103. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the annual premium of one hundred three dollars, to be paid on or before the twenty-fourth day of December in every year during the continuance of this contract, does hereby insure the life of Richard Rowe, herein called the insured, of Hartford, county of Hartford and State of Connecticut for a term of ten years from date hereof, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be paid at its home office in Hartford, Conn., to Mary G. Rowe, wife of the said insured if surviving, or if she shall not survive the insured, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, on receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured during the continuance of this contract, less any unpaid premium or portion of the premium for the current policy year.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For general provisions, grace, assignments, suicide, incontestability, change of beneficiary and options on settlement (except as to participation) see preceding policy.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect unless nor until the first premium is actually paid as hereinafter provided. All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent in exchange for its receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein. The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance, but payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance, such rates being fifty-one and twenty-six per cent respectively of the annual rate. Change from one method of payment to another may be made on any policy anniversary.

REVIVAL IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—This policy, if not surrendered, will be reinstated on written application therefor at any time after non-payment of any premium if evidence of good health satisfactory to the company is furnished and premiums to date of reinstatement are paid with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is issued on a non-participating rate and is not entitled to share in surplus distribution.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time within seven years from its date, if this policy is surrendered while in force under its original conditions, provided the insuring age does not then exceed sixty, the company will, without medical re-examination, issue in exchange therefor a new policy upon any life or endowment plan then issued by it, for an amount not greater than the sum insured by this policy, at the regular rate of premium required for the policy desired, at the age then attained by the insured. If this policy is so exchanged, the company will apply the full reserve at time of exchange according to the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality on such an amount thereof as is equal to the amount of said new policy, in reduction of the first premium under the new policy. At any time within seven years from its date, if this policy is in force under its original conditions, it may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy on any life or endowment plan now issued by the company, at the regular rate of premium now required for the policy desired, the new policy to bear the same date and number herewith, on payment of the difference in back premiums with interest to date of exchange at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded annually. If the amount of such new policy be less than the amount of this policy, credit will only be allowed for such proportion of the premiums already paid as the amount of the new policy bears to this policy. In event of exchange to a policy bearing the same date and number herewith, after premiums for at least two years have been paid, the loan value of the new policy at date of exchange may be used in part payment of the cost of change. In case the new policy issued under either of the above options is payable in instalments, the present value of all the instalments which may be due thereunder shall be considered as the sum insured by said policy.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If the insured under this policy shall furnish due proofs that before reaching the age of sixty years and because of accident or disease occurring after the payment of on full premium on said policy, and before the default in the payment of any subsequent premium, he has become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to pursue any gainful occupation, and presumably will for life be unable to perform any work or engage in any business for compensation or profit, one year after receipt of such proofs the company will relieve him from the payment of any further premiums on said policy. In case of such relief the premiums shall not be a lien against the policy.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—By the acceptance of this contract the insured agrees that any medical examiner appointed by the company shall be allowed opportunity at any and all times within one year from the commencement of the disability, and not oftener than once a year thereafter, to satisfy himself as to the alleged disability by examination of the person of the insured, and if it is established that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to again engage in some gainful occupation the company will thereupon cease to extend further relief from payment of premiums.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or both feet, or of one hand and one foot, shall be deemed to constitute total and permanent disability within the meaning of this contract.

The portion of each annual premium for this policy charged for protection in event of total and permanent disability is twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance and on the issuance or on any anniversary of this contract the provision for such protection may be canceled at the request of the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced by twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance hereunder. Such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $358.20. AGE, 35.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the payment to it of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-eight and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on the twentieth day of February, 1913, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy until twenty annual premiums shall have been paid, hereby insures the life of John Doe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of life, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium last due as above provided, (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary) to his executors, administrators, or assigns, upon receipt, at the office of the company, in Hartford, Conn., of due proof of the death of the insured; provided that in the event of the death of the insured within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction, while sane or insane, unless it be determined by the company that the insured was so far insane as to destroy his responsibility therefor, the company insures said life in, and shall be liable only for, a sum, payable as above provided, equal to the premiums paid hereon.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

POLICY SETTLEMENT.—Any and every sum due under this policy shall be payable only at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., and from any sum payable hereunder there shall be deducted any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy.

THE PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLES on the following pages are hereby made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance has, by its president and secretary, signed and delivered this policy in the city of Hartford, State of Connecticut, this twentieth day of February, A. D. 1913.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLES REFERRED TO ON THE FIRST PAGE AND MADE A PART OF THIS POLICY.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during its continuance thereafter as a premium-paying, paid-up or extended insurance policy, will participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by said payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes payable, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal, to accumulate at such rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per centum, as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon; but if this policy become a policy of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, any such additions then existing shall be treated as hereinafter provided. Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS TO MAKE POLICY FULLY PAID-UP OR TO ACCELERATE MATURITY.—Whenever the reserve hereon, with any accumulated dividends credited and the cash value of any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the reserve on a fully paid-up policy of this same kind and amount for the then age of the insured at nearest birthday, upon request by the insured or his assigns and release of such dividends and paid-up additions, if all premiums then due shall have been paid as herein provided, the company will endorse this policy as fully paid-up upon presentation hereof at its office in Hartford, Conn. Whenever, during the lifetime of the insured, the cash value of this policy and of any paid-up additions hereto, together with any accumulated dividends credited hereon, shall equal the full amount of this policy, then, upon surrender hereof and release of such dividends and paid-up additions at such office, the company will pay to the insured or his assigns the face of the policy as a matured endowment, less any indebtedness to the company on or secured hereby.

OPTIONAL PAYMENT OF PREMIUM BY DIVIDENDS.—If any premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided and if there be at the expiration of the time herein provided for such payment accumulated cash dividends credited on account of this policy at least equal to the payment required, if the company, before such expiration, be so directed in writing by the payee of such accumulations, said payment shall be made by the application of an equal amount of such credit, or if such credit be less than the required payment then out of such credit, if sufficient, shall be paid a semi-annual or quarterly instalment of the annual premium.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.—If, after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, a premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided, the company will grant either:

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—(1) Paid-up insurance for the remainder of the term of this policy in the amount specified in the table of values hereon, increased by the sum of any paid-up additions hereto, payable as herein provided; except that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the amount of such paid-up insurance shall be such as the cash value of this policy and of any outstanding paid-up additions, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium; or EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(2) Extended insurance for the full amount of this policy, for the term specified in the table of values hereon reckoned from the due date of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium; except that if there be any paid-up additions hereto or indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the amount of such extended insurance shall be increased by the amount of such paid-up additions and decreased by the amount of such indebtedness, and the term of such extended insurance shall be such as the cash value of this policy and of any outstanding paid-up additions, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium.

AUTOMATIC INSURANCE.—Upon premium default as above, this policy will be automatically binding upon the company for paid-up insurance as above defined.

OPTION.—At any time, however, while this policy is a premium-paying policy or within thirty-one days after the expiration of the days of grace allowed for the payment of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium, upon written application by the insured, with assignee if any, filed at the home office of the company on its form therefor, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement, this policy will be made binding upon the company for the alternative insurance above provided in lieu of the insurance herein automatically provided, such change to become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At any time after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, and on surrender of this policy at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., the company will, if there shall have been no failure to pay premiums as provided in this policy, pay the cash value specified in the table of values hereon, or, if it be a policy of paid-up or extended insurance, pay as a cash value the then reserve hereon; less in either case any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy; and any such cash payment shall be increased by the cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto and shall be made to the insured or his assigns, and shall be in full settlement of the company's liability under this policy; provided that the company may defer such surrender and payment for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor.

POLICY LOAN.—At any time after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, while this policy is in force otherwise than as extended insurance, and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on sole security thereof, the company will loan any sum up to the limit secured by the cash value of this policy and of any paid-up additions hereto less any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy; provided that (unless the loan be for the purpose of paying premiums to the company) the company may defer the making of such loan for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor. Such loan shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, not in advance, principal and interest to be payable at the company's office in Hartford, Connecticut. Any interest when due and unpaid shall be added to the principal of the existing indebtedness and shall bear the same rate of interest; but failure to pay either loan or interest shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company secured hereby, including accrued interest, shall equal or exceed the then cash value, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, but not until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any. The company will credit upon such indebtedness payments made at any time at its home office.

PREMIUM LOAN.—If written application by the insured be filed at the company's home office upon its form therefor while this policy is a premium-paying policy, the amount of any premium or instalment of premium not paid as herein provided will be charged as an indebtedness against and secured by this policy provided the entire indebtedness hereon including such charge shall not exceed the limit secured by the cash value hereof, such indebtedness to bear interest from the due date of such premium or instalment, and to be subject to the terms herein provided for policy loans, but without assignment or delivery of this policy, and any premiums or instalments so charged will be treated as paid.

TABLE OF VALUES.

The cash and loan values for the end of any policy year (reckoned from the due date of the first annual premium) and the net values of paid-up insurance and extended insurance, as guaranteed by and subject to the provisions and conditions of this policy, are equal to the terminal reserves hereon less a charge per $1000 insured hereunder, which, if not more than five full annual premiums are paid, is $10 and thereafter is reduced by $1 for each full annual premium paid after the fifth and until fifteen are paid, when the charge is eliminated. Subject to the provisions and conditions of this policy, the cash and loan values (if there shall have been no failure to pay premiums as provided herein), and the amount of paid-up insurance for each $1000 insured hereunder and the period of extended insurance (determined upon the non-payment of a premium or instalment of premium as herein provided), for the end of the years specified will be as stated in this table, opposite the number of years elapsed; a proportionate adjustment will be made on amount of the payment of any additional instalment of an annual premium hereon in excess of full annual premiums. The cash value at other than premium due dates will be the cash value at the end of the term for which premiums are paid discounted at the rate of five per centum per annum, but in no event less than any previous cash value.

* Reckoned from the due date of the first annual premium. The loan values are the maximum amounts available at the end of the years specified. Loans may also be obtained at any time during such years as set forth in the above clause entitled "Policy Loan." The cash or loan value for later years is the reserve and will be stated upon request.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums hereon shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent; and the possession of such receipt shall be the sole evidence of the authority of any agent to receive any premium on account of this policy. If any premium or instalment of premium on this policy be not paid as herein provided, then all liability on account of this policy shall wholly cease and determine except as otherwise herein provided.

PREMIUM INSTALMENTS.—The annual premium, with an addition of two per centum thereof if paid in semi-annual instalments or three per centum thereof if paid in quarterly instalments, may, on written request, be paid in such instalments beginning with the due date of the annual premium.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—After payment of the first annual premium hereon or an instalment thereof, payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium may be made within thirty-one days after the same shall have become due, the policy meanwhile continuing in force; but in the event of the death of the insured during said thirty-one days, the premium, if unpaid, shall be deducted from any sum payable on account of this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, or canceled on account of any loan indebtedness hereon, will be restored to full force at any time after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at a rate to be determined by the company not exceeding six per centum per annum; but if this policy be reinstated any indebtedness to the company on or secured hereby and any paid-up additions hereto existing at the due date of such defaulted premium will be reinstated with the interest on such indebtedness from such date.

ADMISSION AND CORRECTION OF AGE.—The age of the insured will be admitted by the company at any time upon satisfactory proof. If the age has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if of lawful age, may, at any time while this policy is in force and if no interest herein under any assignment by him, other than to the company, be then outstanding, change any beneficiary by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company on the company's form therefor, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, such change to become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while this policy is a premium-paying policy, it may, upon the execution of such papers and the payment of such charge as shall be required by the company, be exchanged without medical examination for a policy upon any other form and published premium rate in use by the company at the issue of this policy, provided the rate of premium be not thereby diminished or the term of insurance increased. The policy issued in exchange shall bear the same number, be for the same amount, and be written as of the same premium due date and rated age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any claim under an assignment of this policy shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest. Originals or duplicates of all assignments are to be filed at the company's home office. The company will in no case be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

RESERVE.—Reserves and net premiums are to be computed upon the basis of the American Table of Mortality and three per centum compound interest.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS.—Upon application by the insured with the beneficiary or assignee, if any, during the continuance of this policy the company will agree to issue at its maturity, or upon application by the payee at its maturity the company will issue, upon surrender and satisfactory release hereof, a contract to pay, in lieu of the amount then due in a single sum (or any fractional part thereof) as herein provided:

INSTALMENTS. OPTION 1.—A specified number of equal annual instalments, each instalment to be of the amount for each $1000 so due as shown in the accompanying table;

OPTION 2.—Equal annual instalments continuous during the life of the individual payee named in such application and in any event until the number selected of annual instalments certain shall have been paid, each instalment to be of the amount, for each $1,000 so due, as shown in the accompanying table under the number selected and opposite the last completed age of such payee at the maturity of this policy;

INTEREST INCOME. OPTION 3.—Interest at the rate of three per centum per annum upon such amount to the payee named in such application during the life of the payee or for a shorter fixed period if requested therein, and thereafter to pay said amount in such manner and to such persons as shall have been agreed upon with the company at the time of the application;

ANNUITY. OPTION 4.—A life annuity according to the then published annuity rates of the company.

The first instalment under Options 1 or 2 shall be payable on the issue of the contract. If requested in such application, instalments or interest payments will be made in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly parts. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment will be two semi-annual instalments of $50.37 each, or four quarterly instalments of $25.28 each, or twelve monthly instalments of $8.45 each. Any contract issued pursuant to Options 1, 2 or 3 shall provide for annual participation through any interest paying or instalment certain period in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company, the first dividend to be payable one year after the issue of the contract. Any agreement to issue a contract as above provided shall contain provision for revocation by the insured and for avoidance in case of assignment, other than to the company, change of beneficiary, or death of the payee or payees before the maturity of this policy. If there be more than one beneficiary or payee under this policy these privileges shall be available only with the company's consent.

TABLE OF INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments in lieu of each $1000 due under this policy: under

EVIDENCE OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to avoid this policy or in defense to a claim hereunder unless contained in said application and a copy of the application shall be attached to the policy when issued. Agents of the company have no power or authority to alter or modify any of the terms, conditions, or agreements of this policy, or to waive any of the provisions thereof.

FIVE-YEAR TERM POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $130.20 AGE, 35.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the payment of the annual premium of one hundred thirty and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on the first day of March, 1913, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy, hereby insures the life of Richard Rowe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of five years from and after the date above written, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees, if the insured shall die during said term, to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium last due as above provided (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary), to Mary Rowe, his wife, if living, otherwise to his executors, administrators, or assigns, upon receipt, at the office of the company, in Hartford, Conn., of due proof of the death of the insured; provided that in the event of the death of the insured within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction, while sane or insane, unless it be determined by the company that the insured was so far insane as to destroy his responsibility therefor, the company insures said life in, and shall be liable only for, a sum, payable as above provided, equal to the premiums paid hereon.

(Remainder of face of policy same as preceding contract)

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLE REFERRED TO ON THE FIRST PAGE AND MADE A PART OF THIS POLICY.

For optional payment of premium by dividends, premium payments, premium instalments, grace in payment of premium, admission and correction of age, change of beneficiary, assignments, reserve, optional settlements and evidence of contract see preceding policy.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during its continuance thereafter, will participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by said payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes payable, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal, to accumulate at such rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per centum, as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured and prior to the expiry of the policy be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon. Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, will be restored to full force at any time prior to the expiry of the policy and after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at a rate to be determined by the company not exceeding six per centum per annum.

SURRENDER AND CHANGE.—The insured, if not then over sixty years of age, may, without medical re-examination, at any time while this policy is in force and prior to the due date of the last annual premium hereon, release this policy in accordance with the form of "Release and Agreement" printed on the fourth page hereof, and, on its surrender at such time so released, may receive (1) a new policy of any form of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by the company, for any amount not in excess of the sum insured hereby, at the company's then rates for the age attained, and the company will apply in part payment of the first annual premium on such new policy the then reserve on this policy, or, (2) in case of such surrender upon a due date of the annual premium hereon, a new policy for such amount of any form of whole Life or Endowment insurance in use at the date of issue of this policy at the rates in use at said last named date for the age rated herein upon payment to the company of a sum equal to the then reserve on such life or endowment policy, assuming it to have been issued at the date hereof, together with any dividend then applicable on the premium due thereon, less a sum equal to the then reserve on this policy and such dividend as may then be applicable in part payment of the premium hereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that the answers and statements in this application, consisting of Parts 1 and 2 on separate sheets, are true and full; that any policy to be issued upon this application shall not be in force or binding on the company until the advance premium thereon shall have been actually paid while I am living; and that this application and the several answers, statements and agreements herein contained shall be the basis of and a part of the consideration for the contract of insurance, and this application and such policy shall constitute the entire contract,

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY—WAIVER OF PREMIUM, LIFE INCOME

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application herefor, which is the basis of and a part of this agreement, by John Doe, the insured under policy No. 012,345, issued February 20, 1913, by said company, and of the payment to said company of the additional annual premium of six and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars on the twentieth day of February, 1916, and of a like additional annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of such policy until sixteen additional annual premiums shall have been paid, hereby agrees,

That, if there shall have been no failure to pay premiums as provided in said policy, upon receipt at the home office of the company of due proof that the insured, prior to his attaining the age of sixty years, shall have become totally disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he then is and will be thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days, (a) payment of each subsequent full annual premium on said policy and on this agreement shall be waived as it becomes due during the said disability of the insured, and any premium so waived shall not be deducted in any settlement under said policy, and any values and benefits provided for in said policy shall be the same as if said premium had been duly paid to the company, except that any dividends apportioned to said policy during said disability shall be payable in cash; and (b) in addition that, if after one year from the date of receipt of proof as aforesaid due proof of the continuance of such total and permanent disability be furnished, upon satisfactory release and surrender by all parties in interest of said policy (subject to restoration as hereinafter provided, and reserving the rights to any paid-up additions to the payees thereof), the company will issue either

(1) a contract whereby the company will agree (a) to pay to said insured each month, while living, one per centum of the amount insured by said policy (exclusive of any paid-up additions) less any then existing indebtedness to the company secured thereby until one hundred such payments shall have been made (the first of such monthly payments to be made one month after issue of such contract) and, in the event of the death of the insured before one hundred such payments shall have been made, then to pay an amount equal to the remainder of such one hundred payments to such persons as, except for such surrender, would have been the payees of said policy at its maturity, and (b) in the event that said insured shall be living at the expiration of one hundred months from the date of issue of such contract, to pay thereafter to him a life annuity, the amount of each annual payment to be five times the amount of a monthly payment as aforesaid (the first of such annual payments to be made one year after the expiration of said 100 months and such annual payments to terminate with the last payment due prior to the decease of the insured); such contract not to participate in any division of the company's surplus; or, at the option of said insured,

(2) a contract whereby the company will agree to retain the amount insured by said policy (exclusive of any paid-up additions) less any then existing indebtedness to the company secured thereby, and to pay to the insured such interest thereon from the date of issue of such contract as shall, from time to time, be determined and thereto apportioned by the company, but at a rate not less than three per centum per annum, payable annually or, at the option of the insured, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly, and upon the death of the insured, or upon the date when said policy would have matured as an endowment if prior to such death, to pay the amount so retained, together with any accrued interest, to such persons as, except for such surrender, would have been the payees of said policy at its maturity.

Notwithstanding that proofs of such disability shall have been accepted, the company may thereafter, at its pleasure, but not oftener than once a year, demand of the insured due proof of the continuance of such disability; and upon failure to furnish such proof, or if it appears to the company that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums will be waived, and no further payments under either of said options will be made; and any contract issued as above provided shall be canceled, and said policy shall be restored reduced in amount by the sum of any and all payments made under such contract, but subject to any indebtedness to the company on said policy existing at the time of issue of such contract, which indebtedness shall be reinstated.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the total and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes, loss of both hands at or above the wrist, loss of both feet at or above the ankle, or similar loss of one hand and one foot, shall be considered to constitute total and permanent disability within the meaning of this agreement.

The payment of the additional premiums as herein provided is the consideration for the additional risk incurred under the provisions hereof, and does not entitle the insured or any beneficiary under said policy to any additional participation in any division of the company's surplus, or to any additional cash, loan or paid-up value thereunder; and failure to pay any additional premium hereon when due as herein provided or within thirty-one days thereafter, or to pay any premium or instalment thereof as provided in said policy, will forthwith terminate all liability of the company hereunder or on account of any payments made hereon; provided, however, that this agreement may be reinstated at any time upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears of premiums on said policy and on this agreement with interest at a rate to be determined by the company not exceeding six per centum per annum,

Conservative Life Insurance Company of America.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING— DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $303. AGE, 35.

Conservative Life Insurance Company of America, South Bend, Ind., hereby agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in South Bend, Ind., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the interest of the claimant and of the death of Charles Lifer (the insured) of South Bend, county of St. Joseph, State of Indiana, (hereinafter called the insured) during the continuance of this contract, (the beneficiary) to Caroline Lifer, wife of the insured, (hereinafter called the beneficiary) or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries as may be duly designated by the insured as herein provided.

PREMIUMS ON THIS POLICY WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF INSURED IS PERMANENTLY DISABLED.

After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this contract and the cash, loan and other values of this contract in the schedule as given hereinafter, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured.

In the event of total and permanent disability, as above, the insured may elect, in lieu of the option above mentioned, to receive, one year from the receipt of satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, one-twentieth of the face of this contract in cash, and the further payment of a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual instalments shall have been paid. Should the insured die during the period mentioned, the instalments already paid shall be deducted from the face of the policy and the balance paid in one sum to the beneficiary named herein.

If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums, or the remainder of the annual instalments of the face of this contract, shall cease, and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums on the first premium due date following such recovery. In case of such recovery, the premiums or instalments so paid shall constitute a lien against this policy and shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

This policy contains the standard provisions required by the law of State of Indiana.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS CONTRACT.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, during which this contract shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums after the first year.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, which, with the application therefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue for the amount due, provided premiums have been duly paid, and there has been no violation of provisions relating to military and naval service in time of war. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be that which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid in cash on or before the date on which it is due, or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash) with six per cent per annum interest in advance against the then loan value of this policy as stated herein, provided that any such loan value is sufficient and provided that written request to that effect has been made by the owner hereof at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the section for "loans." Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by said owner provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse from non-payment of premium, it may be reinstated at any time upon application of the insured, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all arrears due, with interest at the rate of six per cent. (6%) per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time, and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon the policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

CASH LOANS.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, the company will loan, within six months after written request, upon the sole security of this policy, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table below as stipulated to be loaned at the end of the current policy year; provided (1) that this policy be duly assigned to the company as collateral security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid in advance for the remainder of the current policy year; (3) that in determining the amount available there shall be deducted from the amount specified in the table below opposite the current policy year, all existing indebtedness on, or secured by this policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year; (4) that in any settlement of this policy, any outstanding loans, together with accrued interest thereon, must be paid; (5) that failure to repay said loan or interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any. After this policy shall have been in force two full years, the company will loan any sum not exceeding the amount stated in table below, stipulated as the "cash or loan value" after two years, upon the terms and conditions as stated in the preceding paragraph; provided, however, that such loan shall not be made except for the purpose of paying the premium then due.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums hereon having been fully paid in cash, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation hereof within thirty days after the third or any subsequent anniversary of its date of issue, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values and extensions hereof being shown in the table of values given below. The cash values shown herein are at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance; provided, that in any settlement hereunder any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy including any balance of the premium for the current policy year unpaid, shall first be deducted from the net value of the option selected, and the balance paid in cash or applied as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, to purchase paid-up or extended insurance. FIRST OPTION: Cash. SECOND OPTION: Paid-up insurance. THIRD OPTION: Extended insurance. The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

This policy is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum, and the values shown in the above table are for the end of the respective policy years. For fractional parts of a year, in addition thereto, the values shall be proportionately increased. Values for years subsequent to the twentieth shall be equal or equivalent to the full reserve. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—Upon default in the payment of any premium hereon after three full annual premiums shall have been paid if the insured shall fail to elect any of the options as set forth above, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, continue this policy as is provided in the third option (extended insurance).

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The payment of the first annual premium hereon is a condition precedent to the taking effect hereof, and this policy shall not become binding upon the company until such premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the delivery of this policy without such payment shall not be a waiver of such precedent condition. All premiums are due and payable annually in advance at the home office of the company at South Bend, Ind., but for the convenience of policyholders, may be paid to agents producing receipts signed by the president, a vice-president, or secretary, and countersigned by such agents. After the first year, premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the company's rate thereof, if the insured shall, in writing, so request. If any premium or part thereof, is not paid on or before the date when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein provided. Any indebtedness to the company hereon, including any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit thereunder.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net one sum payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, paid either in cash or as follows; (1) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with printed table of instalment payments. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the printed table of instalment payments. In the event of the death of the beneficiary, before receiving all of the instalments provided, the remaining instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the estate of the beneficiary. . . In case of election of instalments, if the beneficiary is the widow or minor child of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be held by the company as trustee in trust to pay instalments free from all claims and demands, interference and control of the creditors of the insured. If the insured shall elect that the proceeds of this policy shall be payable in instalments, the beneficiary can neither assign nor commute the unpaid instalments. The insured may during his lifetime revoke any such request and substitute a new one, or direct that the proceeds be paid in one sum.

LIFE ANNUITY OPTION.—The insured may surrender this policy on that anniversary of its date of issue when the insured shall be nearest his seventieth (70) birthday and receive in full settlement of all claims hereunder an annuity for life, the first payment to be made on that date and annually thereafter. If all of the premiums provided for by this contract shall have been paid previous to the time at which this annuity option becomes available, the amount of such annuity shall be $99.84 per thousand of insurance in force. If all of the premiums provided for by this contract be not paid at that time, the amount of such annuity shall be the amount which the full legal reserve on this policy will purchase at the attained age of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

- 1. Due proofs of the death of the insured, and of the interest of the claimant, must be furnished to the company at its home office not later than three years after the death of the insured, on the company's blanks furnished for that purpose, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim.
- 2. In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death only will be paid.
- 3. This policy may be assigned upon written approval of the president, vice-president or secretary, but the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.
- 4. Only the president, vice-president or secretary has power, on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time of paying any premiums, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.
- 5. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is attached hereto when issued.
- 6. Suicide, while sane or insane, or death as the result of the violation of a law, within one year from the date of this policy, are risks not assumed by the company, but in such case the company will pay the amount of the premium actually paid hereon.

This agreement is made in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred and three dollars in advance, in exchange for the company's receipt on the delivery of this policy, constituting payment for the period terminating on the first day of January, 1917, and of the payment of a like sum, the annual premium, to the company at its home office, in the city of South Bend, Ind., on the first day of January in every year thereafter until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, Conservative Life Insurance Company of America has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at its home office in the city of South Bend, Ind., this first day of January, 1916.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I. I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health, habits and occupation are the same as described in this application.

PART II. It is hereby agreed: That the foregoing statements and answers, made to the company's medical examiner, are full, complete and true, and shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract and to complete the application for insurance heretofore made.

Continental Life Insurance Company (Del.)

THIRTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $329.70. AGE, 35.

Continental Life Insurance Company agrees to pay at its home office, ten thousand dollars thirty years after date, if this policy be then in force, to the insured, John B. Doe of Wilmington, Del., or on receipt of due proof of insured's prior death while this policy is in force, then immediately to the beneficiary, the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to the right of the insured, if this policy be not assigned, to change the beneficiary from time to time by filing with the company at its home office, a written request, accompanied by this policy, to take effect only when endorsed hereon by the company. The interest of any beneficiary who shall die before the insured, shall revert to the insured.

In consideration of the application for this policy, and of a premium of three hundred twenty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company on the delivery of this policy, this insurance is granted for the term of one year, and in further consideration thereof, will be renewed thereafter as an annual dividend endowment policy by the payment of a like premium on or before the twenty-sixth day of October in every year during the lifetime of the insured, until renewal premiums have been paid for twenty-nine full years.

The provisions on the reverse of this page are a part of this policy as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

Wilmington, Del., October 26, 1914.

STATE OF DELAWARE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.—This policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities with this department as provided by law.

PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS AND GRACE.—All premiums are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company, upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by the secretary of the company and countersigned by the agent. A grace of thirty days is hereby granted for the payment of every premium after the first year of insurance, during which period of grace this policy shall continue in full force.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the second policy year, the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy, and the owner shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash, or applied to the payment of premiums, or to the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy, as the policyholder may elect.

CHANGE TO WHOLE LIFE.—At any time after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon and before the required premiums are completed, but before default in any premium, the net value of any dividend additions may be withdrawn in cash and this policy may then be exchanged, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, for a participating whole life policy for the amount insured by and bearing the same date as this policy, requiring an annual payment thereafter during the lifetime of the insured, of the premium for the original age reduced to the premium in the following table of reduced life premiums, opposite the year to the end of which premiums shall have been paid hereon, or if no further premiums are required by said table, this policy may be exchanged for a participating paid-up life policy, and in addition thereto insured shall be entitled to the annual life income stated in said table opposite the year to the end of which premiums shall have been paid hereon.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If default shall occur in the payment of any premium, this policy shall become void and all premiums paid hereon shall be forfeited to the company, except that after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from default in any subsequent premium payment, for (a) a cash value, or (b) a non-participating paid-up policy payable at the same time this policy would be payable if continued in force, but, (c) if this policy be not so surrendered, the company will, without any action of the insured, grant non-participating extended term insurance for a sum equal to the amount of this policy, to extend from date of default, and if the sum applicable to the purchase of such extended term insurance shall be more than sufficient to extend it to the end of the endowment term of this policy, the excess shall be applied to purchase a non-participating pure endowment, without right of loans payable at the end of the endowment term if the insured be then living, provided that the amount of such extended term insurance and of its pure endowment, if any, shall be reduced in the same proportion that any existing indebtedness hereon, bears to the cash value of this policy. The amount of such paid-up insurance, and the term of such extended term insurance, and the amount of its pure endowment, shall be such that the net value of the paid-up insurance, and the total net value of the extended term insurance, and its pure endowment, shall each at least equal the reserve on this policy at the date of default and on any dividend additions hereto, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon; and the cash value shall at least equal the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of the paid-up, or of the extended term insurance, with its pure endowment as aforesaid.

The following table shows the values guaranteed by this policy at the end of the years stated, provided there be no dividend additions hereto, nor any indebtedness to the company hereon.

TABLE OF REDUCED LIFE PREMIUMS AND GUARANTEED SURRENDER VALUES.—The figures in the following table apply to a policy for $1000. As this policy is for $10,000, all figures in the table (except for the period of extended insurance) must be multiplied by ten; the amount of insurance does not change the period of extended insurance.

LOANS AND PREMIUM NOTES.—On receipt of this policy duly assigned, the company will, at any time, loan upon the sole security of this policy, any sum secured by its cash value at the end of the year to which premiums shall have been duly paid. All or any part of the loan may be repaid at any time while this policy is in force. No loan will be made on extended term insurance. Notes for premiums will be accepted on the sole signature of the insured, provided this policy be not assigned, as long as its cash value is sufficient security therefor, and such notes shall be a lien on this policy as fully as if executed by all persons having an interest herein and accompanied by proper assignment hereof. Interest on loans and premium notes shall not exceed six per cent per annum and if such interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal until the total indebtedness hereon equals the cash value of this policy. Failure to pay any loan or premium note or interest on any loan or premium note, shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy, whereupon it shall become null and void.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including any unpaid portion of the current annual premium, shall be deducted from any settlement under this policy.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium required hereon would have purchased at the correct age.

MINORS.—The interest of any minor in this policy, whether insured, beneficiary, assignee, or otherwise, must be released by a legally appointed guardian, duly authorized by the appointing court, before any value or loan can be allowed in cash, at or before the maturity of this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company until it is filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. The interest of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest.

REINSTATEMENT.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have it reinstated at any time within three years from date of default in premium payments, unless the cash value shall have been duly paid, or the period of extended term insurance expired, on the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company hereon, with interest at the rate of not more than six per cent per annum.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for the non-payment of premiums.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, which is hereby made a part hereof and a copy endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties. No person except the president, a vice-president, or the secretary of the company, has power, on behalf of the company, to make or modify this policy, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promises or by accepting any representations or information not contained in the application. These powers will not be delegated.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application and the answers made to the medical examiner and the policy applied for shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and that no advance payment shall be binding upon the company unless the receipt is detached from this application, and then only in accordance with the terms of said receipt.

I hereby certify that I have read all statements and answers in this application, and warrant and agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any contract issued hereunder: (1) That no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract hereby applied for: (2) That any policy issued on this application shall not take effect until the first premium thereon shall have been actually paid to the company during my lifetime and good health: (3) That, if within one year from the date of the medical examination for this policy, I shall be personally engaged (without the company's written consent) in blasting, underground mining, submarine labor, the manufacture, handling or transportation of explosives or inflammable substances, or in service upon any railroad trains (except as conductor, baggage master or mail and express agent on passenger trains), or as an ordinary seaman, or in the handling of live electric wires or dynamos, or in aeronautic ascensions, or in military or naval service, in time of war, or if, within that period, I shall suicide or destroy myself, sane or insane, the policy hereby applied for shall thereupon become null and void: and (4) that said policy if issued, shall at all times and places be held and construed to have been made at Wilmington, Del., and that no suit shall be brought against the company for claim under the policy after three years from time right of action accrues.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Continental Life Insurance Company (Utah).

TWENTY-PAYMENT 30-YEAR ENDOWMENT—DISABILITY BENEFIT—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.90. AGE, 35.

Continental Life Insurance Company, Salt Lake City, Utah, hereby insures the life of John Doe (hereinafter called the insured), and promises to pay at its home office at Salt Lake City, Utah, ten thousand dollars at the expiration of thirty years from date hereof to the insured, if living; otherwise, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the prior death of the insured, to Mary Jane Doe, wife of the insured (hereinafter call the beneficiary of the insured), if living; otherwise, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, provided this policy is then in force, and is then surrendered, properly released.

The consideration for this insurance is the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached or endorsed hereon; the payment of three hundred fifty $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars for insurance for the term ending on the first day of May, 1916, and the further payment of a like amount on or before the corresponding day in each year thereafter until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions and restrictions as to residence, travel, place of death or occupation, except as to military or naval service under a foreign government. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of peace or in time of war, while insured is actively serving in the United States army or navy.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company on or before the date specified in this policy, or, at the pleasure of the company, to a designated agent or collector; but in any case, only in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary, and countersigned by such agent or collector. No notice of the non-payment of a premium, and no acceptance of a premium or premiums after maturity elsewhere than at its home office is to be construed as a waiver by this company of any provision of this policy, no matter how often repeated.

This policy is issued upon the payment of premiums annually. but premiums may be paid at other times as follows: annually, $350.90, or, semi-annually, $182.50; or, quarterly, $93.00; or, monthly, $32.20, and the insured may change from one to another of such methods of payment upon the written approval of the company.

If any premium shall not be paid when due, or if any note or part thereof, or interest thereon, or any bill of exchange or writing of any kind whatsoever given by the insured, or beneficiary in this policy named, or by any other party in payment or in part payment of a first or any subsequent annual or other premium due or to become due under this policy, and whether given to said Continental Life Insurance company or one or more of its agents, or to any other person or persons as payee therein, is not paid when due, this policy shall thereupon ipso facto become null and void, except as otherwise provided in this policy for automatic premium loans and days of grace. In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, all sums, if any, due by the insured to the company shall be deducted from the amount of the death claim hereunder, including any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of not to exceed six per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of any premium after the first, during which period the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occurs within the days of grace the premium for the then current policy year, or any unpaid installment thereof, will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or installment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or installment thereof becomes payable.

3. LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, upon a proper assignment of this policy to the company and the deposit of the policy with the company as security, may borrow at any time from the company a sum not greater than the cash surrender value hereof less any indebtedness to the company hereon. Any unpaid balance of the premium for the then current policy year will be deducted and interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum will be charged in advance to the next anniversary of the policy and annually in advance on that date and thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal its cash surrender value, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company if any.

TABLE OF CASH SURRENDER OR LOAN VALUES, PAID-UP AND CONTINUED INSURANCE.

The figures contained in the following table are for completed policy years. They will be reduced to the extent of any indebtedness hereon. The loan obtainable at the end of any given year may be secured during that year if the premium for the entire year has been paid

5. PRIVILEGES OF SURRENDER.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy, while in force or within the month of grace allowed for the payment of premiums, may be surrendered to the company by the insured. Thereupon,

(1) If there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insured may elect (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy, or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance, payable at the same time on the same conditions as this policy, or (c) to continue the insurance in force for its face amount but without the right to loans, with pure endowment payable in cash at the end of the endowment period, if this policy is then in force.

The cash, surrender or loan, paid-up insurance and continued insurance and pure endowment values are shown in columns 2, 3 and 4, respectively, of the table herein. Said values are equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, less a surrender charge not to exceed two and one-half per cent of the face of this policy, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

(2) If there is any indebtedness to the company hereon it shall be deducted from the cash surrender value, and the insured may elect (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy less such indebtedness, or (b) to apply the remainder to purchase non-participating paid-up endowment insurance, or (c) to apply the remainder to continue the insurance in force, but without the right to loans, for its face amount and for the period which the aforesaid remainder will purchase at the then age of the insured, with cash at the end of the endowment period, if the value is sufficient to provide for same.

6. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If this policy is not surrendered as provided above, said policy shall not lapse nor become void, provided that the then loan value hereon shall exceed the amount of any premium then unpaid and of any indebtedness of the insured to the company. In such event the company will, without request, charge the amount of such premium, with interest thereon in advance, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, as a loan against the policy, thereby continuing said policy in force, subject to such indebtedness, and this policy shall hereupon be entitled to all the privileges herein the same as if the premium had been paid in cash. Such loan shall be increased by the amount of subsequent premiums and interest as stated, as said premiums fall due and remain unpaid, and this policy shall remain in force and effect as long as the increasing loan value is sufficient to pay for pro-rata insurance for one additional day, and to secure all existing indebtedness hereon with interest.

At any time while this policy is in force, under the preceding paragraph, the insured may reinstate said policy without medical examination, and may thereupon resume payment of premiums as provided herein. The existing indebtedness may be either paid in whole or in part, or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy, subject to interest.

7. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or become void by reason of the non-payment of any premium or of any indebtedness, or interest thereon, said policy may be reinstated at any time after such non-payment of premium, upon the insured furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and paying all indebtedness and arrears of premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

8. TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY PRIVILEGE.—If, after the payment of one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company receives due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be presumably thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, the company will waive the payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during said disability.

In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premiums so waived and the loan and cash surrender values shall increase from year to year in like manner as if the premiums had been regularly and duly paid in cash. And during the period of total and permanent disability, provided request is made therefor by the insured, and his or her assignee, if any, and of the beneficiary, and within one year after the beginning of such disability, will pay a monthly income to the insured amounting to one per cent of the face of the policy, if there be no existing indebtedness owing by the insured or his or her assignee to the company, or if there be such indebtedness one per cent of the face value of the policy less such indebtedness; such payments to continue until the total amount of payments shall have equalled the face of the policy, less the indebtedness, if any, due, at which time the company's liability under this policy shall cease. In the event of the death of the insured before the full amount of this policy has been paid to the insured or to his or her assignee, if any, the company will pay the remaining amount due upon this contract upon proof of death. The cash loan and surrender values shall bear the same proportion to the full cash loan and surrender values stated herein as the remaining amount of insurance under this contract bears to the original amount of insurance. Should the the company accept under this policy, proof of disability, it may nevertheless at any time thereafter and from time to time demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or if it appear that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived.

9. GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy and the application herefor contain the entire contract between the company and the insured. All statements made by the insured in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall be used in defense to a claim under or shall void this policy unless said statement is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon.

(2) No assignment of this policy, or of any interest therein, shall be binding upon the company until the signature of the assignor is duly acknowledged before an officer duly authorized to take such acknowledgment, and until it is filed with the company at its home office; and the company assumes no liability as to the validity of any assignment and satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

(3) All endorsements, agreements or modifications of any privileges or provisions in this policy must be in writing and signed by the president or secretary or assistant secretary of the company. No agent or any person other than the officers stated may alter or waive any of these privileges or provisions or make any agreement binding upon the company. No statement made to or by any such agent or other person, not contained in the application, shall be taken or considered as having been made to or brought to the notice or knowledge of the company, or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof.

(4) This policy shall not participate in the profits or surplus of the company.

10. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not then assigned, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries hereunder by due written notice thereof to the company at its home office, such change to take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. The insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, may exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured in the policy.

11. AGE.—The amount of insurance payable under this policy, if the age has been misstated, shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the company's rates in use at the date hereof, for the insured's correct age.

12. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date of issue except for non-payment of premiums. Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the effective date herein, is a risk not assumed by the company hereunder.

Military or naval service in time of peace or war, other than in the military or naval service of the United States, are risks not assumed by the company hereunder, and should the insured meet death while engaged in any military or naval service, in time of peace or war, other than in the military or naval service of the United States, then the company's liability upon this policy will be the then cash value of the reserve which is credited to this policy at the time of the death of the insured.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face of this policy unless otherwise requested by the insured, or by the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, shall be paid in one sum as provided on page one hereof. The insured, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary, after the death of the insured, in case the insured has made no selection, if this policy is not then assigned, and if request is made to the company on the proper form, may change the payment to any one of the following methods:

METHOD ONE—TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, may be left during the lifetime of any beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund method may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

METHOD TWO—ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000 shown in the table by the number of thousands insured by this policy:

Number of years.....	30	25	20*	15	10

Annual income per $1000.....	214	264	345	508

* Illustration: If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight ($68) dollars for each one thousand dollars insured by this policy.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected. The first income will be paid at the date the amount insured hereunder becomes due, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

METHOD THREE—MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000, shown in the table, by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments, at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive. The first monthly income will be paid at the date the amount insured hereunder becomes due, and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This method may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, or if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If, upon the selection of method two or method three above, the beneficiary die before all the payments thereunder shall have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be made as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and made in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the insured so directs during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above methods shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that all representations and agreements made by or with the company or the agent taking this application are reduced to writing herein and made a part of this application and the policy issued hereunder.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Cotton States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED GRADED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.30 AGE 35.

The Cotton States Life Insurance Company of Tupelo, Miss., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office, in Tupelo, Miss., as follows: To the beneficiary, Mary Cotton, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. The insured King Cotton of Tupelo, County of Lee, State of Mississippi.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.

This policy is issued on the guaranteed graded premium reduction, triple option, non-participating plan, and in the use of the coupons the insured may select one of the three following options:

OPTION 1. The insured may use the amount designated in the coupons hereto attached for the reduction of his premium payments from year to year.

OPTION 2. The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that after paying premiums in full for fifteen years and surrendering this policy and all attached coupons to the company, a policy paid-up for life for the same amount as the one surrendered will be issued to the insured.

OPTION 3. The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that this policy shall mature as an endowment after paying the premiums in full for twenty-five years; and on surrender of this policy and all attached coupons on the first anniversary of this policy after such payments are completed, the sum insured by the policy will be paid in cash to the insured.

In case the insured should elect to make this policy fully paid-up, and die while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid-up either as a life or endowment policy, as above provided, all of the unused coupons bearing date prior to said death, will be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured.

In case the insured shall not elect to make this a paid-up life or endowment policy, as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, pay premiums in full, the unused due coupons shall be payable on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year after dates thereof.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS POLICY.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy paid-up for life for the amount specified in column two of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor within six months from such default in payment and on surrender of this policy the company will pay in cash the net value of either the paid-up or extended insurance hereunder which is the amount specified in column one of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

LOANS.—On or after the beginning of any policy year after two years from date hereof, and on demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may borrow on the sole security of this policy an amount not to exceed that specified in column one of the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is made.

This policy shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement and the premium on this policy and interest on the loan at rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid or deducted from the loan in full to the anniversary of the insurance next succeeding the date when the loan shall be made. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid.

Unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy and then not until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, failure to pay any loan or interest hereon shall not void this policy, but in the event of such default, when the premium becomes due and is not paid an amount of insurance equal to the face of the policy, less the indebtedness, shall automatically continue from the date of default as term insurance for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value over the indebtedness will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums; or in lieu of such term insurance, the company will (upon written request of the insured and surrender of this policy within one month from date of default) either pay said excess in cash, or issue a paid-up policy for the amount which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and for the first year is one year term insurance. The values used for cash surrenders, loans, extended term and paid-up insurance, shown on accompanying table, are the reserves indicated by said Tables of Mortality and interest less a surrender charge which in no case exceeds two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue and incontestable after one year.

The figures in this table are independent of the coupons and the benefits shown in the table will be correspondingly increased in respect of any unused due coupons. The company reserves the right to require ninety days' notice before granting loans or paying the cash values as above provided for. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy on the basis stated herein, the figures for which will be furnished on request to the home office of the company. No additional coupons will be issued in reduction of premiums after the twentieth year under Option No. 3.

If default occur after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid, the above values will be proportionately adjusted.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or at any time after January 1, 1914, Cotton States Life Insurance Company will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 00 fifty-five^{30/100} dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at home office.

The amounts of the coupons increase as follows, beginning with No. 2, $57.60, $59.90, $62.20, $64.50, $66.70, $69.10, $71.30, $73.50, $75.70, $77.90, $80.10, $82.30, $84.30, $86.60, $88.70, $90.90, $92.90, $94.90.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Premiums on this policy will be paid by the company, if the insured be wholly disabled, as follows: After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured such premiums as become payable during the continuance of disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the cash loans and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given herein, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In any such case, the cash loans and the values of this policy on the schedule of values hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

N. B.—If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums will cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery. Any medical adviser of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding any alleged disability.

Upon endorsement of the policy under this clause, all coupons which have not matured will be removed from the policy and cancelled and the options granted in respect of the coupons shall not be available, but the company will continue liable for all unused due coupons, with current interest thereon.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which this policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate this policy at any time, if not previously surrendered for its cash value, upon written application by the insured to the company at its home office with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time if no default had been made, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum computed from the premium due date, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the time of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are indorsed upon the policy, or attached thereto at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the date of death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premium, nor can this policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company signed by the president or one of the vice-presidents, and the secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount insured and other benefits payable hereunder shall be the insurance and corresponding benefits which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing indorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

SUICIDE.—In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement of the insured shall void this policy unless contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

PLAN OF PAYMENTS.—The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, on any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company; the rate when so changed shall be on basis of company's published rate for plan desired.

The coupon in any event shall be available only with the payment which completes the annual premium.

PREMIUMS.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, which application is made a part hereof, the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars in advance on the delivery of this policy for term insurance for one year from date hereof, and the further payment of a like amount, either at the home office of the company, at Tupelo, Miss., or upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the first day of January, in every year hereafter during the life of the insured, until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, after which this policy shall be continued in force during the life of the insured without further payment of premiums, unless the premium-paying period is extended by the insured under Option 3.

This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy delivered during the good health of the insured. It shall then relate back to the date of the policy and take effect as of that date.

The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income.

The proceeds of this policy, if in excess of \$1,000, may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant, if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) To pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) To pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) To pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant.

If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary can not assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest, unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is indorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in this policy. If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income, the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant. The first payment of life or limited income shall be made as follows: Upon acceptance of satisfactory proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the acceptance of proofs of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application that: (1) No statement, information or agreement made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing, and then only if presented to and approved by the executive officers of the company at its home office. (2) Every statement made herein and in my answers to Medical Examiner is true, and that no information affecting the insurance sought has been withheld. (3) The insurance herein applied for shall not be in effect until the premium has been paid in full in cash, and the policy delivered to me during my good health. (4) If the premium be paid with this application, such payment is made subject to the conditions in receipt hereto attached. (5) All my declarations herein made, and my statements to the Medical Examiner, together with the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Dakota Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300.

AGE, 35.

Dakota Life Insurance Company, Watertown, S. D., by this policy of insurance, agrees to pay (amount of insurance) ten thousand dollars, at the home office of the company in Watertown, S. D., to (beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if then living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of (the insured), John J. Doe.

This policy is issued in consideration of the answers made in the application hereof, and the statements made therein, all of which are made a part hereof, and copied hereon, and of the premium of three hundred dollars, payable in advance at the home office of the company, or as provided under the heading "general conditions" on the second page hereof, in exchange for the company's receipt on or before the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this policy, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, subject to the privileges and provisions on the subsequent pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, as provided on page 2.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns.

In witness whereof, the said Dakota Life Insurance Company, at its office, in the city of Watertown, S. D., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary this first day of January, 1913.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

CASH LOAN.—After three full annual premiums have been paid on this policy, if it be still in force, the insured may borrow, at any time during the year, on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned to the company with interest at not more than six per cent per annum payable in advance, an amount not exceeding the cash value at the end of the current year as herein specified, less any indebtedness on account of this policy. Failure to repay any such indebtedness or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, of the person to whom the loan was made, and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the date on which it is due or within the month of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with interest at not more than six per cent per annum, against the then loan value of this policy as stated above, provided that any such loan value is sufficient and provided that the written request to that effect has been made by the owner hereof at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan values of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the special privilege, "cash loan." Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by the said owner, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first. If the insured should die during the period of grace the over-due premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

REVIVAL OF POLICY.—If this policy be lapsed for the non-payment of any premium or interest, it will be revived at any time, upon written application by the insured to the company and satisfactory evidence of insurability, together with the payment of all arrears of premiums with interest at five per cent per annum and the reinstatement, with interest at a like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the time of the lapse.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but if the amount payable be not less than $1000, it may be made payable instead in equal annual instalments in any number from two to twenty-five, or may be payable to the beneficiary, if such beneficiary be one natural person, in equal annual instalments to continue for twenty years and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. The amount of such instalments shall be based upon the amount insured under this policy and shall be determined from the tables below.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—The amount of this policy, if not less than $1,000, at the time when it becomes payable, may be placed in trust with the company, during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. At the death of the beneficiary this fund shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—If, after one annual premium shall have been paid in cash, and while there is or has been no default in the payment of any premium or interest, the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and that he will be permanently and continuously wholly disabled for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay all premiums for the insured thereafter becoming due during the continuance of such disability and in such event the values of this policy, as given in the schedule, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If the insured shall so far recover, however, as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit, the Company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any respect except by the written agreement of the company, in compliance with the laws of the state in which the policy is issued, signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary, whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has the power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, to extend the time for payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall not share in the surplus earnings of the company.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but if premiums be made payable in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, any future instalments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

PRELIMINARY TERM PROVISION.—The first year's insurance under this policy shall be term insurance to the extent of the net premium on a twenty-payment life policy at the same age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such an assignment unless the original or the duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume the responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—In event of the death of the insured, within one year from the date hereof, by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be the amount of the premium paid.

NON-FORFEITURE PRIVILEGES.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within one month from date of default, providing three premiums shall have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor in cash the sum indicated in the following table, less any indebtedness on account of this policy; which cash value shall be equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If this policy, after being in force for three full years, shall lapse for the non-payment of any premium, and if it be not surrendered for its cash value, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up policy as specified in the following table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within one month from date of default; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the amount of such paid-up policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of the policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy lapse as specified above and be not surrendered for its cash value or for a paid-up policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full amount of this policy, such term policy to be dated on the day to which the premiums have been duly paid and to continue in force for the term indicated in the following table; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness on account of this policy, the amount of such paid-up term policy will be the face amount of this policy less the indebtedness and the term shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, less the indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The paid-up term policy will be delivered upon the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP AND TERM POLICIES.—If this policy shall lapse and a paid-up or term policy be issued as above indicated, such paid-up or term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

*Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are equivalent to the full reserve according to the modified preliminary term basis known as the Illinois standard. Values for later years will be computed upon the same basis and furnished upon request to the home office.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and I hereby declare that all the answers and statements made above and those that shall be made to the medical examiner are true, and that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. To have the required medical examination made within thirty days by a physician appointed by the company, or at such other time thereafter as may be fixed in writing.

Equitable Life Assurance Society.

TWENTY-PAYMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

ENDOWMENT CONVERSION PRIVILEGE AND DISABILITY BENEFITS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $389.

AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States hereby insures the life of Richard Roe (hereinafter called the insured), and agrees to pay at its home office in the city of New York ten thousand dollars to his wife, Margaret H. Roe, beneficiary (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary), upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in force and is then surrendered properly released.

There are no restrictions under this policy on travel, residence, occupation, or military or naval service.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, provided premiums have been duly paid.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall upon payment of the second year's premium, and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy year participate in the distribution of the surplus of the society as ascertained and apportioned by it.

Dividends, at the option of the insured (or of the assignee if any) shall in each year, on the anniversary of the register date hereof, be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance; or, (4) left to accumulate at three per cent interest, compounded annually. If a higher average annual rate is earned, this may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the society. This deposit will be payable upon the maturity of this policy or on any anniversary of its register date. Unless the insured (or the assignee if any) shall elect one of the foregoing options within three months after the mailing by the society of a written notice requiring such election, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance (option 3). This additional insurance may be surrendered at any time for the cash value thereof, which shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, and there is no written assignment of this policy on file with the society, the insured may from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by a written request, upon the society's blank, filed at its home office, but such change shall take effect only upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the society. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the society unless in writing and until filed at its home office. The society assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse in consequence of the non-payment of any premium when due, it may be reinstated at any time upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the society, and the payment of all overdue premiums, with interest at five per cent per annum, and upon the payment, or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the society, secured by this policy, with interest.

AGE.—The amount of insurance payable under this policy, if the age has been misstated, shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the society's rates in use at the register date hereof, for the insured's correct age.

THE CONTRACT.—This policy, and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim thereunder unless contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, when issued. Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue hereof, is a risk not assumed by the society under this policy. In such an event the society's liability shall be limited to an amount equal to the premium actually paid.

AGENTS are not authorized to modify, or in event of lapse, to reinstate this policy, or to extend the time for payment of any premium or instalment thereof.

PREMIUMS.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment in advance of three hundred and eighty-nine dollars, and of the payment annually thereafter of a like sum upon each second day of January until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, subject to the total and permanent disability privileges, as stated on the third page hereof.

PAYMENT.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office or to any agent or agency cashier of the society, upon delivery on or before their due date, of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the society (the president, a vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, comptroller, deputy comptroller, treasurer, an assistant treasurer, or auditor) and countersigned by said agent or agency cashier. This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually; but, premiums may be paid, subject to the society's written approval, in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the society's adopted rates for fractional premiums, provided that in the event of the death of the insured any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of the death claim payable hereunder.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which period the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the premium for the then current policy year or any unpaid instalments thereof shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment thereof becomes payable.

*The loan value is the cash value less interest to the premium anniversary date.

These values are exclusive of dividend additions, and are for completed policy years. Due allowance will be made for any fractional premium paid beyond completed policy years. The loan obtainable at the end of any given year may be secured during that year, if the premium for the entire year has been paid. If there are any dividend additions to this policy, these values will be increased thereby. They will be reduced, if there is any indebtedness hereon. Loan and surrender values for later years will be on the same basis, and will be furnished on request.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE FOREGOING TABLE.

LOANS.—At any time, while this policy is in force, after three full years' premiums have been paid, the society will advance on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security hereof a sum which, with interest, shall not exceed the cash value at the end of the then current policy year (as stated in the above table), less any indebtedness to the society hereon, provided all premiums or instalments of the same have been fully paid. Interest shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, and shall be payable on the premium anniversary date of this policy. The loan may be increased by the cash value of dividend additions credited to this policy, if any. Unless the loan is for the purpose of paying premiums due the society, the granting of the same may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal the total loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the insured, and to the assignee of record if any, to their addresses last known to the society.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon any subsequent default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, and within three months after such default, this policy may be surrendered by the insured (or assignee if any) who may elect one of the following options: (a) To receive the cash surrender value of this policy, the payment of which may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after the receipt of the application therefor; or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (c) to continue the insurance for its face value (and any outstanding dividend additions) as paid-up extended term insurance for the period shown in the above table, or for such further period, as the dividend additions (if any) will purchase, but without future participation, or right to loans. In the event of default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof after this policy has been in force three full years, if the insured (or assignee if any) does not select one of said options within three months of such default, the insurance shall be continued as provided under option (c). If there be any indebtedness against this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby, the paid-up insurance shall be reduced proportionately, and the extended term insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness and for such period as the reduced cash value will purchase.

BASIS OF COMPUTATION.—The reserve for which funds are to be held upon this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent by the net level premium method. The values stated in the foregoing table are mathematical equivalents and each is equal to the full reserve at the end of the then current policy year, on the basis stated in the preceding paragraph, less a surrender charge of not more than one and one-half per cent of the face of this policy until the completion of the tenth policy year, at which time and thereafter there is no deduction made as a surrender charge, except that fractions of a month and fractions of a dollar are not allowed.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—(1) If the insured, while less than sixty years of age and while this policy is in full force and effect, shall become totally and permanently disabled, and shall furnish due proof that he is physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he is rendered wholly and permanently unable to engage in any occupation or perform any work for any kind of compensation of financial value, and that such disability has then existed for not less than sixty days, the society will, upon receipt of said proof, waive the payment of any premium or premiums that may become payable thereafter under this policy during such disability. (2) And, six months after receipt of said proof of disability, the insured may draw a sum not to exceed one-tenth of the face amount of this policy and a like sum annually thereafter during the continuance of such disability. In the event of the death of the insured before the sums so drawn equal the face of the policy, the difference between the amount drawn and the face of the policy shall be payable to the beneficiary. (3) If the insured after he has attained the age of sixty shall furnish proof of disability as required in paragraph (1) above, the Society will allow all premiums falling due after receipt of such proof to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract, and in such case the values in the table of loan and surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. (4) Each payment made under the terms of paragraph (2) above shall reduce, by its amount, the sum insured. If at the time any such payment becomes due there shall be an indebtedness on the policy in excess of the cash surrender value of the reduced amount of insurance, the society will apply such part of the payment as may be necessary to reduce the indebtedness to the amount secured by such cash surrender value. (5) If the society accepts proof of disability under this policy, it shall have the right at any time thereafter, but not more frequently than once a year, to demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it at any time appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made hereunder. But if the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced under any of the foregoing provisions, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due, as well as all benefits under the policy, will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance. (6) This privilege is granted in consideration of the payment of an additional premium of $5.60 with each annual premium payable, which is included in the whole premium charged for this policy as stated on the second page hereof. The insured may upon any anniversary of this policy discontinue this agreement by returning this policy to the society for proper endorsement with a written request signed by the insured and thereafter the payment of the aforesaid additional premium shall not be required.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERTING THIS CONTRACT INTO AN ENDOWMENT POLICY.—When all the premiums due under this contract, covering a period of twenty years, have been paid, the insured may, if the policy is then in force, exchange it for an endowment policy for the same amount and continue the payment of premiums for eight years longer, at the end of which period the society will pay the endowment (less any indebtedness to the society thereon) together with the cash value of any dividend additions that may stand to its credit, to the insured or assigns, if the insured is living and the policy is then surrendered properly released. In the event of the prior death of the insured, if premiums have been duly paid and the contract is then in force, the principal amount due (together with any dividend additions be credited to it) will be paid to the beneficiary upon due proof of death and the surrender of the policy properly released.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY OF POLICY.—The insured (or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election) may, by written notice to the society at its home office, elect to have the net sum due under this policy upon the death of the insured, either paid in cash; or, (option 1) left on deposit with the society during the lifetime of the beneficiary, to be paid upon the death of the beneficiary, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. The society guarantees to pay interest on this deposit during its continuance at the rate of three per cent. If a higher average annual rate shall be earned by the society, the amount may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the society. (Option 2) Paid in a fixed number of annual instalments as set forth in the following table; or, (option 3) converted into a fixed income to the beneficiary for life, by the payment of a fixed amount annually for twenty years certain; said payments to be continued thereafter during said life as shown by the following table, provided that if this option be availed of, the society will require satisfactory evidence of the age of the payee. Under options 2 and 3, the amounts payable are based upon an assumed rate of interest of three per cent. If a higher average annual rate shall be earned by the society, the amount of the instalments under option 2 and of the first twenty instalments under option 3 may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the society. If one of the foregoing options is elected, this policy must be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary contract issued for the purpose of carrying out said option; under options 2 and 3 the supplementary contract is to be non-commutable, unless the insured otherwise orders during lifetime by written notice to the society at its home office.

CONVERTIBLE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $349.20 AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States hereby insures the life of Richard Roe (hereinafter called the insured), and agrees to pay at its home office in the city of New York ten thousand dollars to his wife, Margaret H. Roe, beneficiary (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary), upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in force and is then surrendered properly released.

CONVERSION OPTIONS AFTER FIVE YEARS.—At the end of the fifth year from the register date of this policy, and after premiums have been paid for five full years, the insured, or assigns, shall have the right to select one of the following options:

OPTION 1.—Continue the policy as an "Ordinary Life" contract. Continue the insurance as heretofore for $10,000 by continuing the payment of premiums as heretofore, less a cash reduction of 40 per cent., thus reducing the annual premium to $209.50 (including disability premium).

OPTION 2.—Continue policy as "Ordinary Life" contract, for increased amount. Continue the payment of the original premium ($349.20) (including disability premium) and increase the insurance to $15,060, payable at the maturity of the policy upon the death of the insured. Option 2 will only be granted subject to the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the Society for the increase in the amount of insurance.

OPTION 3.—Convert the policy into a "Limited Payment Life" contract. Continue the payment of the original premium for thirteen years longer, when the policy will become fully "paid up" for its face value ($10,000), payable upon the death of the insured.

OPTION 4.—Convert the policy into an Endowment contract. Having made the policy "paid-up," as provided for in Option 3, continue the payment of the original premium for nine additional years (unless the policy should mature previously in consequence of death), whereupon the policy will mature and its face ($10,000) will be paid to the insured in cash.

Note that written notice of the option selected must be given to the Society at its home office not later than the date on which the premium due at the beginning of the sixth year of insurance is payable. Otherwise Option 3 will apply automatically. If Option 1, 2, or 4 is selected, this policy must be properly released, and a new policy in accordance with the option selected will be issued.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, provided premiums have been duly paid.

RESTRICTIONS.—There are no restrictions under this policy on travel, residence, occupation, or military or naval service.

PREMIUMS.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment in advance of three hundred and forty-nine and ²⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, and of the payment annually thereafter of a like sum upon each fifteenth day of March, subject to the conversion and the total and permanent disability privileges herein stated.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy year, participate annually in the distribution of the surplus of the Society as ascertained and apportioned by it. Dividends, at the option of the insured (or of the assignee, if any) shall in each year, on the anniversary of the register date hereof, be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of premiums; or (3), applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance; or (4), left to accumulate at 3 per cent interest, compounded annually. If a higher average annual rate is earned, this may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the Society. This deposit will be payable upon the maturity of this policy or on any anniversary of its register date. Unless the insured (or the assignee, if any) shall elect one of the foregoing options within three months after the mailing by the Society of a written notice requiring such election, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance (Option 3). This additional insurance may be surrendered at any time for the cash value thereof, which shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

*The loan value is the cash value less interest to the premium anniversary date.

These values are exclusive of dividend additions, and are for completed policy years. Due allowance will be made for any fractional premium paid beyond completed policy years. If there are any dividend additions to this policy, these values will be increased thereby. They will be reduced, if there is any indebtedness hereon. The loan obtainable at the end of any given year may be secured during that year, if the premium for the entire year has been paid. Loan and surrender values for later years will be on the same basis, and will be furnished on request.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE FOREGOING TABLE.

LOANS.—At any time, while this policy is in force, after three full years' premiums have been paid, the society will advance on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security hereof a sum which, with interest, shall not exceed the cash value at the end of the then current policy year (as stated in the above table), less any indebtedness to the society hereon, provided all premiums or instalments of the same have been fully paid. Interest shall be at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and shall be payable on the premium anniversary date of this policy. The loan may be increased by the cash value of dividend additions credited to this policy, if any. Unless the loan is for the purpose of paying premiums due the society, the granting of the same may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal the total loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the insured, and to the assignee of record if any, to their addresses last known to the society.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon any subsequent default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, and within three months after such default, this policy may be surrendered by the insured (or assignee if any) who may elect either of the following options: (a) To receive the cash surrender value of this policy, the payment of which may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after the receipt of the application therefor; or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. In the event of default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof after this policy has been in force three full years, if the insured (or assignee if any) does not select either of said options within three months of such default, the policy shall become automatically paid-up under Option (b). If there be any indebtedness against this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby.

BASIS OF COMPUTATION.—The reserve for which funds are to be held upon this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at 3½% by the net level premium method. The values stated in the foregoing table are mathematical equivalents and each is equal to the full reserve at the end of the then current policy year, on the basis stated in the preceding paragraph, less a surrender charge of not more than two and one-half per cent. of the face of this policy. After the twenty-fifth policy year the surrender charge is ten per cent of the present value of the future net premiums payable, the resulting cash and paid-up values being taken to the nearest dollar.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—(1) If the insured, while less than sixty years of age and while this policy is in full force and effect, shall become totally and permanently disabled, and shall furnish due proof that he is physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he is rendered wholly and permanently unable to engage in any occupation or perform any work for any kind of compensation of financial value, and that such disability has then existed for not less than sixty days, the society will, upon receipt of said proof, waive the payment of any premium or premiums that may become payable thereafter under this policy during such disability. (2) And, six months after receipt of said proof of disability, the insured may draw a sum not to exceed one-tenth of the face amount of this policy and a like sum annually thereafter during the continuance of such disability. In the event of the death of the insured before the sums so drawn equal the face of the policy, the difference between the amount drawn and the face of the policy shall be payable to the beneficiary. (3) If the insured after he has attained the age of sixty shall furnish proof of disability as required in paragraph (1) above, the society will allow all premiums falling due after receipt of such proof to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract, and in such case the values in the table of loan and surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. (4) Each payment made under the terms of paragraph (2) above shall reduce, by its amount, the sum insured. If at the time any such payment becomes due there shall be an indebtedness on the policy in excess of the cash surrender value of the reduced amount of insurance, the society will apply such part of the payment as may be necessary to reduce the indebtedness to the amount secured by such cash surrender value. (5) If the society accepts proof of disability under this policy, it shall have the right at any time thereafter, but not more frequently than once a year, to demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it at any time appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made hereunder. But if the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced under any of the foregoing provisions, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due, as well as all benefits under the policy, will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance. (6) This privilege is granted in consideration of the payment of an additional premium of seven dollars and thirty cents with each annual premium payable, which is included in the whole premium charged for this policy, as stated on the second page hereof. The insured may upon any anniversary of this policy discontinue this agreement by returning this policy to the society for proper endorsement with a written request signed by the insured and thereafter the payment of the aforesaid additional premium shall not be required.

For provisions as to payment of premium, grace, beneficiary, assignments, reinstatement, age, the contract, agents and modes of settlement, see preceding policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.—PART I.

I hereby apply to The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States for a policy with the right of revocation. I hereby agree that the policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. All of the foregoing answers and all those made to the Society's Medical Examiner, which are contained in Part II hereof, are true, and are offered to the Society as an inducement to issue the policy for which application is hereby made.

Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $351.80.

AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, on or before its delivery, and the payment thereafter of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of June in every year until twenty full year's premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of John Doe, herein called the insured, of Des Moines, in the county of Polk, State of Iowa, promises to pay, at its home office in the city of Des Moines, Ia., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, (designated as beneficiary with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided) the sum of ten thousand dollars together with any paid-up additions, upon the legal surrender of this policy, and upon receipt at its said office of due proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in full force; any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy being first deducted therefrom.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may, at any time, subject to the rights of any assignee, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company. Such change shall take effect only upon its endorsement on the policy by the company, at its home office, and must be completed during the lifetime of the insured. If more than one beneficiary shall survive the insured, their shares in the proceeds of the policy shall be considered as equal, unless otherwise directed by the insured. The interest of any beneficiary who dies before the insured shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided by endorsement on this policy at the direction of the insured.

THE RESERVE on this policy shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest, and the full amount of such reserve, or the present value of any unpaid instalments, shall be secured by deposits of interest bearing securities with the Insurance Department of the State of Iowa, as required by law.

THIS POLICY is issued and accepted by all parties in interest with the express understanding that the contents of all of its pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa has, by its president or vice-president, and secretary, signed this contract, in the city of Des Moines, Ia., this first day of June, A.D., 1913

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

THE POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy, together with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is endorsed upon, or attached to, this policy when issued. No agent is authorized to make, modify, or discharge contracts, or to waive forfeitures.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age and under the company's rates at date of issue, unless the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall reside in any part of the Torrid Zone; or shall be personally engaged in the occupation of blasting; underground mining; submarine operations; aerial ascensions; handling electric wires or dynamos, where the voltage used is over 600; or as lineman; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars; or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or the manufacture or sale of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war, this policy shall become null and void, and all payments thereon forfeited.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums after the first, are due and payable in advance at the company's home office, but may be paid elsewhere to an authorized collecting agent in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, or secretary and countersigned by such agent. Failure to pay any premium, or any note accepted therefor, when due and payable, shall cause this policy to cease and determine and, unless reinstated, all payments made thereon shall remain the property of the company, except as hereinafter provided. The mode of premium payments may be changed, on any anniversary of the policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at rates now in use; but the payment of any premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date on which the next payment is due.

GRACE IN PAYMENT.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium, after the first; and if death occurs within the thirty-one days of grace, the unpaid portion of the then current year's premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, may be reinstated at any time within five years after date of default in premium payment, upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured, together with the payment of all premium arrears, with interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of all indebtedness existing against the policy, at the time of such default, with accumulated interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until the original or a duplicate thereof shall be filed at its home office; but in no case will the company be responsible for the sufficiency or validity of any assignment. Any claim against the company, arising under this policy, made by an assignee, shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest, and to any indebtedness to the company hereon.

DIVIDENDS AND HOW APPLIED.—Upon payment of the second annual premium, and annually thereafter, this policy shall, at the end of each year to which premiums have been fully paid, be credited with a dividend as apportioned by the company from the surplus to policies of the same age and class. Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, may be either: (First) applied to purchase paid-up additions to the policy, or, (second) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or, (third) paid in cash, or, (fourth) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with compound interest at the rate of not less than three and one-half per cent per annum, as determined by the company, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable at any time. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within one month after any dividend is due, the dividend shall be paid in cash, or applied under such other automatic option as may be required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered. Apportionment of dividends, as above, shall include the allotted surplus arising from paid-up additions while this policy is kept in full force, but not otherwise. Paid-up additions may be surrendered for their net value at any time.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—On written request and return of this policy for endorsement, any existing dividend additions hereon may, upon proper release, be used to convert this policy into a fully paid-up participating policy for its face amount, when the reserve on this policy and on such dividend additions equals the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, (on the reserve basis of this policy) for such a fully paid-up policy of the same kind and amount. Any indebtedness to the company, existing against this policy, will continue as a lien against the paid-up policy. When the reserve on this policy, and on any existing dividend additions, equals the face amount of this policy, the company will, upon due surrender of this policy and release of such dividend additions, pay the face amount of this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company thereon.

PRIVILEGE TO CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS.—At any time, upon legal surrender while in full force, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a participating policy of the same amount, bearing the same date and based upon the same age, on any plan (except the continuous monthly income) now issued by the company at a higher premium rate. The payment to the company for such exchange shall be the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and those required for the new policy, at the company's present rate, with compound interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum, and with adjustment of corresponding dividends.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

Whenever this policy becomes due and payable either by maturity, surrender, or the death of the insured, and there be no existing assignment, the insured, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, in case the insured shall not have otherwise directed, may, by written notice to the company and due surrender of this policy at its home office, elect to have the net proceeds of this policy paid in cash in one sum, or applied in one or more of the methods described in the following options, provided the amount to be applied under any one of such options is not less than $1000.

1. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest at the rate of three per cent of the amount left with the company as a principal sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment, upon the death of the payee, of said principal sum together with any accrued interest for the then current year, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's executors, administrators or assigns.

2. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments, the first being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount stated in table "B" herein set forth for each $1000 to be applied under this option, corresponding with the number of instalments so to be paid.

3. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments for 10, 15, 20 or 25 years certain, and continued thereafter so long as the payee shall live, the first instalment being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount stated in table "B," herein set forth for each $1000 to be applied under this option, corresponding with the attained age of the payee when this policy becomes payable, and the specified number of years certain.

PARTICIPATING SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT ISSUED.—A supplementary contract shall be issued for each option elected, which shall provide that the guaranteed income under Option 1; and the instalments under Option 2, or for the specified number of years certain under Option 3, on each anniversary after the payment of the first instalment; shall be increased by such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the company.

SURRENDER OF SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—Any instalments payable for the specified years certain under Options 2 or 3, remaining unpaid at the death of the payee, shall, on due surrender of the supplementary contract, be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of such payee, unless otherwise provided by the insured in the written notice of direction for settlement. Unless otherwise specified in said notice, the payee may, at any time, surrender any contract issued under Option 1, and withdraw the principal sum and accrued interest thereon; and may, at any time, surrender any contract issued under Option 2 and receive the commuted value of the instalments yet to be paid, computed upon the basis above specified. A contract issued under Option 3 cannot be surrendered for a commuted value except after the death of the payee, occurring within the specified years certain, as above required.

TABLE B.—Instalments for each thousand dollars of net proceeds to be applied.

NON-FORFEITURE, LOAN AND CASH SURRENDER PROVISIONS.

1st. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If, after the payment of premiums for three or more full years, default is made in the payment of a subsequent premium, this policy shall, upon such default, without action on the part of the insured, continue as a reduced, paid-up non-participating policy for the amount set forth in Table A below, together with any outstanding paid-up additions; or,

2nd. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Upon written application of the insured and assigns, if any, and the presentation of this policy at the home office for endorsement, within three months after the date of such default, the company will continue the full amount of this policy as non-participating, extended term insurance for the term stated in Table A below, counting from the date of default in premium payment. Any outstanding paid-up additions shall remain in force, unless surrendered for cash. Any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of this policy, if not paid, will reduce the amount of paid-up or extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the cash value of this policy at the time of default in premium payment as shown in Table A.

3rd. CASH SURRENDER.—Upon request of the insured and assigns, if any, and the legal release and surrender of this policy at its home office, at the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, or within the thirty-one days' grace provided herein, premiums having been paid in full to the end of such year, the company will pay in cash, to the legal owner hereof, the amount stated in Table A below, together with the value of any existing dividend additions, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Payment of such cash surrender value may, in case of necessity, be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made.

4th. POLICY LOANS.—After the payment of premiums for three or more full years, there being no default in any premium payment, the company will, at any time, loan, on proper assignment and deposit of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, at not to exceed six per cent per annum interest, (which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest) a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of this policy, less than, the amount stated in Table A below, together with the value of any existing dividend additions; deducting therefrom interest in advance to the end of the current policy year and all existing indebtedness to the company hereon. Failure to repay any policy loan and interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value hereunder, in which case the policy shall immediately cease and become void; but such termination shall not take effect until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assigns, if any, on record at the home office. Such loan may, in case of necessity, be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The whole or part of a loan may be repaid at any time while the policy is in force.

In case this policy shall, according to its terms, become a reduced, paid-up, non-participating policy, its cash and loan value shall be the full reserve, less not to exceed one and one-half per cent of the amount insured thereunder.

The following table shows the values guaranteed under this policy, upon the assumption that premiums have been fully paid in cash for the completed years stated, except that outstanding dividend additions, if any, will increase, and any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of this policy, will diminish said values, in the manner above stated. Values for intermediate periods, after the third year, will be proportionately adjusted.

The values stated in the above table, at the end of each policy year, are mathematical equivalents, and are based on the full reserve on this policy, less a surrender charge which does not exceed one and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, and decreases annually until the fourteenth year, after which there is no surrender charge. Values for other and later years will be furnished upon request.

NOTE.—While any owner of this policy (either as beneficiary or by assignment) is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly appointed legal guardian.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART 1.—I hereby agree that, if within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon, I shall reside in any part of the Torrid Zone, or shall personally engage in the occupation of blasting; underground mining; submarine operations; aerial ascensions; handling electric wires or dynamos where the voltage used is over 600; or as a lineman; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars; or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or in the manufacture or sale of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war, any policy issued hereon shall become null and void and all payments made thereon be forfeited to said company. I further agree that if within the said one year I shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company under any policy issued hereon shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy. I also agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the approval of this application by the company at its home office; but if the first premium required thereon shall not have been paid to the company or its agents before such approval, the policy issued hereon shall not take effect until it is delivered and the premium actually paid while I am in good health. I hereby declare the foregoing statements and representations, together with those I shall make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, to be true without evasion or concealment.

PART 2.—I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that they shall form a part of the contract of insurance applied for, and I expressly waive on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Equitable Life Insurance Company (D. C.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.70. AGE, 35.

Equitable Life Insurance Company, of the District of Columbia, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is made a part of this contract, and of the payment of premiums as herein-after provided, hereby insures the life of George Washington, of the District of Columbia, (herein called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the term of life, payable at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., to Mary Washington, his wife, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. Any error made in stating the age of the insured will be adjusted by paying such amount as the premium paid would purchase at the correct age. Any indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid instalments of the then current year's premium will be deducted from the sum insured.

The annual premium of two hundred and ninety-seven dollars and seventy cents will be payable by the insured on delivery hereof and on the first day of January in each year at the company's office in Washington, D. C., or to agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, should that event sooner occur. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept one hundred and fifty-four dollars and eighty cents semi-annually in advance, or seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents quarter-annually in advance.

Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

This policy together with the application, a copy of which is attached hereto, contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defence to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy. The provisions and benefits printed or written by the company on the following pages hereof, are a part of this policy.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of January 1, 1911 and said date shall be taken as the beginning of the first policy year and of the insurance hereunder.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—Self-destruction within one year from the date hereof, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such case the company will pay the amount of the net reserve held against this policy. This policy will be incontestable after two years from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

PRELIMINARY TERM AND RESERVE.—The first year's insurance under this policy is Term Insurance. The surrender values are based upon the American Experience Mortality Table with three and one-half per centum interest per annum, and the net value of any such surrender value is at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy, according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, such change to take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease; provided, however, that the insured shall have attained to majority, according to the laws of the state or territory in which the insured resides. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

LOAN PROVISIONS. CASH LOANS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value, upon receipt of the policy and a certificate of loan satisfactory to the company. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed 6% per annum.

The loan may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner hereof, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that the then loan value shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy, shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the provision "cash loans." Such charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt of a satisfactory request therefor. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed, without furnishing any evidence of the good health of the insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy is legally surrendered to the company within three months after the end of the second year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums, required by the terms of this policy, to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor the sum indicated by the accompanying table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value, the company will issue a paid-up life policy as specified in the accompanying table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums shall have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a paid-up term policy for the full amount insured by this policy, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums shall have been paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the accompanying table; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up term policy shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of such indebtedness and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICIES.—If there be default in any premium payments, as above, and a paid-up life policy or a paid-up term policy be issued in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

INCREASED VALUES FOR SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—As the payment of an annual premium increases the non-forfeiture values herein described, so the payment of each semi-annual or quarterly premium, due after two years from the date hereof, will make a proportionate increase in the values (all fractions being omitted) which the company will allow at the end of any full paid half or quarter of a partially paid policy year.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of lapse of this policy, provided it has not been surrendered to the company for its cash value, it may be reinstated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of all arrears of premiums, with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against this policy at time of lapse, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest, at the option of the owner, shall be repaid in cash, or, to the extent allowed by the loan value, remain as an indebtedness against this policy.

CONVERTIBLE INTO OTHER FORMS OF POLICY.—At any time within five years from the date hereof this policy, if in force and not assigned, may be surrendered by the in-insured to the company at its office in Washington, District of Columbia, for a new life or endowment policy of equivalent amount, requiring the payment of a higher rate of premium yearly, without re-examination. The new policy will bear the date of the surrender of this policy and the premium thereon will be according to the tables then in use and the attained age of the insured. If upon surrender of this policy as above the insured shall pay to the company the difference between the premiums which would have been payable on the new policy if it had been issued at the same time as this policy, and the premiums paid hereunder for the same amount of insurance, with interest on such difference at not to exceed six per cent yearly, the new policy will be treated as if it bore the date of this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its head office. The company assumes no liability as to the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

ALTERATION AND ENDORSEMENT.—No modification or alteration hereof or endorsement hereon will be valid unless made by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or the actuary, and no other person is authorized on behalf of the company to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to modify or waive any of the terms and conditions of this policy nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

OPTIONS AT SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee under this policy, whether the claim is on account of the death of the insured or the surrender of the policy, may elect to have the net sum payable hereunder paid or applied in any method described in the following options:

1. CASH.—The payment in cash.

2. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, on the amount left with the company as a principal sum, which interest is to be payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment of said principal sum, with any accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the death of the said payee, to his or her executors, administrators or assigns. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may secure the payment of the principal sum in cash at any time upon satisfactory release therefor.

3. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately), the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table of rates, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments. If the payee should die before all of the specified number of instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said specified number of instalments, or their commuted value, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

4. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for twenty years and as many years thereafter as the payee shall live, twenty such instalments being paid whether the payee lives or dies, the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments certain; subsequent payments being in no wise affected by such commutation. If the payee should die before twenty such annual instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said twenty instalments, or their commuted value, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. At any time while this policy is in force and unassigned the company, upon written request of the insured, will by endorsement limit the payment of any claim by death to any one of the above described "options at settlements." If the policy is assigned, the signature of the owner will be required. Revocation of such limitation may be similarly secured.

Under either instalment option, annual instalments may be taken in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $8.45 paid monthly.

ILLUSTRATION.—The equivalent of $214 in annual instalments is ($214 x .0845) $18.08 paid monthly.

OPTION 3. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected.

CESSATION OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS IN EVENT OF PERMANENT DISABILITY BEFORE ATTAINING SIXTY YEARS OF AGE.

In consideration of the payment for disability insurance of an extra annual premium of two and ⁵⁰/₁₀₀ dollars ($2.50) in addition to regular premium under this policy, beginning with the date hereof and payable at the same time, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as to payment as the regular premium under this policy, and subject to the terms hereof, it is specially agreed that if the insured, while less than sixty years of age, and after the said first extra premium has been paid to the company, shall furnish due proof to the company, while the policy, including this agreement, is in full force and effect, that he, at any time after the date hereof, from any cause whatsoever shall have become permanently disabled or physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he by reason of such disability or incapacity is rendered wholly and permanently unable to engage in any occupation or perform any work for any kind of compensation of financial value, the company upon receipt of such proof will by endorsement hereon waive the payment of any premium or premiums that may become payable thereafter under this policy. Provided, however, that if the insured at any time after such waiver shall recover his physical or mental ability or capacity for work as above defined, any premium or premiums falling due thereafter shall be paid by the insured in accordance with the terms of the policy.

If payment of premiums shall be waived, as above, the policy shall in all respects be considered as if payment of the premiums actually waived had been made to the company, and, accordingly, the loan and surrender values tabulated in the policy shall in no way be modified by such waiver and no deduction on account of such waiver shall be made in any payment under the policy.

The insured upon demand by the company at any time during the period of such waiver of premiums shall furnish due proof that he actually continues in a state of disability, as above defined, and in case of failure so to do the insured shall be deemed to have recovered from such state of disability.

It is specially agreed that permanent loss of the sight of both eyes, or loss by severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one hand and one foot, shall be considered disability or incapacity within the meaning of this provision.

This endorsement may be canceled upon any anniversary of the policy upon written request to the company made by the insured, whereupon the above specified extra premium shall be no longer payable and the entire premium payable under this policy shall be reduced to two hundred, ninety-seven and ⁷⁰/₁₀₀ dollars ($297.70), annually, but in no event shall payment of said extra premium be required after the insured shall have attained sixty years of age.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the provisions and benefits therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application, and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which be thereby acquired.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Farmers Life Insurance Company of America.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $284.70. AGE, 35.

The Farmers Life Insurance Company of America (hereinafter called the company) home office, Denver, Colo., in consideration of the payment of the premium of two hundred eighty-four and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, hereby insures the life of James R. Denver (the insured), of Manitou in the State of Colorado for the term ending with the first day of September one year from the date hereof, and agrees that such insurance shall be renewed for the whole period of the insured's life by the payment of an annual premium of two hundred eighty-four and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of September and on each succeeding anniversary of said date until twenty full annual premiums in all shall have been paid, or until the prior death or satisfactory proof of the total and permanent disability of the insured (in which event no further premiums will be required) and by such insurance, promises upon the surrender of the policy, to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Denver (wife) if living, otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, at the home office of the company in the city of Denver, Colorado, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date, except for non-payment of premium.

The terms, conditions, privileges and options endorsed on second and third pages hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereunto affixed.

The full reserve on this policy is deposited with the insurance commissioner in approved securities as required by and in accordance with the compulsory reserve deposit law of the State of Colorado.

In witness whereof. The Farmers Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this first day of September, 1915.

LOAN PRIVILEGES.—After three (3) full annual premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, upon the proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six (6) per cent per annum, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal, and bear the same rate of interest, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the table of cash or loan values herein set forth, less any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to pay any such loan at maturity, or to pay the interest thereon when due, shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy at the time of such default, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address at the home office of the company of the insured and of the assignee, if any. The loan, with accrued interest, may be repaid to the company at any time.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, during the premium-paying period and prior to attaining the age of sixty-five years, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by reason of bodily or mental injuries or disease, so as to be prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all remunerative occupations, then the company by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, all values herein shall increase in like manner as if premiums were duly paid by the insured. So long as the company continues to pay the premiums under this agreement, it is understood that the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of continued total and permanent disability whenever called upon, not oftener than once a year; and on failure to furnish such proof upon request, or if the insured shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, then from the date of failure to furnish such proof, or from the date of such recovery, the obligation on the part of the insured to make payment of premiums in accordance with this contract shall be completely revived and restored with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein. In addition to, or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, as a total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

NON-FORFEITURE AND OTHER PRIVILEGES.—After payment of premiums for three (3) or more full years, the following options shall be effective:

(1) PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE.—At any time prior to or within thirty (30) days after default in the payment of any premium, the company will, upon written request, issue to the owner at his election, (a) extended insurance, without the right to loans, for the amount of this policy, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (b) paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy.

(2) CASH SURRENDER VALUES.—At any time within thirty (30) days after default in the payment of any premium the company will, upon written request and surrender of this policy, pay to the owner thereof the full cash surrender value, less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

(3) PREMIUMS PAID AUTOMATICALLY.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid within the days of grace, while this contract is in force, then such premium, without any request or action on the part of the insured, shall be charged as an automatic policy loan, with interest at six (6) per cent per annum, compounded annually, if the loan value of the policy at the date of such default be sufficient to cover such loan in addition to any existing indebtedness hereon. If the loan value or balance thereof shall not be sufficient to pay the entire premium due, then it shall be used, if sufficient, to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than an entire quarterly premium, and if not sufficient to pay a quarterly premium this policy shall cease to be in force and any residue of the surrender value of the policy shall be paid in cash on surrender of the same. The accumulation of such automatic policy loans, with accrued interest thereon, shall be a first lien on the policy, but may be paid at any time in whole or in part.

(4) EXPLANATION OF TERMS.—The cash or loan value will be the full reserve on this policy at the date of default, and the term for which the insurance will be extended, or the amount of the paid-up policy, will be such as the cash value of this policy will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured; and all such values will be computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of four (4) per cent per annum less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The making of loans or the payment of the cash surrender value of this policy may be deferred by the company for a period of not more than six (6) months after receipt of the application therefor.

Values for later years not specified in the above table will be furnished upon request.

(1) PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not become effective until the same is delivered and the first premium thereon paid to the company while the insured is in sound health. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Denver, Col., or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or general manager, and countersigned by the agent designated thereon, unless the first payment is set forth in the policy, in which case the policy itself shall be a receipt. If default be made in the payment of the first or any subsequent premium, or any part thereof, or of any note, check or other obligation given on account thereof, this policy shall be void, except as provided in the non-forfeiture clauses and options on surrender herein provided. Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance. No person except an executive officer of the company, as aforesaid, has power to modify this policy or extend the time of paying premiums, and any such modification or extension must be in writing and over the signature of an executive officer of the company as aforesaid.

(2) GRACE.—The insured is entitled to a grace of thirty-one (31) days within which the payment of any premium, other than that of the first year, may be made, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum. If the policy becomes a claim during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from the amount payable in any settlement hereunder.

(3) INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this contract, or otherwise, including any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year at the date of death, will be a lien upon this policy, and will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. If any premium, or any note given for any premium, is not paid on or before the date when due, this policy shall terminate, except as herein otherwise provided.

(4) SUICIDE.—Death by self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one (1) year from date of issue hereof, shall render this policy null and void.

(5) MIS-STATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been mis-stated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

(6) ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until such assignment, or an original duplicate thereof, duly acknowledged, is filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

(7) RE-INSTALLMENT.—Within three (3) years after default in any premium payment, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be re-instated upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy, with interest at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum, compounded annually from the date of lapse.

(8) CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy may be changed by the insured at any time, and from time to time during its continuance, unless prohibited by legislative enactment, provided the policy has not been assigned, by filing with the company the written request of the insured, duly acknowledged, and accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change of beneficiary, however, shall become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If the person legally designated by the insured as beneficiary hereunder be not alive when this policy becomes a claim, the proceeds hereof shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

(9) ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy, together with the written application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, and made part of this policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and no statement made by the insured shall avoid this policy nor be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless such statement is contained in said application. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:

(1) By the payment of interest thereon at four per cent per annum, payable annually, to the beneficiary under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

(2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

(3) By the payment of equal annual instalments, payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years or for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured the beneficiary may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I, the undersigned, do hereby certify, that I am the applicant for life insurance mentioned and described in the foregoing statements, representations, questions and answers; that I have read and fully understand each and every one of said statements, representations, questions and answers; that said answers, statements and representations, and each and all of them as above written are the answers, statements and representations given and made by me and were written by me or under my direction and in my presence. And I do further declare and agree that each and every one of said answers, statements and representations made by me as aforesaid is and are material to this application and any action taken thereon by said The Farmers Life Insurance Company, and I warrant and declare each and every one of said answers, statements and representations to be full, complete and true, and that if either or any of said answers, statements or representations be not full and complete, or if either or any of them be untrue in any respect, then and in such case any policy issued hereon shall be null and void from the beginning, except as shall be otherwise expressly provided in this policy.

I do further agree that any policy, issued upon this application and accepted by me, whether of the form or kind hereby applied for or otherwise, shall be dated as of the date of the approval of this application unless such date would increase my rated age, in which case said policy shall bear the same date as the first part of this application, but shall not take effect until actually delivered to me and the first premium actually paid the company; that in determining the due date of any premium, the reckoning shall be from the date of the policy.

And I further hereby agree that this application, and everything therein, contained shall be and constitute a part of any policy issued thereupon.

I hereby certify that all of the above statements and answers are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

Farmers National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.40. AGE, 35.

The Farmers National Life Insurance Company of America, home office, East Chicago, Ind., executive offices, Chicago, Ill., hereby insures the life of John Thomas Thrifty (hereinafter called the insured), of East Chicago, State of Indiana, and agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at the executive office of the company at Chicago, Illinois, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract to Mary Belle Thrifty, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiaries as hereinafter provided.

This contract of insurance is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and in the further consideration of the sum of three hundred sixty-nine dollars and forty cents to be paid in advance to the company on or before the delivery of this policy and of the further annual payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the fifteen day of March in each year until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums and for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military and naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written and printed application therefor. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—At any time after one full annual premium has been paid and before the default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement thereon, will waive payment of the subsequent annual premiums, if any, as they shall become due. In such case, the premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this contract and the values provided for in the table given herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured.

Provided, however, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; that should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, he shall then resume payment of subsequent premiums in accordance with the contract on the first premium due date following such recovery.

The irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

If the insured, after attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory evidence of a like permanent and total disability, the company, without any further action on the part of the insured, will waive the subsequent premiums becoming due and charge the same, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In such case, the values provided in the table herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, except such times as it may be in force as extended insurance, and the proportion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy shall be ascertained and apportioned by the company as a dividend at the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter. The dividend so accredited, at the option of the owner may be either: (1) withdrawn in cash; or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating additions payable at the maturity of the policy; or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of its date. Unless the owner shall elect otherwise, in writing, the apportioned dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy in accordance with the fourth option.

Whenever the reserve on existing paid-up additions, together with the reserve under this policy, shall be equal to or greater than the net single premium by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, for an amount of insurance equal to the face value of this policy at the attained age of the insured, at the written request of the insured, the company will issue a paid-up non-participating policy for the full amount insured hereby (provided this policy is free from indebtedness) upon the surrender of this policy to the company.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, no default having been made in the payment of any premium hereunder, the company will loan, except such time as the policy shall be in force as extended insurance, upon the sole security hereof upon the execution of a proper loan agreement, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the following table opposite the current policy year, plus the reserve on any dividend additions to the policy; provided, (1) that the policy shall be duly assigned to the company as security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid in advance for the remainder of the current policy year; interest at the same rate will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter, which interest, if not paid, will be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate; (3) that in determining the loan available, there shall be deducted from the loan value herein all existing policy indebtedness; (4) that failure to repay said loan, or interest thereon when due, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, or to the assignee, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After this policy has been in force for three full years, upon default or within thirty-one days after default in the payment of any premium, the owner may select any of the plans of surrender settlements named in the following table, namely:

CASH SURRENDER.—(A) To surrender this policy to the company for its cash surrender value as shown in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, less any indebtedness, if any, to the company on account of this policy, which cash value shall not be less than the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—(B) To surrender this policy to the company for the amount of paid-up non-participating insurance as shown in the table of loan and surrender values opposite the number of years for which complete annual premiums have been paid, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, provided that any existing indebtedness on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, will reduce proportionately the amount of paid-up insurance.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(C) If this policy is not surrendered as above, the insurance without any action on the part of the insured will be automatically extended as paid-up non-participating term insurance, without loan or cash values from the date of default in premium payments for a sum equal to the face amount of this policy, for the period specified in the table of loan and surrender values, opposite the number of years for which complete annual premiums have been paid, provided, any existing indebtedness to the company on account of or accrued by this policy, if not paid in cash, will reduce the amount of the extended insurance in the ratio which such indebtedness bears to the net value of such extended insurance.

Dividend additions to the policy will increase the values of the table in the proportion of the increase in the reserve from such additions.

The figures in the following table are available less any indebtedness on the policy.

The reserve upon this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest; the values in the above table are based upon the said reserve and in no case does the surrender charge exceed two and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The values after the years shown in the table shall be equivalent to the full reserve on the policy and will be furnished upon application.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

DEATH CLAIMS.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force for one year a grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum, will be granted in the payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force. Should the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

CHANGE OF FORM.—At any anniversary of this policy, upon a written notice to the company by the insured and while the policy is in full force and provided the insured is less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged without medical re-examination for any form of policy issued by the company; provided the amount of insurance under such policy shall not be greater nor the rate of premiums less than under this policy. Such change shall be effective upon a payment of a sum equal to the difference between the annual premiums on the two policies, with interest compounded at five per cent per annum from the date of each payment to the date of the change; the company will issue a new policy to date concurrently with the date of this insurance upon the surrender and cancellation of this policy; or the company will issue a new policy to date concurrently with the date of exchange, in which case the net reserve value of this contract will be applied towards the payment of premiums on the new contract.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the executive office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such agent. Premiums may be paid semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the company's rate therefor, but the payment of a premium or installment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of a lapse or forfeiture of this policy it may be reinstated at any time during the life of the insured, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and the payment of unpaid premiums to the date of reinstatement with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum and the payment of or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with five per cent interest from that date.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with the company at its offices. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment. All claims under assignment are subject to satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest in the life of the insured.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, while this policy is in force, provided it has not been assigned, and subject to the rules of the company regarding assignments and beneficiaries, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time by written notice to the company; such change will take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company.

SUICIDE.—Suicide or death in consequence of violation of law, the insured being sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, are not risks assumed by the company, but in such case the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premiums paid hereon.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement thereof or any benefit thereunder. In the event of a claim by death of the insured, any unpaid premiums for the then current policy year shall be deemed a policy indebtedness. No agent is authorized to make, modify or waive any provision of this contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, nor to arrange for the payment of the same, or to bind the company by making any promise or representation not expressed in this contract. This policy shall not become binding upon the company until the first annual premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the possession of this policy is not evidence that the first premium has been paid. In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, only the reserve on this policy at the time of the death will be paid.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured made no election, provided there is no assignment of the policy as shown by the records of the company, may elect by written notice upon the company's form, to have each thousand dollars of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death paid to the beneficiary in annual installments as stated in the options below, subject to the following provisions:

LIMITED INSTALLMENT.—For each $1,000 payable at maturity.—Option 1. Ten annual installments of $116.17 each, amounting to $1,161.70. Option 2. Fifteen annual installments of $83.88 each, amounting to $1,258.20. Option 3. Twenty annual installments of $67.98 each, amounting to $1,359.60. Option 4. Payment of $10,000 the face amount of this policy in twenty equal annual installments and an additional payment of one-half the face amount $5000 in one sum twenty years after the payment of the first installment.

CONTINUOUS INSTALLMENTS.—The amount of the installments to be determined by the age of the beneficiary's nearest birthday at the death of insured. Option 5. Twenty annual installments certain, but installments to continue during the lifetime of the beneficiary and as shown by the following table for this option. If the beneficiary should die before the twenty installments have been paid, the remainder of the twenty installments will be paid to the estate of the beneficiary. Option 6. Annual installments payable during the life of the beneficiary and as shown by the following tables for this option. Amount of each installment per $1,000 of insurance opposite attained age of beneficiary at death of the insured.

The first installment under any option will be payable upon the acceptance of due proof of death of the insured and subsequent installments will be payable on the succeeding anniversaries.

The insured, or the beneficiary as before provided, at any time subsequent to such selection may change to any other installment option named, and may also revoke any selection made, thereby making the policy payable in one sum.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid installments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured, in writing, and endorsed on the policy by the company at its executive office during the lifetime of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Farmers National Life Insurance Company of America has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its executive offices in the city of Chicago, Illinois, this fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirteen.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that the company will incur no liability until this application has been approved by the company at its executive offices, Chicago, Illinois, and that the policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first year's premium has been paid during my good health. I declare I am temperate in my habits, and have no diseases or ailments not fully stated in my medical examination and that all my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner are and will be, full and true and I agree that they shall be the basis of the contract of insurance issued hereon. I agree to complete the application within thirty days by taking a medical examination of the company's examiner, which examination is hereby made a part of this application. I agree to accept the policy named herein when the risk is accepted by the company.

*Adopted January 1, 1908.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

Federal Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $362.20.

AGE, 35

Federal Life Insurance Company, Chicago, hereby insures the life of John Blank (hereinafter known as the insured), and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Blank, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns upon receipt at its home office, in the city of Chicago, Illinois, or due proof of the death of the said insured, this policy being then in force.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, provided that it has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance hereof by filing with the company a written request, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take place upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the company. Without the consent of the beneficiary the insured may receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on him by this policy.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1st.) Surrender this policy and receive $5,661.50 plus any dividends then due and unpaid. (2d.) Surrender this policy and receive in lieu thereof a paid-up life policy for $10,000 and receive any dividends then due and unpaid in cash. (3d.) Surrender this policy and receive in lieu thereof an annual income of $440 for life, and receive any dividends then due and unpaid in cash.

This policy contains all the standard provisions required by the laws of Illinois and contains no provisions prohibited by such laws.

OPTIONS AND PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS. WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums after the first are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Chicago or to suitable persons authorized to receive such premiums, at other places on or before the due dates, but only on the production of the company's receipt therefor, signed by its secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by the authorized person to whom the payment is made. Although this contract is based on the receipt of premiums annually in advance, the renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, in advance, the amount of which will be named by the company on application. If any premium or part thereof be settled by the note of any person, and the same or interest thereon shall not be paid when due, or any premium or part of a premium shall not be paid when due or within the period of grace, this policy shall become void, except as otherwise herein provided, without notice to any person interested. In any settlement of this policy on account of the death of the insured or upon the payment of the cash surrender value hereof, any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted including any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after two years from the date of issue for the amount due except for non-payment of any premium, provided however that if the age was mis-stated in the application, then the company shall be liable for such an amount as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age.

Should death occur as a result of any illegal act or from suicide, sane or insane, intentional or unintentional, within two years from the date hereof, the liability of the company shall be limited to the premiums actually paid hereon.

GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed for the payment of any premium hereon, except the first, and during such time this policy will continue in full force and effect.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due or within the period of grace, prior request therefor having been made by the insured, the company shall charge the same as a loan with interest at not to exceed 6% per annum against this policy, if the loan value specified on the third page herein be sufficient to cover such loan in addition to the existing indebtedness and accrued interest, otherwise the company shall apply the available loan value to pay the premium for a proportionate period, and at any time while this policy is thus sustained in force the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical examination. This provision may be revoked by the insured in writing at any time prior to default in premium payment.

DIVIDENDS.—The proportion of surplus to which this policy may be entitled shall be provisionally calculated at the end of the third year and annually thereafter, and dividends shall be apportioned therefrom at the end of the fifth year and annually thereafter, and at the request of the insured may be used in any of the one following ways, viz.: (1) Applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (2) To purchase paid-insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy upon satisfactory evidence of good health, or (3) Left to accumulate to the credit of this policy with interest compounded annually at $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ payable at the maturity of this policy but withdrawable at any time in cash upon thirty days' written notice to the company, or (4) Received in cash. In case no option is selected by the insured the dividend shall be paid in cash.

PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID UP WITH SURPLUS.—Whenever at the end of any policy year, the surplus is sufficient to prepay all premiums, no further premiums will be required.

SURPLUS TO BE PAID IN EVENT OF DEATH.—In event of the death of the insured all surplus which has been apportioned as herein provided, and not withdrawn or applied, will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default, this policy will be reinstated upon written application therefor, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and also subject to any indebtedness existing against the policy at the date of default with interest thereon and the payment of past due premiums with interest thereon at not to exceed 6% per annum.

ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment hereof must be made in duplicate on blanks furnished by the company. Both duplicates, with the policy, must be sent to the home office, one to be there filed, the other attached to the policy, after which the policy will be returned. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest, the company assuming no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor taken together constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied nor any of its terms waived except in writing endorsed hereon and signed by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, Chicago. The statements of the insured, in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall void the contract unless contained in said application. No agent has authority to waive, modify or change any of the terms hereof or to deliver any policy contrary to its provisions or the agreements contained in the application herefor.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—Upon default in the payment of any premium after three full years' premiums shall have been paid in cash, and while this policy is in force the reserve value at the end of any policy year, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent (less a deduction in no case exceeding one per cent of the amount of the insurance hereunder and decreasing 1-10 of such deduction annually until the thirteenth year, after which there will be no such deduction), may be used at the option of the insured in any one of the following ways (all of equal value) as set forth in the following tables, provided there be no indebtedness against this policy.

OPTION 1.—Received in cash upon surrender of this policy before the expiration of the days of grace. (Column 1, table below.)

OPTION 2.—Applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating insurance on written request and the surrender of this policy before the expiration of the days of grace. (Column 2, table below.)

OPTION 3.—Applied to the extension of this policy as non-participating term insurance from the date to which premiums have been paid in cash without any further payments and without the right to loans or cash surrender values. (Column 3, table below.) If no request has been made by the insured for the extension of this policy under the automatic non-forfeiture provisions thereof, and if no option has been exercised by the insured during the days of grace, this policy will be continued under option 3.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after premiums for three years shall have been paid hereon and while this policy is in full force, upon proper assignment thereof and execution of proper loan agreement by the insured on forms furnished by the company, the company will loan on the sole security thereof with interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, the whole or any part of the loan value of the policy, as hereinafter set forth in table below; provided that from such loan the company will deduct any indebtedness hereon and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon, shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

The guaranteed values in the above tables will be increased by the equivalent of the full reserve on any dividend addition hereon.

The values for the years not specified in the tables will be the equivalent of the full reserve according to the above standard and will be furnished the insured upon written request, this policy being then in force. Should there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, the same will be deducted from the cash value and the amount of extended and paid-up insurance will be such as the reduced cash value will purchase at net single premium rates.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, allowance will be made in computing benefits for that portion of a year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums paid.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Without change of premium this policy, if not assigned, may be made payable in instalments of a definite number or in continuous instalments as provided in the table on the following page.

MONTHLY INSTALMENT PROVISION.—By request of the insured in writing the proceeds of this policy payable as a death benefit may be made in 240 instalments of $5.75 each for each $1,000 payable hereunder, the first one payable immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured and one each on the first day of each succeeding month until 240 such instalments shall have been paid. In case the beneficiary at the time of the death of the said insured hereunder shall not live to receive all of the said instalments the remaining instalments shall be commuted on the basis of three and half (3½) per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the estate of the said beneficiary. This policy being for $10,000 the monthly instalments so payable hereunder would be $57.50 each.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and in consideration of the payment of three hundred sixty-two and ²⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, payable in advance, and in further consideration of the payment of a like amount on the seventeenth day of September in each and every year for nineteen years, or until the prior death of the insured. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

FREEDOM OF TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to occupation, residence, travel or place of death. No extra premium will be required from the insured for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

TABLE OF INSTALMENTS.—Upon written request of the insured made to the company at its home office at any time when this policy is not assigned, the insurance payable hereunder will be converted into instalments under one of the rights described below. And similarly the insured will be privileged to change the manner of payment from time to time, from one right to another, as shown below, or again have the policy made payable in one sum as originally provided. No change shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. One instalment shall be paid immediately upon the maturity of this policy or upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, and annually thereafter till all are paid. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted by the beneficiary unless such right is given by the insured in writing to the beneficiary.

RIGHT NO. 1.—In ten annual instalments of $116.20 each, amounting in all to $1,162.00.

RIGHT NO. 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $83.90 each, amounting in all to $1,258.50.

RIGHT NO. 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $68.00 each, amounting in all to $1,360.00.

RIGHT NO. 4.—In twenty-five annual instalments of $58.60 each, amounting in all to $1,465.00.

RIGHT NO. 5.—In annual instalments to continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be as shown below, based on the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured. Should the beneficiary die before twenty such payments shall have been made, the company will pay to the estate of the insured or of the beneficiary as requested, or to a second beneficiary if one be nominated by the insured, a sufficient number of instalments to make twenty in all; and when so paid this policy shall be surrendered to the company and be deemed satisfied in full.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree that no statements, promises, representations, notice or information made given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person shall be binding on said Federal Life Insurance Company or in any manner affect its rights unless the same be reduced to writing, made a part of this application and approved in writing by the president, vice-president or secretary of said company.

PART II.—I hereby authorize any physician to disclose to the said Federal Life Insurance Company, its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to him or acquired by him as my physician or in any other manner; and I expressly waive any and all provisions of law now existing, or that may hereafter exist, exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in a professional capacity or otherwise, or rendering any such physician incompetent as a witness. I agree that each and all of the statements and answers contained in this application, consisting of Parts I and II, are full, true and complete in every respect, and are offered to said company as a consideration for a contract of insurance, which shall not take effect until the policy shall have been actually delivered to me and the first premium shall have been actually paid during my life and while I am in good health. I further agree, that any distribution of surplus or dividends on any policy issued hereunder, shall be in accordance with the plan and method then in use by said company for such distribution, and its determination of any and all distributions under said policy shall be and hereby is ratified and accepted by me and by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under said policy. In case any premium shall not be paid when due I hereby authorize the company to charge the same as a loan against the policy according to its terms, unless otherwise requested by me in writing prior to the due date of such premium. I hereby certify that before signing I have read each and all of the above questions, statements, answers and agreements in this Part II of my application.

Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $374.90. AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay (face amount of policy) ten thousand dollars (beneficiary) to Mary Doe, wife of the insured (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided) upon receipt, at its head office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., of due proof of the death, while this policy is in force, (insured) of John Doe.

This contract is made in consideration of the application of the above-named insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and the payment to said company on the delivery of this policy, of (premium) three hundred, seventy-four and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars (premium date) and a like sum upon each fifteenth day of January thereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums.

There are no restrictions under this policy as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service. The benefits, conditions and provisions stated on the second, third and fourth pages hereof, are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary at its head office in Philadelphia, Pa., this fifteenth day of January, 1914

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Every premium is due and payable at the head office of the company in the city of Philadelphia, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president and treasurer of the company and countersigned by said agent. The premiums are payable annually in advance, but by request in writing, and not otherwise, may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die within the days of grace, the amount of such premium together with any unpaid instalments of premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium. Upon default in the payment of any premium, or premium obligation, this policy shall immediately cease and determine and become void, and all premiums previously paid shall be forfeited to the company except as hereinafter provided.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually. Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year while this policy is in force, the company will determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon. The owner of this policy shall have the right, each year on the premium date specified on the first page hereof, to have the current dividend arising from such participation either (a) paid in cash, or (b) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (c) applied to the purchase of a participating paid-up addition to this policy, or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of this policy, at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, but not less than 3 per cent, compounded and credited annually, and payable at the maturity of this policy or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four options recited above, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to this policy. Any outstanding paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum which, together with interest to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid portion of the premiums for the current policy year and all other indebtedness hereon to the company, shall not exceed the cash surrender value of this policy at the end of the current policy year. Interest on such advances will be at the rate of 6 per cent per annum payable annually on the premium date specified on first page hereof, and any interest not paid when due shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Any advance with accrued interest may be repaid in whole or in part at any time while this policy is in force. The granting of any advance may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor, unless the advance be solely for the purpose of paying premiums on policies in the company. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the advance was made and of the insured and of the assignee, if any, of record at the head office of the company.

This table shows the maximum values at end of policy years if premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated and if there are no outstanding dividends nor any indebtedness to the company under this policy. Loans may be obtained during policy years as herein provided. Values not stated will be furnished on application to the head office.

BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, the owner at any time within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, may surrender this policy: (a) For its cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (b) for participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, with the right to loans and cash values computed in accordance with the provisions contained in the "Basis of Values" section, or (c) if the policy be not surrendered as above, the insurance shall be automatically continued for the face amount of this policy for such a term as is hereinafter provided, but without the right to participation in surplus or loans.

BASIS OF VALUES.—The cash surrender value shall be at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy at date of default plus the reserve on any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, less a surrender charge during the first twenty years only, not exceeding 2 and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The reserve shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at 3 per cent, and on the select and ultimate basis which assumes that the rates of mortality during the first five policy years will be the following percentages of the rates shown by the American Experience Table, to wit, first insurance year 50 per cent, second insurance year 65 per cent, third insurance year 75 per cent, fourth insurance year 85 per cent, and fifth insurance year 95 per cent.

The amount of paid-up insurance, or the term for which the insurance will be continued, shall be such as the cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at 3 per cent. The payment of the surrender value in cash may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor.

MATURING AS ENDOWMENT.—After twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid as herein provided the insured may continue thereafter to pay such annual premiums until such time as the additional premiums, with interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, together with the reserve upon the policy and upon any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the face amount of the policy, at which time the company will, upon surrender of the policy and all paid-up additions, pay to the insured said face amount of the policy in cash. If the insured shall die before the maturity of this policy as an endowment as herein provided, all such additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, shall be paid to the beneficiary hereunder in addition to the sum insured hereunder and any paid-up additions hereto. If the insured shall continue the payment of premiums after twenty years as herein provided, and there are no paid-up additions hereto, this policy will mature as an endowment on the fifteenth day of April 1941, and prior thereto if there are any paid-up additions. If the policy be surrendered for its cash value after twenty annual premiums shall have been paid and before maturity hereunder as an endowment, the additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, will be paid in addition to such cash surrender value.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation the insured, while this policy is in force and if there be no existing assignment, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof with the company accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement hereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company, and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise expressly specified in this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be revived at any time within three years from date of default in payment of premium, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy, with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and no assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its head office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment

CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto when this policy is issued, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—(a) If the age of the insured has been misstated, the sum payable hereunder shall be such as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age. (b) If the insured shall within one year from the date hereof die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, the only amount payable under this policy shall be the premiums hereon which have been paid to and received by the company. (c) Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy and any unpaid instalments of the premium for the current policy year of the death of the insured will be deducted from the sum insured. (d) No agent is authorized to make, modify or discharge contracts or to waive forfeitures or extend the time for paying a premium. (e) The expense of management shall not exceed, excluding the first policy year, the net premium loading, plus any taxes imposed by law. (f) The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. (g) Except when this policy is valued on the select and ultimate basis as herein provided, the insurance hereunder for the first year is term insurance, and upon payment of the second and subsequent annual premiums the policy is continued as a nineteen payment life policy at an age one year greater than the actual age of issue.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy may be covered by loan insurance and, upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of such indebtedness. Loan insurance will be granted upon and subject to the following conditions: (a) Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be required. No loan insurance shall take effect until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof. (b) Premiums must be paid in accordance with the rates in the table of rates contained herein and shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time when such loan insurance is granted or renewed. For periods of less than one year the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the one year's premium for each month or fraction of a month. (c) Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium date specified on the first page of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of premium at the attained age. No loan insurance shall be granted or renewed beyond age sixty-five. (d) Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness and refund the unearned premiums.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, may, by giving written notice to the company at its head office, elect to have the proceeds of this policy paid under one of the following options instead of in one sum. Upon approval of proof of the death of the insured this policy shall be surrendered to the company, and a supplementary contract will be issued to each beneficiary evidencing his or her rights and benefits under the option selected.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—Option 1. The proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, may be left with the company subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time on demand in sums of not less than one hundred dollars. The company shall pay interest annually on the sum so left with it at such rate as it may each year declare on such funds, not less, however, than 3 per cent per annum. Upon the death of a beneficiary the sum then remaining with the company, together with any interest accrued thereon to the date of such death, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—Option 2. By the payment of equal instalments for an agreed number of years from two to twenty-five, payable upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured and annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly thereafter, as may be agreed. The amount of each annual instalment shall be in accordance with the instalment table on this page.

9.....	124.69	17.....	73.74	25.....	55.76

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—Option 3. By the payment of equal instalments for a fixed period of twenty years, and for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall live, payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured and annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly thereafter, as may be agreed. The amount of each annual instalment shall be determined by the age of the beneficiary at the date of death of the insured and in accordance with the instalment table on this page. If this method be selected the company will require satisfactory evidence of the age of the beneficiary. The instalments payable under Options 2 and 3 must be at least $50 when paid annually, $25 when paid semi-annually, $15 when paid quarterly, and $10 when paid monthly, otherwise Options 2 or 3 cannot be exercised, and the total of the fractional payments each year shall be equal to the annual instalment provided for by the table. In the event of the death of a beneficiary, any unpaid instalments under Option 2, or any unpaid instalments for the fixed period of twenty years only under Option 3, shall be commuted at 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, and, unless otherwise agreed in writing, shall be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of such beneficiary. The instalments under Options 2 and 3 are based upon an assumed interest earning of 3 per cent, but if in any year the company shall declare for that year upon funds held by it under such options, a greater interest rate than three per cent, such excess interest will be paid in addition to the instalment for that year, but under Option 3 the instalments for the fixed period of twenty years only shall be so increased. Unless the insured shall otherwise specifically direct in writing filed with the company at its head office, the supplementary contract issued under any option may be assigned or surrendered to the company at any time for the then present value of all payments yet to be made, computed at 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option 3, except as to the instalments payable during the fixed period of twenty years only.

If there be more than one designated beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy, unless otherwise therein specifically provided, shall be considered as divided into as many equal parts as there are beneficiaries, and shall be credited and paid to each beneficiary severally.

Trust fund and instalment privileges are not applicable to a policy which is payable to a corporation, association or co-partnership, nor to policies under which the sum payable is less than one thousand dollars.

FIVE-YEAR NON-RENEWABLE CONVERTIBLE TERM POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $131.30.

AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay (face amount of policy) ten thousand dollars (beneficiary) to Mary Doe, wife of the insured (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided.)

Upon receipt, at its head office in the city of Philadelphia, Pa. of due proof of the death, while this policy is in force, (insured) of John Doe.

This contract is made in consideration of the application of the above-named insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and the payment to said company on the delivery of this policy, of (premium) one hundred thirty-one and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars (premium date) and a like sum upon each fifteenth day of March thereafter during the continuance of this policy and for a period of five years. This policy expires at twelve o'clock noon on the fifteenth day of March, 1920, but may be exchanged at any time while in force as provided on the second page hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums.

There are no restrictions under this policy as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service. The benefits, conditions and provisions stated on the second, third and fourth pages hereof, are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary at its head office in Philadelphia, Pa., this fifteenth day of March, 1915.

For provisions as to payment of premiums, days of grace, change of beneficiary, reinstatement, assignment, contract, miscellaneous provisions and modes of settlement at maturity see preceding policy.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually. Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year while this policy is in force, the company will determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon. The owner of this policy shall have the right, each year on the premium date specified on the first page hereof, to have the current dividend arising from such participation either (a) paid in cash, or (b) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (c) left to accumulate to the credit of this policy, at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, but not less than three per cent, compounded and credited annually, and payable at the maturity of this policy or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the three options recited above, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

CONVERTIBLE OPTIONS.—Upon the surrender of this policy at any time while in force, it may be exchanged, without medical examination, for a policy of equal amount on any full rate participating life, limited payment or endowment plan issued by the company, by payment of premium for attained age then in use by the company on plan selected; or, upon surrender at any time within five years from the date hereof, and payment of the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and those which would have been paid on such other plan, with five per cent interest, this policy may be exchanged without medical examination, for a policy of equal amount on any such other plan, and the new policy will be treated as if issued at the same date as this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree as follows: (1) That only the executive officers at the head office of the company in Philadelphia, Pa., have authority to determine whether or not a policy of insurance shall be issued on any application; (2) that no statement made to or by any agent, medical examiner or any other person shall be taken or considered as having been made to or brought to the notice or knowledge of the company or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof, unless contained in Parts I or II of this application; (3) that if the first premium on the insurance hereby applied for is not paid in full at the time of making this application there shall be no liability on the part of the company under this application unless nor until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me and the first premium thereon paid during my lifetime and continued good health; (4) that if such first premium is paid in full to the said company's agent at the time of making this application, the insurance (subject to the company's regular form of policy for the plan applied for) shall be effective from the date of the medical examination therefor as shown by Part II of this application, upon approval of this application by an executive officer of the company at its head office; (5) that the executive officers herein referred to are the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

PART II: I hereby certify that I have carefully read all of the above statements and answers; that each is written correctly as made by me and is full, complete and true. I hereby agree that the several answers, statements and agreements contained in this application, consisting of Parts I and II, on separate sheets, shall be the basis of and a part of the consideration for the contract of insurance, and that this application and any policy issued hereon shall constitute the entire contract. I hereby expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired, and I hereby authorize any such physician or other person to disclose any and all such knowledge or information.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

First National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED ACCUMULATIVE.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

First National Life Insurance Company, Pierre, S. D., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to his wife, Mary Doe, beneficiary or to such beneficiary or beneficiaries as may have been designated in the manner herein provided, upon receipt at the home office of the company at Pierre, S. D., of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, of Pierre, State of South Dakota, the insured, less all indebtedness to the company on this policy or secured thereby, together with any unpaid premium or portion of premium for the then current policy year.

The insured, if living on the first day of January, 1932, may elect, in full discharge of the company's obligation hereunder, one of the options designated on the second page of this contract.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, and the sum of three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for the non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Where the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and no assignment of this policy exists, the insured may, from time to time, change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. The right, however, is given the insured to surrender said power and to declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event the said insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Every change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice of the same at the home office of the company, and shall not take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

If no beneficiary shall survive the insured the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

The conditions, benefits and privileges, written and printed on the following pages, are hereby made a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA.—I. insurance commissioner of South Dakota, hereby certify that, as required by law, approved securities equal to its full legal reserve value are on deposit with the State of South Dakota as security for this policy. I further certify that in addition to the above mentioned deposit approved securities amounting to at least $100,000 are kept on deposit with the State of South Dakota for the further security and benefit of all policyholders of this company.

Witness my hand and the official seal of the insurance department of the State of South Dakota, at Pierre, S. D., this . . . day of, A. D. 191 .

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Pierre, S. D., but may be paid to an agent of the company authorized to receive such premiums in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president, secretary or treasurer and countersigned by said agent. Failure to pay any premium, or any note given for any premium, when due, will void this policy without further notice, and forfeit all payments to the company except as herein provided. All premiums are payable annually in advance, but they may be paid semi-annually or quarterly according to the company's published rates therefor if the insured shall in writing request such change; but no premium or instalment thereof shall continue the policy in force beyond the period for which said payment is made. After this policy shall have been in force one year, a grace of one month in payment of premium will be allowed, subject to an interest charge not in excess of six per cent per annum for the days of grace actually taken, and during the period of grace this policy will remain in force, but if death occurs during said period the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After the premiums have been paid on this policy in full for a period of three years, the insured may avail himself, within thirty days after any default in the payment of a subsequent premium, of one of the following options; reference being made in each case to the accompanying table of values: (a) To surrender this policy, properly assigned, and receive its value in cash. The company may defer the payment of such cash surrender value for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. (b) To exchange this policy for a paid-up policy, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such an amount as the cash value, less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured. At no time shall a paid-up policy be granted, the amount of which is in excess of the face value of this policy, unless the insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (c) To have the insurance continue in force from the due date last past for its face amount, but without the right to loans, for such term as the cash value, less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured. Unless the holder within thirty days from default shall surrender this policy for cash, or elect, by a writing filed with the company at its home office, to take Option B, this insurance will be binding upon the company from the date of default without any further stipulation or act, as provided in Option C.

TWENTIETH YEAR OPTIONS.—At the end of the twenty years the insured may select, if there shall be no indebtedness to the company, in lieu of all other benefits hereunder, one of the following options: (1) A cash payment of $8500. (2) A paid-up policy for $15,010, provided the insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (3) An annuity of $656.20 payable annually during the natural life of the insured, upon each succeeding anniversary date of the policy. (4) A paid-up policy for $10,000 and an annuity of $219.30 payable annually during the natural life of the insured. (5) A paid-up policy for $10,000 and a cash payment of $2840.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of default of premium payments on this policy, it may be reinstated at any time within three years from date of default, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company, with interest thereon at said rate, provided the cash value has not been duly paid, or used in the purchase of paid-up insurance, or the period of extended insurance has not expired.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed from the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent and the first year's insurance provided herein is term insurance.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy, while continued in force and properly assigned, up to the limit secured by the specified cash and loan values at the end of the policy year within which application for the loan is made. The rate of interest on such loan shall not exceed six per cent per annum, and if such interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal until the limit of said cash surrender value has been reached, whereupon, if then the interest be not paid, the policy shall become null and void, but not until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any, of record at the home office of the company.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall void this policy, or be used in defense of a claim upon it, unless contained in the written application hereon endorsed. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

If the insured shall die by his own act, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, it shall be null and void, but in such case the company will pay the net premium payments made thereon.

Military or naval service, in time of war, are permissible only at the option of the company, for which an extra premium may be charged.

POWERS OF OFFICERS.—No one except the president, a vice-president or secretary of the company has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this policy, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promises, or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy. These powers will not be delegated.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of insurable interest.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net one sum payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash, or as follows: (1) By the payment of equal annual instalments, for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the table printed on the fourth page of this policy. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the printed table of instalment payments. (3) By the payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per cent of one sum, payable at the end of year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment, upon the death of the beneficiary, of the said one sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. Any instalments payable under (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. In case of election of instalments, if the beneficiary is the widow or minor child of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be held by the company as trustee, in trust to pay the instalments, free from all claims and demands, interference, and control of the creditors of the insured.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before the insured shall have reached the age of sixty years, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations; the company, by an indorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given above, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION..

PART I.—As a consideration for the issuance of a policy of insurance by The First National Life Insurance Company of Pierre, South Dakota, upon the within application, I hereby represent that the statements and answers as written or printed herein, or in Part 2 of this application are full, complete and true, and agree that any fraudulent untruth or concealment shall render the policy wholly void, and that there shall be no contract of insurance until this application has been accepted and approved by the company's duly authorized officials, I promise not to engage in active naval or military service in time of war without the written consent of an executive officer of this company, and to pay such additional premium therefor as the company may determine, I agree to call upon a regular Medical Examiner of the company and to submit to examination without delay.

PART II.—I hereby further declare, that I am the identical person described above; that I have read and understand all the above questions put to me by the medical examiner, and the answers thereto, and that each and every one of said answers is full, complete and true. I also hereby authorize any and all physicians, who may have heretofore attended or been consulted by me or who may hereafter attend or be consulted by me, to disclose any and all information acquired by such consultation or attendance, and I hereby expressly waive any and all provisions of law forbidding any physician to disclose any such information. I further declare and agree that the statements contained in my application shall be the basis and become part of any policy of insurance this company shall issue hereunder; that no information or statement not contained in my application received or made at any time by any person, shall be binding upon the company; and that the company is not responsible for the preparation of my application or for anything contained therein, or omitted therefrom. I further agree that the policy applied for shall be of a form now in use by the company, and that the contract contained in such policy and my application shall be construed according to the laws of the state of South Dakota, it being understood and agreed that the place of said contract is the home office of the company, at Pierre, S. D.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—COUPON-REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40.

AGE, 35.

The general provisions of this policy are identical with those of the Guaranteed Accumulative mentioned above.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION COUPONS.—This policy is issued on the Guaranteed Premium Reduction Plan, and if kept in force by the payment of premiums in cash the company guarantees that the amounts payable hereunder shall be as shown on the coupons hereto attached.

If the insured shall elect to pay all premiums in full, without reduction, and leave with the company the amounts represented by the coupons on this policy, the company guarantees that this policy will be fully paid up after paying the premiums in cash for fourteen full years and delivering all attached coupons to the company.

In case the insured should elect to leave the coupons to make this a fully paid-up policy in fourteen years and dies while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid up, as above provided, all the coupons bearing date prior to said death shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, leave said coupons with the company, the same shall be payable, on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such coupons are left with the company.

In event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, if there be any attached coupons that have become due, the value of such coupons, with interest, will be added to the cash paid-up, or automatic extended term insurance as provided in the table of values of Policy No. to which this is attached and made a part thereof.

The guaranteed values and settlement options under this contract are as follows:

Fort Worth Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $304.50. AGE, 35.

Fort Worth Life Insurance Company, Fort Worth, Tex. in consideration of the application for this policy of insurance (a copy of which is attached to and made a part hereof and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract) and of the payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred four and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, on or before the fifteenth day of July in each year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, does hereby agree to pay ten thousand dollars, provided this policy is then in force, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death of John Doe of Fort Worth, Texas, to his wife, Minnie Doe, if then living. If there is no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured, this policy shall be payable to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured.

UNRESTRICTED AND INCONTESTABLE.—This policy is free from conditions as to residence travel or occupation of the insured in time of peace or war, and after one year shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums. In case of self-destruction of the insured, while sane or insane, within one year from date of issue the actual premiums received, and no more, shall be payable. In case of understatement of age of the insured the amount payable shall be such an amount of insurance as the premiums paid would have purchased at the true age and under same table of rates.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the sum insured by this policy as a death claim, if not assigned, from payment in one sum to payment in instalments as provided on fourth page hereof.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the expiration of the second policy year, and while this policy is in force, the legal owner may borrow upon the sole security of this policy and upon its deposit and assignment as collateral according to the company's form, all or any part of the sum stated as loan value in table on page three, provided all premiums up to and including the end of the policy year in which loan is made and interest for the same period at the rate of six per cent per annum are paid in advance. Interest shall thereafter be paid annually in advance at the rate of six per cent, and if not paid shall be added to and become a part of the principal, and itself bear interest at the same rate; provided, that the aggregate of all such loans and interest and any other indebtedness on this policy shall in no event exceed the loan value. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon shall avoid the policy when, but not until, the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the loan value.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If, after three full years' premiums shall have been paid in cash and while this policy is in force, any premium or instalment thereof shall not be paid in cash or otherwise settled, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, advance such unpaid premium or instalment thereof, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum in advance for the period covered by such premium or instalment thereof, as a loan against this policy; provided the aggregate of such premium or instalment thereof and interest and all existing indebtedness shall not exceed the loan value of the policy. Any premiums or instalments thereof so advanced together with all other indebtedness to the company on the policy shall constitute a first lien on the policy. Such loans shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made according to the terms of the provision for "cash loans," except deposit and assignment of the policy.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—In event of default in payment of premium, or instalment thereof (there being no default if premium or instalment thereof has been advanced according to terms of preceding paragraph) after payment in cash of premiums for three full years, if there is no indebtedness on this policy, then

PAID-UP TERM INSURANCE.—1. This policy shall, without any action on the part of the insured, become a paid-up term policy for face amount (without loan or cash values), beginning at due date of unpaid premium for the term stated in table on page three, or

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—2. In lieu of such paid-up term insurance, on written request of the insured within the days of grace, accompanied by this policy, this policy will be indorsed converting it into a paid up life policy (without loan or cash values), for the amount stated in the table on page three, or CASH VALUE.—3. In lieu of all paid up insurance, the insured, upon legal surrender of this policy, shall be entitled to receive the cash value stated in table on page three.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The amount of all indebtedness due the company by the legal owner, on account of this policy shall be deducted (1) from the amount of loan and cash values and (2) from the net value, according to mortality table and rate of interest specified below, of the paid up insurance, and any balance re-converted on the same basis into paid-up insurance.

RESERVE BASIS.—The reserves on this policy and loan and non-forfeiture values shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The insurance hereunder shall be considered as term insurance for the first policy year, and first year's premium shall be treated as a premium for one year's term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy is not assigned, the insured may change the beneficiary at any time, and from time to time, upon written request accompanied by this policy for indorsement; but no change shall be effective until indorsed hereon by the company.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid in annual, semi-annual, or quarterly instalments in advance, in accordance with company's rates applicable thereto, and the insured may, on any policy anniversary, change from one to another of such modes upon written request to the home office of the company. Any unpaid instalments necessary to complete payment for the current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable as a death claim. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, in Fort Worth, Texas, or to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for official receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the designated collector. Failure to pay when due any premium or instalment thereof, or any note given therefor, or any bill of exchange, or writing of any character given for payment or part payment of any premium, shall cause this policy to cease and determine ipso facto, except as herein otherwise provided, and all payments shall remain the property of the company.

GRACE.—A grace period of one month will be allowed for payment of any premium or instalment thereof, except the first, at an interest charge of six per cent per annum, during which time the policy shall remain in force.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless previously surrendered, this policy may be reinstated at any time within three years from date of default in premium payment upon evidence of insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company and payment (or reinstatement as a first-lien on the policy) of any indebtedness at date of default and accrued interest thereon to date of reinstatement and all past due premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from their respective due dates.

TABLE OF LOAN AND NON-FORFEITURE VALUES

The amounts shown in this table are available according to the provisions on second page, provided there is no indebtedness on account of this policy. If there is any indebtedness, see provision relating thereto on second page. Subject to the terms and conditions of provision for cash loans on page two, a loan value of $190 will be available at the end of the first policy year provided the entire proceeds shall be applied toward payment of second annual premium and loan value end of second policy year shall be $390 as stated in table below.

This policy is issued at age thirty-five and insurance begins July 15, 1915, and the policy years, provisions for loan, cash and paid up values all relate back to that age and date.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—1. Only the president or vice-president and secretary has power on behalf of the company (and then only in writing, executed at the home office of the company) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or extend time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made by any agent or person other than the above, or by any information possessed by or any statement made to any other person at any time heretofore or hereafter.

ASSIGNMENT.—2. Any assignment of this policy must be in writing in duplicate, both copies of which must be sent to the home office; one copy to be retained by the company and the other, indorsed to show receipt by the company, returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

REPRESENTATIONS.—3. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations, and not warranties.

CONTROL OF BENEFITS.—4. The insured may at all times, without the consent of any designated beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred by this policy.

In witness whereof, the Fort Worth Life Insurance Company has caused this policy of insurance to be signed by its president, or vice-president and secretary, at Fort Worth, Texas, as of July 15th, 1915.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company against this policy may be covered by loan insurance, and, upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness. Loan insurance shall be subject to the following conditions: (First) Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be furnished by the insured. No loan insurance shall take effect until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof. (Second) Premiums must be paid in accordance with the rates in the following table. The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time when such loan insurance is made or renewed, but in no case shall be less than fifty cents. For periods of less than one year, the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the one year's premium for each month or fraction of a month. (Third) Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium paying anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of premium at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after age fifty-five. (Fourth) Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness, and refund the unearned premium.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or following any gainful occupation. Any premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy and the loan values and the values provided for in section entitled "non-forfeiture options" shall be the same as if such premiums had been paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

PROVISIONS FOR INCOME TO BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this contract as a death claim, at any time, if not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below:

The following tables are based upon a contract of $1000 and will apply pro rata to the the amount payable under this contract, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but the proceeds of this contract will be payable in one sum only.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary is thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary; the total amount thus payable cannot therefore be less than $1075.

The insured having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time subsequently change the number of instalments, entirely revoke any change, or again make the proceeds of this contract payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be paid thereafter to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary. No change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, shall take effect until endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this contract, by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured.

The Franklin Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.20.

AGE, 35.

The Franklin Life Insurance Company, Springfield, Ill., hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, the principal sum insured, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Benjamin Franklin, the insured, to Deborah Franklin (wife of the insured) as beneficiary, subject to the terms and provisions hereinafter contained.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred nine and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars, being the premium to provide term insurance for one year from January 1st, 1915, to January 1st, 1916, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the annual renewal premium of three hundred nine and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

A grace of one month (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums during which month this policy will remain in full force.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Springfield, Ill., or to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such collector. Failure to pay when due any premium or any note given therefor, shall cause this policy to cease and determine except as herein provided, and all payments made thereon shall remain the property of the company.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, as follows: If any renewal premium due after the second policy year is not paid before the expiration of the month of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows:

1. If there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insurance will be for the term specified in column one of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium. In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in column two of said table, or, (b) pay the cash value specified in column three of said table, provided that the payment of the same may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding three months from date request is received.

2. If there is any indebtedness to the company hereon, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance provided for in paragraph 1 above computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and the insurance will be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid. In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for such amount as the excess above referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the mortality table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the cash value specified in column three of the table on the third page hereof, less such indebtedness, provided that the payment of the same may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding three months from date request is received.

If this policy has become paid-up for life, the company will pay the cash value of the same (less any indebtedness to the company hereon) at any time upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy, provided that payment may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding three months from date request is received.

THIS POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness hereon to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED as to travel, residence and occupation of the insured, in time of peace or war, and after one year from date of issue is incontestable if all premiums shall have been duly paid. This policy covers death from any cause, but in case of the death of the insured (whether sane or insane) by self-destruction, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums received hereon, and no more, shall be paid.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, subject to the written consent of the assignee, if any, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the principal sum insured under this policy, if it is not assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS on the sole security of this policy at any time after the first policy year if no premium is in default. The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in column three of the table below for the end of the current policy year. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed on forms provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. Any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year shall be deducted by the company in the adjustment of the loan. Interest shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. The granting of any loan hereunder, unless such loan is entirely for the purpose of paying premiums under this policy, may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding three months from date of receipt of application for such loan. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

* Loan value is available at any time during the policy year stated, if premium is paid to end of such year.

In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. The values shown in this table are equivalent to the entire reserve less an amount not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured and the cash value is not less than the value of the continued insurance. If this policy continues after the twentieth policy year, cash and loan values will be equivalent to the entire reserve; figures will be furnished on request to the home office of the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. This policy is non-participating and therefore does not participate in the company's surplus nor in profits or dividends earned or apportioned by the company.

4. No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless filed in duplicate at the home office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

5. This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Springfield, Ill. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, proof of the interest of the claimant must be furnished and any indebtedness hereon to the company, including the amount, if any, necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled.

6. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, computed according to the preliminary term method prescribed by the law of Illinois.

7. This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy unless it is contained in such application.

In witness whereof, the Franklin Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, and countersigned by its actuary, at Springfield, Ill., this first day of January, 1915.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the principal sum insured under this policy, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum as provided on the first page to payment by any one of the instalment methods stated below. The insured may subsequently change any selection of instalment method, or revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. Any selection, change or revocation must be made by the insured in writing and filed with the company at its home office accompanied by this policy before any instalment has been paid, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. The company shall not be required to apply any method that produces instalments of less than ten dollars ($10) each under this policy. The payee, if a person other than the insured, can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured when payment by instalments is directed. If this policy has become payable by the death of the insured, and no instalment method has been selected, the company unless otherwise directed by the insured, upon proper application will allow the beneficiary to make selection from the said instalment methods. When the policy shall become payable by its terms, and an instalment method has been selected, the company, upon legal surrender of the policy, will issue in place thereof a supplementary contract, which shall express the terms of the instalment method selected. The first instalment under any method shall be payable at the time the principal sum insured would otherwise have been payable, and subsequent instalments shall be payable annually thereafter. In event of the death of the payee after having received one or more instalments, the company, unless otherwise directed by the insured, upon proper application and legal surrender of the supplementary contract, will commute any instalments remaining unpaid at three and one-half per cent compound interest and pay such commuted value to the payee's executors or administrators. Any annual instalment may be made payable in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly parts equal respectively to one-half, one-quarter or one-twelfth of the annual instalment.

The following tables show the annual instalment payable in lieu of $1000 payable in one sum. They will apply pro rata according to the amount payable in one sum under this policy.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, and after the issuance of said policy and the payment of at least one full annual premium thereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall become totally and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will continue to be for life totally and permanently prevented thereby from the performance of any work or the transaction of any business for compensation or profit, and shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company agrees to waive further payment of premiums under said policy, such agreement to become operative only after endorsement of the same has been made on said policy by the company. Any premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under said policy but the waiver of premium payments shall have the effect of providing the same values and benefits as though the premiums waived had been actually paid in cash.

It is further provided that notwithstanding proof of said disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall furnish at any time on demand proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such total and permanent disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if he has become able to perform any work or to transact any business for compensation or profit, all premiums falling due after such disability shall have ceased to be total or permanent must be paid by the insured in accordance with the terms of said policy.

The total and permanent disability benefit hereunder and the continuance thereof are conditioned upon the company being permitted to have a physical examination of the insured made with respect to such disability by a medical examiner designated by it as often as it may require.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, (1) the entire and irrevocable loss by the insured of the sight of both eyes, or (2) the severance of both hands above the wrists, or (3) the severance of both feet above the ankles, or (4) the severance of one hand above the wrist and one foot above the ankle, will be treated in the same manner as total and permanent disability within the operation of this agreement.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon that each of the statements and answers contained herein is full, complete and true.

I agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon: (1) That if the premium for the first policy year is paid in full at the time this application is made, the policy applied for, if issued by the company, shall become effective from the date of its registration by the insurance superintendent of the State of Illinois. (2) That unless the premium for the first policy year under the policy herein applied for is paid in full at the time this application is made, the company shall not incur any liability upon this application until the policy has been issued by the company and the first premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company, or its authorized agent, and the policy has been delivered to and accepted by me during my lifetime and good health; (3) that any policy issued hereon shall be on the "non-participating" plan, that is to say, it shall not participate in the company's surplus nor in any profit or dividend earned or apportioned by the company; (4) that if within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon I shall die by self-destruction, sane or insane, there shall be payable the amount of the premiums received by the company under such policy and no more; (5) that this instrument marked Part I and the "answers made to the medical examiner" marked Part II together form the application for and shall be construed as a part of any policy issued thereon.

George Washington Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE PREFERRED DIVIDEND POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.10. AGE, 35

George Washington Life Insurance Company, of Charleston, W. Va., in consideration of the payment of the premiums hereinafter specified promises to pay at the home office of the company in Charleston, West Virginia, upon receipt of due proof of the death within one year from the date hereof, of Richard Roe of Charleston, county of Kanawha, State of W. Va., herein called the insured, to Rachel Roe, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year; and, in further consideration of the payment of the premiums hereinafter stated, the George Washington Life Insurance Company will renew said insurance from year to year, and promises to pay to the beneficiary above named, upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of the insured, the said sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year. The first year's insurance under this policy is modified preliminary term insurance.

Premium, three hundred, eighty-one and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars (\$381.10), payable on delivery of this policy and thereafter annually at the home office of the company in exchange for the company's receipt on or before the first day of February in every year during the continuance of this policy until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

PREFERRED DIVIDEND ADDITIONS.—In further consideration of the premiums payable under this policy, it shall be preferred to the stock of the company in the distribution of the surplus earnings each year as follows:

Before any dividend shall be paid or credited upon the capital stock, this policy shall be entitled to a preferred dividend addition out of the surplus earned by this policy, of $10.00 for each $1,000.00 insured, in the form of an addition to the face value of this policy, payable at death. The first of such preferred dividend additions shall be made on payment of the second year's premium, or instalment thereof, and subsequent additions each year out of surplus, if earned, as subsequent premiums are paid. These preferred dividend additions shall continue after the premium paying term ceases and during the entire lifetime of the insured.

FURTHER DIVIDENDS.—There shall be added to the preferred dividends under this policy each year after the third a share of any further surplus earned by this policy as determined and apportioned by the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, shall, when allotted, be either:—(1) Paid in cash; or (2) Applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy as above indicated; or (3) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at 3 per cent. per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

CHANGE IN BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz.: president, vice president, secretary, assistant secretary, actuary or treasurer, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, not less than thirty days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace, the overdue premium, with accrued interest, will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After two full years' premiums have been paid on this policy, if any subsequent premium due hereon be not paid within the month of grace allowed herein, the company will advance the amount of the then current policy year's premium or any unpaid portion thereof, as a lien on the policy with interest in advance at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, if, after deducting all existing indebtedness and interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year from the loan value of the policy plus the loan value of any existing dividend additions at the end of such year, the balance shall equal or exceed the unpaid portion of the then current policy year's premium, with interest to the same date. This provision is automatic, and will be carried out by the company without any action on the part of the insured. Any indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the policy and all proceeds thereof, ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. If the loan value, or balance thereof, as defined above, shall not be sufficient to pay the then current policy year's premium or any unpaid portion thereof and interest, the company will continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is for a period which bears the same ratio to the number of days in the unpaid portion of the then current policy year as such net value bears to the premium for the unpaid portion of such policy year), and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate, subject to one month's notice having been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. At any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical re-examination of the insured, and the accumulated loans may be paid off, or allowed to stand as a lien against the policy. These automatic premium loans shall bear interest at 6 per centum per annum in advance from the dates the respective premiums loaned become due, and shall be compounded yearly on the anniversary of premium payments in each year, if unpaid.

LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table, and interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per centum per annum, less a surrender charge not to exceed 1 per centum of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto. The loan values available from year to year are given in the schedule below. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment or a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

All indebtedness on account of this policy, outstanding at the time of settlement, will be deducted from the reserve used in the calculation of the value above specified, and will reduce said continued insurance or paid-up value by the proportion that such indebtedness bears to said reserve. If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, a table of cash surrender and loan values, as above, after the twentieth year, will be furnished on application to the home office.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy, the owner, within one month after any default, and on the proper surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or (c) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without future participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The amounts of cash surrender value, and paid-up insurance, exclusive of the value of any undrawn dividend additions, also the periods of continued insurance, are as shown in the table of loan and surrender values on the second page hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, including the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at 6 per centum per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:—(1) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (1) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under option (2) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that all the statements and answers herein are warranted to be true; that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health and within sixty days of the date of the policy hereby applied for. The company will apply all dividends upon my policies of insurance towards the purchase of paid up insurance additions until otherwise ordered. I hereby request that the company's automatic loan privilege shall become operative, should that privilege be available under the policy hereby applied for.

German-American Life Insurance Company (Col.).

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $230.20. AGE, 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company of Denver, Col., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at the home office of the company in Denver, Col., to the beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured John Doe of Denver, State of Colorado, immediately after receipt of due proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—SPECIAL DISABILITY—PAYABLE TO THE INSURED.—In the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or the loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, by amputation, or one eye and one limb as aforesaid of the insured, the company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt of the policy at the home office, with due proof of such disability; premiums hereon shall then cease. If the insured shall die before all of the said twenty instalments have been paid, the face amount of this policy, less the instalments already paid to the insured, will be paid to the beneficiary in one sum.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY—PREMIUMS PAID BY COMPANY.—If the insured, before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereon and before attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he is totally disabled, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will pay for the insured any premium, which shall become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided the insured, when requested by the company, shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability.

In any such event the premiums so paid shall not be an indebtedness on this policy, and the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values stated herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease, and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with the terms of this policy.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1) Paid-up insurance (without evidence of insurability) $5350; (2) guaranteed cash payment, $3030; (3) annual income for life (first payment at end of one year), $230.

GUARANTEED LOANS AND SURRENDER VALUES.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan, upon the proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner hereof, less than the entire reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year, without any charge therefor. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders the company reserves the right to require sixty days' written notice before making any cash loan.

PREMIUM LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon be not paid when due, the company, without request therefor, will pay the said premium and charge the same as a loan hereon, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum in advance, against the loan value shown in the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values, herein, thereby continuing this policy in force, subject to such indebtedness, as though the premium had been paid in cash; providing no surrender value has been requested during the month of grace. Such premium loans will be continued as long as the balance of the increasing loan value hereunder will pay the premiums as they fall due, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum added, in default of which this policy will be continued in full force as long as the loan value so applied will pay for one day's additional insurance on a quarterly premium basis. At any time while the policy is thus maintained in force the insured may resume payment of premiums hereon, without any medical re-examination and the indebtedness may be either paid in cash or allowed to remain as a loan against the contract.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE FROM DATE OF ISSUE AS FOLLOWS:—GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month (not less than thirty days) will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first, without any interest charge therefor, during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, the insured, upon surrender of this policy to the company, and upon written request, both within the month of grace, shall be entitled to one of the following options: (First) Cash.—A cash payment. (Second) Paid-up insurance. A paid-up insurance policy, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy. (Third) Extended insurance. A term insurance policy for the full amount of this policy. The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in columns 1, 2 and 3, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values herein, and are equal or equivalent to the entire reserve hereon at the date of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Additional values will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid, and the values for later years will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue. If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, the company shall be liable only for the cash premiums actually paid hereon. This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to void the policy unless contained in the written application herefor. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereon after the first are payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent, on the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company. Any part of the then current policy year's premium unpaid at the death of the insured shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. No officer other than those above stated, and no agent, has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness, is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided herein. After the first policy year the company will accept the payment of premiums hereunder semi-annually or quarterly, and such semi-annual premiums shall be fifty-two per cent and such quarterly premiums shall be twenty-six and one-half per cent, of any annual premium payable hereunder. The method of payment of premiums may be changed upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in any premium payment hereon, this policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of overdue premiums, with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries herein, by filing at the home office a written request on the company's form therefor duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change not to take effect until the endorsement of same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise stated on page one hereof.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof, upon the company's form, has been filed at the home office. The company shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face of this policy, unless otherwise requested by the insured, will be paid in one sum as provided on page one hereof. The insured, however, during his lifetime (or the beneficiary after the death of the insured in case the insured has made no selection) may, if this policy is not then assigned, and upon request to the company on the proper form, change the method of payment hereof, by selecting any one of the benefits shown on page four.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued and accepted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy thereof being attached hereto or endorsed hereon when issued, and of the sum of two hundred and thirty dollars and twenty cents, paid in advance for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the seventeenth day of February, 1917, and of a like sum to be paid on the seventeenth day of February in every year hereafter during the life of the insured.

In testimony whereof, the said company has hereto affixed its corporate seal, with the signature of the president, duly attested by the signature of the secretary, at Denver, Col., this seventeenth day of February, 1916.

Methods of payments of death benefit. (Referred to on page three hereof.)

BENEFIT ONE—TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund privilege may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

BENEFIT TWO—ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000 shown in the table by the number of thousands insured by this policy:

Number of years.....	30	25	20*	15	10	5	4	3	2
Annual income per $1000.....	$ 52	$ 58	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214	$ 264	$ 345	$ 508

* ILLUSTRATION: If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight ($68) dollars for each one thousand dollars insured by this policy.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected.

The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

BENEFIT THREE—MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income from each $5000 shown in the table by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments, at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

* ILLUSTRATION: If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive.

The first monthly income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If, upon the selection of benefit two or benefit three above, the beneficiary shall die before all the payments due thereunder have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be paid as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. Unless the insured directs otherwise during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above benefits shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that if, within one year from the date of any policy issued by the German-American Life Insurance Company as a result of this application, I shall engage in military or naval service, or shall travel or reside outside of the temperate zone, without the written consent of the company, or be personally engaged in blasting, mining, submarine operations or aerial ascensions of any character, or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or in handling electric conductors, apparatus or dynamo-electric machinery, or in handling liquors in any way, either as employer or employee, or in switching or coupling or uncoupling cars, or be employed in any capacity on the trains of a railroad (except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor or baggage master) or on any steam or other vessel, then and in every such case, the company shall have the right within said year to cancel any policy issued hereon in consideration of the return of the premium paid thereon; and if the insured shall die within one year as a result of violation of any of the preceding restrictions, the liability of the company shall be limited to the premium paid on any policy issued on this application. I also agree that death by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, or in violation of law, or as a result thereof, within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon shall not be a risk assumed by the company for a greater amount than the premium actually paid to the company on said policy. I also agree that any policy issued hereon shall not be binding upon the company until said policy shall have been delivered to me during my lifetime and good health and the amount of premium thereon has been received by said company or its authorized agent, except when the premium has been paid in advance in cash to an authorized agent of the company. I also represent and agree that all the preceding statements and answers, as well as those I make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract to be issued hereon. I also agree that if the answers as written to the questions hereon are or shall hereafter become in any respect untrue, the company may, at its option, cancel the policy hereby applied for within one year from its date, in consideration of the return of the premium paid thereon. I also agree that the company may re-insure all or any part of any policy issued hereon. I also agree to complete this application for insurance by submitting to a medical examination within thirty days; otherwise the settlement made with the agent is to be returned to me only at the option of the company.

German-American Life Insurance Company (Ia.).

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $340.70. AGE, 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company of Iowa, Burlington, Iowa, will pay ten thousand dollars at its home office in the City of Burlington, Iowa, upon receipt of due proof of the death of George Archer, the insured, while this policy is in force, to Grace Archer if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is granted in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and is hereby made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred and forty dollars and seventy cents in advance, being the premium for one year's term insurance, and the payment of a like amount on or before the——day of —— in every year thereafter during nineteen years of the life of the insured, as premiums to complete this contract.

The privileges, provisions and conditions, loan and surrender values stated on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto. Burlington, Iowa, February 15, 1915.

PRIVILEGES, PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS AND REINSTATEMENT.—If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be extended and remain in force for thirty-one days from such due date, and if not then paid, this policy shall be absolutely void, and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided in the non-forfeiture provision, and after said period of thirty-one days this policy can be reinstated only if the insured furnish evidence of good health satisfactory to the company and pays all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, but not otherwise. The sending of a notice of premium payment or other notice after the forfeiture or lapse of this policy shall not be a waiver or evidence of waiver of such lapse or forfeiture.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, then in the event of default in payment of any premium when due, this insurance shall be automatically continued in force for its face amount during the term (including the period of grace) specified in column two (2) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, provided that any existing indebtedness on this policy will correspondingly reduce the period of extension set forth in said table; and the policy may be reinstated at any time after such non-payment, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums with five per cent interest.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and while it continues in force under its original conditions the company will loan to the insured on the proper assignment of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, a sum not to exceed the amount named in column one (1) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon. Interest on any loan shall be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter. The company will, however, deduct from such loan any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest on the same shall not void the policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice of such failure shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and provided it has not been extended as term insurance for more than four months, the company will, upon written application therefor and a full and valid surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up policy for the amount stated in column three (3) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, less the paid-up insurance value of any indebtedness against this policy.

CASH VALUE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and provided it has not been extended as term insurance for more than four months, the company will, upon a full and valid surrender of this policy, pay the insured as a cash surrender value the amount stated in column one (1) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, less any indebtedness against this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary named in this policy acquires no vested interest herein during the life time of the insured, but the insured, with the written consent of the president or secretary of the company endorsed hereon, may change the beneficiary, or with such consent may assign this policy; but the company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any such change or assignment.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed as representations, and no such statement shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION of the insured. In case of death of the insured by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums actually paid hereon, and no more, shall be paid, but if at any time he engage in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in active service excepted) he shall secure the company's written consent and pay the extra premium therefor.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and the proportion of the surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained by the company and be distributed at the end of the second policy year, if it be then in force, and annually thereafter during its continuance. At the option of the insured such dividends shall be either: (a) paid to the insured in cash; or (b) applied toward the payment of future premiums; or (c) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within two months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the above options, the dividends will be applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance, or apply the same as required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) Notice of each and every premium to become due hereon is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice is hereby expressly waived by the insured. Notification of premiums becoming due is regularly sent to the insured, but without any agreement on the part of the company to do so, and without any responsibility for omission or miscarriage. (2) Every premium is due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Burlington, Iowa, but may be paid to an agent or collector on or before the date when due, in exchange for a receipt duly signed by the secretary, and countersigned by the agent or person to whom payment is made as evidence of such payment to him. The premiums hereon may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance after the first policy year, in accordance with the statement of rates endorsed hereon, but in any event this policy shall continue in force only for the period actually paid. (3) Only the president, a vice-president or secretary, has power to make or modify this contract of insurance. (4) Due proof of the death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained on this policy unless such suit or action is commenced within three years from the time the cause of action accrued. (5) If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the amount of insurance or other benefit the actual premiums paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. (6) Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid balance of the premiums for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement on this policy. (7) The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The net value of any paid-up or extended insurance granted hereunder, and set forth in the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, equals the reserve at date of default, less a surrender charge, if any, not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The cash value given in the table equals or exceeds the net value of the extended insurance. The loan value equals the reserve at the end of the current policy year, less indebtedness, unpaid premiums, interest in advance, and a charge not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The following table shows the surrender values after such deduction, if any, has been made:

TABLE OF GUARANTEED LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES

During any policy year named in table for which the required full year's premiums shall have been paid.

The loan value in column one (1) is available at the time of paying the premium for the year indicated. For example: when the third annual premium is due the loan value for the third policy year can be applied on the payment of the premium then due.

Unpaid indebtedness will diminish the amounts of benefits named in the above table. Values beyond the above table will be furnished on application to the company, and at the end of any year after the twentieth the cash or loan value will equal the full reserve value of this policy.

If the premium on this policy be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The company will at the written request of the insured at any time make the insurance hereunder payable in equal annual instalments as provided in any one of the following options, provided this policy has not been assigned; but no such change shall take effect until it is endorsed by the company on this policy. The first instalment shall be paid on the death of the insured, or at the end of the endowment period if this policy be on the endowment plan. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted, and in the event of the death of the beneficiary after the death of the insured any unpaid instalments shall revert to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. The payment of all benefits hereunder shall be subject to the same conditions and proofs as are required by this policy for the payment of the original insurance hereunder. Option No. 1.—In ten annual instalments of $116 each, amounting to $1,160, or Option No. 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $84 each, amounting to $1,260, or Option No. 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $68 each, amounting to $1,360, or Option No. 4.—In two hundred and forty monthly instalments of $5.75 each, amounting to $1,380, for each $1,000 of insurance hereunder; or Option No. 5.—In annual instalments for twenty years, and so many years longer as the beneficiary may live; the amount of each instalment to be determined by the following table, based on the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured; but if this policy be on the endowment plan, and the insured survive the endowment period, the provisions of Option No. 3 shall apply.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any insurance made hereunder, that I have carefully read each and all of the above answers, that they are each written as made by me, that each of them is full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

German-American Life Insurance Company (Neb.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—PARTICIPATING DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $361.60. AGE, 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is endorsed hereon, or attached hereto, and of the annual premium of three hundred sixty-one and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of a like amount upon each eighteenth day of February, hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay, at the home office of the company in Omaha, Neb., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of George S. Hamilton of Omaha, county of Douglas, State of Nebraska, herein called the insured, to Mary Hamilton (wife of the insured), beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, the first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, executors, administrators, or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz., president, vice-president, or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—If any premium due hereon be not paid before the expiration of the grace for payment of same, it shall be charged against the policy as a loan, with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided the loan value, as stated herein, at the due date of the premium, less any existing loan or other indebtedness with accrued interest, shall be at least equal to the amount of said premium and interest. If the loan value or balance thereof shall not be sufficient to pay the entire premium due and interest, then it shall be used, if sufficient, to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than an entire quarterly premium, and if not sufficient to pay a quarterly premium this policy shall cease to be in force, and any excess of the loan or cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be paid in cash on surrender of this policy. In default of such surrender any such excess will be applied to purchase continued term insurance as defined on the next page. This provision is automatic, and will be carried out by the company without any action on the part of the insured. Any indebtedness thus created shall constitute a first charge against the policy, in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while the policy is thus maintained in force, the insured may, without medical examination, resume payment of premiums, and continue the policy in force.

This policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel and occupation.

PARTICIPATION.—If this policy is in force on the eighteenth day of February, 1916, and at the end of each year thereafter, during the continuance of this contract, the company will allot thereto a dividend, consisting of this policy's share of the divisible surplus profits of the participating business of the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, shall, when allotted, be either: (1) Paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, without medical re-examination, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy.

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—If the dividends be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy as per option (4) above: (1) The insured may on any anniversary withdraw the accumulated amount; or (2) the insured may on any anniversary apply the accumulated amount to shorten the period during which premiums are payable hereunder; or (3) whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured, the company will upon surrender of this policy, and upon legal release of all claims hereunder, pay the amount of said policy, deducting any existing indebtedness.

LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid, the company, within ninety days after application is made, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than, the cash value at the end of the current policy year of this policy. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance, or to pay interest, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

TRUST FUND OPTION.—The insured, by instruction in writing to the company at its home office, may direct that the proceeds of this policy shall be retained by the company during the lifetime of the beneficiary, or for a specified term of years, and interest on the amount so retained shall be paid at a rate not less than three per cent per annum in quarterly instalments, the first instalment being due three months after the date when such proceeds shall have become payable. Quarterly interest payments shall be increased by such dividends as may be apportioned by the company from additional interest earnings. Upon the death of the beneficiary, or the expiry of the specified term agreed upon, the amount so retained with accrued interest (if any) shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years the owner, within three months after any default, and on proper surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash; or (b) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from date of default, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, without participation in surplus and without the right to loans; or (c) to purchase participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed by the modified preliminary term method adopted by the company, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, less a surrender charge not to exceed one per cent of the amount insured by this policy, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the reserve less a surrender charge as aforesaid and less any existing indebtedness will purchase when applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the said table of mortality and rate of interest. The amounts of cash surrender value, paid-up insurance and the period of continued insurance, are as shown in the following:

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The figures in the following table give the values available at the end of complete policy years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy, and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. If there be any indebtedness to the company, the figures will be modified as hereinbefore provided. These values will be increased on account of any dividends which have been allotted and have not been withdrawn in cash up to the date of surrender or loan.

The loan values provided for in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years, as set forth under caption "loans."

Values for later years (if any) will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued, by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness with interest thereon.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, before attaining age sixty, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled and will, in consequence of bodily injury or disease, be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life, and thereby prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement hereon will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which may thereafter fall due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. Should the company assume the payment of premiums as herein provided, the insured shall furnish proof of continued disability, if called for, as each succeeding premium falls due, and failure to submit such proof shall render this clause null and void. The irrecoverable loss of sight in both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet or of one hand and one foot, shall constitute total disability within the meaning of this contract without prejudice to any other cause of disability.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

FREE FROM CONDITIONS.—This policy, with the application herefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and is free from conditions as to residence, travel, occupation and military or naval service. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract, and the company's liability shall in such case be restricted to a refund of any premiums paid.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. But if the insured be over sixty years of age at the time of making application for insurance and shall understate his (or her) age, such misstatement shall make this policy null and void.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.—If this policy becomes paid up by its terms after payment of twenty annual premiums, the insured may at his option continue to pay the annual premiums of three hundred sixty-one and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars (reducible by dividends like the earlier premiums) from and after the twentieth year, during the continuance of the contract, excluding the disability premium. And it is hereby agreed that in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the sum insured of ten thousand dollars, (\$10,000), shall become payable after nine years from that date (that is nine years from February 18th, 1934), if the insured be then living, or at his death if earlier, as provided in the policy, and in event of survivance the further sum of three hundred sixty dollars (\$360). If this option be elected this policy shall be surrendered and a new policy shall be issued in accordance with the conditions above indicated, which shall not be entitled to the disability benefit.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.

The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum, payable at the maturity of this policy, paid as follows instead of in one sum.

1. FIXED INSTALMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

2. INSTALMENTS 20 YEARS FIXED, LIFE THEREAFTER.—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

3. ANNUITY.—As an annuity during the life of the payee, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum, the first payment due one year after purchase of said annuity, and the last annuity payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity, and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee. Supplementary contracts for fixed instalment periods shall participate in surplus annually as apportioned by the company. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options 1 or 2 may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the guaranteed payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option 1 in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option 2, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this eighteenth day of February, 1914.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: (1) That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of the company in the city of Omaha have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information, made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office in this application. (2) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved and a policy issued thereon and delivered during my life and continuance in good health, and until the full premium has been duly paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, except that when the premium has been paid in advance to the authorized agent of the company and a conditional receipt on the company's authorized form has been given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such conditional receipt. (3) That I will accept the policy, if issued according to this application.

Germania Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $365.60. AGE, 35.

The Germania Life Insurance Company of the City of New York, in consideration of the payment of premiums as herein-after provided, agrees to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death during the continuance of this contract of (Insured) John Doe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York (herein called the insured), to (Beneficiary) Mary Doe, with the right to the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided (Face amount of policy) the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PREMIUM.—The first premium of three hundred sixty-five dollars and sixty cents will be payable on delivery hereof, and further premiums of like amount annually on the first day of October in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from October 1, 1913, or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Germania Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this first day of October, 1913.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the proportion of divisible surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually.

2. DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—At the option of the insured or the owner dividends declared will at the end of the first and each succeeding policy year, without any condition as to payment of premium, be (a) paid in cash; or (b) applied toward payment of premium; or (c) left on deposit with the company to accumulate with interest compounded and credited annually at such rate, not less than three per centum per annum, as the company may from year to year determine. Such deposit will be payable with the policy at maturity, but may be withdrawn at the end of any policy year; or (d) applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder, with participation in surplus. Any such addition may at any time be surrendered for a cash value, which shall be equal to the reserve thereon (increasing yearly), but in no case less than the amount of the original cash dividend, provided such reserve is not included in any value granted under the provisions of paragraph 4, "loans," or of paragraph 5, "options on surrender or lapse." Unless the insured or the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividend will be applied according to option (d) above.

3. PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—When the reserve on this policy and on any outstanding dividend additions (paragraph 2, option (d)) according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, together with any accumulated dividends held at interest (paragraph 2, option (c)), shall equal or exceed the reserve on the same mortality and interest basis for a fully paid-up policy of the same amount and payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, at the then attained age of the insured, the company will make this policy paid-up in full with participation in surplus, any indebtedness to the company hereon to be a lien against such paid-up insurance; or, when such aggregate amount shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company will mature this policy and pay such amount as an endowment less any indebtedness to the company hereon, provided in either case that a proper request be made therefor together with a satisfactory release.

4. LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on proper assignment and delivery of the policy and on the sole security thereof an amount which, at the option of the insured or the owner, shall be equal to or less than the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the current policy year. Any unpaid portion of the premium for said policy year, together with any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy, shall be paid out of the proceeds of such loan. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per centum per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and in advance for each year thereafter, principal and interest to be payable at the home office of the company. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and bear interest at the same rate. The whole or any part of a loan may be repaid to the company at any time while this policy is in force. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or the owner and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

5. OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After premiums shall have been paid on this policy for two full years, then in case of default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium, if such default continues after the period of grace herein provided for, the policy will have one of the following optional values:

(a) AUTOMATIC PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Without any action on the part of the insured or the owner, the policy will be continued in force as paid-up life insurance of a reduced amount, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, with participation in surplus and with increasing loan and cash surrender values; or

(b) CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon due surrender of the policy by the insured or the owner, its value will be paid in cash and the insurance terminated. The cash surrender value shall be equal to the reserve at the date of default for the face amount of this policy and for any outstanding dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, less an amount having a maximum of one and four-tenths per centum of the sum insured at the end of the second policy year, and decreasing annually thereafter. Beginning with the end of the tenth policy year the cash surrender value shall be equal to the full reserve. Any indebtedness to the company on the policy existing at the time of surrender shall be deducted from any such cash surrender value; or

(c) PAID-UP EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—Upon written request made by the insured or the owner and received at the home office of the company together with the policy duly surrendered within three months from the due date of the premium in default, the company will grant paid-up term insurance reckoned from said date, without participation in surplus and without the right to loans, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions thereto, less any indebtedness hereon to the company. The amount of the automatic paid-up life insurance under option (a) above, or the term of paid-up extended insurance obtainable under option (c) above, will be such as the cash surrender value obtainable under option (b) above, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, will purchase when applied as a net single premium on the mortality and interest basis as stated above.

The paid-up life insurance and the paid-up term insurance above provided for will be entitled to cash surrender values, which shall be equal to the full reserve thereon at the time of surrender, computed on the basis above mentioned, less any indebtedness to the company on account of such paid-up insurance.

Any accumulated cash dividends (paragraph 2, option (c)) standing to the credit of this policy at the date of surrender or lapse shall then be payable in cash in addition to the payment of the cash value or the granting of the paid-up life or extended term insurance above provided for.

The insured will be entitled to receive any cash dividends declared on this policy or the loan value or the cash value above provided for, except when the interest of any beneficiary hereunder is without revocation, in which case the right to receive any such payment shall vest in the insured and the beneficiary jointly.

While any owner of this policy, either by the terms hereof or by assignment, is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying premiums; and before a cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be legally released by a duly appointed guardian.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in the following table represent the minimum values available at the end of completed policy years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy and provided premiums have been paid for the full number of years stated or for the full number of years required by this policy if less than the number stated. These values will be increased on account of any outstanding dividend additions. If there be any indebtedness to the company on this policy the figures will be modified as herein provided.

Values for later years will be computed upon the above stated basis, and will be furnished upon request. The cash surrender value or the loan value set forth in the above table for the end of a policy year, less interest thereon at the rate of five per centum per annum to the end of such policy year, may be obtained at any time during such policy year, provided all premiums shall have been duly paid as required. The values provided for in the above table will be proportionately increased by the payment of additional instalments of premium beyond the full paid policy year.

6. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereunder are payable on or before the specified dates at the home office of the company or to a duly authorized agent or agency cashier presenting the official receipt signed by an executive officer (president, vice-president, second vice-president, or secretary) and countersigned by such agent or agency cashier. On premiums paid one month or more before the date when due a discount will be allowed at the rate of three per centum per annum from the date of payment to the date when due. Premiums are payable annually in advance, but the company will accept payment in semi-annual or quarterly instalments according to its published rates at the time this policy was issued. A change in the method of payment herein stipulated may be made at the end of any policy year, upon a written request for such change to be filed at the home office of the company before the anniversary date on which the change is to take effect. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is due.

7. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) shall be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first without any interest charge, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the overdue premium and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

8. PREMIUM EXTENSION BEYOND GRACE PERIOD.—If a request therefor is made in writing by the insured or the owner and received at the home office of the company within the period of grace, an extension for a further period expiring not later than ninety days from the due date will be granted by the company for the payment of any overdue premium, upon the execution and subject to the conditions of an extension agreement on the company's form and, if required, upon the payment of a deposit on account of such premium. Any cash dividend then available may be used to decrease the deposit. At the expiration of the extension period the premium less the deposit, if any, is payable with interest thereon at five per centum per annum for the extension period granted beyond the period of grace.

9. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon a satisfactory request therefor made by the insured or the owner and received at the home office of the company before default in the payment of premium, and until a written revocation of such request has been duly filed with the company at its said home office, the amount of any premium or interest not paid in cash when due, less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action of the insured or the owner, be loaned by the company in payment of such premium and interest, if any, and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to interest as above specified in paragraph 4, "loans," provided that the net loan value (after deducting any indebtedness hereon to the company) then available is sufficient to pay the premium and interest then due.

10. AUTOMATIC PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS BY DIVIDENDS.—If a premium is unpaid at the end of the period of grace and provision for its payment shall not have been made in accordance with paragraph 8 or paragraph 9, then if any accumulated dividends (paragraph 2, option (c)) are standing to the credit of the policy at least equal to the payment required, such payment will be made by the application of an equal amount of such dividend credit; or if such credit be less than the required payment, then out of such credit, if sufficient, shall be paid semi-annual or quarterly instalment of premium, and such application shall be a proper discharge to the company for the dividend credit so applied.

11. ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured was misstated in the application for this policy, and there has been no adjustment on account of such misstatement, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

12. SUICIDE.—If the insured shall, within one year from the date hereof, commit suicide or die by his or her own hand or act, whether sane or insane at the time, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the reserve for this policy, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum.

13. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered may be restored to full force at any time after default in payment of any premium, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the person upon whose life this policy was issued, and upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum compounded annually on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against the policy at date of default, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest shall at the option of the insured be paid in cash, or, to the extent of the cash surrender value at the date to which reinstatement is made, be settled by a loan on the policy in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4, "loans." The company will state upon request in what form evidence of insurability shall be furnished and will bear the cost thereof.

14. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

15. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved to the insured, he may, if of full age, at any time during the continuance of this policy, change and successively change the beneficiary hereunder whether original or substituted, without the consent of such beneficiary, but the interest of the newly substituted bene-fiary shall be subject to the terms of any then existing assignment of this policy. The insured may declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable. During the lifetime of any irrevocably designated beneficiary the insured shall not have the right to revoke or change the designation of that beneficiary without the written consent of such beneficiary filed with the company. If any beneficiary, revocable or irrevocable, dies before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise specifically provided. Every change of beneficiary or change from revocable to irrevocable designation must be made by a written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only when endorsed on this policy by the company.

16. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICIES.—This policy while in full force may be changed at the end of any policy year upon due release, without medical re-examination of the insured, to any other plan in use at the time this policy was issued requiring a higher rate of premium, except the continuous instalment or life income plan. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same number and date and be for the same amount as this policy, and shall be effective upon the payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on the new policy and the premiums paid on this policy with compound interest at the rate of five per centum per annum from the due date of each premium to the date when the change is made, provided, however, that the amount to be paid to secure such change shall in no case be less than the difference in the reserves for the respective policies according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum. Any accumulated cash dividends held at interest (paragraph 2, option (c)) and the cash value of any outstanding dividend additions (paragraph 2, option (d)), as well as any dividends that would have accrued on this policy had it originally been issued on the new form chosen, in excess of the cash dividends actually declared on this policy, may be used in settlement of the amount so payable.

17. POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured as the basis for the contract shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in the written application hereof and unless a copy of the application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto when this policy is issued.

18. NOTICE.—Agents have no authority to extend the time for payment of a premium or interest or to make, alter or discharge a contract or to waive a forfeiture or to bind the company by any statement or promise.

19. OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by written notice filed at its home office, the company will, at the option of the payee, make settlement under this policy as a death claim or as a matured endowment according to one of the following methods:

(a) CASH.—Pay the net proceeds of the policy in cash.

(b) GUARANTEED INCOME.—Retain the net proceeds of the policy as a principal sum and pay interest thereon at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee at a rate not less than three per centum per annum, and pay said principal sum with any accrued or unpaid interest thereon upon the death of the said payee to his or her executors, administrators or assigns.

(c) LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Pay the net proceeds of the policy in equal monthly instalments, provided the amount of each such instalment is not less than ten dollars, the first instalment to be payable immediately, and the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the accompanying table.

Number of monthly instalments....	24	36	48	60	72	84

At any time while this policy is in force and unassigned, the insured, or, if the interest of any beneficiary hereunder is irrevocable, the insured and beneficiary jointly, upon written request to the company filed at its home office, may elect any one of the above described options of settlement. If the policy is assigned, the signatures of the owners will be required. A revocation of any such election may be effected in like manner.

Unless otherwise provided by written notice filed at the company's home office, if settlement of this policy is made under option (b), the payee or payees may secure the payment of the principal sum in cash at any time upon giving a satisfactory release therefor; or if settlement is made under option (c) or option (d), the payee or payees may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three per centum per annum, any of the unpaid instalments under option (c) or any of the unpaid instalments certain under option (d), subsequent payments, if any, under such options being in no wise affected by any such commutation. Any instalments payable under option (c) or option (d) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise provided, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. The above methods of settlement (c) and (d) are not available if the beneficiary be a corporation, a co-partnership or an association.

INCREASE OF INTEREST INCOME OR INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—In addition to the interest income under option (b) or the instalments payable under option (c) or within the fixed period of twenty years under option (d), there will be allowed by the company at the end of each year on the fund retained such excess interest as the company shall from year to year declare on such funds.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY INSTALMENTS.—At the option of the owner provision may be made for paying in lieu of monthly instalments, annual, semi-annual or quarterly instalments, which shall be the equivalent in value of the monthly instalments above specified, but will be slightly less than such instalments in the aggregate amount payable each year.

GUARANTEED INCOME OR INSTALMENT CERTIFICATE.—This policy, upon its maturity (either as a death claim or as an endowment), if any of the above elections shall have been made, shall be surrendered to the company and, except in the case of option (a), a certificate evidencing the rights and benefits under the option selected shall be issued in exchange therefor.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS IN CASE OF DISABILITY.—If, after payment of premiums on this policy for at least one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, satisfactory proof shall be furnished to the company that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease (any such cause originating after the delivery of this policy) so that he is and will presumably be permanently and continuously prevented thereby from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company, by endorsement hereon, will agree to waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due during the continuance of such disability. If premiums are so waived, they shall not be deducted from the amount payable hereunder and the policy shall participate in surplus and the values provided for in paragraph 4, "loans," and in paragraph 5, "options on surrender or lapse" shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums had continued to be paid to the company regularly when due. Any dividends declared on this policy during its continuance after the provisions of this paragraph have taken effect shall be paid in cash.

Provided always that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall as often as required by the company furnish satisfactory proof of continuance of such disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, then all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid as originally provided in this policy.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists or of both feet above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered a total and permanent disability within the meaning of this paragraph.

At the end of any policy year, upon the written request of the insured or the owner the provisions of this paragraph may by endorsement on this policy be made inoperative. After such a change, or if no such change has been made, after the insured has attained the age of sixty years, provided premiums are then still payable, the premiums required by this policy will be reduced to three hundred sixty-two dollars and twenty cents annually.

NOTE.—The foregoing printed paragraphs contain all the benefits and provisions referred to on the first page hereof. Any additional benefits or provisions will be stated below over the signature of an executive officer of the company.

DISABILITY AGREEMENT SUPPLEMENTAL TO TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY.

The Germania Life Insurance Company of the city of New York by this supplemental agreement, attached to policy No. 04682 on the life of John Doe in consideration of seven teen dollars and seventy cents, to be paid together with each annual premium required by said policy during the period terminating at the end of the policy year in which the insured shall attain the age of sixty years, grants the following disability benefits in addition to the benefit provided for in the paragraph of said policy entitled "waiver of premiums in case of disability," namely:

1. DISABILITY BEFORE AGE SIXTY.—If disability as described in the aforementioned paragraph shall occur before the insured attains the age of sixty years and while no premium is in default, six months after due proof of such disability shall have been received by the company, provided such disability then exists and this agreement is in force the company will pay to the insured with the written consent of the assignee, if any one-tenth of the face amount of said policy and one-tenth of such face amount annually thereafter during the continuance of such disability until the policy shall become a claim either by the death of the insured or as a matured endowment. If the age of the insured was misstated in the application for said policy, the annuity payable under the provisions of this agreement shall be such as the actual premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age; any overpayment or overpayments by the company by reason of understatement of age shall be charged with interest thereon against any payments to be made after adjustment under the provisions either of this agreement or of said policy. The annuity payments provided for in this section will not apply if disability occurs as a result of military or naval service in war.

2. DISABILITY AFTER AGE SIXTY.—If due proof shall be received by the company that disability as aforesaid occurred after the insured attained the age of sixty years and while no premium is in default, the company, by endorsement on the policy, will agree to waive payment of the premiums which thereafter may become due under the policy during the continuance of such disability. Each premium so waived will reduce by its amount the face amount of the policy; the amount of the premium will be correspondingly reduced and all values under the policy shall be reduced to correspond to the reduced insurance and will be calculated as if the premium for the reduced insurance had been paid when due. If, under this provision, the loan value of the policy is reduced so as to become equal to or less than any outstanding indebtedness on the policy, the company's liability under the policy shall terminate.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—If, in accordance with the paragraph "waiver of premiums in case of disability," upon recovery from such disability premiums as stipulated in the policy and this agreement respectively shall again become payable, no further disability annuity payments shall be made, and if the insurance shall have been reduced under the provisions of this agreement, such reduced insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due and all the benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly. At the end of any policy year, upon the written request of the insured or the owner, accompanied by this agreement, its provisions will be discontinued and thereafter the payment of the aforesaid additional premium shall not be required. If default be made in the payment of the said additional premium, this agreement shall cease and determine and the premiums paid thereunder shall remain the property of the company. Except as provided above, all the conditions and privileges of said policy shall remain unchanged.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree that the foregoing statements, together with this declaration and my statements and answers to the company's medical examiner in Part II hereof, shall constitute my application for insurance on my life; that all of said statements and answers are full, complete and true, are material to the risk, and are offered by me as a consideration for, and as the basis and a part of the proposed contract of insurance. I also agree that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered to me, and the first premium thereon paid, during my lifetime and continued good health, and that such delivery and payment shall constitute acceptance of the policy as issued. I further agree that only an Executive Officer of the Company has authority to make or alter a contract of insurance, or to bind the company by any promise or statement.

German Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $346.90.

AGE, 35.

The German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis by this policy of insurance promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of St. Louis, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proof of the death during the continuance of this policy of John Doe (herein called the insured), of St. Louis, county _____, State of Missouri.

This contract is made in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred forty-six dollars and ninety cents, to be paid to the company on or before the delivery of this policy, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of March in every year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to the special benefits and provisions stated on the following pages hereof, which are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its office in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, this first day of March, 1914.

SPECIAL BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue, for any cause except non-payment of premium.

FREEDOM OF RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy contains no restrictions whatever upon the insured, in respect to residence and travel.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be converted into a continuous monthly income to the beneficiary, as provided in the table on the third page hereof.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of St. Louis, on the date or dates named on the first page hereof, but may be paid to its authorized agent producing receipts therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the day when due, this policy shall become void, and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of the second and subsequent premiums, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, without interest charge, and if the insured die during the said thirty-one days, the unpaid premium will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, within five years after non-payment of any premium (provided the cash surrender value shall not have been paid or its extension period expired), subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of delinquent premiums, with interest at not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum to date of restoration.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy is written upon the annual dividend plan. Beginning with and upon the payment of the premium for the second policy year, and annually thereafter upon payment of the premium for each succeeding policy year, it will be credited with a dividend as apportioned by the company. Dividends will be continued hereon after this policy has become fully paid up by the payment of all premiums required by the terms of this policy to be paid. Dividends may, at the option of the owner, be applied in any of the following ways: (1) To reduce the premium. (2) To purchase, without re-examination, paid-up additions to the policy payable with the policy. Paid-up additions may, at any time, be re-converted and surrendered for cash. (3) Taken in cash. (4) Dividends may be left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. Such dividend fund may be withdrawn at any time upon satisfactory release, or, if not withdrawn, will be payable with the policy. (Unless the insured or the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions as per (2).)

BENEFICIARIES—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has, in the application hereof, reserved the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, the insured may, at any time, if this policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, upon filing a written request therefor with the company at its home office, in such form as it may require; but no such change shall take effect unless and until endorsement thereof shall have been made hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while this policy is in full force, it may be changed, without medical examination, to any other form of policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon the payment of such an amount and the execution of such papers as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, bear the same number and date, and be written at the same age as this policy.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, the company will loan, within thirty-one days of the application therefor, upon proper assignment to the company upon its prescribed form, and on the sole security hereof, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the then current policy year, as stated in the table of values herein contained, plus the value of all paid-up additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of said policy year. Interest at a rate not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance. If the interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan, after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after the giving of such notice, shall render this policy void.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—This policy, after the payment upon it of three full annual premiums, shall not be forfeited or become void by reason of the non-payment of premium, but, upon the non-payment of any subsequent premium or instalment thereof on the date when due, the owner shall have the choice of one of the following options:

1. PAID-UP VALUE.—Upon written request therefor of the owner hereof within sixty days after such due date and the surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy of non-participating paid-up life insurance for such an amount as the cash surrender value will purchase when used as a net single premium by the table referred to below (such commuted policy to have cash and loan values equal to the amount of its entire reserve); or,

2. SELF-ACTING EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Without action on the part of the owner, the company will extend the insurance under this policy from such due date, by applying the cash surrender value at such time as a net single premium, by the table referred to below, to the purchase of non-participating term insurance for the face amount of this policy (but without the right to loans thereon); or,

3. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—The company will, upon request of the owner hereof and surrender of this policy within sixty days from such due date, purchase this policy and pay therefor, within thirty-one days of such request, its cash surrender value. Said cash surrender value at date of default in payment of premium will be the full reserve on the policy and on any existing paid-up additions less a sum equal to one per cent of the face amount of the insurance hereunder, up to and including the fifth policy year, and thereafter said per cent will be decreased by one-tenth of one per cent each policy year, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. After the fourteenth year, said value will be the full reserve, less any indebtedness as aforesaid.

TABLE OF MINIMUM VALUES,

Guaranteed under "non-forfeitable" provisions, provided all premiums due prior to the period designated are paid and no indebtedness exists.

These values will be increased by the then value of any paid-up additions standing to the credit of this policy, and will be decreased by any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. The insurances under Options 1 and 2, in the table above, are the mathematical equivalents of the cash surrender value as stated under Option 3 in the table.

The reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the policy under the several options, which are stated in the table of values above, are for full-paid policy years—and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premium beyond the full-paid policy year. While any owner of this policy is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly authorized legal guardian.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and subject to "cash loans" clause, are available at any time after three full years' premiums have been paid.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for the succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Instalment benefits may be substituted for payment in one sum as follows:

A. CONTINUOUS MONTHLY INSTALMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured, may be paid in three hundred specified monthly instalments, of an amount corresponding in the following table to the then attained age of the person entitled thereto, provided that if such person shall survive to receive all of said three hundred instalments, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of such person. The table shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid.

If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's monthly instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained:

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000 and the age of beneficiary be forty years (last birthday), at the death of the insured the beneficiary would be paid three hundred monthly instalments of $40.60 each, and thereafter monthly instalments of $40.60 each during the remainder of life.

B. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured may be paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per the following table, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid:

Number of instalments.....	25	20	15	10

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of this policy be $10,000, and if payment is made by twenty instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $652.50.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly.

PROVISIONS OF INSTALMENT SELECTION.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1000, and not assigned, may notify the company in writing of a desire to choose one of the above-mentioned methods of settlement, and if such choice is not made by the insured, the same choice may be exercised by the beneficiary at the time this policy becomes a claim. After making selection of manner of payment, the insured can revoke his selection and select another manner by notifying the company in writing. The mode of instalment settlement selected by the insured shall not be varied by the beneficiary.

After the death of the insured (selection of instalment benefit having been made) on the payment of the first instalment under either of the above mentioned benefits, this policy shall be surrendered to the company, and in its place the company will issue a supplementary contract in accordance with the instalment benefit selected, which contract shall provide that on all instalments remaining unpaid from year to year, there will be allowed such share of interest earned in excess of three and one-half per cent as the company may from year to year apportion. The first instalment shall be paid upon satisfactory proof of claim upon the company. Any indebtedness to the company under this policy to be deducted from the first instalment or instalments due.

If the claim under this policy amounts to less than $1000, no settlement by instalments shall be made, and any choice of instalment settlement previously made shall be void, but the amount due under this policy shall be paid in one sum.

Should the beneficiary under this policy, surviving the insured, die before receiving all the unpaid specified instalments, the then present value of all such instalments shall be paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of the said beneficiary.

Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has the power on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any policy of insurance, or to extend the time for the payment of any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promises or representations heretofore or hereafter given by any person, other than the above. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid and the policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of said insured.

Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the home office for consent and record, one of them to be retained there; but the company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any claim against this company arising under this policy, made by any assignee, shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

The company, upon request, will furnish blanks for proof of death under this policy; which proof must be furnished to the company at its home office, in the city of St. Louis, Mo. Any balance of the current year's premium, and any indebtedness hereon to the company, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder.

In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from date of issue of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to double the amount of the premium paid hereon.

This policy and the application herefor, taken together, constitute the complete contract. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed to be representations and not warranties.

For one year after date of issue of this policy, engagement in any of the following occupations or employments—blasting, underground mining, sub-marine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railway trains (except as conductor, baggage master, mail or express clerk on passenger trains), or in switching or coupling of cars, or in ocean or lake navigation, or electrical employment where the voltage is over 600, will render the policy void.

If the age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the true age.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I do hereby agree as follows: 1. That the statements and representations contained in the foregoing application, together with those contained in the declarations made by me to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, shall be the basis of the contract between me and The German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis; that I hereby represent the same to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not; said representations are conditions precedent to, and the consideration for, the policy which may be issued hereon. 2. That such policy shall be accepted subject to the conditions and stipulations therein contained, and shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid thereon, and the policy delivered during my lifetime and good health. 3. That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of St. Louis, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in this application. 4. That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy. 5. That the contract, contained in such policy and in this application, shall be construed according to the law of the State of Missouri, the place of said contract being agreed to be the home office of said company in the city of St. Louis. 6. That no suit shall be brought against said company under said contract after the lapse of three years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING—DISABILITY

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $306.00. AGE, 35.

Gibraltar Life Insurance Company, Paris, Texas, will pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in Paris, Texas, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living, (the beneficiary) immediately on the receipt at said home office of due proofs of the death of John Doe of Paris, county of Lamar, state of Texas (the insured), while this policy is in force less any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company and subject to the benefits, privileges and conditions hereinafter contained.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of peace or in time of war. This policy is unrestricted as to travel, residence or place of death of the insured.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year whether the insured is sane or insane is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such case the company will return the premiums actually received.

PREMIUMS. ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL, QUARTERLY.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to a designated agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company and duly countersigned by such agent. If any premium or note or other obligation given in payment for insurance hereunder shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease and all payments made hereon shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. Premiums may be paid annually or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in accordance with the semi-annual and quarterly rates in use by the company at the date hereof, and may be changed from one to another of such modes of payment upon the insured's written request therefor. Any unpaid part or instalment of the premium for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

GRACE.—One month's grace is allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, without interest charge, during which month this insurance shall continue in force.

AUTHORITY TO CONTRACT.—Only the president, vice-president or secretary (and they only in writing at the home office) shall have power on behalf of the company to make or modify any contract of insurance or to extend the time for the payment of any premium. The company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any other person.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries and subject to the rules of the company regarding beneficiaries, at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary should die before the insured, the interests of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be filed at the home office of the company in Paris, Texas. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of the assignment.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—If any premium is not paid when due, or within the period of grace, and this policy has not been surrendered, the company will re-instate the policy as of said due date any time thereafter, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest, together with the payment, or re-instatement of any indebtedness on this policy on said due date, with interest. The rate of interest shall be five per cent per annum in advance.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then, (1) Without any action on the part of the insured, this policy shall be extended as a policy of paid-up term insurance (without loan or surrender values) for the full amount thereof and for such a term, beginning at the due date of the unpaid premium, as that the net value thereof shall equal the net value of the paid-up term insurance stated in column four of the table on the third page hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on the policy, or, (2) If this policy shall be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default the company will pay therefor, in cash, the sum stated in column two of the table on the third page hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on the policy; or, (3) Upon written application therefor made to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default the company on legal surrender of this policy, will issue in exchange therefor, a policy of paid-up life insurance, in such a sum as that the net value thereof shall equal the net value of the paid-up life insurance stated in column three on the third page hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. The reserves on this policy and all the net values above mentioned will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided such disability does not result directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, from self-inflicted injury, or from injury received while engaged in any unlawful act, and does not result in any way from injury received or disease contracted while engaged in military or naval service in time of war. In such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the guaranteed values of this policy in the table on the third page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with the contract from the first premium due date following such recovery.

LOAN AGREEMENT.—The insured is entitled to cash loans on the sole security of this policy at any time after the first policy year if premiums are paid in cash to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made. The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in column one of the table below for the end of the policy year last completed. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on form provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. Interest shall be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy.

Loan and cash values available after the twentieth policy year will be the entire legal reserve of this policy, less all existing indebtedness to the company thereon. The amount of any such value available will be stated upon application to the home office of the company.

All insurance provided by this policy is based upon the written and printed application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and upon the payment of three hundred six dollars on the 1st day of January, 1912, as the premium for one year's insurance. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance and the policy will be continued in force upon the further payment of three hundred six dollars on or before the first day of January in each and every year hereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from date hereof or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The Gibraltar Life Insurance Company has by its president, or vice-president, and secretary signed this contract at its home office at Paris, Texas, as of the first day of January, A. D. nineteen hundred and fifteen.

INSTALMENT BENEFIT.—The insured or owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: 1. Payment of the face of the policy, in twenty equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured), and a further amount equal to one-half of the face of the policy twenty years after the payment of the first instalment. 2. By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the table set out below and headed "Limited Instalments." 3. By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the table set out below and headed "Continuous Instalments." The following tables are based upon a policy, the net sum of which is one thousand dollars, and will apply pro rata to this policy. If the net sum is less than one thousand dollars the proceeds will be paid in one sum only. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments certain have been paid, the remainder of the instalments certain shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns.

Girard Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this contract of insurance, agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on page three hereof, at its home office in Philadelphia, Pa, to Polly Lun Girard, wife, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive the payment (as hereinafter provided), upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured, Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, County of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of the insured.

THIS POLICY SHALL BE INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR from the date hereof, provided the premiums shall be paid as stated herein and the condition as to military and naval service is not violated, and it is issued and accepted by all the parties in interest, subject to the conditions, privileges and benefits stated on the following pages, which are hereby made a part of this contract.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, the insured may at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of the policy (subject to any existing assignment of the policy), make such change by filing with the company a written request, using the company's form for that purpose, duly acknowledged and accompanied by the policy; the change to take effect upon the endorsement thereof upon the policy by the company. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Girard Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, at its office in Philadelphia, Pa., this third day of November, A. D., 1914.

CONDITIONS, PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS REFERRED TO IN THIS POLICY.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums hereunder are payable annually in advance, but may be paid in amounts and at times other than as stated on the last page hereof, as follows: $193.70 on the third day of November and May, or $98.80 on the third day of November, February, May and August. After the first year these rates will be reduced as provided by the coupons on the third page hereof. Except as hereinafter provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz., president, vice-president, treasurer or secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE FOR PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace the overdue premium and interest will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of any premium, if it has not been surrendered to the company, and, if it is not running as extended term insurance, it may be revived at any time within three years from the date of such lapse, by the insured furnishing evidence of insurability, satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and shall not be held to have notice thereof until the original assignment, or duplicate thereof, is received at the home office of the company; all assignments shall be subject to the company's interest in the policy.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—(a) Self destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, will make it void. (b) Military or naval service of any kind in time of war by the insured without the written consent of the company is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured as the basis for the contract shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim hereunder unless it is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon.

MODIFICATIONS OR ALTERATIONS.—No modification or alteration hereof will be valid unless made for the company, by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and no other person is authorized to make, alter or discharge this contract, or to waive for feiture. Agents are not authorized to waive or modify any of the terms and condition of this policy, nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while the policy is in full force by the payment of premiums, and provided it is not continued as extended term insurance, on a proper assignment of the policy upon its prescribed form the company will, within thirty days of the application therefor, loan on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum (payable annually in advance), a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalment of premium for the balance of the policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee of record at the home office, if any.

PARTICIPATION.—In addition to the reduction in the premium, as per coupons attached to this policy shall participate in the surplus earnings of the company. Its proportion of such surplus shall be determined by the directors and distributed at the end of each five year period from date hereof, provided the premiums have been paid in full to that date and the policy is then in full force and effect, and may be used as follows: (First) Withdrawn in cash. (Second) Applied to purchase additional paid-up insurance. (Third) Applied to reduce the premium hereon. (Fourth) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable, either in full or in part, in cash on demand by the owner of this policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After the payment of premiums for three or more years, if default shall be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, this policy shall secure without action on the part of the insured, non-participating paid-up insurance, as per table below.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of the paid-up insurance, the insured, by writing filed with company at its home office within two months from the due date of the premium in default, after the payment of premiums for three or more years, may elect to have the policy continued in force as a non-participating extended term insurance, in accordance with the table below.

CASH VALUE.—In lieu of the paid-up and extended term insurance provisions, upon the legal surrender of the policy to the company at the end of the third or any year thereafter, or within two months from the due date of any premium in default, after the payment of premiums for three or more years, a cash value will be paid as per table below. Each of these non-forfeiture benefits shall be the equivalent of the reserve value of this policy and dividend additions thereto (if any) at the date of the default in premium payments, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value the full reserve, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said full reserve; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said reserve applied according to the said mortality table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full cash value. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—In lieu of the payment in one sum, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, may elect by a writing filed with the company, with the right of revocation and re-election, to have the proceeds of this policy (including paid-up additions and dividend accumulations, if any), if not less than one thousand dollars, paid in equal annual instalments according to one of the following options, beginning upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. No such instalments may be assigned, alienated, or commuted by any beneficiary, except upon the written authority of the insured filed with the company. If the insured shall not have made such election the beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive said proceeds may, when the same become payable, exercise the same right of election. If no beneficiary survives the insured, said proceeds will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. If there be more than one beneficiary, the right of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries upon satisfactory proof of such decease, except that under Option B the rights of the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries shall be limited to such of the first twenty instalments, if any, as remain unpaid at the death of such beneficiary. At the death of the last surviving beneficiary, occurring subsequently to the death of the insured or to the maturity of the policy, any of the limited instalments under Option A, or any of the first twenty instalments under Option B, then remaining unpaid, will be commuted upon the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of such last surviving beneficiary.

OPTION B. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Table of instalments payable for the amount corresponding to the age attained by the beneficiary or beneficiaries at the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. Amount of each instalment is guaranteed throughout twenty years and so much longer as the beneficiary or beneficiaries may live. If there be more than one beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy to be paid in instalments shall be considered as divided into equal parts, and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined by the age attained.

These tables are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are one thousand dollars and apply pro rata to this policy.

CONSIDERATION FOR THIS POLICY.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance for the first policy year ending on the third day of November, 1915. After the first year the policy will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars, less the amount provided by coupons on the third page hereof, on or before the third day of November in every year, until twenty full years' premiums in all, including the first year, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.—If this policy be in force the company guarantees that the premium for the second year, and for each year thereafter, will be reduced by the amount as evidenced by the coupons hereto attached. If any premium be paid semi-annually or quarterly, instead of annually, the coupon will be allowed with the final payment for the policy year.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.—In lieu of the premium reduction provided above, the company guarantees to increase the cash surrender, loan value, paid-up insurance, term of extended insurance and amount payable in event of death to the amounts stated in the following table. The additional paid-up insurances, given in lieu of the guaranteed reductions in the premium, may be surrendered at any time for their cash value, which shall be their full reserve value at date of surrender.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value, the full reserve; paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said full reserve, on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said cash value, applied according to the said mortality table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full cash value. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after November 3, 1915, Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., will allow to the insured under policy No. 00,000 (or to the assignee if said policy be assigned), upon receipt of this coupon by the company, forty-five $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars in reduction of premium due this date.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—It is hereby declared and agreed by the undersigned that all the foregoing statements and answers, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner in connection with this application are complete and true, and that if a policy of insurance shall be issued by said company under this application the same shall constitute the basis of and be a part of the contract expressed in said policy. I further agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me, or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during my present condition of health; and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins.

PART II.—I hereby further declare that the answers to the above questions are full, complete and true, and agree that they shall constitute a part of the contract for insurance for which I apply.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Great Northern Life Insurance Company (Wis.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.40. AGE, 35.

The Great Northern Life Insurance Company of Wausau, Wis., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt at the home office of the company in Wausau, Wis., of due proof of the death of George Norton, the insured, and of the interest of the claimant to Grace Norton (wife), the beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. Any indebtedness hereon to the company will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

The provisions and agreements on the following pages are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Great Northern Life Insurance Company, at its home office in the city of Wausau, Wis., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary this first day of April, 1914.

Provisions and agreements referred to on the preceding page.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, and of the annual premium of three hundred, nine dollars and $\frac{40}{100}$, and in further consideration of the payment of a like amount, in advance, upon the first day of April in every year hereafter until premiums have been paid for twenty years from the date of this policy or until the prior death of the insured.

All premiums are payable at the home office of the company or to any authorized agent upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company and countersigned by the designated agent.

Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance, at the company's table rates. The mode of payment may be changed at any time. Except as hereinafter provided, the payment of an annual semi-annual or quarterly premium will not keep this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium is due.

This policy will not take effect until the first premium is actually paid during the good health of the insured.

GRACE.—A grace of one month will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time this insurance will continue in force. If the premium be not so paid, this policy shall thereupon cease and determine, except as herein provided. If death occur within the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder; but in no case will any semi-annual or quarterly premium, due after the date of death, be deducted from the amount payable under this policy, whether said death occur within the period of grace or at any other time while this policy is in force.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan, on the proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the loan value specified in the table hereinafter given, less the amount of any indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid premium or premiums for the balance of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days unless such loan is made solely to pay renewal premiums on policies in this company, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent, per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and thereafter annually in advance. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy while the total indebtedness hereon, including interest, is less than the loan value, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. Thereupon this policy shall cease and determine.

PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon application, in writing, on or before the time when a premium shall become due, the time for payment of such premium will be extended, subject to interest on the deferred payment as a loan, and subject to the provisions in the preceding paragraph.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The foregoing options will be applicable in full, only in case there is no indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy. If there be such indebtedness the cash surrender value and the amount of paid-up insurance will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value. In the case of extended insurance, the indebtedness will be deducted from the net value of the option and the remainder applied, as a net single premium, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, to continue the face amount of this policy for a correspondingly shorter term.

SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon default in the payment of any premium, after premiums have been paid for three full years, and upon legal surrender of this policy to the company, within one month after any default, the insured will be entitled to one of the following options as specified above and in the foregoing table: (1) The company will pay the amount of the cash surrender value as above specified; or (2) The company will issue a paid-up policy for a reduced amount, as above specified, payable in the same manner as this policy, but without further payment of premiums; or (3) The company will issue an extended insurance policy, for the face amount of this policy and for the term of years and days above specified, beginning with the first day of the month of grace.

TABLE OF LOANS AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The following table shows the values guaranteed by this policy, provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon; any such indebtedness will modify the values, as hereinafter provided. These values are based on the reserves, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one-half per cent interest, on the basis of one year modified preliminary term insurance. The values in each case are the equivalents of such reserve for the end of the policy year, and will be proportionately adjusted, on the same basis, for fractional periods in excess of full years. Payment of the cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding ninety days after the application therefor is made. Cash surrender and loan values for later years are computed on the same basis and will be stated on application.

AUTOMATIC OPTION.—If this policy be not surrendered for one of the foregoing options, the insurance will be carried as extended insurance, subject to modification on account of any indebtedness, as above specified, but without action on the part of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not surrendered to the company and cancelled, or if carried as extended insurance, may be reinstated at any time after default in payment of any premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and upon payment of all premium arrears, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. The reinstated policy will also be subject to the payment or reinstatement (within the loan value of this policy) of any unpaid indebtedness at the time of default, with interest.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is modified preliminary term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to any existing assignment of this policy, may designate a new beneficiary by filing notice at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder will be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age; or the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at the date of this policy.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by suicide or in consequence of his or her own criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid on this policy.

OCCUPATION, RESIDENCE, TRAVEL.—This policy shall be free from any restriction as to residence, travel, military or naval service or other occupations of the insured.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or after the death of the insured (if he shall have made no election), the beneficiary, may, by written notice to the company, at its home office, with the consent of the assignee, if any, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured (if not less than $1000) paid as provided in the options below, otherwise payment will be made in one sum only, as hereinbefore provided. (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three per cent of such net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment, upon the death of the beneficiary, of said net sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice; or (2) By the payment of equal instalments at the beginning of each annual, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly period for a specified number of years, according to the following table of limited instalments; or (3) By the payment of equal instalments at the beginning of each annual, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly period, for a fixed period of twenty years, and as for as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table of continuous instalments.

Any instalments payable, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

Unless otherwise specified in the written notice of such election, the beneficiary may at any time receive, in full settlement and commutation of the payments yet to be made under the limited instalment option the commuted value of such payments, computed on the basis of three per cent compound interest; no such commutation will be made under the continuous instalment option except after the death of the beneficiary within the fixed period of twenty years, and in that case such commutation shall extend only to the remainder of the instalments payable within such fixed period of twenty years.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy together with the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor. No agent is authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying a premium.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree that if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid when this application is made, no contract of insurance shall be deemed made and no liability on the part of said company shall arise until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me, nor until the first premium thereon shall be actually paid while I am in good health; but that if the amount of said premium is paid at the time of making this application, the receipt for advance payment of premium given me shall determine the conditions upon which and the time when the insurance applied for shall take effect.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

* Adopted November, 1914.

Great Republic Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE COUPON POLICY—WITH THREE EXTRA BENEFITS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $418.40. AGE, 35.

Great Republic Life Insurance Company, Los Angeles, Cal., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, Los Angeles, Cal., to Mary Doe, the beneficiary, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt at the home office of due proof of the death during the continuance of this policy of John Doe, the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application heretofore, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof and of the payment in advance of four hundred eighteen and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for the minimum reserve, if any required by law, and for one year's term insurance ending on the fifteenth day of August, 1915, and the payment of a like sum on the last mentioned date, and on the fifteenth day of August in every year thereafter until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured. The insured shall have the right to change the beneficiary named herein. This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace. The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof the Great Republic Life Insurance Company has by its proper officers caused this policy to be signed this twentieth day of August, 1914.

BENEFITS AND VALUES.

LOAN VALUE.—At any time after one year from the date hereof and while this policy is in force, the company will loan at five per cent annual interest on the sole security of this policy, up to the amount stated in the table of guaranteed values opposite the current policy year, upon a satisfactory assignment of the policy to the company as security. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value stated in the table of guaranteed values, nor until thirty-one days after legal notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At any time after two annual premiums have been paid hereon, and within one month from date of default in payment of any premium, the company will, upon written request by the insured, with a full and valid surrender of this policy and all claims hereunder, pay the cash surrender value stated in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid. Any indebtedness on or secured by this policy shall be deducted from such payment. If the insured defaults in the payment of any premium, the amount of paid-up life insurance or the term for which the insurance will be extended, shall be such as the cash surrender value stated in the table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The amount of paid-up life insurance and the term for which the insurance will be extended as set forth in the two following paragraphs and in the table of guaranteed values, is based upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on or secured by this policy. If there is any such indebtedness, the amount of paid-up life insurance and the extended insurance will be determined by the rule prescribed in the last preceding paragraph.

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—At any time after two annual premiums have been paid hereon and within one month from date of default in payment of any premium, the company will, upon written request by the insured, convert this policy into paid-up non-participating life insurance in the sum shown in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—At the expiration of two years from the date hereof, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, the company will, without action on the part of the insured, extend this policy as non-participating term insurance without loan or cash value, for the term provided in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

PLAN AND BASIS.—This policy is issued on the non-participating plan. The values in the above table are equal to the reserve at date of default on the policy, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Values for later years shall be equal to the full reserve according to said table of mortality and will be furnished upon request.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy may be insured. Upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied in cancellation of any such indebtedness. Such loan insurance shall take effect only after the insured has furnished evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, paid the premiums hereon based upon the rate at the attained age at the date of granting or renewing such insurance in accordance with the following schedule, and has received a certificate of loan insurance from the company:

SCHEDULE OF PREMIUM RATES FOR LOAN INSURANCE.

Annual premium per $100 of loan insurance.....	1.20	1.60	2.30

For periods of less than one year the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the annual premium for each month and fraction of a month. Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium paying anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of the premium for such loan insurance at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after the age of sixty. Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness, the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness and refund the unearned premium.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while premiums are being paid on this policy, provided the insured be not then totally disabled, it may upon the execution of such papers and the payment of such additional amounts to readjust the premiums and the reserves on the new policy as shall be required by the company, be exchanged, without medical examination, for a policy upon any other form and published premium rate in use by the company at the time this policy is exchanged, provided the rate of premium be not thereby diminished, nor the term of insurance increased. The policy issued in exchange shall bear the same number, be for the same amount and bear the same date and age as the original policy.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. PERMITS OR MODIFICATIONS.—Only the president, vice-president, secretary, or assistant secretary (and they only in writing signed by them) have power in behalf of the company to issue permits, or to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend the time of any premium payment. This authority will not be delegated, nor shall the company be bound by any promise or representation given at any time by any person other than the above named officers, and by them only in writing and signed as stated.

2. REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This contract is made with the person whose life is insured hereby and the beneficiary shall have no interest in this policy until after the death of the insured. The insured during lifetime reserves the right, without the consent of the beneficiary, to surrender this policy to the company for cancellation, cash, paid-up or extended insurance. The insured may change the beneficiary named herein, provided this policy has not been assigned. Such change will take effect when endorsed hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the amount which would have been payable to such deceased beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

4. GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days (without interest), during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed for the payment of any annual, semi-annual or quarterly renewal premium; provided, that if the insured shall die within such period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

5. INCONTESTABLE.—If the premiums are duly paid as required, this policy shall be incontestable after it has been renewed beyond the first year.

6. PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The full annual premium is due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., or to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the secretary and countersigned by such collector. Upon default in payment of any premium note or interest thereon, this policy shall be null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

7. CHANGE IN MODE OF PAYMENT.—The plan of payment of premium can be changed so that the premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, by application in writing to the home office of the company; the premium when so changed shall be on the basis of company's published rates for plan desired in use by the company at the date hereof, but such semi-annual or quarterly payments shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than the six months or three months covered by such payment, subject to the above provisions relating to grace. Any change in the mode of payment of premium can be made only on any anniversary date of the policy. It is agreed if this policy becomes a claim by death, that the company shall have the right to deduct any part or parts of the entire policy year's premium unpaid.

8. CONTRACT DEFINED.—This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement made by the insured shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor. No action at law or suit in equity shall be commenced or maintained hereon, nor recovery had, unless such action or suit is commenced within five years from the date that the cause of action shall accrue. Claims for death shall be deemed to accrue on the day of the death of the insured.

9. PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death of the insured and of the interest of any claimant must be furnished to the company at its home office in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., within five years after the death of the insured. Failure to furnish such proof in such time shall render void all claims on this policy. Any indebtedness, including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in the settlement thereof.

10. AGE.—If the age of the insured was misstated in the application on which this policy was issued, the amount payable shall be the insurance which the premium paid

11. NOTICES.—All notices required by law, which shall be addressed and mailed to the insured, or assignee, if any, at the last post office address as it appears on the books of the company, shall be deemed, and for all purposes held to be, sufficient notice.

12. SUICIDE.—In the event of death of the insured within one year from the date hereof by his or her own hand, whether he or she at the time be sane or insane, the amount payable shall be limited to the premiums which have been paid on this policy.

13. ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and one copy filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

14. WHEN POLICY TAKES EFFECT.—This policy will not take effect nor be in force until its delivery to and acceptance by the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured, nor until the first premium has been paid.

This policy has attached hereto and made a part of this contract, company's form No. 139 and 160.

Great Republic Life Insurance Company guarantees that if this policy is kept in force by the payment in full of all premiums due, as provided therein, due or past due coupons with their accumulated interest at three and one-half per cent per annum compounded annually, from the date each coupon became due, will be paid or may be used by the insured under any one of the following options:

OPTION I.—Surrender coupons and receive their accumulated value in cash, payable in gold coin of the United States.

OPTION II.—Surrender coupons and apply their accumulated value toward reduction of premiums.

OPTION III.—Surrender each coupon when due or within thirty-one days thereafter, and apply its value as a single premium at the attained age of the insured to purchase paid-up non-participating insurance, in addition to the face of the policy.

OPTION IV.—Retain any or all coupons and permit their values to remain with the company as a trust fund, payable on demand together with interest accumulations as provided herein.

OPTION V.—If all coupons are retained as provided in Option IV. upon payment of fifteen premiums hereon in full, and upon surrendering to the company the nineteen coupons hereto attached, this policy becomes fully paid up for its face amount. Upon death of the insured, due and unused coupons with their accumulated interest, will be paid to the beneficiary in cash in addition to the sum insured. After this policy has lapsed, due and unused coupons with their accumulated interest will always be paid to the insured on demand and surrender of said coupons. If all coupons due are applied under either Option I or II, this policy will have the values shown in table of guaranteed values on page two therein.

*From beginning of year. † At end of year.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after August 15, 1915, Great Republic Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles, Cal., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. fifty-seven and ⁹⁰/₁₀₀ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid.

Second and subsequent coupons are for $60.50; $63.10; $65.70; $68.40; $71; $73.60; $76.20; $78.80; $81.40; $84; $86.70; $89.30; $91.90 and last five $94.50 each.

THREE EXTRA BENEFITS—ADDITIONAL INDEMNITY FOR ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF THE INSURED.—In the event of the death of the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years, by bodily injury affected exclusively by external, violent and accidental means (suicide, sane or insane excluded) and occurring within ninety days after such injury, the company will pay to the beneficiary in lieu of all other settlements provided for in the policy ($10,500) ten thousand five hundred dollars, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death, and nineteen additional payments of five hundred dollars each annually thereafter on the anniversary of the first payment.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—The company will pay the premiums on this policy beginning with the next annual premium following the receipt of satisfactory proof of the total and permanent disability of the insured, provided that such total and permanent disability is due solely and entirely to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and that such disability is such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation, provided, however, if the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligations to pay further premiums hereon shall cease and the insured shall be required to pay all future premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery, and any such premiums paid by the company shall not be a lien hereon and the guaranteed values shall continue to increase and progress from year to year in the same manner as if the insured had paid the premiums hereon. Should the insured suffer an injury through external, violent and accidental means, resulting in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; or the severance of one hand and one foot at or above the wrist and ankle; or the total loss of the sight of both eyes; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one hand at or above the wrist; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one foot at or above the ankle; the insured shall be deemed totally disabled. This benefit shall not be available if the disability occurs after the insured has attained the age of sixty years. At any time after the occurrence of such total disability, and during the continuance thereof, the insured may elect in lieu of all other benefits provided in this policy to receive, and upon such election the company will pay, the sum of ($50) fifty dollars, at the end of each month during the continuance of such total disability, but not exceeding two hundred such monthly payments, during which period the payment of premiums shall not be required; provided, that in case the insured shall die before two hundred such monthly payments shall have been made, the balance remaining unpaid shall be paid in one sum to the beneficiary of the insured immediately upon receipt of proofs of death of the insured. Should the insured, after his election as aforesaid, recover from such total disability, this policy may be restored to full force by the payment of premiums thereafter becoming due hereon. The sum so paid in disability benefits accumulate at five per cent interest per annum, annually compounded, shall be a charge upon this policy, to be deducted in any settlement thereunder.

INSURANCE OF THE BENEFICIARY.—In the event of the death of the beneficiary (prior to such beneficiary attaining the age of sixty years), and occurring during the life of the insured, and such death of the beneficiary being caused by bodily injury not self-inflicted, effected directly and exclusively by external, violent and accidental means (suicide, sane or insane excluded), while riding as a passenger in or upon a railroad passenger car (including the platform, steps and running board thereof), or while a passenger in an elevator provided for passenger service only (elevators in mines excepted) or while a passenger on board a steam vessel licensed for the regular transportation of passengers for hire, or as the result of a cyclone or tornado, and such death occurring within ninety days after such injury, the company will pay to the insured ($500) five hundred dollars, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of said beneficiary, and nineteen additional payments of a like amount annually thereafter on the anniversary of the first payment. The approval by the company of a claim for the death of a beneficiary shall render this provision thereafter null and void, but in all other respects this policy may be continued to maturity by a payment of the premium in the manner and form and at the times required by the policy. Fatal injuries sustained by both the insured and beneficiary in the same accident render this beneficiary insurance null and void, and no payment shall be made on account of the death of such beneficiary. When the beneficiary is changed, insurance of such beneficiary hereunder immediately ceases and the insurance of a second or subsequent beneficiary shall continue only until the first would have attained the age of sixty years. When there are two or more beneficiaries, each beneficiary shall be insured hereunder in the proportion that such beneficiary's interest bears to the face amount of the policy.

The three extra benefits mentioned above shall be void and no recovery shall be had thereon if the death or disability occurs after the expiration of the premium-paying period of this policy, or while the insured is in default for the payment of any annual premium.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

That the foregoing, together with declarations made to medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for; that the policy issued shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions contained therein.

It is understood and agreed that if the entire amount of the first annual, semi-annual or quarter annual premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid in cash at the time of making this application, this policy shall not take effect nor be in force until its delivery to and acceptance by me during my lifetime and good health, nor until the first premium has been paid.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

The Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Birmingham, Ala., by this contract of insurance agrees to pay, at its head office in the city of Birmingham, Ala., immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of death of John T. Morgan, the insured, ten thousand dollars, to Cornelia, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries as may be designated by the insured in the manner herein provided.

GUARANTEED DIVIDENDS.—This contract is issued on the guaranteed annual dividend plan, and if kept in force by payment of premiums in cash, the company guarantees that such dividends shall be as shown on the coupons hereto attached, and the policy shall not otherwise participate in the profits. If the insured shall elect to pay premiums in full without reduction, and leave the dividends with the company, the company guarantees that after premiums have been paid for fifteen full years, the company will, upon the surrender and cancellation of all the past, present and future coupons, endorse upon the policy that it is fully paid up, and premiums shall then cease and paid up values attach. In case insured should elect to leave the coupons to make this a fully paid-up policy and should die while this contract is in force, but before it is fully paid-up, as above provided, all of the coupons bearing date prior to said death shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, leave said dividends with the company, the same shall be payable, on presentation of the coupons at any time with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such dividends are left with the company.

STATE OF ALABAMA.—Department of insurance. This is to certify that this policy is registered by the insurance department, and that the legal reserve hereon is secured by bonds, mortgages and other approved securities certified to and on deposit with the state treasurer, under Section 4565 of the Code of Alabama, 1907.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the understanding that the insured may, upon written request to the company, at any time while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided this policy, or any interest therein, has not been assigned. No such change shall take effect until it has been endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. If all designated beneficiaries die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured. The insured may exercise any right under this policy without the consent of the beneficiary.

DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premiums, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that physically he has become wholly disabled by the loss of limbs, total blindness or paralysis, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, at the end of six months from acceptance of such proofs, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree that it will advance to the insured, on account of this policy, annually one-tenth of the amount insured hereunder, less the premiums due, during such disability, until the amount insured, less premiums due, and other indebtedness, is paid in full. If, however, the insured shall recover, the annual advance shall cease and the advances already made may be returned in cash or remain charges against this policy.

THIS POLICY SHALL BE NON-FORFEITABLE AS FOLLOWS.—If premiums have been paid for two or more years, the company, upon failure of insured to pay any premiums, will charge the premiums as they fall due, as loans against this policy until the loan value and the accumulated unused coupons if any are consumed, and this policy shall thereby continue in full force. At any time while the policy is thus sustained, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical re-examination, and the accumulated debits may be paid or stand as a loan against the policy.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The insured has the right at the time any premium falls due, after the first, to pay an annual, a semi-annual, or a quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for the kind of policy held, and such premiums will continue the insurance in force for the time paid for in accordance with the privileges and conditions of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days without interest, will be allowed in payment of premiums after this policy has been in force one full year.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This contract is incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, or mis-statement of age, and military and naval service in time of war without a permit.

REINSTATEMENT.—If default in payment of premiums has occurred and the loan value and accumulated unused coupons if any have been consumed in the payment of premiums as described above; or, if this policy, upon the request of the insured, has been surrendered by the insured for a paid-up policy; or if this policy has been extended as a term policy, payment of premiums may be resumed at any time and this policy will be re-instated upon the payment of the defaulted premiums with interest at six per cent, and upon complying with the company's health requirements.

PAID-UP POLICY.—The insured may leave the dividends with the company for the purpose of having the policy become paid-up, which shall occur when such dividends together with the reserve under this policy shall amount to the single premium at the attained age of the insured at the time and thereafter no payment will be required from the insured. But the insured may continue premium payment for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment in accordance with the following privileges:

CONTINUOUS ENDOWMENT.—The dividends may be left with the company for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment, which shall occur when the accumulations, together with the reserve under this policy, shall become equal to the face of the policy, at which time the whole amount shall become due and payable in cash, and may be paid to the insured to the exclusion of the beneficiary.

LOANS.—On demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, borrow on the sole security of this contract the amount specified in the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is to be taken, subject to the interest, in advance, at not over six per cent per annum, provided the contract shall have been in force two years; the contract shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement, and the premiums on the contract shall be paid in full to the end of the next policy year. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid.

EXTENDED OR PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table; or in lieu of such term insurance, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up insurance, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within three months from said due date. If there shall be an indebtedness to the company, and if any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, an amount of insurance, equal to the face amount of this contract less the indebtedness, will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance, for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value of the contract, if any, over the indebtedness, will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums. In lieu of such term insurance, provided the insured shall make written request therefor within three months from said due date, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up life insurance, which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this contract or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can this contract be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this contract, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this contract or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished forthwith to the company upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this contract or of any benefit thereunder. (6) In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid. (7) For military or naval service in time of war a permit from the company will be required. (8) For failure to comply with any of the provisions of this policy the company will be liable for not over the reserve on the policy.

Any indebtedness existing against this policy at the time of any settlement thereof, shall be deducted from the cash surrender value of the policy, and the other values shall be diminished proportionately.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years is guaranteed to be five thousand six hundred and sixty dollars.

This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during the life and good health of the insured. But after said event shall be considered as in force from the date hereof. This agreement is made in consideration of the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, constituting the premium for the period terminating on the first day of June, 1909, during which period the insurance hereunder is term insurance, and in further consideration of the renewal payment of a like sum on said date and thereafter on the first day of June in every year until twenty full payments shall have been made, or until death, should it occur sooner.

In witness whereof, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president, secretary and countersigned by its registrar, this the first day of June, 1908.

SAMPLE GUARANTEED DIVIDEND COUPON.—On or after June 1, 1909, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, Ala. will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned) a dividend of forty-five and $\frac{21}{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The dividends run as follows, \$45.30; \$49.80; \$54.30; \$58.80; \$63.40; \$68; \$73.40; \$77.30; \$82; \$86.40; \$90.80; \$95.20; \$99.60; \$104.10; \$108.70; \$113.30; \$117.90; \$122.50; \$127.10.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—Written request specifying the number of instalments in which the amount insured under this policy is to be paid must be made by the insured while this policy is in force; such request may subsequently be withdrawn or the number of instalments changed at any time during the continuance of this policy upon notice to the company in writing, such request or subsequent notice to be operative only upon the endorsement by the company upon the policy. The first instalment shall be payable at the same time the original amount would have been payable under this policy and subsequent instalments shall be made payable on the succeeding anniversaries thereafter.

Amount of each.....	$ 2,120	$ 1,140	$ 810	$ 650

At the time any instalment is due the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing, at the rate of three per cent per annum, compound interest, and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum. The legal holder hereof at the time the policy becomes a claim shall have the privilege of having the amount insured under the policy payable in instalments as herein provided, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing.

PROVISO.—The instalment privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1000.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: Any policy issued under this application shall be governed by the laws of the State of Alabama. 1. That inasmuch as only the officers at the head office of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company at the head office, in this application. 2. That in any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profit, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy and upon all parties having or claiming an interest thereunder. 3. That the insurance under any policy issued on this application shall take effect as of the date of this application unless otherwise agreed in writing. 4. That the insurance issued in pursuance of this application shall in no event take effect or be binding until the written policy is delivered to the assured while in good health and the initial premium paid to the president, secretary or cashier of the company at its principal office. 5. That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of my promises made in this application. 6. I agree that active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate the insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted by the company, and the extra premium paid on notification; and it is agreed that the insurance with any and all renewals thereof shall become void if at any time within one year after the date of issuance of the policy the applicant shall travel or reside in the Torrid Zone, or engage in any of the following occupations, to wit: Handling electric wires or dynamos, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat and that self-destruction, sane or insane, and death in consequence of violation of law, within the above period, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company (Texas).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $310.60. AGE, 35.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Houston, promises to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), at its office in Houston, Tex., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, of Houston, county of Harris, State of Texas, (herein called the insured), less any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company.

This contract is made for the term of one year in consideration of the payment of the first premium of three hundred ten and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and may thereafter be renewed and continued as a limited payment life policy upon payment of a like sum on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this contract, until the death of the insured, or until premiums for twenty years in all have been paid; but after one full annual premium has been paid, the company, by endorsement on this policy, will waive payment of premiums under the conditions stated in Section 7 on the next page, entitled "waiver of premiums."

TABLE OF VALUES AND OPTIONS.

The following table shows the loan values available under this policy; also the options that will be available upon default in premium payments; provided there is no indebtedness against this policy.

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its authorized officers at its office in the city of Houston the first day of January, 1911.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums, and except, further, that there will be a limited liability as provided in Section 14 hereof.

2. PREMIUMS.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company, and duly countersigned by such agent. Unless otherwise provided all premiums are payable annually, but, by contract in writing, they may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments. Any unpaid part of the premium or premiums for the current policy year in which death occurs will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If any premium or any note or other obligation given therefor shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease, except as herein provided.

3. GRACE.—One month's grace is allowed for the payment of every premium after the first without interest charge, during which month this insurance shall continue in force. If the insured should die during the period of grace the entire premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

4. REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in premium payments and the application of the value of this policy to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

5. PREMIUM LOANS.—Whenever the cash surrender value of this policy, as defined in section 9, entitled "non-forfeiture provisions," shall be sufficient to pay one full annual premium, with six per cent interest thereon for one year, the company will, before the expiration of the days of grace, accept a premium lien note signed by the insured alone in lieu of cash for premium; said note to be a first lien against the policy, and subject to the same terms and conditions as cash loans, (including the right to deduct same in ascertaining any subsequent cash surrender value) except that the policy need not be deposited with the company as a pledge.

6. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORM OF POLICY.—At any time, while in full force, and provided the insured is then less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy payable in like manner as this policy and for the same amount upon any plan then issued by the company, and having a higher rate of premium. Such change shall become effective upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and what would have been required at the said higher rate with compound interest at six per cent per annum on the difference between the two premium rates, computed from the due date of each premium payment to the date when the change is made, and upon the surrender of this policy. The new policy will take effect as of the date of this policy, and the premium will be based on the same age as this policy.

7. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation. The premiums so waived will not be a charge against the policy, and the values and benefits as shown in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon shall progress each year the same as if the premiums were paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person, in case total disability is claimed, as often as it desires. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

8. CASH LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force, no default in premium payments having been made, the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, a cash loan not exceeding the amount named in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon, the loan to bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. The company reserves the right to deduct any indebtedness against this policy from said loan. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall exceed its loan value. Whenever the total indebtedness against this policy shall exceed its loan value, the policy shall thereupon become void and such indebtedness shall thereby stand canceled. The company, if it so elects, may defer, as provided by law, the making of any loan, or the paying of any cash surrender value, for a period of not more than six months after application therefor is made.

NOTE.—The loan value of this policy equals its cash surrender value as hereinafter defined.

9. NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse on account of default in premium payments, after premiums shall have been paid for two full years, the insured may within one month from the date of such default elect; either, (a) to accept the cash surrender value, which will be an amount equal to the reserve on this policy at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy and less a surrender charge, which in no case shall be more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy; or, (b) to secure a paid-up policy payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy for such an amount as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Loans may be obtained on such paid-up policy subject to the provisions of section 8, entitled "cash loans," or it may be surrendered to the company at any time for its cash surrender value; or, (c) to have insurance for the face amount of this policy continue in force from the date of default for such term as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium, at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, but without the right to loans or cash surrender value. If the insured shall not within one month after such default surrender this policy to the company at its home office, for the cash surrender value as provided in option (a), or, for a paid-up policy, as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as term insurance as provided in option (c).

10. VALUES.—The figures contained in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon represent the amounts available after deduction of surrender charges, if any, and are computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are based upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table and that there is no indebtedness against this policy. Values for later years than are shown in said "table of values and options" will be computed on the same basis and will be furnished on request.

11. INSTALMENTS.—The proceeds of this policy may, by written request of the insured while this policy is in force, be made payable: (First) In a limited number of annual instalments, as per following Option 1:

INSTALMENT OPTION 1.

If the insured has requested that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid in instalments, the beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless the written consent of the insured has been filed with the home office, and endorsement made on this policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

12. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, at any time and from time to time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. The right is reserved to the insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted by this policy. If any beneficiary should die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

13. ASSIGNMENT.—The insured has the right to assign this policy. Any assignment must be made in duplicate upon blanks furnished by the company, and one original copy shall be filed with the company at its home office. The company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. Any claim arising under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest. Any assignee of this policy will take same subject to any existing indebtedness against this policy, whether he has notice thereof or not, and subject to the right of the company to make loans to cover premium payments. If any such loans are thereafter made they shall be a lien against the policy superior to any rights of said assignee.

14. OTHER CONDITIONS.—(1) If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. (2) In case of the death of the insured, by his own hand, while sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. (3) In case of the death of the insured while engaged in naval or military service in time of war, unless the insured has first obtained written permission from the president or secretary to engage in such service, the company's liability hereunder shall be limited to the net reserve under this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

15. POLICY ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and is free from conditions as to residence, travel or occupation. Only the president, vice-president, or secretary has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend or change the time for paying a premium. The company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made by any person other than the above. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.]

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I represent that all of the foregoing and following statements and answers are true, full and complete as contained in this application, whether written by my own hand or not, and are offered to Great Southern Life Insurance Company as a consideration for and as a basis of the contract with said company under any policy that may be issued upon this application. That no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application other than those written and contained herein shall have any binding force or in any way affect the rights of the company. That this application and the policy which may be issued hereon is to be construed under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Texas.

PART II.—I have verified each of the foregoing answers made in the application for insurance and to the medical examiner, and adopted them as my own, whether written by me or not, and represent that they are full, complete and true answers to the questions against which they are written. And I agree that their truth shall be a condition precedent to any binding contract issued upon the faith of the said answers. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

* Adopted January 1, 1903.

Great-West Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—QUINQUENNIAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $354.

AGE, 35.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company, head office, Winnipeg, Manitoba, insures the life of John Doe, Winnipeg, Man. (hereinafter called the insured) under this policy of insurance as follows:

1. Plan of insurance; life, 20 payments. 2. Amount of this policy ($10,000) ten thousand dollars. 3. Premium $354 payable in advance every twelve months during the first twenty years of this contract, commencing the first day of January, 1915. 4. Policy matures on the death of the insured. 5. Participation in profits (see provision 6 within) on the first day of January, 1920, and quinquennially thereafter. 6. Beneficiary (subject to provision 13 within) Mary Doe (wife of the insured).

The terms, conditions, privileges and options endorsed hereon form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereunto set.

Signed and sealed at Winnipeg, Manitoba, this first day of January, 1915.

PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the same is delivered and the first premium thereon paid to the company while the insured is in sound health. All premiums are due and payable at the company's head office, in the city of Winnipeg, Manitoba, but will be accepted if paid to any agent in exchange for receipt signed by the managing director or the secretary of the company and countersigned by the agent designated thereon. If default be made in the payment of the first or any subsequent premium or any part thereof, or of any note, cheque or other obligation given on account thereof, this policy shall be void (subject, however, to certain rights in respect of policies on which three full years' premiums have been duly paid, as herein otherwise provided).

2. GRACE.—The insured is entitled to a grace of thirty-one days, within which the payment of any premium other than that of the first year may be made. The policy shall continue in force during the period of grace, but if death occurs during such period, any unpaid premium or premiums for the then current policy year shall in settlement of the claim be deducted from the sum insured. The policy years for this contract shall be computed as from the due date of the first regular premium hereon.

3. RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.—The insured may reside or travel in any part of the world and engage in any occupation including military or naval service within the Dominion of Canada. The insured may engage in any other military or naval service on behalf of the British Empire provided that if such service be entered upon within two years from the date hereof notice thereof shall be given by or on behalf of the insured to the company and an extra premium of five per cent of the amount insured (taken at the commuted value of the policy if payable in instalments) shall be paid to the company, in advance or within ninety days after the insured's engaging in such service, and further provided that if the insured shall so enter any such service other than the militia of Canada this policy shall be reduced automatically to one hundred dollars (if originally in excess of that amount) and all benefits hereunder shall be proportionately reduced and the company shall refund the part of any premiums paid hereon proportional to the amount of insurance discontinued, but the notice and extra premium referred to above will nevertheless be required. No other military, naval or aeronautic service in time of war is permitted within the first two years of this contract unless with the consent of the company. If any of these provisions be violated by the insured this policy shall be null and void.

4. INCONTESTABILITY.—The policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue except for fraud or for non-payment of premiums or for violation of the preceding provision. This policy and the endorsements hereon, which include a copy of such parts of the application as are material to the contract, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the said parts of the application. The company shall not be liable hereunder in the event of the insured's death by suicide whether sane or insane, during the period of one year after the issuance of this policy.

5. AGE.—The age of the insured shall be admitted by the company on due proof, but if the age of the insured has been mis-stated, the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

6. PROFIT OPTIONS.—This policy shall participate (at the times stated on the first page hereof) in the profits set aside for distribution by the company, in the manner described in option (a) following, the said option having been selected by the insured in his application. If this policy participates quinquennially and should the insured die after the fifth policy year, an interim profit as determined by the company shall be allowed for the period elapsing since the last preceding participation in profits. (a) A payment in cash. (b) A paid-up addition to the policy. (c) A premium reduction. (d) The automatic paid-up option. That is to say: The profits will be retained and accumulated with interest at the average net rate received and earned by the company on its funds from year to year during such accumulation (at least four per cent compounded annually being guaranteed), and when sufficient for the purpose the accumulated profits will be applied to convert this contract into a fully paid-up participating life policy. (Not available on endowment policies or on life policies subject to less than nineteen annual premiums). (e) The Automatic Endowment Option.—That is to say: The profits will be retained by the company, under the terms set out in option (d) above, and when the accumulated profits added to the reserve become equal to the amount insured, then this policy shall be deemed to have matured as an endowment, and shall be paid to the insured or other person entitled upon legal surrender of the policy. (Not available on endowment policies.) Should the insured die prior to the application of the accumulated profits as provided in options (d) and (e) above, the amount payable hereunder shall be increased by the accumulated profits at that time at the credit of the policy.

7. LOANS.—After three full annual premiums or their equivalent half-yearly or quarterly premiums have been paid hereon, the company will lend on the sole security of this policy at interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, any amount up to ninety-five per cent of the cash value stated in Table A less any indebtedness to the company, such policy being first deposited with and assigned to the company. "Provided, however, that such loan may at the option of the company be deferred for a period not exceeding three months from the time the policyholder applies therefor." (Clause 95 (g) Insurance Act.)

8. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE CLAUSE.—After three full years' premiums have been duly paid hereon, if default be made thereafter, and if the reserve on this policy and on any outstanding profits credited hereto, in excess of any indebtedness, be sufficient to pay the premium then due, the company will without request advance the said premium as a loan bearing interest at seven per cent per annum compounded annually. In the event of further default, additional premium loans will, without request, be made, so long as the said reserve, less any indebtedness, is sufficient to pay at least one quarterly premium computed according to the company's rules, and all loans shall with accumulated interest be a first lien in the company's favor in priority to the rights of any beneficiary, assignee or other person. Should the said reserve, less the accumulated indebtedness, be insufficient, at the time of any default in premium payments, to pay at least one such quarterly premium, this policy shall thereupon lapse and become void, subject to the right of reinstatement as provided in provision 11. The reserve referred to in this provision shall be computed by the British offices' life table, 1893, Om (5), with interest at there and one-half per cent per annum.

9. SURRENDER.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company will, upon surrender of this policy while in force by all legally interested therein and subject to deductions for any indebtedness hereon, grant either: (a) Cash value of the amount stated in Table A, or (b) a paid-up policy, non-participating, (maturing at the same time as this policy), for the amount stated in Table A; or (c) a paid-up (non-participating) term policy for the amount of this policy and for the time stated in Table A under "extended insurance."

Values for greater durations and for fractional numbers of premiums paid will be computed on the same basis. The surrender value, as determined by the company, of any profits at the credit of the policy will be paid in addition to the above guarantees. N. B.—Loan values (clause 7) are ninety-five per cent of cash values.

10. DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid hereon, if the insured prior to the attainment of age sixty and during the continuance of this contract shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has since such payment become wholly disabled by bodily or mental injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company (subject to what is hereinafter contained) will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, or at the option of the insured will, upon surrender of this policy by all legally interested therein, deliver to the insured a bond providing for the payment to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns, of one-twentieth of the amount of this policy less any indebtedness thereon and a similar sum yearly thereafter until in all twenty yearly payments have been made; also providing that should the insured or his representatives subsequently fail at any time to produce such proof as the company may require of continuing disability as aforesaid, the company's obligation to waive further premiums or to make further payments under the bond (as the case may be) shall cease. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists or both feet at or above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

10 (a). The words "amount of this policy" used in this contract shall mean the amount stated in clause 2 of the schedule on the first page hereof and shall refer to the commuted value if the policy be payable in instalments.

11. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it will be reinstated at any time unless the cash value has been duly paid, paid-up insurance granted or the extended insurance period expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon the policy with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually from the date of lapse.

12. MATURITY.—If this policy becomes a claim by death the company will pay the proceeds hereof, or the first of any instalments provided herein, upon receipt at its head office of proofs satisfactory to it of the death of the insured and of the insured's age if not previously admitted. The balance, if any, of the premium for the current policy year and any indebtedness to the company will be deducted from the claim.

13. BENEFICIARY.—If any person legally designated as beneficiary hereunder shall die before this policy becomes a claim by death, the interest of such beneficiary shall, in the absence of any law to the contrary, vest in the other existing beneficiaries equally, if there be any, otherwise in the insured, and after his death in his executors, administrators or assigns.

14. ASSIGNMENT.—If this policy be assigned, an original duplicate of such assignment must be delivered to the company at its head office.

15. No provision of this contract may be waived or modified except by written agreement, signed by the president and the managing director, secretary or actuary of the company.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—The payee hereunder shall have the privilege of withdrawing any proceeds hereof due on maturity hereof either as provided on the first page hereof, or in accordance with one of the following options: (a) The proceeds hereof may be left with the company during the lifetime of the payee subject to prior withdrawal on demand in whole or in part, in sums of not less than one hundred dollars. The company shall pay interest on the proceeds so left with it at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum or at such higher rate as may be allowed by the company. (b) The proceeds hereof may be withdrawn in equal instalments payable yearly in advance as shown in Table B hereon, or payable monthly in advance as shown in Table C hereon. (c) The proceeds hereof to which any payee may be entitled may be withdrawn in the form of an annuity payable yearly in advance to the payee for twenty years certain and for such longer period as the payee may survive, in accordance with Table D hereon where the age refers to the age of the payee at the maturity hereof and the annuity is shown on the basis of proceeds of $1000.

The payments under any instalment settlement provided herein shall be increased by application of the profits apportioned by the company from its surplus interest earnings. This will not apply to the payments falling due in the first year of any such settlements or after the expiration of the term-certain in any settlement of the type described in option (c) above.

The payee shall have the privilege of commuting any unpaid instalments hereunder on an interest basis of three and one-half per cent compounded yearly, except under a settlement of the type described in option (c) above. But the insured with the consent of the beneficiary may restrict in any way the beneficiary's rights under the above instalment options.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—IT IS HEREBY DECLARED AND AGREED: THAT all statements, representations and answers in this application, including those made or to be made to the medical examiner as part of this application, are a consideration for and a basis of the contract for insurance made between me and the said company, and whether written by hand or not, are declared to be true, full and complete; THAT any untrue statement, or representation, or any suppression of facts material to the contract shall void the policy applied for and forfeit all payments made thereon; THAT no other statement, representation or information, unless contained in this application, and in my answers and statements hereon to the medical examiner, shall be binding upon or affect the rights of the company; THAT if a note, cheque, draft or other obligation be given for the first or a subsequent premium or any part thereof and the same be not paid at maturity, such policy shall thereupon become void, but the note, cheque, draft or other obligation must nevertheless be paid; THAT the company shall not be liable under the said policy in the event of my death by suicide, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year after the issuance of the said policy; THAT the place of contract for all purposes shall be the head office of the company at Winnipeg; THAT I am to the best of my knowledge and belief in sound physical condition and a proper subject for insurance; and that I will accept said policy when presented, subject to the terms therein contained, and will pay the first premium thereon.

PART II.—I hereby declare that my answers and statements to the foregoing questions, all of which form part of my application for insurance which I have already signed, are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

* Adopted January 1, 1914. † $1000 cash and $10 monthly for 120 months; computed value $1132.

Guarantee Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $335.60. AGE, 35.

The Guarantee Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the annual premium of three hundred thirty-five and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, hereby insures the life of Richard Roe, the insured, of Houston, in the State of Texas, for the term ending with the first day of January one year from the date hereof, and agrees that such insurance shall be renewed for the whole period of the insured's life by the payment of three hundred thirty-five and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January, 1915, and on each succeeding anniversary of said date until twenty full annual premiums in all shall have been paid; and by such insurance, promises upon surrender of the policy to pay ten thousand dollars, to his wife, Mary Roe, if living, otherwise to his executors or administrators, at the home office of the company in the city of Houston, Texas, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary or treasurer and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT—STATE OF TEXAS.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, August 10, 1907.

This is to certify that the Guarantee Life Insurance Company, of Houston, Texas, has this day deposited with this department, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in approved legal securities for the benefit of all policyholders alike.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy may be changed by the insured at any time, and from time to time, during its continuance, unless prohibited by legislative enactment, provided the policy has not been assigned, by filing with the company the written request of the insured, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, such change, however, to take effect only on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

SUICIDE.—This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by his or her own hand or act while sane or insane during the first year from the date hereof, but in such event the actual premium paid will be returned.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. This policy contains the entire contract between the parties and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statements shall be used as a defense to a claim under this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy actually delivered during the life and good health of the insured.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any balance of the premium for the current policy year and all other indebtedness to the company shall at all times be a lien upon this policy and will be deducted from any settlement hereunder. If any premium or any note given for any premium or part premium is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall terminate except as herein provided and the amount of such note or notes shall be considered as fully earned.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance as provided below, this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum. If however the company shall accept any note or notes for such reinstatement this policy shall be forfeited in the event of failure to pay such note or notes at their respective maturity, and in the event of such forfeiture the amount of such note or notes shall be considered as fully earned.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the full net reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any. No conditions other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a pre-requisite to any such advance.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default without the right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the full reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

Values for years not specified in the above table will be based upon the full reserve on this policy according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. Figures for later years will be furnished upon request.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years or for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3), which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying premiums.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1914.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in any payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, during the premium-paying period and prior to attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by reason of bodily or mental injuries or disease, so as to be prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all remunerative occupations, then the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, all values herein shall increase in like manner as if premiums were duly paid by the insured. So long as the company continues to pay the premium under this agreement, it is understood that the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of continued total and permanent disability whenever called upon, not oftener than once a year; and on failure to furnish such proof upon request, or if the insured shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, then from the date of failure to furnish such proof, or from the date of such recovery, the obligation on the part of the insured to make payment of premiums in accordance with this contract shall be completely revived and restored with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein. In addition to, or independently of, all other causes of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, as a total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

*Adopted October, 1910.

Guaranty Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $308. AGE, 35.

The Guaranty Life Insurance Company, of Davenport, Ia., hereby promises to pay ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, at its home office in the city of Davenport, upon receipt of due proof of the death of George Lynch, the insured, during the continuance of this policy, to Grace Lynch, wife of the insured, beneficiary, with the right of revocation.

This policy is granted in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto and is hereby made a part of the contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred and eight dollars, as the premium for term insurance terminating on the first day of March, 1914, and in further consideration of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of March in every year hereafter until twenty full years' premiums in all shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

The contents of the succeeding pages of this policy and the privileges, provisions and values set forth therein are made a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In testimony whereof, the Guaranty Life Insurance Company, at its office in the city of Davenport, Ia., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary and to be duly attested this first day of March, 1913.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year from date, except for non-payment of premium or for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate for the correct age of the insured. Military or naval service in time of war is not a risk assumed under this policy, unless a permit to engage in such service shall have been granted by the company. If the insured's death results from such service and without such permit, the liability of the company shall not exceed the reserve value of the policy when death occurs. If within one year from date hereof the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his or her criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums in advance, but renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable; and any part of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy and shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent or collector of the company on or before the dates when due in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by a general agent or collector of the company. If any premium is not paid when due this policy shall be null and void and all premiums paid hereon shall be forfeited to the company except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month without interest will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force. If death occur within the month of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless the cash value has been paid or unless otherwise surrendered to the company, this policy may be reinstated at any time within five years after default in the payment of any premium upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability of the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company, and the payment of all past due premiums and payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with interest not to exceed six per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment filed with the company as herein provided, may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured; and if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then payment shall be made to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be executed upon blanks furnished by the company and filed with the company at its home office in the city of Davenport. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

RESIDENCE, TRAVEL AND OCCUPATION.—This policy is unrestricted as to the residence, travel and occupation of the insured except as provided in the first paragraph on this page.

AUTHORITY.—Agents are not authorized to make, modify or discharge contracts; to grant permits, extend the time for paying a premium, waive any of the provisions of this policy or to bind the company in any way. No such agreement shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by either the president or the secretary of the company.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy shall be deducted from any money payable or in any settlement under this policy.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is issued at a non-participating premium rate and therefore is not entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

PROOF OF DEATH.—If this policy shall become a claim by death of the insured, settlement shall be made according to the terms of the policy upon receipt by the company at its home office of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force the company will loan, on proper assignment and delivery of the policy, and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured less than the cash value at the end of the current policy year, as stated in the following table of values, deducting therefrom any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest on any such loan will be at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum and will be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS AND VALUES.

CASH VALUE, EXTENDED INSURANCE, PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After premiums have been paid for one or two full years, if further premiums are not paid the company will continue in force the insurance under this policy as stated in the following table for two months or four months respectively, from the date the unpaid premium became due; provided, however, that if death occur during said extension period the unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. After premiums have been paid for three full years the insured, within three months after any default in payment of premium, may elect either, (a) to surrender this policy to the company for its cash value, or (b) to have this policy endorsed by the company for a reduced amount of paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or (c) to have the insurance for the face amount of this policy extended as term insurance from date of default for such term as is herein provided, but without the right of loans or cash value. The cash value will be equal to the entire reserve on this policy at date of default computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and less a charge not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. The amount of the paid-up policy or the term of the extended insurance will be such as the cash value obtainable under option (a) will purchase applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the aforesaid standard. If the insured shall not, within three months after default in payment of premium, surrender this policy to the company at the home office for its cash value as provided in option (a), or for paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in option (c). If there be no indebtedness hereon the values of these options computed in accordance with the above provisions will be as stated in the following table of loan and non-forfeiture values at the end of respective years. After premiums have been paid for three full years should default be made in the payment of a premium due at any other time than the anniversary date of the policy, the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the reserve at the date of such default and upon the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired and subject to the same conditions.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:

GUARANTEED INCOME.—(1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on such net sum payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—(2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—(3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall, unless otherwise directed in said notice, be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select any of the above options. Unless otherwise specified in the written notice making such election the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, commuted on the same basis as (2) in the following table; provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY TO PARTICIPATE.—If this policy be continued in force by premium payments for twenty years, it may then be surrendered to the company in exchange for a fully paid life policy. Such paid-up policy from and after its date of issue shall participate annually in the distribution of the surplus of the company as ascertained and ap-

DISABILITY BENEFITS.

Agreement attached to and forming a part of policy No.....issued on the life of WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—At any time after one full year's premium has been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium if the insured shall furnish due proof to the company at its home office that he has become totally disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and shall be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life and prevented thereby from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by endorsement hereon will agree to waive the payment of premiums which may thereafter fall due during the continuance of such disability. Waiver of premiums by the company under this provision shall not affect the right of the insured to any benefits provided for in this policy, the loan and non-forfeiture values of which shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid in cash by the insured, and the premiums waived shall not be an indebtedness against this policy unless the disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years, in which event each premium waived shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and non-forfeiture values provided for herein shall be calculated for the reduced amount of insurance on the basis provided in the section entitled "non-forfeiture provisions and values."

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—If the company shall be furnished with due proof that such disability occurred before the insured attained the age of fifty-five years, upon the written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and assignee, if any, instead of agreeing to pay premiums for the insured during the period of disability, the company will agree to pay the insured in lieu of all other benefits herein provided and in full settlement of this policy, the full amount insured hereunder in twenty equal annual instalments. Should there be any indebtedness hereon to the company it shall be deducted from the amount otherwise payable and the balance paid in twenty equal annual instalments. If the insured die before all the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due. Each instalment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and non-forfeiture values provided for herein shall be calculated for the reduced amount insured on the basis provided in the section entitled "non-forfeiture provisions and values."

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. Proof of disability from any other cause having been accepted by the company as satisfactory, it may nevertheless at any time require of the insured due proof of continued disability. If the insured fails to furnish such proof or if it be established that he has so far recovered as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to waive premiums or to pay further instalments shall immediately cease, and the insured shall thereafter resume payment of premiums on the amount of insurance then in force.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health and of sober and temperate habits and that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and that said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Home Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS— DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $501.30. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of New York in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is attached hereto, and of the annual premium of five hundred one and $\frac{31}{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of January hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York to John Goodman, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, on the first day of January, 1932, if the insured be then living, or upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the prior death of the insured, to Jane Goodman, his wife, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year upon the surrender of this policy, duly released.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy filed with the company as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary, under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise herein provided.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery on or before date due of a receipt signed by an executive officer, to wit: President, vice-president, or secretary of the company and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of one month (but not less than thirty days) without interest shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the proportion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually by the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—At the option of the insured or the owner of this policy such dividends shall on the first day of January of each year be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

AUTOMATIC.—Unless the insured or the owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the options above stated, the dividends shall be applied as per Option (3) to purchase paid-up additions which may be surrendered for cash at any time. The cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividend as per Option (1).

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—If the dividends be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy as per Option (4) above: (a) The insured may on any anniversary apply the accumulated amount to shorten the period during which premiums are payable hereunder. (b) Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured the company will upon the surrender of this policy, accompanied by legal release of all claims hereunder, pay the amount of said policy deducting any existing indebtedness.

SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS. MODE OF PAYMENT CHANGED.—The mode of premium payments may be changed by the owner of this policy by written notice to the company at its home office not less than forty-five days prior to any anniversary date, from annual payments to semi-annual or quarterly instalments, or vice versa, at the premium rates and on the conditions in force at the date hereof. Surrender and loan values are quoted in the table below for completed years only; but if a policy be continued in force by semi-annual or quarterly payment for a fraction of an additional year, the surrender values will be proportionately increased for the additional time the policy is thus maintained in force.

LOANS AND SURRENDER OPTIONS. LOANS POLICY SOLE SECURITY.—After two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance, within ninety days after an application for loan is received, on the due assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which with any existing loan hereon, and with interest to the end of the current policy-year on the total loan, and with any unpaid portion of said current policy-year's premium, shall be equal to or, at the option of the owner, less than the cash value at the end of such current policy year; interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, and this interest if not paid annually shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the rate at which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years, the owner, within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, may elect (a) to surrender the policy for its cash value, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from the date of such default, without further participation and without the right to loan or cash values, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and in addition thereto, if the value be sufficient, as herein set forth to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment; or, (c) to purchase participating paid-up endowment insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value under Option (a) after premiums have been paid for two full years or more shall be the entire reserve at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, subject to the deduction of a surrender charge which in the second and third years shall be not more than one and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and which will diminish in subsequent years until, after premiums have been paid for ten full years or more, there shall be no surrender charge. From such cash value any indebtedness to the company existing at date of surrender shall be deducted.

PAID-UP; OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—The term for which the insurance will be continued under Option (b), or the amount of the paid-up participating endowment insurance obtainable under Option (c), shall be such as the cash value less indebtedness obtainable under Option (a) will purchase at the attained age of the insured at date of default when applied as a net single premium according to the reserve basis aforesaid. If the cash value less indebtedness so applied to the purchase of term insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment period named in this policy, the excess of the cash value over the sum of the indebtedness and the single premium for the term insurance shall be used as a net single premium according to said table of mortality and rate of interest to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment, payable at the end of said endowment period if the insured be then living, but not otherwise.

TABLE OF MINIMUM LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in the following table give the minimum values available at the end of complete policy years if there be no indebtedness against the policy and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. These values will be increased on account of any dividends which have been allotted and have not been withdrawn in cash up to the date of surrender or loan. If there be any indebtedness to the company the figures will be modified as hereinbefore provided.

The loan values provided for in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years, as set forth above under caption "loans and surrender options."

Values for later years will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On default in the payment of any premium here-on the insurance shall be continued, without action on the part of the insured, as paid-up non-participating term insurance as provided in Option (b) aforesaid if the insured shall not within three months after such default surrender this policy to the company at the home office for its cash value, or paid-up insurance.

REINSTATEMENT. FIVE YEARS AFTER DEFAULT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within five years from the date of default in the payment of any premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and upon the payment of the arrears of premiums and of any cash surrender value allowed to the insured with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, and, at the option of the insured, either (a) upon payment in cash to the company of any indebtedness which existed at said date of default together with interest thereon at the above rate, or (b) upon reinstatement of such indebtedness increased by the amount of interest thereon at the above rate, provided such reinstated increased indebtedness does not exceed the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured shall, before attaining the age of sixty years, furnish due proof to the company that he has become totally disabled by bodily injury or by disease, so that he is and shall be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life and prevented thereby from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by endorsement hereon shall agree to waive the payment of premiums which may thereafter fall due during the continuance of such disability. If premiums shall have been waived as herein provided, the insured shall on demand furnish to the company due proof of continued disability at the date when any premium would have fallen due. Failure to submit such proof shall operate as a cancellation of this benefit, and premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in accordance with the conditions of the policy. The insured agrees to keep the company informed of every change in his address and residence, and to give immediate notice should he recover from his total disability. The irrecoverable loss of sight in both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet or of one hand and one foot, shall constitute total disability within the meaning of this contract without prejudice to any other cause of disability. Waiver of premiums by the company under the foregoing provision shall not affect the right of the insured to any dividend or other benefit provided for in this policy, the surrender value of which, as well as dividends and all other benefits, shall continue with the same force and effect as if the premiums were duly paid by the insured. This disability benefit may be discontinued at the insured's option; if so discontinued, or if the insured attain age sixty, premiums thereafter will be reduced by two dollars and eighty cents annually being the additional premium for such benefit.

DISABILITY MODIFICATION.—If the insured enter upon military or naval service in time of war or if while a civilian he engages in any allied occupation involving an association with military or naval manoeuvres in time of war, the benefits of this provision, together with the extra premium therefor, shall immediately cease. At that date a pro rata refund shall be made of the extra premium for the year then current.

PREMIUM LIENS. UNPAID PREMIUMS ADVANCED.—In lieu of automatic extended insurance the company will, on receipt of a satisfactory request from the owner hereof at any time prior to default in payment of any premium, advance the amount of any unpaid premium as a lien on the policy with interest, in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum if, after deducting from the cash value all existing indebtedness and interest thereon to the end of the period to which the unpaid premium applies, the balance shall equal or exceed the overdue premium with interest to the same date. Subsequent premiums will in like manner be advanced from time to time as they fall due until the cash value as aforesaid is not sufficient to cover the accumulated indebtedness and advance the premium. Any indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the policy and all proceeds thereof, ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. If the cash value or balance thereof be not sufficient to pay the entire premium and interest it shall be used to pay a quarterly premium and if insufficient to pay an entire quarterly premium any excess of the cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be used to purchase extended term insurance as aforesaid. At any time while the policy be thus continued the insured without medical re-examination may resume payment of premiums.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS. FREE FROM CONDITIONS, EXCEPT MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and is free from conditions as to residence, travel and occupation except that if the insured, during the first year of the existence of this policy, shall be engaged outside of the United States in military or naval service, this policy shall cease and become void unless the insured, before leaving the United States upon military or naval service, shall pay to the company such extra premium as may be required for permission to undertake such service, the extra premium not to exceed five per cent of the sum insured by the policy. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—This policy shall become null and void if within one year from its date of issue the insured shall commit suicide.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment or a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable either upon the death of the insured or on survival of the endowment term, paid as follows instead of in one sum:

1. FIXED INSTALMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum; or

2. INSTALMENTS 20 YEARS CERTAIN, LIFE THEREAFTER.—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

3. ANNUITY.—As an annuity payable at the end of each year during the life of the payee, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum, the last annuity payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee. Supplementary contracts for fixed instalment periods shall participate in surplus annually, as apportioned by the company. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options (1) or (2) may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option (1) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option (2), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying a premium.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1912.

DIVIDEND PARTICIPATION.—When cash dividends are applied to the purchase of paid-up additions, or left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, the amount thus left shall participate in the surplus interest earnings at such rate or rates as may be apportioned from time to time by the directors.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

Do you understand and agree that no statements, representations, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights unless such statements, representations, or information be reduced to writing, and presented to and approved by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company; and that the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, and a policy issued thereon and delivered during your life and continuance in good health, and until the full premium has been duly paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, except that when the premium has been paid in advance to an authorized agent of the company and a conditional receipt on the company's authorized form has been given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such conditional receipt.

ADDITIONAL OPTIONAL MODE OF SETTLEMENT.

In compliance with the request of the insured it is agreed that if the above mentioned policy shall become a claim during the lifetime of the beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy will be retained by the company until the death of the said beneficiary. Interest on the amount retained, at the rate of three per cent per annum, together with such annual dividends as may be apportioned, will be paid in quarterly instalments, the first instalment being payable three months after the policy shall have become a claim. Upon the death of the beneficiary, the amount retained by the company together with a proportionate interest payment from the quarterly date immediately preceding the death of the beneficiary, shall be payable to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary. The insured, having reserved the right to revoke this clause, may by instruction to the company in writing make provision for any other form of settlement in accordance with the terms of the policy contract, such change to become effective only when endorsed hereon by the company. Further the Home Life Insurance Company agrees that it will neither discount the amount so retained or any payments to be thus made under the policy, nor consent to any assignment, hypothecation, or sale of the whole or any part of the sums payable hereunder.

ENDORSEMENT FOR TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—AGE 35—$10,000.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.—If this policy becomes paid up by its terms after payment of twenty annual premiums, the insured may at his option continue to pay the regular annual premium of three hundred. sixty-two and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars (reducible by dividends like the earlier premiums) from and after the twentieth year, during the continuance of the contract, excluding the disability premium.

And it is hereby agreed that in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the sum insured of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), shall become payable after eight years from that date, (that is twenty-eight years from July 4, 1913), if the insured be then living or at his death if earlier as provided in the policy, and in event of survivance the further sum of one hundred dollars ($100).

If this option be elected this policy shall be surrendered and a new policy shall be issued in accordance with the conditions above indicated which shall not be entitled to the disability benefit.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Home Life Insurance Company of America.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.60. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of America by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the executive offices of the company in Philadelphia, Pa., as follows:

THE BENEFICIARY.—To the estate of the insured immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the fact and cause of death of the insured during the continuance of this contract, and upon the surrender of this policy.

THE INSURED.—John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania.

VALUES OF THIS POLICY AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—The insured, if living on the third day of February, 1934, provided the premiums theretofore payable in each insurance year shall have been paid in cash, may select one of the following options: (1) Continue contract without further payment of premiums. (2) A cash payment of $5660. (3) An annual income of $441.30. Payable during the natural life of the insured.

STATE OF DELAWARE.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities deposited with this department as provided by law.

CONSIDERATION.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, which consists of Part I, and the statements made to the medical examiner, designated as Part II, copies of which are hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the delivery of this policy during the lifetime and good health of the insured, and the payment of $297.60 on or before the third day of February in the year 1914, being the premium for one year's term insurance. It is further agreed that at the expiration of this period of one year, this policy shall become a limited payment life policy from that date upon the payment to the company of a like premium on or before the first day of February in each year during the continuance of this policy or until renewal premiums for nineteen complete years in all shall have been paid.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, on the basis of a one year term insurance for the first year, and thereafter on the nineteen limited payment life plan at an advance of one year in the entry age of the insured.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy, and upon the sole security thereof, an amount, which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year shall not exceed the cash surrender value, at the end of the said year; deducting therefrom any unpaid portion of the premium for said current policy year, any existing indebtedness on the policy, and interest on the loan to the end of the current policy year; interest on the loan will be at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance. Failure to repay any of the loan, or to pay interest, shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal its cash surrender value, nor until thirty-one days after notice of the fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the owner of the policy.

PREMIUM LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if any premium on this policy or instalment thereof, be not paid when due, or within thirty-one days, the company will charge against the loan value of this policy, in accordance with the provisions for loans, such premium with interest, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance, provided that such loan value is sufficient. The balance of value, if any, not thus used, shall be applied in accordance with the non-forfeiture provisions in the policy. This action of the company is contingent upon the filing of a request for such premium loan by the owner of the policy at the executive offices, while there is no default in the payment of any premiums, and such request is revocable as to any future premiums.

INSURANCE BEGINS on February third, 1914, at twelve o'clock noon and the insurance years, the provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and extended term insurance are computed from that date.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse through non-payment of premium, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will secure to the owner of the policy, a form of insurance, the net value of which shall be the reserve on the policy at the date of lapse, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not to exceed one-fifth of the said reserve, nor one per cent of the face of the policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. At the end of the tenth and succeeding years, said net value shall be the full reserve, without any surrender charge. The net value shall constitute the cash surrender value of the policy. This non-forfeiture value shall be secured to the owner of the policy through one of the following provisions: (First)

The automatic extension of the net amount insured by this policy, is shown in the table on the third page, for the number of years and months, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease, or (second) the issue of paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amount shown in the table on the third page upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices, within thirty-one days after lapse, or (third) the payment of the cash surrender value shown in the table on the third page, upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices within thirty-one days after lapse.

The figures in the tables on the third page are computed according to the provisions of this policy and upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated above, and that there is no indebtedness on the policy. The stipulated value shall be correspondingly increased for any fractional portion of a year's premium which has been paid. Should any indebtedness exist, it shall be deducted from the cash value of the policy and the other values shall be correspondingly reduced. The cash value of the paid-up or extended insurance granted upon the lapse of this policy will be the full reserve at the time of surrender, less any indebtedness to the company under the policy, and will be paid to the owner thereof, upon written request and proper release.

PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—(a) Premiums are due and payable on the first day of the month of February each year, but may be paid in semi-annual instalments of $153.30. or quarterly instalments of $78.90. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium. (b) Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Premiums are payable in advance at the executive offices, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the date due, of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer of the company and duly countersigned by said agent. (c) A grace of thirty-one days (without interest) shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occurs within the thirty-one days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year, shall be deducted from the current amount payable hereunder. (d) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall only be as herein provided.

2. RE-INSTATMENT.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate the policy at any time, upon written application by the insured to the company at its executive offices with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time, if no default had been made, with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, computed from the premium due date, and payment or re-instatement, with interest at a like rate of any indebtedness existing at the time of default, or of any sum paid as a cash surrender value.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, at any time, change the beneficiary under this policy, with the written approval of the company, and with corresponding endorsement upon the policy whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

4. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its executive offices. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignments.

5. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

6. ALTERATION OF CONTRACT.—No person except the president or secretary of the company has power to modify or, in the event of lapse, to re-instate this policy, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

7. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit hereunder.

8. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application herefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations, and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

9. SUICIDE.—In case of suicide committed, while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premiums paid.

No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained hereon unless actually begun within two years after the cause of action shall accrue.

10. INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured may, at any time, change the payment of this policy from one sum to such instalments as are desired, with the written approval of the company, and with the corresponding endorsements upon the policy.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—Extra annual premium, $1.60. In consideration of the extra premium above stated, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, these provisions for disability benefits are hereby attached to and made a part of the above numbered policy.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—(a) Under age sixty. If, after this policy shall have been in force one full year and before default in the payment of any premium, the company receives due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be presumably, thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company shall waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the insured's said disability. In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premiums so waived, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for in the policy shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash. (b) Over age sixty. Under all the conditions aforesaid, except that the insured shall have attained the age of sixty years before becoming disabled, the company shall waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and the loan and cash surrender values as provided for in the policy shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept under this policy proofs of disability, it may, nevertheless, at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or, if it appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made by the company.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any contract which may be issued upon this application, as follows: (1) That no statements or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person shall be binding upon the company or shall in any manner affect its rights, unless reduced to writing and presented to and approved by the officers of the company at its home office. (2) That in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date of the contract issued, the limit of the recovery thereunder, shall be the premiums paid. (3) That every statement and answer hereinabove contained and every statement I make to the company's medical examiner in Part II of this application is true; and that the contract issued hereupon shall not take effect unless the first premium shall be actually paid while I am in good health.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

* Adopted January 1, 1908.

Illinois Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Illinois Life Insurance Company agrees to pay the principal amount of ten thousand dollars together with such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on the second page hereof, to Martha Priscilla Brown, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the head office of the company, in Chicago, Ill., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Gordon Brown, the insured, of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of insured.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums hereon having been paid in full in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof on the second anniversary of its date of issue, or upon the date upon which any subsequent annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium may become due, a thirty days' previous notice in writing of insured's intention so to surrender having been furnished to the company at its head office, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values or extensions thereof being shown in the tables of values on the fourth page hereof, which said tables, with the explanation, illustration and statements prefatory thereto are a part of this policy: First option, cash; second option, paid-up insurance; third option, extended insurance.

NOTE.—The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

Cash loans, as provided on second page hereof.

This is to certify that Illinois Life Insurance Company will pay to the beneficiary under policy No., issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars within three days after the receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of said insured while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof, provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by the said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the said insured resides at the time of his death or by any reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster, residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and being made in advance of the receipt of due proofs of death, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability on said policy.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—A grace of one month from the due date of any premium, during which period of grace the insurance shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereon during the second and subsequent policy years subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum. In case of the death of the insured during said month, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the proceeds hereof.

POLICY AUTOMATICALLY CONTINUED.—Should the insured fail to pay any premium hereon, after premiums for three years have been paid, without having exercised any one of the several options set forth on the first page hereof, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, grant the third option (extended insurance) mentioned on the first page hereof. The company will revive and reinstate this policy at any time within five years of the date of default, upon being furnished with evidence satisfactory to it of the then insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

As provided on the fourth page hereof, the term of automatic extended insurance will be increased if, at the time of default, there are any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy.

OPTIONAL CASH SETTLEMENT.—As provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the right is reserved to the insured hereunder to surrender this policy to the company within thirty-one days of default in payment of any premium and receive in cash the full legal reserve value (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) of the extended insurance automatically available under the above provisions.

CASH LOANS.—The company will make loans on the sole security of this policy at any time, and from time to time after it has been in force one full year, charging interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum. The company may require a thirty days' previous notice at its head office before making any loan, and will require the execution of a proper loan agreement and a proper assignment and delivery of this policy. The amount of loan available from time to time, as indicated on the fourth page hereof, shall be increased by the amount of the legal reserve (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) on any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy, and shall be subject to the deduction of any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, together with any unpaid balance of the premium for, and interest in advance on the loan to the end of, the policy year in which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay renewal interest thereon, shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness on said policy shall equal or exceed the amount of loan available at the time of such failure; nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the head office of the company. In computing said "total indebtedness" interest if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of such loan and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

SUICIDE.—Death by the insured's own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within two years from the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by the company, and in event of death as aforesaid, the liability of the insurer hereunder shall be limited to an amount equal to the premiums actually paid hereon.

MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE IN TIME OF WAR.—Shall not invalidate this insurance, but the insured shall be bound to pay to the company a single extra premium of fifty dollars for each one thousand dollars insured to cover the risk of such service, which extra premium, if not paid in cash, shall be a lien upon this policy with interest in advance at five per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without expense, at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, change the beneficiary, or beneficiaries, by written notice to the company, at its head office, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect only upon approval of the application therefor by the company and upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If the beneficiary last designated shall not be living at the death of the insured, the amount then insured by this policy shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

PREMIUMS, WHERE AND HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums hereon are due and payable in advance at the head office of the company in Chicago, Ill., but may be paid to agents of the company, in advance, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. A premium other than an annual will be accepted according to the table of payments endorsed hereon and made a part hereof; provided that the receipt of any such premium, less than a full annual, shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than three months in case of a quarterly premium, or six months in case of a semi-annual premium. Failure to pay any premium when due shall, except as herein otherwise provided, void this policy and forfeit all premiums paid hereon to the company, and terminate and forfeit the insured's right to pay any further premiums hereunder.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The insured may at any time, provided this policy is not then assigned, change the manner of payment of the insurance hereunder from one payment to payment in limited annual instalments, or continuous annual instalments, in accordance with the provision headed "instalment benefits" and the appropriate table thereunder. Such change will take effect upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

YEARLY ADDITIONS TO AMOUNT INSURED.—During twenty years from the date hereof, upon renewal of this policy at the end of each year by payment of premium for the policy year then beginning, it shall be credited with fully paid additions to the amount insured hereunder payable upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, to the beneficiary herein, in addition to the principal amount of this policy. The amount of this policy and the fully paid additions credited thereto, from time to time, and which includes additions previously credited, is shown in the table below opposite the number in the first column indicating the full years for which premiums have been paid.

The same privileges and conditions herein that apply to the surrender of this policy for a cash value shall apply also to the surrender of the fully paid additions hereon, and upon surrender of such fully paid additions the insured shall be entitled to receive as a cash value for such additions, the then full legal reserve value thereof according to the American Experience three and one half per cent basis.

THE COMPANY GUARANTEES.—(1) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for sixteen years, the then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy (available upon its surrender as elsewhere herein provided) and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $10,070. (2) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for twenty years: (a) The then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $12,460. (b) The total cash surrender value of this policy and the additions thereto payable in cash to the insured upon surrender of this policy on the twentieth anniversary of its date of issue shall be $7500.

At the option of the insured, upon a written notice to the company at its head office thirty days prior to the due date of the second or any subsequent annual premium hereon the insured may elect to avail himself of a guaranteed reduction in future premiums in lieu of receiving any further annual fully paid addition credits, as follow:

	Annual.	Semi-Annual	Quarterly.
	$	$	$
Full premium.....	379.90	197.60	100.70
Annual guaranteed reduction commencing with premium for second year.....	64.60	32.30	16.10

Should the insured elect the premium reduction option within the first policy year, this policy is guaranteed to become fully paid-up for its principal amount, without addition credits, when premiums for twenty years shall have been duly paid.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied, except by the president or secretary of the company, in writing, and no condition, privilege, provision or modification of this contract endorsed hereon, or attached hereto unless signed by the president or secretary shall control or be binding upon the company, or in any manner be regarded as a part of this contract. (2) All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application, copy of which is attached hereto. (3) If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured, according to the company's published rate at the date of the issue hereof. (4) Upon the maturity of this policy by the death of the insured, any unpaid balance of the annual premium for the current insurance year, together with any and all other indebtedness hereon, shall be a first lien on this policy, and will be deducted and set off against any amount becoming due hereon. (5) The tables of values on the fourth page hereof apply only to policies free from indebtedness. On policies subject to indebtedness the benefits shown in said tables of values shall be reduced in the following manner: Any indebtedness, including any loan made on the security of this policy, shall first be deducted from the net reserve value of the benefit applied for (if application be duly made), or of the automatic extended insurance (if application be not duly made), the respective benefits indicated by said tables being proportionately reduced. (6) The failure to pay any premium hereon when due, or the maturity of this policy by death or otherwise, shall render any loan hereon forthwith due and payable. (7) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the head office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. (8) No suit shall be brought or maintained to collect under this policy unless commenced within six years from the time the cause of action accrues, and within six years from the date of death of the insured. (9) This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or surplus of the company. (10) The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. (11) The cash loan and surrender values in this policy, to but not including the twentieth year, are based on the reserve hereon, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, and for the twentieth and subsequent years according to the same table of mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent.

This policy shall be incontestable after two years for the amount due, except for the non-payment of premiums.

This agreement is made in consideration of the written and printed application therefor, which is hereby made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars (said payment comprising the advance reserve hereon set apart to the credit of this policy and the premium for term insurance terminating on the third day of January, 1911), and in further consideration of the renewal of this policy for the whole life period from above date by the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars on the said third day of January, 1911, and the payment of a like sum on the third day of each January thereafter, until but not including the third day of January, 1930, after which no further payment of premiums will be required.

In witness whereof, the Illinois Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president and secretary, and countersigned by its recorder or assistant recorder this third day of January, 1910.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may, at any time, change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. Notwithstanding such change, however, the proceeds of the policy shall be paid in one sum only, if at the time of the death of the insured, such proceeds are less than $1000. If the insured has changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, he may at any time subsequently entirely revoke said change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum, or may select any other instalment benefit herein provided for. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary shall survive the insured and shall die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. Each change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, must be requested by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the head office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at the head office in Chicago, during the lifetime of the insured. If, however, the proceeds of this policy or any part thereof, are payable to executors, administrators or assigns, such proceeds shall be commuted and paid in one sum. The following tables are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are $1000, and will apply pro rata to this policy.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.

The Independent Life Insurance Company of America, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the advance payment of three hundred and seven dollars, and the payment of a like amount on or before the first day of April in every year hereafter until twenty yearly premiums shall have been paid, does insure the life of George Graham, herein called the insured, of Nashville, county of Davidson, State of Tennessee, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, for the term of life, and promises to pay at its home office in the city of Nashville, Tenn., the amount of said insurance to his executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy. Any indebtedness to the company hereon, and any unpaid premium or unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall first be deducted.

DISABILITY PROVISION.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if premiums have been duly paid in cash by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums paid by the company in conformity with this provision will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, and with loan, cash and other guaranteed values increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation; provided, that if the insured should recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay further premiums shall cease and the insured be required to pay all premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes or the total and permanent loss, by removal or by disease, of the use of both hands or of both feet, or such loss of the use of one hand and one foot, will be deemed total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy is issued by the company, and accepted by the insured, upon the express conditions and agreements printed on the second page of this policy. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS.

I. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, or they may be paid to agents on or before dates when due in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by agent. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, to make, alter or discharge contracts, or to waive or postpone payment of premium. Should default be made in the payment of any premium within three years from the date hereof, this policy shall cease and determine and unless reinstated, all payments thereon shall remain the property of the company.

II. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums except the first, subject to an interest charge of not exceeding six per cent. In the event of death during said period the overdue premium will be deducted.

III. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without a written permit from the company; but if within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of one-half of the first year's premium on this policy.

IV. AGE.—Any error in statement of the age of the insured will be adjusted by the payment of such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age, or by return of any excess of premium which may have been paid.

V. STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the application, a copy of which is hereto attached.

VI. RESERVE.—The reserve of this policy shall be in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent.

VII. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, at any time, within three years succeeding default in payment of any premium, will be reinstated, unless previously surrendered, upon request and production of evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

VIII. MODE OF PAYING PREMIUMS.—The mode of premium payment may be changed from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof, but the payment of any premium shall not have the effect to continue this policy in full force longer than for the time specified in the receipt therefor.

IX. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right of revocation is reserved in the application the insured shall have full power while this policy is in force (provided it is not then assigned) to change the present beneficiary or beneficiaries. Such change shall be made in writing and shall be valid only upon its endorsement on this policy by the Company at the home office.

X. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made in writing and attached hereto and a duplicate thereof filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

XI. PREMIUM LOANS.—After the third year, upon request of the owner of the policy, in writing to the home office made prior to default in any premium and during the time such request shall remain unrevoked, premiums on this policy not paid when due or within the period of grace will be charged as a premium loan with interest at not exceeding six per cent per annum in advance, provided the net cash surrender value shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time prior to default in premium payment or within one month subsequent thereto.

XII. CASH LOANS.—After three full year's premiums have been paid, upon request and the sole security of the policy properly assigned, the company will advance, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, an amount equal to (or at the option of the insured less than) the cash surrender value of the policy, as indicated in the table below, less interest to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid premium for the current policy year. There shall also be deducted from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy. Failure to pay either loan or interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness to the company on account thereof shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee.

XIII. NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse because of non-payment of premiums, after three full year's premiums have been paid, the company will secure to the insured or assignee a form of insurance the net value of which shall be equal to the reserve on this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company, and less a surrender charge not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. This non-forfeiture shall be secured to the owner of the policy in one of the following ways: (First) The automatic extension of the face amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance, for such length of time from date of default (see table below) as the then net cash surrender value will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease; or, (second) the issuance of paid-up non-participating insurance payable at death for the amount provided in the table below, upon written application therefor by the owner of this policy and the legal surrender of all claims under this policy to the company at its home office within one month after lapse; or, (third) the cash surrender value of the policy, as stated in the table below, will be paid upon legal surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder to the company within one month after the lapse.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The surrender and loan values given in the accompanying table are computed on the assumption that the premiums required by the Company have all been paid in full and that there is no indebtedness to the company under this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree, that I am temperate in my habits, am now in good health and ordinarily have good health, and that in my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner no information has been withheld touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and present and prospective occupations, employments, and residence, with which the Independent Life Insurance Company should be made acquainted; and that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. It is also understood and agreed on behalf of myself and of any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company on my life, that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health; and that the policy applied for shall be in the form now in use by the company; and that the place of contract shall be the city of Nashville, State of Tennessee.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $399.50. AGE, 35.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company, Indianapolis, in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is attached hereto and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents, hereby insures the life of John Doe, the insured, for the term of one year from the date hereof, and upon due proof of the interest of the claimant and upon approval of satisfactory proof of the death of said insured while this policy is in force, and within two months after receipt of said proof, agrees to pay at its head office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., ten thousand dollars (less any indebtedness due the company on this policy), to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living; otherwise, to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In further consideration of the premium for the first year this contract will be renewed on like terms as a limited payment guaranteed premium reduction policy by the payment of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents on or before the first day of July, in each and every year hereafter, until premiums have been paid for twenty years from date of issue, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Indiana National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary and affixed its seal hereto at its head office in the city of Indianapolis the first day of July, A. D., 1909.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS AND SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.

INCONTESTABLE.—After one year from date of issue this policy shall become incontestable if the premiums have been duly paid, except in case of self-destruction within two years, whether sane or insane, and except that military or naval service in time of war without a permit from the company is a risk not assumed under this policy at any time; but the legal reserve hereunder will be due and payable in case of death while in such service.

GRACE.—In payment of any premiums hereunder after the premium on this policy has been paid for one full year, a grace of thirty days will be allowed; provided, that if the insured shall die within such period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year may be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium, or any note or interest thereon, it may be reinstated at any time, upon payment of over-due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any provisions as to residence and travel.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company, at its head office; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

COUPON CREDIT.—An amount equal to twenty per cent of the annual premium due and paid the previous year as provided in the coupons attached hereto may be drawn in cash or used in reduction of annual premium, or may be left with the company to accumulate, in which event interest at the rate of three per cent per annum will be paid thereon until the settlement period.

POLICY PAID-UP.—Should the insured elect to pay all premiums in full, without reduction, and leave with the company the credits represented by the coupons on this contract, the company guarantees that this contract will be fully paid-up after paying the premiums in cash for sixteen full years and delivering all attached coupons to the company.

ADDITIONAL SURRENDER.—Should the insured be living, all premiums having been paid, and no indebtedness existing, the following options will be given at the end of the twentieth year hereof: (First) Surrender this policy for the cash value, including all accumulated coupons and interest thereon; or (second) surrender this policy and convert the cash value into a life annuity; or (third) continue this policy for its full amount as a paid-up policy, and convert all unused coupons to the purchase of an additional paid-up policy at the single premium rate of the company: Provided, before such policy shall be issued, the insured must furnish evidence of good health satisfactory to the company. The coupons attached hereto are in lieu of all participation in the surplus of the company.

COUPONS PAYABLE WITH INSURANCE.—If this policy becomes a claim by death, the sum insured hereunder, less any indebtedness, together with any matured but unused coupons, shall be paid the beneficiary.

FACILITY FOR MAKING PAYMENTS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the head office of the company in Indianapolis, but will be accepted if paid to an agent authorized to receive the same in exchange for receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the agent. In case of default in payment of any premium, this contract shall cease and terminate, except as otherwise provided herein.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company declines to notice or be bound by any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate or certified copy thereof shall be filed in the company's head office. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

RISKS NOT COVERED.—Aeronauts are risks not covered by this policy, and should death result from or in any air vessel, the amount payable shall be limited to the legal reserve on this policy.

NOTICE.—No agent is authorized to make, alter or discharge this contract, waive any forfeiture thereof, make any contract binding on the company, accept any note in the payment of any premium, extend the time for paying the same, or to assume its payment.

FORMS.—All certificates and all surrender option applications and proofs of death shall be made upon forms prescribed and furnished by the company.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Should the insured suffer an injury through external, violent and accidental means, resulting in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; or the severance of one hand and one foot at or above the wrist and ankle; or the total loss of the sight of both eyes; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one hand at or above the wrist; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one foot at or above the ankle; the insured shall be deemed totally disabled, and the full amount insured by this policy shall be payable to said insured upon due proof of such disability and the surrender of this policy for cancellation. There is a charge of fifty cents per thousand included in the premium on this policy to cover this total disability clause.

RESERVE BASIS.—The reserve on this policy and all surrender values contained herein are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Values for years subsequent to those given in table shall be equal or equivalent to the full reserve on the above standard. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

CASH VALUE.—At any time after three annual premiums have been paid hereon and while this policy is in force, the company will, upon written request by the insured with a full and valid surrender of this policy and all claims hereunder, pay a cash value as indicated in the table of guaranteed values, opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid, and at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance.

LOAN VALUE.—After three years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, will loan, on the execution of the proper assignment of the policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at five per cent interest, payable in advance, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the insured, less than the amount stated in the table of options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year. Loans will be made on or before six months from date of application for loan. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void the policy unless such total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure nor until thirty days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—At any time after three annual premiums have been paid hereon and while this policy is in force, the company will, upon written request by the insured, convert this policy into paid-up non-participating insurance in the sum shown in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In the event of default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for three years, the insured shall be entitled, without any action on his part, to the extended insurance shown in the table of guaranteed values for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums have been paid; provided, that any unpaid note given for premium and any existing indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy shall reduce the amount or term of such extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance; and, provided, that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month of date of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of the extended insurance as aforesaid; and, provided further, that the company may defer payment for not more than six months after the application therefor is made.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I. I hereby make application for insurance and agree that the statements and agreements herein and the statements to the medical examiner in Part 2 of application are made for the purpose of securing this insurance and declare that all such statements are complete and true without exception unless such exception is indicated.

PART II.—As a part of the application, and as the basis of the contract, which shall not take effect until a policy shall have been delivered, and the first premium paid thereon, during my lifetime, and while I am in good health, I declare to be complete and true and hereby represent all the statements and answers herein made, and also the written statements made by me to the agent. I also agree: That the whole of any part of the risk herein proposed and contained in the policy may be reinsured by said company. That my engaging in any of the following occupations or employments within one year from date of the policy issued under this application without first obtaining the written permission of the company, or payment of the extra premium required therefor, will terminate the policy then and there as a term policy from the beginning, viz: blasting; mining; sub-marine labor; aeronautic ascensions; the manufacture, handling or transporting of inflammables, or explosive substances; handling electric wires or dynamos; service on railroad trains (excepting as passenger or sleeping car or parlor car conductors; or in dining cars or as baggagemen, except agent, or railway postal clerk); switching or coupling cars; service on any steamboat, or other vessel or boat, excepting as officer on river steamboat; service as bartender or dealing in intoxicating liquors; or professional nurse. I hereby waive all provisions of laws preventing any physician or surgeon from disclosing information or testifying to any facts concerning me. I certify that my answers to the foregoing questions are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $6000.

Indianapolis Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348. AGE, 35.

The Indianapolis Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Marion, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the home office of the company, in the city of Indianapolis, immediately upon proof of the interest of the claimant and the receipt of due proofs of the death of Francis Marion, the insured, of the county of Marion, State of Indiana, and the surrender of this policy properly receipted.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without expense, at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by written notice to the company, at its home office, accompanied by this policy. Such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

THIS POLICY PARTICIPATES ANNUALLY IN THE PROFITS OF THE COMPANY.—Beginning with the payment of the second annual premium and annually thereafter, upon the payment of premiums, this policy while in force will be credited with a dividend from the surplus as apportioned by the board of directors of the company; but such dividends shall be due and payable only upon payment of the premium for the succeeding year. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise in writing the dividend shall be applied to the payment of premiums if any be due, otherwise will be held to the credit of the policy as provided in option four below.

THE DIVIDENDS SUBJECT TO THE FOREGOING SHALL BE.—(First) Paid in cash, or (second) applied toward the payment of the premium for the succeeding year, or (third) applied to the purchase without re-examination of participating paid-up additions to the policy, or (fourth) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity (by death or otherwise) of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. When such accumulated dividends together with the reserve value of this policy shall amount to not less than the net single premium for this insurance at the attained age, the insured shall have the option of converting this policy into a paid-up annual dividend participating policy for the full amount insured hereby, or may continue the payment of premiums until such time as the reserve and the accumulated dividends amount to not less than the principal sum insured by this policy, whereupon this policy shall mature as an endowment and the principal sum named herein shall be paid to the insured.

The reserve value of this policy shall be invested in approved interest bearing securities, which shall be deposited with the State of Indiana, in trust, for the benefit of this policy in accordance with laws of said State.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

PREMIUMS.—(1) This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance and same are payable at the home office of the company in the city of Indianapolis, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. (2) On written request the mode of premium payment may be changed, on any anniversary of the policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa. (3) In case any premium is not paid when due, according to the terms of this contract, then this policy shall cease and determine, except as otherwise herein expressly provided. That part of the year's premium unpaid at maturity of this policy shall be deducted from the amount of the claim. Except as herein provided, the payment of premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. No premium shall be construed as paid, either wholly or in part, by reason of dividends remaining with the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force one year, thirty days' grace will be allowed in payment of premiums, with interest for the time taken at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which time this policy will continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will loan, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum not exceeding the loan value at the end of the current policy year on this policy, as provided in the table below, and on any dividend additions thereto. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner, within the days of grace or within thirty days thereafter, may elect one of the methods of surrender settlement shown in the table of loan and surrender values below, namely: (a) To purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. (Provided, however, said paid-up insurance shall be participating if this option is exercised after ten full annual premiums have been paid.) (b) To accept the value of this policy in cash, or (c) To have the insurance continued in force from due date of premium in default, without future participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of paid-up policy will be such as the cash value of the option, after deducting all indebtedness and adding the reserve value of any dividend additions, will purchase, computed by the method employed in the table below, as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If the owner shall not make an election as aforesaid and surrender this policy to the company at its home office for endorsement for paid-up insurance, or for a cash surrender value, as provided in options (a) and (b) the insurance will be automatically extended as provided in option (c). The figures in the following table are computed upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

NOTE.—Outstanding dividend additions will increase the above values.

The reserve on this policy and the above values are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Values for later years will be equal or equivalent to the full reserve according to the foregoing standard and will be furnished on request. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the state of Indiana. If semi-annual or quarterly premiums are paid in addition to payments for entire years, the values will be proportionately adjusted.

SPECIAL NON-FORFEITURE PROVISION.—If this policy shall lapse for non-payment of premium after being in force two full years, the company will continue the insurance under the policy for a period of ninety days from the due date of such premium; provided, however, if death should occur during said period of extension, the unpaid premium for the current year shall be deducted. (If the policy has been in force for three or more full years, see table above.)

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within five years from default in payment of premium this policy may be reinstated, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and approved at its home office, and upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but may be made payable instead in equal annual instalments in any number from two to twenty-five, or may be made payable to the beneficiary in equal annual instalments, to continue for twenty years and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live; subject to the terms and conditions under the heading "instalment option" on the fourth page hereof.

SPECIAL RIGHTS OF INSURED.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred by this policy. The beneficiary shall not, by virtue of the terms of this policy, have any vested interest hereunder, and any contract or agreement made by the insured, in connection with this policy, or for the payment of any premium hereon, or for the extension of any premium payment, shall be valid and binding on all persons interested in this policy as beneficiary, and it shall not be necessary to obtain the assent of the beneficiary to any such contract or agreement.

TRUST FUND OPTION.—When this policy becomes payable as a claim, the amount insured or any portion thereof may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, together with such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the company. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except for violation of the conditions of this policy relating to military and naval service in time of war. Any error in statement of the age of the insured will be adjusted by the payment of such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age, or by return of any excess of premium which may have been paid. This policy with the application therefor contains the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the application, a copy of which is hereto attached.

RESIDENCE, TRAVEL OR OCCUPATION.—This policy is free from any restrictions as to residence, travel or occupation, except military or naval service in time of war, for which permission must be obtained, at the company's regular rates.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company declines to take notice of any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate or certified copy thereof shall be filed in the company's home office. The company will not assume any responsibility for validity of an assignment.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from date hereof the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of premiums paid on the policy.

LIMITATION OF ACTION.—No suit shall be brought against the company for a claim under this policy after six years from the time when the cause of action shall accrue, and it is agreed that, in case of a claim by death, cause of action, if any, shall accrue on the date of death of the insured.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement under this policy, or from any benefit thereunder.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—This policy may be exchanged, subject to the company's rules, without medical re-examination for any other form of policy issued by the company at the date hereof, provided the amount of insurance shall not be greater, or the rate of premium less than under this policy. The new policy shall bear the date of this policy and the premium shall be at the rate now in use for the form chosen.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No person, except the president, vice-president or secretary at its home office in Indianapolis has power on behalf of the company to make, modify or alter this policy, to extend the time for paying a premium, to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy. Any interlineations, additions or erasures must be attested by the signature of one of the above named officers.

NOTICE.—The insured under this policy is a member of the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company. The annual meetings of the company are held at its home office in Indianapolis on the second Monday of January in each year. Members are entitled to vote at such meetings either in person or by proxy.

After delivery of this policy to the insured it takes effect as of the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

This agreement is made in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred and forty-eight dollars in advance, in exchange for the company's receipt on the delivery of this policy, constituting payment for the period terminating on the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the payment of a like sum, the annual premium, to the company at its home office, in the city of Indianapolis, on the fourth day of April, in every year during the continuance of this policy, or until twenty full annual premiums, including the first year, have been paid.

In witness whereof, the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and vice-president, and countersigned by its secretary.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim at any time from beginning of the insurance, if not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below, provided the amount of such proceeds is one thousand dollars, or more. If the amount is less than one thousand dollars, the proceeds will be paid in one sum only. The following tables are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are one thousand dollars, and will apply pro rata to this policy.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—The amount of each annual instalment will be $45 for each $1,000 of proceeds, if at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday.

The insured, having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time subsequently change the number of instalments as may be desired, and as above illustrated, or entirely revoke any change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. Each change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, must be requested by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office, during the lifetime of the insured. If, however, the proceeds of this policy or any part thereof, are payable to the executors, administrators or assigns, such proceeds shall be paid in one sum.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health, and of sober and temperate habits, and that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and that the foregoing, together with this declaration, and also together with Part I of medical examination to be made in continuance of this application, shall constitute the application, and become a part of the contract for insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and actually delivered by the said company, to me personally and the first premium actually paid in full to and accepted by the company while my health is in the same condition as described in this application and in Part I of said medical examination. I hereby waive any and all statutes that prohibit any physician from testifying in any court regarding my health, habits or any communication I may have made to him regarding same.

Intermediate Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ENDOWMENT AT 85—DISABILITY BENEFITS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.40. AGE, 35.

The Intermediate Life Assurance Company of Evansville, Ind., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, upon the death of Bray J. Madison, the insured, to the estate, the beneficiary, or the company will pay the said sum to the insured, if this policy be in force at the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five, subject to the terms on this and the succeeding pages hereof.

This contract is made in consideration of the payment of a premium of three hundred nine and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, on the delivery of this policy, and the payment of a like premium on the eighteenth day of October, in every year during the continuance of this contract, or until twenty full years' premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

The guaranteed privileges, benefits and conditions on the succeeding pages hereof, form a part of this policy as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, The Intermediate Life Assurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its home office, in the city of Evansville, State of Indiana, this eighteenth day of October, 1913.

STATE OF INDIANA—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.—I hereby certify that the net cash value of this and all other policies issued by the Intermediate Life Assurance Company and in force, is secured by the deposit with this department of securities as prescribed by and in compliance with the Indiana legal reserve compulsory deposit law.

GUARANTEED PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND CONDITIONS.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Thirty-one days of grace without interest charge shall be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first during which time this policy shall remain in force. If death occurs within the period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid upon this policy, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, provided no premium be in default, will loan to the insured on the execution of a proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the current policy year. From such loan value there will be deducted any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of a premium for the current policy year. Interest, at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum, will be collected on the loan to the end of the current policy year and shall thereafter be payable annually in advance. The company may, at its option, defer a cash loan (except where the proceeds are to be applied in payment of premiums on policies issued by this company) for not to exceed ninety days after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness on the policy shall equal or exceed the loan value of the policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

ALL PREMIUMS are payable in advance at or before three o'clock p. m. on the day when due, and at the home office of the company in Evansville, Ind., but they may be paid to agents when not overdue in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary. Premiums after the first may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in accordance with the company's terms therefor. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid when due, or within the period of grace herein provided for, or if any note or other obligation given for any premium, or part thereof, is not paid when due according to the terms thereof, this policy and all payments made thereon shall immediately become forfeited and void, subject, however, to the company's non-forfeiture provisions as stated in table of loan and surrender values.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If any premium or instalment thereof on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the due date thereof or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium or instalment and any subsequent premium or instalment not paid in cash, with interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum to the end of the current policy year, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that such loan value be sufficient and provided that written request therefor has been made by the insured on the company's form at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums or instalments thereof so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made in accordance with the "cash loans" provision above. Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by the insured, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan which may have been previously made hereunder.

DEATH CLAIMS.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made at the home office of the company immediately following receipt of due proofs of death and of the interest of the claimant.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse it may be reinstated at any time upon the insured furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and paying all premium arrears with not to exceed five per cent interest per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, the insured may, with the consent of the company, at any time while the policy is in force, change the beneficiary by filing with the company at its home office written request therefor, duly acknowledged. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided herein.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the amount of insurance as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment in equal annual or monthly instalments as provided hereinafter.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy (including any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at death) will be deducted in any settlement or payment under this policy.

MODIFICATIONS.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, vice-president, or the secretary. No modification or change shall be made in this policy except such as is in accordance with the laws of the State in which such change is made. No agent has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other policy, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture or to bind the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or information.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon and made a part hereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto; and, in the absence of fraud, the statements made in the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such event the company will return the premium paid.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment be made in duplicate and both copies filed with the company at its home office, when one copy will be returned bearing the company's acknowledgment of receipt. The company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CONVERSION OPTION.—Upon written request of all parties in interest, this policy, while in full force may be exchanged at any anniversary of issue, without medical examination, for any other form of policy then written, and not involving any other life, at the original age of issue, for an amount whereby the actual insurance liability of the company shall not be increased, upon payment of the difference between the reserve upon the respective policies.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—This policy shall not take effect, until the first premium has actually been paid and the policy actually delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the delivery of this policy without such payment, or while the insured is not in good health, shall not be a waiver of the foregoing, or any part thereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to occupation, residence, travel or military or naval service, and is incontestable after one year from date of issue except for the non-payment of premiums.

THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS IS WAIVED IF INSURED IS TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED AND THE INSURED HAS THE OPTION OF HAVING THE INSURANCE IMMEDIATELY PAYABLE IN INSTALMENTS.

At any time after one full year's premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured before attaining his sixtieth birthday, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, then (first) the company will by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay for the insured, subject to conditions herein recited, the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due, during the period of such total and permanent disability. Any premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the guaranteed values set out in the tables herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured. (Second) The company will also, upon written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and assignee, if any, by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay, subject to the conditions herein recited, in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, and in full settlement of this policy, one-twentieth of the sum insured immediately, and a like amount annually thereafter until twenty of such instalments in all shall have been paid. Any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy will reduce the amount of said annual instalments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three-fourths of the sum insured, plus dividend additions, if any. Should the insured die before the twenty annual instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due.

Provided always that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall as often as required by the company furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability. If the insured fails to furnish such proof, or if he shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, then all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid as originally provided in the policy; and if the second option shall have been availed of, the company's obligation to pay any further instalments shall immediately cease, and the original policy shall be restored for its face amount, plus dividend additions, if any, less the sum of the instalments paid. Any indebtedness on or secured by the policy outstanding at the time of the payment of the first instalment shall be restored together with interest at five per cent per annum from that time, and the guaranteed values in the table attached hereto shall be reduced proportionately by the amount of the annual instalments paid and the original indebtedness, if any, with interest.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning hereof.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—The insured may elect at the end of the third policy year or at any time thereafter during the period of grace following any default in the payment of premiums, either (a) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value; or, (b) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for a policy of paid-up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions, except as to premium payments, as this policy, or, (c) to have the full amount of insurance continued in force as extended term insurance from the date of such default.

The cash value shall be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values and shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended term insurance. At the option of the company, payment of the cash value may be deferred for not to exceed ninety days after application therefor is made.

The amount of paid-up insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values. If there be any indebtedness the amount of paid-up insurance otherwise available shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such paid-up insurance.

The period of the extended term insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the period indicated in the table of loan and surrender values, and, if the insured survive to the end of such period, there shall be paid him in cash the amount of pure endowment, if any, stated in said table. If there be any indebtedness the same shall be deducted from the sum of the net values of the extended term insurance and pure endowment otherwise available and the amount of insurance continued for the period purchased by such difference applied as a net single premium; provided, that, if such difference be in excess of the net single premium which will purchase term insurance for the period indicated in the absence of indebtedness, such excess shall be applied as a net single premium to purchase pure endowment payable to the insured in cash if living at the end of such period.

If the insured shall not, during the period of grace after default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash value as provided in option (a) above, or for a policy of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the amount of insurance will be continued in force as extended term insurance as provided in option (c).

All net values and net single premiums herein mentioned shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Extended term insurance for face of policy, and cash if insured is living at expiration of extended insurance.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The net value of each benefit in the table is equal to such reserve less a surrender charge in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount of insurance under this policy. If fractional premiums in addition to premiums for whole years be paid due allowance will be made in the above benefits. Values for each year after the twentieth, not shown in the table, will be equivalent to the full reserve.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—A death claim under this policy is payable in one sum, as specified on the first page, but the insured during his lifetime, with the privilege of revocation, or, if the insured shall not have otherwise expressly directed, the beneficiary after the death of the insured, shall have the right to elect, in lieu of payment in one sum, any one of the following options of settlement; provided, however, that the amount payable in one sum is not less than $1000, and provided that request for such change in the mode of payment has been properly made in writing to the company and this policy returned to its home office for appropriate endorsement.

The first instalment will be payable immediately on approval of the claim under this policy as hereinbefore provided. Subsequent instalments will be paid annually or monthly thereafter, until all instalments shall have been paid.

Should the beneficiary die before having received the full number of instalments selected under the first or second options, those remaining unpaid will be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum interest, and payment of the commuted amount will be made in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The Second Option cannot be selected, if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued upon this application that the charter of this company and the laws of the State of Indiana shall form the basis, and be a part of the contract of insurance applied for, and that the place of the contract shall be the home office of the company in the city of Evansville, in the State of Indiana, and that the policy shall be in the form now in use by this company, and that no statement, promise, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting this application or by any other person, shall be binding upon the company, or in any manner affect its rights or obligations, unless such statement, promise, or information shall be reduced to writing and be presented to the officers of the company at the home office, and that any policy issued upon this application shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid and the policy actually delivered to the person whose life is insured, while such person is alive and in good health; but the policy when so delivered shall take effect as of the date of the application, unless otherwise agreed in writing. Any payment in advance of premium or premiums shall be binding upon the company only in accordance with the agent's or cashier's receipt therefor on the company's authorized form.

I hereby expressly waive, on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law, now existing, or that may hereafter exist, forbidding or preventing any physician or surgeon from disclosing or testifying to any information acquired while attending me in a professional capacity, and by the company. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.
